

DEATH FROM BURNING FLUID.—Another dreadful accident from the incautious handling of burning fluid occurred on Monday night last, at the house of Mr. William Robinson, Confectioner, Bedford Row, with whom the unfortunate victim resided. It appears that shortly after 10 o'clock Miss Lydia Fraser was about to retire for the night; and thinking that she required a light, procured a fluid lamp. She then went to the shop to replenish it with fluid, and in doing so held a can containing about a half gallon of the destructive liquid so near a burning gas jet that the fluid ignited, and burst the can. Mr. Robinson, and some others, being in a room close by, on hearing the explosion immediately rushed to the shop, where they found the poor woman enveloped in flames. In her bewilderment she rushed into the street. Every effort was made to extinguish the fire as speedily as possible, which was not accomplished without some of the parties getting badly burned. We learn from the Journal that Drs. Almon and Jennings were speedily in attendance, when it was discovered that she was burned much more seriously than at first suspected. But the unhappy lady still declared that she had been careful in not having permitted the flames to get into her throat. She continued to linger in excruciating pain complaining chiefly of excessive pain in her chest and stomach, notwithstanding that everything which medical skill could advise, and the tenderest solicitude of Mrs. Robinson and the neighbours could add in its application, until about 3 o'clock next morning, when she exclaimed that the pain had ceased, and almost instantly became a corpse. It soon became apparent to her attendants, that she was dreadfully burned all over her body. It is worthy of remark that deceased was perfectly conscious up to the time of her death, and endured her sufferings with extraordinary patience and resignation.

We are informed that on the same evening deceased had made arrangements to go to Sackville on a pleasure party, with a number of friends on the following day; but alas! that morrow found her a corpse. Such is life.—Halifax Express, Sept. 11th 1859.

BLONDIEN KEEPS A HOTEL.—Blondien's latest tight rope feat over the Niagara is the best performance, which he went through last Wednesday. He started from the shore with a cork stove swung upon his back, the ordinary apparatus thereto consisting of sautepan, fiddle, sundry dishes, and a pair of bellows, securely fastened upon the stove. The stove was a goodly sized properly fashioned cooking stove, made of Russia sheet iron, and having of a smoke pipe about two feet in height. Arrived at the centre of the rope, Blondien secured his pole and proceeded to make preparations for camping. Unslinging his stove he placed it on the rope before him, sat down, and with some pitchy material built his fire, exciting it with the bellows, and raising a smoke which proved the gentleness of the preparations for cooking. When a proper degree of heat had been attained he produced his eggs, broke them into a dish and threw the shells into the river. The omelet was prepared with all the skill of a chef de cuisine, and when it was complete he lowered it to the deck of the Maid of the Mist, where we doubt not it was divided into the smallest possible shares, and eagerly treasured by the passengers. Gathering up his hotel Blondien re-adjusted it upon his back, and quickly landed himself and it upon the American shore, amid the loud cheers of the throng.

Mons. Blondien, at his next feat, which promises to be the grandest of all, will cross the Niagara river at 8 o'clock in the evening, surrounded by Bengal fires, on which occasion the grounds on both sides of the stream will be brilliantly illuminated. Thousands of people flock to see these senseless exhibitions, much to the gratification and profit of Railway and Steamboat Companies, and Hotel Keepers.

Mrs. Macready.—In a short review of the versatility of talent evinced by that most charming lady, Mrs. Macready, in her recent delineation of characters from the first masters, we own we are deficient in words to express our admiration of the various parts undertaken by her. We must first most emphatically express upon our readers, that although every need of praise was awarded to Mrs. Macready in this City, yet our country friends, unfortunately for themselves, have not yet had an opportunity of seeing or hearing her; and if Mrs. Macready could be induced again to visit this City, we think they would have a treat never yet afforded them. In drawing attention to the following selections, we most freely acknowledge that where all are jewels it is most difficult to pick up the gems of great price in our short review; but in calling attention to Mrs. Macready's most superlative performance, we select the following from the last day's programme: "Tam O'Shanter," "Taming of the Shrew, act 1," "The Bells," and it is difficult to say whether the one Belle did not obliterate and almost destroy the remembrance of the others; "The Search Warrant, a Burlesque," "Fazio," by Rev. H. H. Milman, and several scenes from "Zeluz." We conclude this short notice by expressing a hope that Mrs. Macready will honor our small city by another visit.

POSTSCRIPT.

