C. O. F.—Regular meeting of Court Charlottetown to-night. Payment of dues.

City Council.—An emergency meeting of the City Council will be held to-night at eight o'clock to consider the heating of the City Building.

From Halifax.—The steamer Fastnet arrived from Halifax via intermediate ports about half-past eleven last night. To-day she left on return via Summerside, sailing about ten o'clock. She had a general cargo both ways.

The Bicycle.—All parties wishing to learn to ride the bicycle will do well to improve the opportunity before the Bicycle Academy closes. Only a few weeks of the season remain. Former pupils who wish further practice will find no time like the present.

Killed in a Mine.—The body of George McLeod, of Hunter River, who was killed by an explosion in a mine at Victoria, Col., on the 17th inst., was last evening brought home for interment. Mr. John Nicholson, uncle of the deceased, accompanied the body home.

Camp Brighton.—The 82nd Battalion in camp at Brighton are being inspected in infantry drill to-day. The Artillery are also being inspected by Major Rutherford. The different companies make a splendid appearance. There is a large attendance of spectators.

Promenade Concert.—The last promenade concert of the season by the 82nd Battalion Band was given in Queen Square Gardens last evening. Owing to the lateness of the season the attendance was not so large as usual. But the music furnished was greatly appreciated.

The Georgetown Races.—The three-minute trotting race at Georgetown on Sept. 30th has been declared off for want of entries. Negotiations are taking place to arrange a match between the stallions Billie McKie, Rollo Bay Boy and the brown mare Bye and Bye, to take place on the afternoon of the 30th.

Then and Now.—The Halifax Recorder, which is one of the oldest newspapers in the provinces, is publishing extracts from some of its old files. A recent number says that in 1818, the Recorder was quoting superfine flour at $12 per barrel and hay $20 per ton. The best quality of flour can now be obtained for less than $5, and hay is worth about $8 per ton.

Price of Pork.—The Halifax Herald says: The paragraph going the rounds of the papers of loss by Halifax men speculating in pork is nonsense. The price yesterday was 15 cents per barrel higher than when the Halifax men bought, and it looks as if there might be a still further advance. There are not more than 12,000 barrels of pork altogether held in Halifax for speculation.

The Kindergarten.—The first floor of the Philharmonic Hall Building is to be fitted up for a Kindergarten, and is to be remodelled at once. The building will be heated by hot air. Tenders were called for the work of re-modelling the building and heating it, the time for receiving which expired yesterday. No action has yet been taken, however. There are five tenders for re-modelling the premises, and two for heating.

English Crops.—Wheat is reported the crop of England this year, being particularly fine generally; but a great deficiency is reported in barley and oats; hay and grass almost an entire failure; hops lower in average than for four years; beans and peas below average, and not much better than last year; roots being also under average, but potatoes are a good crop. Canada will be able to furnish a supply of some of the deficiencies.

Social.—The social given to the students of Prince of Wales College last evening by the Epworth League of the First Methodist Church was most successful in every respect. Addresses of welcome were given by Rev. G. M. Campbell, the president of the League Mr. A. S. Johnson, and Mr. J. A. Moore. The literary and musical programme was participated in by Mrs. A. S. Johnson, and the Misses Fennell, McPherson, Sayre, Collings and Cooper. During the evening light refreshments were served. The social was held in the parlor of the church.

In a Great City.—A young woman was murdered in a crowded New York tenement house on Tuesday. A hundred people were within a few steps of the door. At least a dozen person heard the sound of the blows and her cries of agony. Yet the murderer escaped unnoticed and the dead body of the woman was not discovered for five hours. These facts are almost an exact repetition of the facts in four cases in New York city within a year. They very forcibly illustrate the old proverb about the utter loneliness of a crowd. Too many people heard the sounds of the death struggle. Too many persons saw the murderer on his way out of the tenement.

THE PIANO RECITAL.

No better evidence of the ability of Mr. Fred. Morris could be afforded than the absolute silence maintained by his hearers while he was at the piano. To be sure, he had the great advantage of a cultured and sympathetic audience. None the less was the unusual attention with which he was heard a tribute to his power. It is not too much to say that his execution was brilliant and such as to justify the hopes of his friends that he may ere long take rank among pianists who are known to fame. With his natural talent, he has enthusiasm and perseverance,—the qualities which ensure success. We shall not attempt a criticism of his recital of last evening, and shall merely say that he would have exhibited greater prudence if his own compositions had not been brought so prominently into comparison with those of Mendelssohn, Chopin and others. Meritorious as Mr. Morris' efforts are, and indicative as they may be of a talent to be developed, he is not yet so strong that he can afford to try conclusions with the great masters of music. He was very fortunate in obtaining the services of such artists as Miss Enid McLean, Miss Earle, Mr. Dixon, Mr. Earle, and Mr. Vinnicombe and his little daughter to give variety to the programme. Every part was well maintained, and the pleasure of the recital was, we think we may truly say, without alloy.

