To any representation we make. The Watches we sell are the best money can buy. And the plain truth is strong enough to sell them. THE DREAM WAS TRUE.—Jessie Lowe Dayton, Wash., 16 years old, was awakened from a nap on a couch downstairs in her home by a dream that a certain upstairs room was afire. She ran upstairs and found it just as in the dream it had been pictured, and she put out the fire.

LOTS OF PETROLEUM.—The biggest discovery of petroleum on record in Canada has been made at Thamesville, Ont. One well pumps over one thousand barrels of oil a day, and the other wells sunk show splendid results. Many new wells are being sunk, and oil speculation is very active.

A DISASTROUS CLOUDBURST.—A cloudburst in the vicinity of Chelsea Park, a Kansas City suburban pleasure resort, is believed to have caused the death of at least five persons and possibly more. Half a dozen houses were carried away. The disaster occurred one night last week.

WHERE THE E'S EARTHQUAKES.—According to a recent despatch from San Francisco Mexico is the shakiest country on the earth at the present time. For the past two months earthquakes have been of daily occurrence, and a great deal of damage has been done. No one has been able to keep count of the number of shocks that have been felt, but some idea of the condition that prevails can be gained from the fact that during a single night a short time ago 183 distinct shocks were felt. The damage done has run into the thousands, and it has kept the residents busy making repairs. At Tombell Gulch, about twelve miles east of Medocino City, the earth has been quaking almost continually since the big shock felt on the coast over two months ago, and it was at this place that 183 shocks were counted in one night. People living in the tall red-wood timber have been frightened down to the coast, and many on the coast have moved out of their houses for fear the latter would collapse upon them.

SPAIN'S CROWN JEWELS.

Brought to America by the Secretary of Joseph Bonaparte.

"In 1817 Joseph Bonaparte's secretary, Maillard, left Philadelphia armed with letters which represented him to be a traveling agent for Girard's commercial house and visiting Girard's correspondents in Holland and Switzerland." William Perrine writes of "When the King of Spain Lived on the Banks of the Schuylkill" (in Philadelphia) in The Ladies' Home Journal. "His real destination was the Swiss chateau at Prangins, from which the king had fled two years before, and his real object to secure the treasure which had been buried in the ground of the estate on the eve of his flight. Maillard found the buried packets, and with them he would also have brought to Philadelphia Queen Julie if her physicians had not compelled her to renounce the project of joining her husband.

"The jewels, which were valued at $1,000,000, were stuffed into a belt, which Maillard wore on his person when returning across the Atlantic, and with which he was gladly received by his master in the Lansdowne house, near Philadelphia. It was about this time that wild rumors began to circulate in Philadelphia concerning the ex-king's riches and of the hoards of specie which he had deposited in the vault of Stephen Girard's Philadelphia bank. Mysterious heavy boxes, sealed with wax, were believed by Girard's clerks to contain the crown jewels of Spain and Naples. One or two old men in recent years, who were then among those clerks, have told how Joseph would sit in the bank talking with them affably while waiting for the great banker."

The Supreme Hymn.

Speaking of hymns, the Rev. Robert Collyer said the other day: "I well remember one day when this subject was the object of a discussion between Ralph Waldo Emerson and Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes. The latter said that many of the so called hymns were mere pieces of cabinet work. Then his voice deepened, his eyes shone, as we remember him in his noblest moments, as he said, 'One hymn I think supreme.' Emerson threw his head back, as he always did when his attention was arrested, and waited. Dr. Holmes repeated the first verse:

"Thou hidden love of God, whose height,
Whose depth, unfathomed, no man knows,
I see from far thy beauteous light,
Only I sigh for thy repose.
My heart is pained, nor can it be
At rest till it finds rest in thee.
'I know—I know,' exclaimed Emerson. 'That is the supreme hymn.'"

BEER BROS

I have been frequently told that "Dry Goodmen" try to persuade buyers from inspecting my goods.

It is easy to guess why they do this—and I sincerely hope they will continue in that course, for it only tends to make the shrewd buyer so much eager to know what I am selling at low prices.

I employ no salesmen, sell only to gilt edge buyers, and my only terms are cash. Housekeepers will find it to their advantage to inspect my wrappers and skirts. See the widely known "King Diamond Skirts" at such a low figure.

Buyers will save shoe walking and money by trading with me.
