The Telephone Company
—OF—
P. E. ISLAND.

PARTIES using the Telephones would find talking much more satisfactory if they would observe the following rules:—

1st. Speak with the mouth about four inches from the transmitter.

2nd. Speak in a moderate tone of voice, not too loud, and distinctly.

3rd. Place the telephone so as to cover the ear, just as if you wished to shut out all other sounds. Do not press too hard on the ear.

It is possible to talk and be heard when standing back two or three feet from the transmitter, if you shout loud enough, but it is not a pleasant mode of conversation, is entirely unnecessary, and is a useless waste of wind and lungs, besides being very annoying to all within range of your voice.

Acadia University.

The first term of the college year has closed and the boys have scattered to their separate homes. Silence reigns "on the hill," and the wind moans sadly around the corners of Chipman Hall. The past term has been an interesting and successful one. Sport and study each has received its proportionate amount of attention, and the lights in each have won their laurels.

Many changes greeted us as we treaded the old walks on our return after summer vacation. The shop windows and streets were brilliantly lighted with electricity. The front of the campus was adorned by a neat and appropriate building for manual training purposes. This is a fine addition to the educational efficiency of our institution and has attracted a large number of students But the chief object of attraction was the new seminary We left it last June a mere frame-work. We find on our return one of the finest buildings of its kind in Canada. Its airy and roomy apartments afford splendid accommodation for young ladies from every part of the province.

Assembly Hall has also changed its appearance. Its former cold and unattractive aspect has been changed into one of rare beauty. The transformation was effected by Blenkhorn, a well known artist.

The football season was a very interesting one. The "ball fanatics" came back with "blood in their eyes," and all spare time was spent in expounding the principles of the sturdy and manly game. Our annual match with Dalhousie ended in a score of 2 to 0 against us. It was the first game played by Acadia this season, and she felt proud of the low score.

Much of the interest of the season was caused by the exuberant spirits of the sophomores. True to the traditions handed down by their predecessors, they had the annual "Sophomore Racket." Band, cannon, bombs, foghorns, giant crackers, bells, etc., rendered the "night hideous." The racket resulted in the suspension of the class for a few days, but the boys of '95 were eventually restored to favor.

The eve of separation was celebrated by the annual rhetorical exhibition given by the junior class. The following is the list of orations.—

Frederick the Great—M P Balcom.
Australian Confederation—B S Bishop.
Goethe's Faust—Edward Blackadar.
The Present Military Systems of Europe—E H Cahoon.
Educational Value of Literature—Estelle A Cook.
The Poetry of Tennyson—B K Daniels.
Virgil and Thompson compared as Lovers of Nature—H S Davison.
Daniel O'Connel—A E Dunlop.
Should Newfoundland be admitted to the Dominion—F C Ford.
Freedom by Obedience—J E Ferguson.
Senecal as a Seeker after God—R E Gullison.
Papineau's Rebellion—H King.
Cardinal Ximenes—A Mason.
The Iliad, the Product of One Mind—W J Moore.
Civilization and Poetry—Harriet E Morton.
The Dramatic Action of King John—Alberton M Parker.
The Light of Asia and the Light of the World—L J Slaughenwhite.
Vox Populi, Vox Dei—W C Vincent.
John Greenleaf Whittier—Lew Wallace.
Tennyson's Princess—M B Whitman.
The Development of Historical Writings—F W Young.

The speakers were Misses Blackadar and Parker; Messrs. Daniels, Davison, Dunlop, Ford, Ferguson, Moore, Gullison and Vincent. The music and orations were much enjoyed by the audience. The class of '94 promises to honor old Acadia.

Concert at Pisquid Road.

A grand literary and musical entertainment was held in Pisquid Road schoolhouse on Wednesday evening, the 28th ult. The meeting was called to order at 7.30, and the programme opened by a few well chosen remarks from Hon. J. G. Scrimgeour, who kindly consented to act as chairman. The programme, consisting of vocal and instrumental music, recitations, dialogues, &c., was all that could be desired. When all did so well, it would be unfair to particularize, although the stump speech by Willie McLeod, the recitation by Mr. McKay and the whistling by Master Thos. Cameron deserve special mention, Miss Lily A. Cameron presided at the organ with her usual ability, and the success of the meeting was also largely due to the untiring efforts of the teacher, Mr. R. H. McNeill, and his pupils, who acquitted themselves in a very creditable and satisfactory manner.

ONE WHO WAS THERE.

COMMENDABLE.—All claims not consistent with the high character of Syrup of Figs are purposely avoided by the California Fig Syrup Company. It acts gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels, cleansing the system effectually, but it is not a cure-all and makes no pretensions that every bottle will not substantiate.

PUGILISTIC POINTERS.—Jack McAuliffe, the light weight champion, distinguished himself in New York a few nights ago by beating a crippled newspaper reporter in the latter's bedroom at the Sturtevant House.

According to the Portland Press, John L. Sullivan has sworn that he was drugged. The only regrettable thing about the affair is that the dose was not large enough.

THE EXAMINER'S CHRISTMAS SUPPLEMENT is for sale at the Diamond Bookstore. It is a neat, handy Christmas present for friends abroad, and will show them how the Island home is progressing.

FROZEN TO DEATH.—John Richardson of Windsor Forks, N. S., was frozen to derth on Christmas eve while under the influence of liquor. He was returning on foot from Windsor to a lumber camp at Black Brook. The verdict of the coroner's jury was: "Death from alcoholic poisoning and exposure."

