SABRE JETS SCORE NEW AIR VICTORIES IN KOREA

Rail Spokesmen Given Rough Ride At Hearing

New Commander Of 27th Brigade In Germany Announced At Ottawa

OTTAWA, Sept. 26 — (CP) — The army today announced shifts for the original commanders of its two overseas brigades. Brigadiers John Rockingham and Geoffrey Walsh.

Brig. Walsh is coming home from Europe to take over from Brig. Rockingham as director-general of military training at army headquarters.

He will be succeeded as commander of the 27th Brigade in Germany by Brig. John Pangman, D.S.O., 44, of Toronto, another veteran combat leader.

Brig. Pangman is going to London to attend Britain's top flight Imperial Defence College for a year. He came home from Korea earlier this year after training and commanding the 25th Brigade in action.

The shifts take place in November. All three men won the coveted D.S.O. in the Second World War for leadership in battle.

Now In Korea

Brig. Pangman now is commanding the replacement group for Korea at Wainwright, Alta. His original pre-1939 regiment was the Queen's Own Rifles of Toronto but in the Second World War he commanded both the Carleton and York from New Brunswick and the Essex Scottish from Windsor, Ont.

Since the replacement group is being scattered now that its summer training is over, no successor to Brig. Pangman as overall commander is likely to be named. One of its units is due to go to Korea shortly, the others early next year.

Brig. Pangman won the D.S.O. in the Vient Hinghwal fighting west of the Rhine in the winter of 1944-45. After the war he joined the National Defence College in Kingston and held other posts.

Brig. Rockingham is the man picked from civilian life in 1950 to tackle the job of turning thousands of veterans and youngsters into a combat unit to go to Korea. His 25th Brigade acquitted itself admirably.

Application For Rates Boost Called "Extraordinary"

OTTAWA, Sept. 26 — (CP) — Railway spokesmen seeking a freight-rate increase were given a rough ride today by the chief of the Board of Transport Commissioners in the closing stages of the $40,000,000-a-year case.

Mr. Justice John D. Kearney, chief commissioner, questioned the need of the carriers calling on the board for an eight-per-cent boost in the middle of their biggest traffic year in history. He called the application "extraordinary."

The board reserved judgment at the end of the five-day hearing, closing out one stage of a three-way application for higher rates filed last July. Still to be heard are applications for an increase in Western domestic grain rates — to start Monday — and for a further general boost of nine per cent.

When the board ended today's hearings, it still had before it a motion from eight provincial governments — all except Ontario and Quebec — that it throw out the railway case. The formal non-suit motion was filed yesterday.

It was expected the board's verdict on the non-suit motion would be combined with its general decision on the case later.

Points today also included:

1. Saskatchewan counsel M. A. MacPherson said the provinces are demanding that there be a halt to rate increases. The railways must realize they were "slipping" as an industry and could not continue to raise rates in the face of heightening competition.
2. Frank D. Smith, representing the Atlantic Provinces, argued against the percentage-type increase granted by the board since the war and also called for dismissal of the case.
3. For British Columbia, C. W. Brazier said that in the past his province has conceded the railways.

Charlottetown Man Heads Maritime Wild Life Federation

Mr. F. A. Stewart Jones, Charlottetown was elected president of the Maritime Wildlife Federation at the 3rd annual meeting held on the Abegweit Ferry last night. Presided over by present W. A. Fox, Amherst. Other officers include Mr. E. Graham Rogers, Secretary-treasurer, and Mr. Harold Shaw, auditor.

Vice-presidents of the Federation are the three provincial presidents. Dick Found, Ellerslie, P. E. I.; Ott Hicks, Moncton, N. B.; and James Donely, Mill Village, N. S.

The meeting was attended by approximately 70 delegates representing P. E. I., Springhill, Wolfville, Amherst, Sackville, Sunny Brae and Moncton.

Mr. Fox in his opening remarks welcomed the delegates, and gave a brief resume of the origin of the Federation, its purposes, and its activities. He then called on the presidents of three Provincial Game Associations to introduce their speakers.

Mr. Dick Found introduced Mr. Wilfred Saunders of the Atlantic Biological Station, St. Andrews, Fisheries Research Board of Canada, who spoke on the experiment presently being conducted at Ellerslie. Mr. Saunders stated that P. E. I. had a unique problem in that while its streams were highly productive and fertile, there was a distinct lack of water. He emphasized the need of ponds where the fish might grow.

At Ellerslie, he said, they were constructing a barrier across the

May Be Making Use of Deadly New "Gimmick"

By Robert Tuckman

SEOUL, Sept. 27 — (Saturday) — (AP) — Sharp-shooting Sabre jets destroyed four Communist Mig's and damaged four more Friday, boosting the number of Red jet planes shot down this month to a new high of 56.

