Three Airmen Killed In Level Crossing Crash

BARRIE, Ont., (CP)—Three airmen from Camp Borden were killed and two others injured when their car collided with a freight train Friday night at a level-crossing at nearby Jugus.

Air force officials withheld the names of the victims pending notification of next-of-kin.

Investigators said they believe the men, in a hurry to get to Barrie, passed another car that had stopped at the crossing and tried to beat the train.

The train crew said their first indication that the car was on the crossing was the crash.

The train slowed the car ahead of it for 200 yards.

The injured were taken to Camp Borden service hospital.

Carleton Women Complete Home Nursing Course

At the regular monthly meeting of the Carleton Women's Institute held at the home of Mrs. Leigh Lowther, 20 members received Red Cross acknowledgment cards for having completed the Red Cross home nursing course.

The presentation was made by the Provincial Red Cross Commissioner, Miss Iphigene Arsenault.

Investigators said they believe the men, in a hurry to get to Barrie, passed another car that had stopped at the crossing and tried to beat the train.

Sport Echoes From Prince County

The Summerside High School teachers were repulsed in the first challenge match with the high school boys. Whether it was faulty spotting on the part of the part of the professors, the result stands in the books and no amount of alibis can change it.

East is east, and west is west, Kipling said, and as far as we're concerned, the left pin is left—more often than not. To us it seems silly to make such a fuss over that one little pin. A fellow should get credit for all the lumber he chops down regardless of where it's situated. But, no, if you don't topple the one on the left, you suffer the eggs-treme penalty.

Well, let's be men enough to give them full credit for their victory. Vance "Horsehoes" Harris, and Ron "Rabbitfoot" Mullin certainly deserve a lot of credit in winning the high single and the three respectively. But where do you suppose they get those strange nicknames? There must be a reason if we could only think of it.

One of the professors would have made a fine hockey player. Almost every time he took a shot the red light flashed! What incensed the teachers most was the smug grin on the face of Big Chief "Roll A Ball," the coach of the high school team. He sat there all through the battle looking like a cat that had just eaten a canary.

Congratulations to Brian Lewis, the first Prince Edward Islander to ink a contract making him the property of a big league ball club. We think Brian richly deserves the honors he has won, and we wish him success in the ball parks south of the border.

Brian put a word in for home-ported ones—if the home product is good, that is.

"Raceway Stadium" Sounds all right to us. Congratulations to Tommy Clow and Mary Driscoll who came up with the lucky one.

"Let's go to the Stadium" should prove to be a winning pass word in Summerside. And how that beautiful big building is progressing! It will make hockey and skating fans forget the "rinkless" years.

W.C.T.U. NOTES

IS IT TOO MUCH TO ASK? By Dr. Roy L. Smith

Today's Christian faces no more pressing problems than that of alcoholic beverages, and on no subject is there greater need for clear thinking. The whole matter of one's integrity as a Christian can easily be wrapped up in this question: "What I drink?"

The chemical effect upon the human body, its narcotizing effect upon the brain and nervous system, its abnormal psychological consequences, its social effects, its economic significance in the life of the nation, and its moral influence, there is but one attitude that meets all the New Testament demands. That is "Total Abstinence."

The first thing for the Christian to consider is the fact that no paid advertising, legal enactment, or social custom can, in any way, affect the chemical character of alcohol.

The New Testament is plain in this point. The bodies in which we live are a living gift granted to us by a loving heavenly Father, "temples of the Holy Ghost," Paul called them. To defile or corrupt the body God has given us in which to live is as dishonourable as to drag our mother's Christmas gift through sewerage.

A City of Refuge

Precise judgments, fine distinctions, moral sensitivity—these are the fine mental qualities which suffer first. The psychologists sometimes call these functions "the capacity for self-criticism." It is always noticeable that the person who is "under the influence," says and does things of which he would be heartily ashamed if his brain were functioning in a normal way.

Large numbers of people drink alcohol because they seek an escape from actual facts. They do not want to have to look the facts in the face.

The Christian, on the other hand, who has a sure faith in God, has a city of refuge to which he can turn in the hour of his anxiety. He casts his burden upon the Lord and, unlike the drinker who falls into a sobriety and finds all his troubles waiting for him, the Christian finds a solution rather than merely an escape.

Today's drinking is governed in large part by social custom and usage. The cocktail before dinner (one of the most dangerous uses of alcohol), the social glass, is dictated by the desire to go along with the crowd.

The Christian who is sensitive to the responsibility he owes to his fellows, as a Christian, will abstain from the use of alcohol lest he become in some way responsible for another man's downfall.

New Library At Bradalbane Publicly Opened This Week

A new library for Bradalbane and surrounding districts was officially opened Dec. 8, in the presence of a large number of people from the area. Mr. Cuyler Matheson, Chairman of Bradalbane Library Committee presided at the public meeting held in the Orange Hall.

