

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

MAY 18, 1882.

Bank of Prince Edward Island.

At a meeting of the Stockholders, held to-day, a resolution was adopted in which the insolvency of the Bank is acknowledged, with the view of going into liquidation in the course of a year or two.

The Young Men.

Most gratifying and cheering was the feeling shown last evening at the organization meeting of the Young Men's Liberal-Conservative Association. The selection of A. A. McLean, Esq., to be President, and Messrs. Charles Lyons, and W. W. Stanley, to be Vice-Presidents, with Mr. Frank Kennedy for Secretary, and the appointment of a strong committee of fifty of the most active members of the Association, will, we believe, ensure well directed and united effort—which means success.

The young men have a great work to do in this Canada of ours; for to them will fall the heritage of our young nation. They will till its fertile soil and fill its factories and counting-houses; and they will adorn the high places in the State. But, a few years ago, there was, just across the water, a "Cumberland Boy." That boy is now Minister of Railways, and one of the most influential men in a Cabinet of conspicuous ability. The high position he has gained, any member of the Young Men's Liberal-Conservative Association may, if he have the ability and pluck, attain. If the young men have great duties to perform, they have also great prizes to win.

It is natural that the young men should rally to the Liberal-Conservative Party. The young men have progressive ideas, and, under Providence, confidence in their own selves and the country; and the Liberal-Conservative Party is the Party of Progress and Confidence. If the young men should stay at home, they have the modern advantages of railways, and subsidized steamers, of home markets and enhanced wages, through the Liberal-Conservative Party. If they should decide to move to another part of the country—to Nova Scotia or New Brunswick, or Quebec, they will find employment in cotton factories and iron foundries, and in refineries, in mines and in workshops, established or developed under the advantageous circumstances which have been afforded by the Liberal-Conservative Party. If they should take Horace Greeley's advice and "go west" they will still find the Liberal-Conservative Party in the van of the car of progress which is penetrating the Great Lone Land, and calling them "to go in and to possess." Wherever they are in Canada, the interests of the young men are bound up in the success of the Liberal-Conservative Party. We, therefore, look forward with confidence to a large accession to the membership of the Young Men's Liberal-Conservative Association of this city.

Organization.

A LIBERAL-CONSERVATIVE CLUB has been formed in the City, having for its officers: George W. DeBlois, Esq., President. Maurice Blake, Esq., Vice-President. George Peake, Esq., Treasurer. Simon W. Crabbe, Esq., Secretary. and a very large General Committee, including many of our leading and most influential men.

The Club meets this evening to make some further arrangements. We trust that a correspondence will be immediately opened with leading Liberal-Conservatives in all parts of Queen's County and provision made for a Convention of Delegates to be held at an early day. No time should be lost.

Coming Out From Among Them.

At a meeting held recently in East York, (Ont.) several Reformers came out square for the National Policy. One of these, Mr. A. T. McCord, declared:—

"That every elector should vote for the N. P., as the policy most conducive to the interests of the country. He had been associated with the Reform party all his life and claimed that he was as good a Reformer at the present time as ever he was. He, however, maintained that the TRUE REFORM party of to-day was the Liberal-Conservative party, and the supporters of the N. P. He had left the Grit party, which had called itself by the name of Reform, because he had been convinced that the policy or want of policy of that party was destructive to the best interests of the whole community. If the Mackenzie party were returned to power to-morrow, that gentleman had himself stated in his speech at Kingston there would be a gradual return to a revenue tariff. What did this mean? Why, that politically he would cut all our throats. He (Mr. McKenzie) had publicly stated that he would not only suffer political annihilation, but even physical death, rather than accept the policy of the Liberal-Conservatives."

Another speaker was a Mr. Cornell, who declared that he, too, was a Reformer, but that he believed— "that the N. P. had not only infused new life into the country, but had also at the same time sounded the death-knell of the Grit party. This party, which when in power denounced the N. P., now, when in Opposition, pretend to make use of it by stating that there is some good in it after all, and that they will not alter it if returned to office. Mr. Mackenzie plainly states that it would be altered. The best plan is not to trust this party, but to conserve the best interests of the country by keeping them out of power and out of office."