We are desired by Mr. Morris to express his gratification with the manner in which Mr. D. McLean attended to the arrangement of the Opera House, relieving Mr. Morris of all the trouble incident to such an occasion; also to express his pleasure and thanks in respect to the artistic manner in which Mr. Vinnicombe prepared the piano used in the recital.

Hundreds of ladies took advantage of Paton's grand display and bought their millinery trimmings.

WEDDING BELLS.

A very happy event occurred at the residence of Mr. John A. Campbell, Little Harbor, on Thursday evening, the 17th inst., it being the occasion of the marriage of his daughter Miss May Campbell to Leo McCormack, Esq., of Black Bush. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John McCullough. The bride was attended by Miss Sarah McDonald, while Mr. John Alfred McDonald supported the groom. After the ceremony the guests repaired to the dining room where a sumptuous repast had been prepared, the tables fairly groaning under the weight of the many delicacies provided, and after full justice had been done the inner man music and dancing was indulged in by the elite until the wee sma' hours of the morning, the elder folks contenting themselves with relating anecdotes of feats performed in their youthful days. Mr. and Mrs. McCormack accompanied by the bridesmaid and some friends, left by the morning train for Charlottetown from whence they take the SS Halifax for Boston, where they intend making their future home. With their many friends, we wish the happy couple many years of wedded bliss.

AN EXPLANATION.

Sir,—As on me rested the decision whether or not Father Connolly should deliver his lecture in Charlottetown, and as I spent almost the whole of three days getting arrangements into shape to have everything perfectly satisfactory; and as no announcement was made either to the audience or by press report of the cause of failure of the light, a few words of explanation will, I trust, not be considered out of place. Such are due both to Dr. Morrison and myself.

Father Connolly and Mgr. Maginnis brought a stereopticon and gases from Boston, but the gases were exhausted at the lectures at Vernon River. There was only one stereopticon and only one gas bag in Charlottetown. Though belonging to different parties I had used them together successfully before, and told Dr. Morrison I thought we could rely on their being satisfactory. In preparing the oxygen I filled the bag to its utmost capacity. It, however, did not hold enough for a lecture the length of Father Connolly's, as the sequel showed. There were 70 pictures shown and 33 remained. While I regret quite as much as anyone else present that there was not sufficient gas, it was simply impossible under existing circumstances to have a greater supply, and I had hoped we had enough.

Yours truly,
W. P. Doull.

Mr. Holden, the traveller for Kootenay Cure, arranged with Mrs. Newman to take his medicine for Rheumatism. He gave her a bottle and told me when this was done to write you and you would send another. The first bottle is about done, and I am very glad to say she shows a decided improvement, and is very hopeful that it is going to effect a cure. She is, of course, very weak yet, but the soreness and pain has left her hands and limbs to a large extent. Her appetite has improved, and she is able to digest her food without difficulty. You will please send bottle at once, as from what it has already done we are desirous of giving it a fair trial.

HON. MR. CAMPBELL'S RECORD AND VIEWS.

An Elector's Report.

Hon. William Campbell, the Conservative candidate for the Fourth District of Prince, addressed the electors in Kensington Hall, on Monday evening, 21st inst. Mr. Campbell gave a clear and concise statement of the affairs of the country from the time of the Owen administration up to the present time. Taking up the public accounts he showed, in a manner conclusive enough to silence all doubters, that during the Sullivan-McLeod administration the country was in a much better condition financially than it is under the present government. Also that the Sullivan-McLeod administration, on going out of power, left the financial affairs of the country in a better condition then it was when they assumed the reins of power. Taking up the accounts of the Public Works Department, he showed that under the present Administration the expenditure in that department far exceeds the amount expended while he was Commissioner of Public Works, and that the roads and bridges throughout the country are not now in as good condition as they were under the preceding Administration. While he (Mr. Campbell) was Commissioner of Public Works he built the Stock Farm buildings, the bridge at Seal River, a bridge at Tignish, a new bridge across the West River, and established a steam ferry to Rocky Point, besides various large works throughout the country. Speaking of the ferries, Mr. Campbell showed that while he was Commissioner of Public Works the amount annually sunk on those ferries was $6,000, while under the present administration the average is about $15,000 annually. While Mr. Campbell had charge of the Public Works Department his average annual expenditure was $100,000. Mr. McLean's average annual expenditure is about $120,000. Besides, in 1893 there was $19,000 of unpaid debts and contracts carried into the year 1894, which he acknowledges in his own report.

Mr. Campbell next took exception to Mr. Peters' method of levying taxes upon the people of this country. He claimed that the farmers of this country pay all the taxes while the moneyed men are exempted to the extent of $350 of income, while the laboring class pay to the fullest extent of their property. He claimed that if the expenditure was reduced as it should be, and the taxes equitably levied upon all classes alike, the expenditure and revenue could be made to meet. During 1893 the year of the last local election, Mr. McLean's expenditure in the Public Works Department was $148,000,—an increase over the previous year of $44,000. During the year of election, 1882, while he (Mr. Campbell) had charge of that department, his expenditure was only $93,000,—even less than in the previous year.
