ITP graduates know what it takes to succeed in Information Technology

Do you?

The Information Technology Professional Program (ITP)

- 12 month intensive post-graduate IT program
- Unique "Millennium Corporation" business simulation
- Nationally recognized certification
- The right mix of technical, organizational and interpersonal skills essential for tomorrow's business careers
- ITP increases your career opportunities, regardless of what field you are in - the humanities, sciences, mathematics or healthcare.

"As a growing employer in the Greater Fredericton region we interview students from a variety of backgrounds. We are continually impressed with the graduates of the ITP program at UNB. The maturity and professionalism that students bring to the program, combined with the technical training they receive, positions them well for success in a rapidly changing industry such as ours."