By the Colonial Mail which arrived here this morning, we have received intelligence of a fearful conflagration which occurred in Halifax on Friday night last. It is described as the most calamitous occurrence of the kind with which that City has ever been visited, sweeping away over sixty valuable Stores and Dwelling Houses, with an immense amount of other property which they contained, involving a total loss of nearly a quarter million pounds. Nearly all the sufferers are well known in this community, several of whom have had, at various times, extensive business transactions with our merchants and traders. As our readers will, therefore, be desirous of obtaining full particulars of this calamitous fire, we take the following detailed account of it from the Halifax Sun of yesterday, the 12th inst., believing it to be the fullest and most authentic account of it we have yet received.

DREADFUL FIRE.

By far the largest and most disastrous conflagration that has ever visited our city since its inception occurred on Friday night last. It commenced about 9 o'clock, and is supposed to have originated in the paper store of J. Willis, Esq., that building being the only one discovered to be on fire by those who arrived early at the scene. The flames soon spread to the adjoining buildings in Hollis Street, and then through to Granville Street, and increased until the beautiful stores on both sides of the latter, from Duke Street to Ordnance Square, presented nothing but two brilliant walls of fire. The progress of the conflagration from this to Barrington Street was fearfully rapid, and but for the diminishing in the size of the buildings it must have spread over nearly the whole centre of the city. When the block of buildings in Ordnance Square was on fire it produced a tall flame of various colors, affording a fearfully beautiful spectacle. Several explosions of combustible material also occurred at this point.

The engines were promptly on hand, but notwithstanding the Companies, and with their usual determination and indifference to danger, the destroying element gained upon them with fearful rapidity. Our firemen have probably never had so difficult a piece of work as that of Friday night, in consequence of the great height of the buildings in the square where the fire originated. The extent to which this square was built up in the centre rendered it impossible to operate on the rear of the buildings, and the removal in all directions of the immense quantities of merchandise from the doomed buildings, added greatly to the confusion and difficulty. The Dartmouth engine and firemen, with a number of residents of that town, were on hand as soon as they could get across in the steamboat. The military were not at the fire with their usual promptness, but rendered good service when they did arrive, particularly the Sappers.

The following is a list of the persons burnt out:— EAST SIDE GRANVILLE STREET. W. & C. Murdoch, Dry Goods establishment, Mr. Bent, Shoe Store, Mr. Hesson, Tailor, and Dwelling, Mr. Webb's Drug Store, J. Richardson, Confectionary and Dwelling, A. & W. McKinlay, Stationers, Graham's Book Store, Wetmore, Vaux & McCulloch, Dry Goods store, McKenzie, Watchmaker, Vieth, Silversmith, and Charles Mitchell, Daguerrean Artist, Creighton & Wiswell, Dry Goods store, Coombs, Shoe store, J. B. Bennett & Co., Dry Goods store, Duffus & Co., Dry Goods store, Dellatore & Rayner, Fancy store, McNeil & Co., Hat and Shoe store.

WEST SIDE GRANVILLE STREET. John Silver, Dry Goods Store, A. & H. Creighton, Book store, C. Robson & Co., Dry Goods store, S. Strong, do, N. Silver, do, E. Billing & Co., do, R. McMurray & Co., do, J. F. Mignowitz, do, K. Skerry, do, An unoccupied store, E. W. Chipman & Co., Dry Goods store, Jordan & Thomson, do, R. Romans, Shoe store and Dwelling.

DUKE STREET. H. Y. Mott & Son, Soap and Candle store, Louis Estano, Tinsmith.

HOLLIS STREET. W. Aekhurst, Auction Room, W. & S. Symonds, stove dealers, John Davy's Dwelling, Mr. Murphy's do, J. Willis, Paper Warehouse, &c., Mr. Shepherd's Dwelling, J. Jackson, Blacksmith shop, J. M. Chamberlain, stove store, and J. Jackson, C. D. Hunter, Flour store, and Mr. Bain, Mr. Taylor, do, J. L. Whytal, Shoemaker, The Warehouse of Duffus & Co.

ORDNANCE SQUARE. Brown, Brothers & Co., Drug Store; E. K. Brown, Hardware Store; Harvey, Verge and Morse, shoe store; and Alex. Neal, Tailoring Establishment.

BUCKINGHAM STREET. Mr. McCleave, shoemaker, and a Dwelling House.

EAST SIDE BARRINGTON STREET. W. H. Tully, Grocer, G. A. Oadian Recorder, and P. S. Hamilton's offices, C. Leeg, Clothing store, and several tenements, J. Mooney, Butcher, James Bowes & Son, Printers, Thomas Hood, Dwelling, Smith & Mitchell Plumbers, Alexander Troupe, Watchmaker, J. P. Muir, Water Works Office, Mr. Boyd, Baker, Mr. Power, Dwelling.