In his opening remarks Mr. Matheson told of the steps leading to the erection of the new building, and thanked those who helped in any way—the volunteers who canvassed the various districts for funds, Mr. Chadler, Director of Libraries, who did so much to help and encourage the local committee, and all those who contributed so generously to make the new building possible.

Mr. H. B. Chandler, Director of Libraries, outlined the history of the library in Bradalbane and congratulated the community on its fine new building which can be a source of pride and pleasure to all. He spoke of the committee and the cooperation received from the various districts, so that the library is practically debt free at the time of opening. He urged all to make regular use of the library, which will be open Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday evenings, under the care of Mrs. P. E. Murray.

Dr. L. W. Shaw, Deputy Minister of Education, expressed his pleasure at seeing a new library building opened at Bradalbane. He stressed the importance of the need of books to keep people well informed in this fast-changing world, and the great contribution of the library to the educational and recreational facilities of the community.

A special guest at the meeting, Dr. Roy K. Dick, Director of the Canadian Association for Adult Education, spoke briefly. He gave several vivid illustrations of the significance men have attached to books through the ages, and said to take full advantage of the freedom to read in the evening.

During the evening the audience enjoyed musical numbers by Master Allan Hickox and Linda Snowle; Misses Helen and Annie Newsome; Mr. Gerrit Loo; Misses Lois MacDonald and Eleanor MacSwain; Miss Dorothy Matheson, Misses Cameron and Keating.

The program ended with the film "Canada at the Coronation" shown by Mr. John Martin of the National Film Board.

Following the program, in a brief ceremony, Dr. Dick turned the key, opening the library for inspection. The building, situated in the centre of the village, is painted white with a blue asphalt roof. The interior, which measures 18' x 24', is bright and attractive with pale blue walls, deeper blue shelves, and floor of mulberry red. Heat is supplied by an oil-burning furnace. Library desk in birch, window tables and chairs, window drapes, and five Canadian paintings complete the furnishings.

In the afternoon 60 junior children were entertained at the hall by Miss Grace Campbell and Miss Dorothy Cullen of the P. E. Islands staff. They enjoyed a program of stories, a musical game and a book-quiz in which prizes were won by Ferne Taylor, Dorothy Cullen, and Elsie MacDonald, Bradalbane. They were introduced to the library and first home eagerly awaiting the first day when the fascinating new books can be taken out.

Comments On Maine Potato Council Move

—Mr. J. Lincoln Dewar, secretary of the Prince Edward Island Farmers Federation in regard to an announcement yesterday that the Maine Potato Industry Council had asked the United States Treasury Department to impose a duty of 45 cents a bushel on imports of Canadian potatoes, said the news release was not clear as to whether this was to be a total duty of 45 cents or whether it was to be an additional duty of 45 cents over and above the 37 1/2 cents now pay on a quota of two million bushels. Once the quota of two million bushels is filled the duty goes up to 75 cents.

He said this appeared to be fairly reasonable protection to the American grower in view of the fact that American potatoes come into Canada duty free throughout the year with the exception of six weeks in the early part of the summer from the middle of June to the last of July.

In view of the fact that the United States sells six times as much in the way of fruit and vegetables in Canada as we sell in the United States they are barking up the wrong tree.

"Trade," he said, "should flow both ways but this indicated it was actually flowing more in one direction."

Asked if he thought there would be a counter embargo placed on American potatoes coming into Canada should the United States treasury department accede to the request of the Maine Potato Industry Council by imposing a duty on potatoes imported from Canada, he said that these tariff matters came under the general agreement of trade and tariffs and he felt that if the United States were to take this action, they would be contravening the spirit and actual facts of the agreement that had been made between the two countries.

"Last March," he said, "when the Canadian Federation of Agriculture presented a brief to the Dominion Cabinet, in so far as potatoes were concerned, it recommended that there should be no tariff or duties and no quotas."

Mr. Dewar indicated that he believed the movement of both seed and table stock to the United States markets would be stopped entirely should the United States Government impose further duties. Expressing confidence that the matter might be little more than a threat, he said he believed the United States Government would not make any hasty decision or action on the matter and said he doubted that they would ever touch it at all, for the reason that it was outside of the spirit of the agreement between the two countries.

Utilities Commission

Witnesses heard in brief summations. Each of them touched on the important issues and recalled testimony of various witnesses. Mr. R. R. Bell felt that the public at large did not appreciate the difference between employees of a public utility and an ordinary company. He said the former were subject to certain regulations.

He pointed out that the law stated the award of an arbitration board should not be final until after a public hearing before the Public Utilities Commission. Mr. Bell did not agree with the union speaker that the company could pay the award and said he had placed before the Commission the best evidence available from the best sources.