The St. John Sun remarks:— "These speeches have the ring of reforming about them. They were not made by 'millionaires,' bloated 'aristocrats' or 'public robbers,' but by working men, poor men, men who represent the masses, men who never will be millionaires. Now, when we find such speeches as these from the home and away of the country, and the sentiments expressed by Mr. Wood, of Seckville, and other 'millionaires,' it is pretty evident that all classes of the people are rallying around the N. P. in a way that no policy was ever endorsed before. The anti-mpt of the Gritorgans to set class against class and labor against capital will miserably fail."

The novelty of the Summerside Journal's account of the National Policy with having created a special issue is the "canning of lobsters and other kind of news." Why not talk yesterday's news in the evening brought by the N. P. Morning Times.

Notes of a Naturalist.

"Dear to my heart thy fir-clad hills, Thy valleys green, thy lea-de hills, Thy sunny nooks, where 'neath the snow, The fragrant Epigea blows."

'Twas there, on the cold soil of the barren, that we found the first May-flower. The pine-tree spread its great dark arms overhead, and whispered low, solemn music in the breeze. The Kalmia and the Ledum, with their sparse, dull grey foliage, formed shrubby thickets all round. And the trailing club-mosses spread their verdant wreaths among the wilted foliage, as fresh as if they had never felt the embrace of winter snow. On a sheltered bank, where the sunshine rested softly, and the Epigea spread its trailing stem and thick, evergreen, fragrant spangle of pale, coral-tinted bloom. We wondered how so fair a gem could bloom on this cold, damp soil, under the very breath of yet unadvised snow.

May-flowers delight in the cold, unfertile soils, where black spruces and laurel grow, and are much more abundant among the hills of the neighboring Provinces, than on the dry, fertile slopes of our own Island. They are found all down the Atlantic coast to beyond the New England States; and everywhere their "starry loveliness" is hailed with joy, as a harbinger of Spring. With the May-flowers come many other beauties to our fields and forests. The white-fronted swallow sweeps the softening sky. The white-breasted nut-crack, wild and free, has sounded his strong shout through the forest tops. The gold-finch has returned in numbers, and now attracts attention by their bright, gilded tunica and little, sad-like squeaking. They sing well, however, almost rivaling the canary in the rich variety of their song, and surpassing it in the striking brilliancy of their plumage. Our old fisherman-bird, the belted kingfisher, now shouts along the river banks. He is a wild, brave bird, with a fearless laugh and an arrowy flight, and a certain dash in his prey. Full well we know how he will defend his burrow in the bank, when it contains the sacred treasures of his helpless nestlings.

The hermit-thrush—a sweet, melancholy bird—is calling for his mate; and the first of the warblers, the yellow-rumped warbler, is singing his slender ditty through the firg. The song of this last bird is slight and weak, but its notes have that peculiar fineness and purity of tone, characteristic of all the warblers. They are wood-land poets of the higher type. Nothing in all the melody of the groves now brings up visions of summer gentleness like the pure sweetness of this little warbler's re-peated lay.

The woodland wanderer will now be charmed to meet the gay Baphio infans, coming floating with his broad, gold-edged wings on the sunny air of a sheltered glade. The remnants of winter are still plentiful around, but the appearance of this fragile beauty gives assurance that summer is not far away. How lavish Nature is of her beauties!—How anxious our Heavenly Father to send joy to his children here, when the delicate, painted structure of a fragile butterfly is a safe adapted to bring its delights even among the winter's snows!

The Coal Trade.