Snarling dogfights raged almost seven miles high east of Simulju on the Yalu River frontier of Manchuria.

This battle brought the September box score of Mig's to 56 destroyed, six probably destroyed and 51 reported damaged. One of Friday's damage claims was not officially confirmed. For the month, three other destruction claims and two damage claims are pending.

Best Month Since April

Previously the best monthly score was last April when Allied airmen downed 41 Red jets and three propeller-driven fighters for a total of 44.

Lieut. Cecil C. Foster shot down two of the four Mig's Friday. He has a total of three destroyed.

Allied losses for the day, if any, will be announced in a week-end summary.

Reports that a deadly new "gimmick" was aiding Sabre pilots in their Mig hunts have not been confirmed, although an air force spokesman conceded the device was in the Korean war theatre.

Patrol Skirmishes

The aerial battles overshadowed the ground war Friday. Scattered patrol skirmishes were reported along the front but there was none of the heavy fighting for hill outposts such as flared earlier this month.

In other air action, U. S. marine pilots bombed two Communist troop concentrations on the Haeju peninsula above the western front. Pilots claimed 31 buildings destroyed.

Allied fighter-bombers lending a hand to United Nations ground forces on the western front claimed a score of Red casualties and reported they knocked out a 10 troop bunker, three gun positions and two field pieces.

N. B. Potato Growers Expect Higher Prices For 1952 Crop

NEW COMMAND — Air Vice Marshal H. B. Campbell, 44, of Salisbury, N. B., has been appointed air officer commanding the R. C. A. F.'s air division overseas. Air Vice Marshal Campbell leaves the post of Canadian chief of staff representative at the Canadian Joint Service headquarters in Washington.

(CP From National Defence)

SAINT JOHN, N. B., Sept. 26 — (CP) — This year's New Brunswick potato crop is expected to command higher prices than the 1951 yield.

Consensus of growers and buyers of the province tonight was that the acreage return will be less than a year ago, but prices per barrel paid the grower will be more.

Such an advance would be reflected on the consumer market, with the householder probably due to pay a higher price for the staple food.

Walter Knowles, Perth potato buyer, said the crop now being taken from the soil will be "just fair" in quantity but of a high standard in quality. He predicted a price rise, commenting, "It looks like a pretty good year for the farmers."

Average yield this year will be about 100 barrels an acre, Mr. Knowles said. He added: "There won't be the amount of potatoes that people thought. There will be away less than last year, perhaps as much as one-third less, but the quality is very good."

The price of last year's crop soared to $10 a barrel. At present growers are receiving about $4.

Police Without Clue In Huge Gold Robbery Case

TORONTO, Sept. 26 — (CP) — Police, called onto a cold trail in the disappearance of $215,000 in gold from Melton Airport, said today they were without a clue in the biggest and slickest robbery in Canadian history.

The bullion was enroute from Noranda Mines in Northern Ontario to Britain for trans-shipment, refined here, it was delivered to a Trans-Canada Air Lines cargo agent at the suburban airport and placed in the "valuables vault," a wire mesh cage eight feet high and five feet wide.

A Tough Case

"It's a nightmare of a case," one officer said. "For a while last night we didn't even know for sure if the stuff was even stolen.

"We didn't get any satisfaction out of the people involved. We didn't know if one man or 50 did the job."

Discovery of the theft was made first in Montreal about midnight Wednesday when the T. C. A. plane arrived from Melton with only four boxes of gold instead of the 10 consigned to the flight.

Because airline officials considered the boxes only "missing," regular police forces were not informed immediately.

T. C. A. officials said it was "standard practice" to check first to see where a shipment might have been loaded on the wrong plane before designating it "stolen."

Toronto police were informed of the theft at 3:30 p. m. Thursday and R. C. M. P. and Provincial Police a short time later.

Toronto police said the delay in supplying details to all major police organizations concerned made it "more than easy" for the thieves to escape from the Toronto area, possibly across the border to the United States.

Former Guard Not Surprised

Some officials expressed belief that the bullion is already on the U. S. black market, where it would bring more than $300,000.

Brinks express guards took the shipment to the airport and today a former Brinks man, who asked reporters not to use his name, said he wasn't surprised at the theft.

"We were just lucky it didn't happen before," he said. "We used to joke about how easy it would be to walk in and help themselves to a couple of boxes of bullion."

It was not unusual for attendants of the valuables vault to leave the door unlocked, he added.

"The wire mesh was not cut in the theft, police found, and the ordinary-looking padlock on the door had not been forced."

Revolt Sparks Major Upset At C.C.L. Elections

TORONTO, Sept. 26 — (CP) — A surprise revolt against leadership dictates among strong international unions today sparked a major upset in the Canadian congress of labor election fight.

Donald MacDonald, the man the Steel, Auto and Packinghouse Union leaders wanted to crush in his bid for re-election as C. C. L. secretary-treasurer and organizer, won a victory against the candidate of the union heads, William Mahoney.