In addition to the above there were several families burnt out, whose names we have not learned. The store of Eason & Co. was miraculously saved from the flames, but the building and stock were considerably damaged.

Many of the buildings on the west side of Barrington Street were repeatedly on fire, and Chamber's Church was in imminent danger. They were only saved by the most strenuous exertions. The Buildings on the east side of Hollis Street, were badly scorched, and narrowly escaped the devouring element.

It gave us great pleasure to notice the noble efforts made by a number of our citizens to save the property of the sufferers. An immense quantity of merchandise and furniture was removed to a place of safety in an incredibly short space of time.

All who were burnt out at this fire have claimed to public sympathy, but more particularly those who suffered so recently from a similar calamity, and to those who had little or no insurance on their property.

We have not been able to learn the amount of insurance on the above property—it has been variously estimated,—the entire loss of property will not fall far short of £200,000.

Melancholy to relate, a man named Jackson, a stevedore, was killed in Granville street, by the falling of one of the burning walls. Several other persons were severely injured, among whom was a sailor of the Royal Navy.

His Worship the Mayor, on Saturday, caused a number of the chimneys to be pulled down, and the lofty wall of Messrs. Creighton & Wiswell's store was blown up by a party of Royal Engineers.

From the Boston Daily Advertiser, August 19, 1859.

Messrs. Richard A. Howes & Co., consignees of the Sbr. Carria M. Rich, which arrived at this Port on Tuesday, from Charlottetown, P. E. I., have furnished us for publication the following card, addressed to Captain Hardy, by the passengers of the Sbr. Carria M. Rich:—

Capt.—We, the passengers on board the Packet Carria M. Rich, are desirous of testifying to you, her gentlemanly commander, before we separate, our high appreciation of your nautical skill, as well as your courteous and considerate behaviour evinced towards us, the 23 passengers, during the voyage from Charlottetown, P. E. I., to the City of Boston.

We have observed with singular pleasure the perfect order and discipline maintained on board your packet, and are also solicitous of bearing witness to the strict propriety of conduct exhibited on the part of your 1st officer, Mr. T. I. Bolan, and your admirable steward, Mr. Haskell Hardy, as well as your whole crew, who for good morals and efficient seamanship cannot be excelled.

Wishing every success to your owner, I. Rich, Esq., in this enterprise of connecting our Island with the good City of Boston, by running this comfortable and well appointed vessel, and to yourself, dear Captain, presenting this our grateful appreciation of your many kind attentions.

We are, dear Sir, yours faithfully, Mrs. Wolfenden, M. L. Roach, Edith Wolfenden, Florence Roach, Clara Wolfenden, John Henry Carter, Emeline Wolfenden, George Washington Carter, Arthur Wolfenden, John James McDonald, Mrs. W. H. Langley, Hannah Kinder, Mrs. H. J. Carter, Edward O'Bryan, Elizabeth Radcliffe Scott, John McDonald, Jane Scott, W. H. Batt, Mrs. J. McDonald, Henry Hix, Elizabeth Kelly, Rev. R. T. Roach, Sarah Roach.

To Capt. Abijah W. Hardy, Commander of the Carria M. Rich.

Holloway's Pills and Ointment act mutually, and in perfect union, upon the internal and external ailments incidental to the human family. The former is a powerful antiseptic and antiphlogistic agent, as the latter is unequalled in the cure of eruptions and all cutaneous disorders.

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER is deservedly the most popular family medicine known; no other remedy has been so successful in relieving all kinds of pain. Where other medicines have failed, it has often effected a speedy and complete cure. Sold by druggists generally.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS.

The sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win unappreciatedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart a healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by the blood of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints:— Constiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a full stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Pains arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an evacuant medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, and Deaths of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions. Do not be put off by some unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for AYER'S PILLS, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it. Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

PRICE 25 CTS. PER BOX. FIVE BOXES FOR $1.

Pain Killer.

Recipie the following from the Providence General Advertiser, Sept. 12, 1857.— At this season of the year, when cholera, cholera morbus, dysentery, and other kindred complaints are sure to prevail, everybody should be liberally supplied with Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer. Persons leaving home, whether it be for a day's excursion or a trip to Europe, should be in a condition to place their hands on it at a moment's warning. Many diseases incident to the summer months, which will prove fatal if not immediately checked, can be promptly cured by one or two doses of the Pain Killer. On more than one occasion have we been relieved of intense suffering by the timely use of the above-named preparations.