The Monetary Times says:—The Nova Scotia coal trade is giving signs of improvement, according to the returns for the first three months of this year. The statistics furnished by the Department of Mines are to the effect that the quantity of coal raised in the first quarter, 1882, was 196,884 tons, an increase of about 57,000 tons over the same period last year. The sales during the quarter were 111,710, or 7,700 tons more than the first quarter of 1881. The Halifax Herald states that much of the increased output has been "banked" for the spring trade, a step which the coal companies have not hitherto ventured upon. The following is a comparison of the output and sales of coal for the first three months of 1882, with those of the first three months of two previous years:—

Table with 4 columns: Quarter, Output (Tons), Sales (Tons), and Difference.

This evidence of growth in an important industry is to be welcomed, and the increasing enterprise of the companies is a favorable sign. But it will need something more than this to make the objectionable coal tax palatable to other parts of the Dominion.

THE RIFLE.—The semi-annual shooting of No. 3 Company, 82nd Battalion, for the Company Silver Cup took place yesterday on Kensington Rifle Range. The day was unfavorable for making large scores, the wind being strong from the left and not steady. This beautiful cup was won last year by Sergeant McGregor twice in succession, and at the two first ranges yesterday he bid fair to win it the third time, when he would have become the absolute owner of it; but the bold Sergeant failed at the last range, and Lieut. Stewart wrested the prize from him, by a few points with Private John Crockett, next. Lieut. Stewart making the highest score at the longest range becomes the winner on this occasion. The following are the scores of the five highest:—

Table with 4 columns: Name, Yds., Yds., and Total.

That $59,000.—The Grits, by Order-in-Council in 1875, appointed 97 Inspectors of Weights and Measures before there was any work for them to do. These 97 patriots commenced drawing their pay immediately, and before they did a hands-turn they put in 33,288 days, and received therefor over $32,000! That was bad enough, but it is not all. The Grit Government purchased $37,000 worth of materials for the purpose of putting the Act in force, which when bought were found to be utterly useless. These articles, costing $37,000, have ever since been stored away in the vaults at Ottawa, wearing out in idleness! No wonder that while heavy expenditures were made under the late Government the people received no benefit therefrom.—Times.

"ALL RIGHT," is the general exclamation of all who have used Minard's Lament, for it always proves to be just what it is represented to be.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

LIVERPOOL, May 17. The Police boarded the National Live Steamer "Egypt," which sailed to-day for New York. Just before she left the Mersey the passengers and crew mustered on the vessel, they were then searched and ten men discovered stowed in different parts of the steamer. They were taken to the Police Station, two appear to be Americans, and three Irishmen. They are fairly well dressed. The remainder are seafaring men.

LONDON, May 17. The police do not believe the stowaways found on the steamer "Egypt" were connected with the crime at Phoenix Park. Mr. Trevelyan, Chief Secretary for Ireland has been re-elected a member of Parliament for Hawick without Opposition. The News says the Conservatives will strenuously oppose the Arrears Bill. There is a good deal of dissatisfaction among the Home Rulers with the Kilmahinham Compact, which, it is stated, has endangered Parnell's position as leader.

PARIS, May 17. Michael Davitt has arrived here. MARSEILLES, May 17. The case of the municipality of Marseilles against ex-Empress Eugenie to recover possession of the Chateau presented to the late Empress by the city, has been decided in favor of the ex-Empress.

OTTAWA, May 17. It is rumored that a special issue of the Canada Gazette will be published to-morrow containing the proclamation of the dissolution of Parliament. Nominations will be fixed for the 15th June, polling on the 20th. The prorogation of Parliament took place to-day. The closing ceremonies were not largely attended.

Irish News.

ARREARS OF RENT.

Mr. Gladstone, in the House of Commons, on the 16th, introduced the Arrears Bill. He explained that the Bill was limited to tenancies up to £30, Griffith's valuation. The Bill is to be administered by the Land Commission, which will be assisted by a County Court Judge, before whom the tenant will be obliged to prove his inability to pay arrears. Either the landlord or tenant may apply to the commission. The bill only deals with two years arrears, and requires the tenant to pay one year's arrears from Nov. 1880, to Nov. 1881. When that is paid the whole of the remaining one year's rent from the residue of the Irish church surplus fund the amount of which is estimated at £1,500,000. There is no reason to believe that claims on the Government's contributions will exceed £2,600,000, remaining half million will be made up from the Consolidated Fund. The progress of the Bill will depend upon the progress of the Repression Bill which can not be displaced.