Plot Against the Czar.

LEADING RUSSIAN OFFICIALS INVOLVED IN A GREAT CONSPIRACY.

According to a recent despatch from St Petersburg, numerous arrests continue to be made at Kieff of persons suspected of Nihilism. Nine more officers are among those imprisoned, either under suspicion or direct charges of connection with a conspiracy against the Czar. The Russian authorities believe they have unearthed a widespread plot in which a number, not only of the lower officials, but also those of higher rank, are involved, and several officers having positions of trust and confidence near the person of the Czar, have been put under surveillance, being given leave of absence from duty until the suspicions resting upon them are verified or disproven.

The extent of the plot is not yet known. There seems no doubt of its genuine character, although it is not certain that the motives of the plotters are Nihilistic.

There is much discontent in the army with the prolonged period of peace, and many officers think that the Czar is too pacific in his disposition.

The Russian empire was never more peaceable, so far as external enemies are concerned, and, therefore, there is great murmuring among army officers disappointed in their hopes of promotion.

The authorities at St. Petersburg are greatly apprehensive as to the extent of the conspiracy developed at Kieff, and much excitement prevails.

Meanwhile, the persecution of the Jews goes on more earnestly than ever, the leading official persecutor being the Grand Duke Sergius, brother of the Czar and husband of Queen Victoria's grand-daughter, Elizabeth.

As governor of Moscow he seems determined to turn every Jew out of the city. The Jewish population of Moscow has already been reduced from about 40,000, when Sergius became governor, to about 30,000, and the number continues to decrease under the added rigor of penal laws and the intolerable severity of their enforcement.

The severe treatment of the Jews is having a ruinous effect upon real estate and other interests, at least 30,000 lodgings being empty in Moscow.

The most pitiful scenes are witnessed among the crowds of Jews at the railway stations, men and women over 80 years of age and half clad little children crying and praying in the cold. Their sufferings are viewed with utter indifference by the Russian authorities, and any non Jewish resident who displays kindness toward them risks being put under suspicion.

The soldiers detailed to assist the police in guarding Jews treat them with the greatest brutality, and frequently prick the unfortunates with their bayonets if they attempt to leave the stations in which they are penned.

The officers do not like the work of guarding Jews, which they look upon as beneath their dignity, and this also is a cause of some discontent among the military.

Personal.

M. P. Dalton, a former Portland (Me.) man, who left that city some time ago several thousand dollars in debt, has prospered in the West recently. The first money he received was sent East to meet his obligations, and every debt has been fully paid, though many of them had become outlawed.

Dr. McGlynn will, in all probability, be under the jurisdiction of either Cardinal Gibbons, in the Baltimore diocese, or Archbishop Ireland, of the St. Paul diocese. There is little likelihood that he will ever again be stationed in New York diocese, and, according to a prominent ecclesiastical friend, he has the choice of the above two dioceses under consideration. Dr. McGlynn declines to discuss the prospective field in which he expects to resume his labors.

John D. Rockefeller is preparing for himself a better obituary notice than Jay Gould received Better than that, he is gaining for himself the satisfaction of doing good while he lives, and of directing personally the use of his money to the high public ends which he has wisely chosen to promote. Mr. Rockefeller's Christmas gift of $1,000,000 to the university of Chicago is more than princely. This magnificent present makes a total of $3,600,000 which he has given to the university.

DISTILLING COMPANY FAIL.—The McDougall Distilling Company, Halifax, have assigned their book-debts to Manager Ellis, of the Bank of British North America. Their liabilities are $120,000.

SKODA'S LITTLE TABLETS, Mild, Safe, Efficient. Far superior to any pill. For Headache and Liver Complaint nothing can equal these Tablets. With the DISCOVERY they cure Rheumatism. 50 in a box only 35 cts.

JOURNALISTIC.—We have received the first number of the Monitor, an eight-page weekly newspaper just started at Vancouver, B. C. It is published by a company. Mr. W. J. Gallagher is editor and manager.

The Sun, the annexationist paper recently started in Toronto, has also been received. It is an eight-page journal.

FROM Glasgow, just opened. One case navy dress serges, nice new patterns, crape finish broken plaids, bright finish broken plaids, heavy diagonals, checks and stripes.—Stanley Bros. Dec 30 3i eod

'TWAS VERY COSTLY.—The trial of "Buck" and "Jim" and the execution of the former, cost in the neighborhood of $3,000.

SHORTHAND.—By request, Mr. Crosskill will start a shorthand class for ladies early in January. Those desiring to join will please make application at once.

IT is very unwise to allow an apparently simple cold to run too long without attention, as it may lead to serious complications We would advise anyone troubled with this at present fashionable complaint to call at Johnson's drugstore and get one of the emulsions or cough remedies on sale there.

Respecting resolution passed by the Medical Men of this city, requesting the Druggists to discontinue selecting medicines for their customers:—

AS I have a legal right to select medicines for my customers, I shall continue as heretofore to supply their wants to the best of my ability—with the best goods that money can buy, and my long experience in the business, (extending over twenty years, with four years spent in the study of medicine with a practising physician), I feel justified in asking for a continuance of your liberal patronage. The Apothecaries Hall is not run in the interest of any physician, directly or indirectly. You are not charged 25 or 30 per cent extra on prescriptions for the doctors' benefit. Therefore, bring them to me and save money.

All prescriptions and family recipes shall receive my personal attention.