Even though the big international unions together had sufficient votes to assure election of the 35-year-old Mahoney, the hefty assistant to steel union boss, Charles Millard, was knocked off by 45 votes.

Mr. MacDonald, 43-year-old former C. C. L. Maritime director who stepped into the job left vacant when Pat Conroy walked out a year ago, was ushered in for a second term by a count of 455 to 407.

Pravda Makes Blistering Attack On U. S. Envoy

(By Eddy Gilmore)

MOSCOW, Sept. 26 — (AP) — A blistering attack by Pravda today raised a question as to the future status of Ambassador George Kennan as the United States envoy to Russia.

Pravda, organ of the Communist Party and the highest journalistic authority in Russia, charged Kennan with conduct improper to an ambassador and said he was a "slenderer disguised as a diplomat."

The assault on the 48-year-old expert on Russian affairs, who took up his post less than five months ago, was the result of an interview he gave reporters in Berlin Sept. 19 while en route to a London meeting of U. S. diplomatic chiefs. He was quoted as saying that Soviet-American relations had sunk to an "icy-cold" level, and compared the situation of American diplomats in Moscow now with that of interned U. S. Americans in Berlin in 1941-42 during the war.

"Had the Nazis permitted us to walk the streets without having any right to talk to any Germans that would be precisely how we have to live today in Moscow," he was quoted.

In London today, Kennan refused to comment in Washington, U. S. State Secretary Dean Acheson said, the attack was wholly unjustified. He said Kennan had given a calm and accurate description of what life is like in Moscow.

Pravda's attack, signed by "Observer" and given a prominent place on the third page, said Kennan was:

1. An "eccentric liar."
2. A violator of elementary rules obligatory for diplomats.
3. Seeking to worsen Soviet-American relations rather than improve them.
4. Recommending himself as an enemy of peace; and thus of the Soviet Union.
5. Guilty of slanderous fabrications, crude anti-Soviet attacks, malicious hostility and obvious nonsense.

News In Brief

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26 — (AP) — Scandinavian airlines system tonight announced plans for the first California-to-Europe air service over the top of the world via Thule air base.

PARIS, Sept. 26 — (AP) — Rita Hayworth, who has a divorce suit pending in the United States against Prince Aly Khan, was staying tonight at the Prince's home in suburban Neuilly. So was Aly.

LIVERPOOL, England, Sept. 26 — (Reuters) — Mrs. Flora MacLeod, Chief of Clan MacLeod, sailed for New York in the liner Britannic today for a five-week stay in the United States at the invitation of American MacLeods.

FREDERICTON, Sept. 26 — (CP) — Retiring Premier McNair and premier-elect Hugh John Flemming have held a telephone consultation and arranged to have the new Progressive Conservative Government of New Brunswick assume office either Oct. 8 or 9.

EDMONTON, Sept. 26 — (CP) — The Edmonton Journal today reports that Canadian Delhi Oil Company is likely to receive an early go-ahead to build a $250,000,000 natural gas pipeline over an all-Canadian route from Alberta as far east as Montreal.

Apple Growers Seek Markets

HALIFAX, Sept. 26 — (CP) — Although producing the second largest crop on record, Annapolis Valley apple growers may have trouble finding markets this year. Agriculture Minister A. W. Mackenzie said tonight.

This year's crop is estimated at 550,000 barrels, a far cry from the one-time yearly average of 2,000,000.

"We are told that sales to the United Kingdom are definitely off," Mr. Mackenzie said. "They don't have the dollars."

Ontario and Quebec, experiencing short crops this season, are the only markets definitely interested in Nova Scotia apples so far.

"It may be possible to market the crop," Mr. Mackenzie said, "but a 1,000,000-barrel crop this year would have created a very serious problem."

Seven Men Win Awards For Gallantry In Korea

OTTAWA, Sept. 26 — (CP) — The navy today announced awards to seven men for outstanding service in Korea, including a third gallantry award for one combat veteran.

Capt. Plomer commanded H. M. C.S. Cayuga in those waters and headed the three-destroyer flotilla at the same time in 1951-52. He now is commanding the recruit-training base, H. M. C. S. Cornwallis, near Digby, N. S.

His citation says:

"For great devotion to duty during long hours on patrol in Korean waters, on the carrier screen and under fire from coastal batteries. He has shown great determination and dash in his work among the islands of the west coast and has proved a fine leader."

Capt. King, now at headquarters here, was decorated for "great devotion to duty during arduous patrols... for steadiness under fire while commanding the destroyer Athabaskan."

Capt. Taylor now is cited for "fearless leadership" while commanding the Sioux in his second tour. He now is assistant naval attaché in Washington.