THE LONDON DAILY TELEGRAPH says a formal protest from a number of Irish Judges against certain provisions of the Repression Bill has been received by the Government through Earl Spencer. It advocates the empowering of special juries to return a verdict by a majority instead of the proposed special commissions.

PARNELL'S RELEASE.

During the debate in the Commons on the 16th inst., revelations were made concerning transactions preceding Parnell's release. O'Shea explained he had entered into correspondence with Parnell and various members of the Government at his own instance. Forster read a memorandum of conversation with O'Shea the day after the latter had visited Parnell in Kilmahinham Jail, in which O'Shea said:—"If the Land Act is amended as Parnell desired, conspiracy or organization which has been used to get up boycotting and outrages could be used to put them down; that there would be union in the Liberal party and Parnell hoped to get Sheridan back from abroad as he would be able to put down conspiracy or agitation in the west, being acquainted with all its details."

TORONTO, May 18—10 a. m.

Moderate winds; fair weather.

The recent announcement that the line of American steamers plying between Philadelphia and Liverpool was not a success, even with the backing of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, has attracted attention abroad. The steamship company, it appears, state that they are undecided whether to discontinue the line or transfer it to some other American port. The London Ironmonger believes that the failure of the line to pay is "due to the effort to make Philadelphia an important shipping port, for which nature never intended it." The company is advised to make New York its natural terminus, which, it adds, "is the natural terminus of that (the Pennsylvania) road." This brings the London journal to the subject of the "denudance of American shipping" on which it sensibly says:—"If some of the artificial obstacles imposed by legislation in the way of ship-owning and ship-running were removed, American commerce would revive itself."

OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES is growing younger with every year. Shrewdness dwells in every wrinkle of his Yankee face, and merriment sparkles in the clear and honest eyes. He is if possible, wittier than ever, and is lavish in his fun. His daily life is full of hard work, carefully performed, but he nevertheless finds time for many dinner parties.

ROYAL HARRY

WILL STAND FOR THE SEASON, at his OLD STABLE, Queen Street. His Colts took five prizes out of six at Halifax, contending against all the best stock in the Dominion; and that they can trot is proved by the fact that Harry Messenger, a Colt of his, without training, beat the imported stallion "All Right," in a match race at Summerside.

MANBRINO STAR.

Will also stand at the same stable. This Horse was bred in Kentucky, and comes of the very best Trotting and Racing blood, his Sire being half brother to that wonderful mare "Goldsmith Maid," his dam half sister to the great "Lady Thora," his grand-dam half sister to the sire of the famous race-horse Lexington. The few Colts by him are very promising both for style and speed. I will put his fee low this year to induce breeders to use him.

SEED POTATOES.

WE have received per ship "Rosemary," from Glasgow, Scotland, 500 bushels "Early Rose," an early potato, similar to our "Early Rose," but dryer and much better flavored. A certain party in Dartmouth planted a half bushel of this kind last year and got a yield of thirty bushels of choice potatoes. 183 bushels "Victorious," an excellent potato for family use during the winter and spring. 189 bushels "Champion," good for family use or for stock.

The above mentioned potatoes are recognized by all who know to be the best varieties of potatoes grown in Scotland and Ireland, and we feel confident in saying from all that we could learn from their past history, while there last winter, as well as from using them, that parties planting them here will realize most handsome profits from the investment, on account of the extra yield they will get, the price they will command, and the fact that they will not rot or blight. Those potatoes have been in the ship for forty days and come out perfectly sound and in splendid growing condition, which of itself should be a sufficient guarantee of their keeping qualities. Every farmer should plant some of them. Price at store or put free on cars, $3 25 per bushel.