Slump In Prices Pushes Value Of Exports Down

OTTAWA, Sept. 26 — (CP) — A slump in export prices drove down the value of Canada's domestic exports during August for the second straight month, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Export prices, slipping since last November, have been consistently below those of corresponding months of 1951 since last May.

However, the slump was not great enough to offset a similar decline over the eight-month period since the first of the year.

During August, the value of exports dropped to $345,100,000 from $349,800,000 during August 1951 and $371,000,000 during July 1952. The July figure was down from $374,500,000 a year ago.

Substantial increases during the first six months pushed the eight-month value to $2,805,800,000 from $2,464,500,000 in a similar period last year.

For the first time over an export...

Nfld. Gov't Candidate Wins In By-election

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Sept. 26 — (CP) — Myles Murray, Provincial Affairs Minister in Premier Smallwood's Liberal Government tonight won a seat in the Newfoundland Legislature with a by-election victory in Ferryland.

He gathered 1,812 votes against 1,477 for his only opponent, Progressive Conservative A. M. Duffy.

The election was held yesterday but because of a unique and slow counting system the result was not known until tonight.

The win for Mr. Murray gave the Liberals 23 of the 28 legislative seats. The Progressive Conservative Opposition holds the others.

The by-election was called following a series of court battles resulting from the vote in the riding during the provincial election last November.

Mr. Duffy and Mr. Murray were the only contestants in that battle too, and Mr. Murray won by 31 votes. He lost in a recount but the Supreme Court later ruled some ballots had been improperly marked and ordered a by-election.

Body Of Rooming House Owner Found

MONTREAL, Sept. 26 — (CP) — The decomposed body of 50-year-old Theodore Werner, rooming house owner, was found today and police said he was probably killed "about 10 weeks ago."

Werner's body was found in a midtown Shuter Street house and police said splattered blood, together with other marks of violence, indicated a struggle preceded death.

Stranded Airmen In Greenland Rescued

LONDON, Sept. 26 — (Reuters) — The chief of the R.A.F. Air Staff thanked the United States Air Force today for "whole-hearted co-operation" received in the ski-plane rescue of 12 airmen stranded in Greenland.

All 12 men from a R.A.F. transport plane which crashed on an Arctic ice cap 11 days ago were safe at Thule, big U.S. air base in Greenland.

A ski-fitted U.S. plane with jet-assisted take-off equipment rescued nine airmen from the ice cap Thursday. The other three had been taken off Wednesday.

Two From Boyd Gang Convicted Of Robbery

TORONTO, Sept. 26 — (CP) — Two members of the Boyd gang were convicted of bank robbery today as a story of crime which goes back more than seven months moved toward its conclusion.

Joseph Jackson and Allister Gibson each were convicted of the armed robbery last March of a branch of the Bank of Montreal. Edwin Boyd, described as the king-pin of the group, previously had pleaded guilty to the same charge.

Norman Boyd, Edwin Boyd's brother, was convicted of harboring an escaped prisoner — his brother during the latter's first jail-break last November. Sentences were deferred until all charges have been heard.

In his address to the jury, Crown Counsel A. O. Klein said "there can be no doubt that Norman Boyd was engineering things and making arrangements for a hiding-place for his brother with his arsenal of guns and ammunition."

The judge was referring to the escape two weeks ago from Don Jail of Edwin Boyd, William Russell Jackson, Leonard Jackson, and Steve Suchan. The quartet was at large eight days before being captured in a North York barn.

In another court-room, the murder trial continued of Leonard Jackson and Steve Suchan charged in the fatal shooting last March of Detective Edmund Tong.

Boy Runs Off With Four-Ton Truck

MONTREAL, Sept. 26 — (CP) — A 70-pound nine-year-old youngster had himself a romp early today in a four-ton brewery truck loaded with beer before the aghast truck driver and a passerby caught him.

The unidentified boy stepped into the parked truck while the driver was making a delivery and nonchalantly drove it three blocks through downtown Montreal's horn-tooting traffic.

"We watched him drive about 20 miles an hour," truck-driver Gerald Beaulieu told police. "He stopped at all the stop signs, too."

The youngster said his father taught him to drive when he was five years old. He will appear in social welfare court tomorrow.

Bad Beginners Make Bad Enders

Heat Wave In Parts of Alberta

EDMONTON, Sept. 26 — (CP) — Record high temperatures were marked up today in various parts of Alberta as the mercury hovered around the 90 mark.

The weather man forecast that the warm spell, now several days old, is on its last legs. Cooler air from the Pacific will lower temperatures tomorrow.

High Tide Today at Charlottetown

High tide today at Charlottetown at 2:30 A. M. and 5:08 P. M. High tide on the North Shore at 12:19 P. M. and 11:17 P. M. Summerside tide eighteen minutes later than Charlottetown. Sun rises today at 6:05 A. M. and sets at 6:22 P. M.
