

THE DAILY EXAMINER, SEPTEMBER 26, 1881.

Editorial Correspondence.

HERE are the best products of Canada. Here also are many of our "live" men— and there will be more yet—seeing, inspecting, examining, criticising, making and comparing notes, getting "wrinkles," finding out the stage of advancement to which the industries of the country have arrived, learning how to advance still further—emulating one another in the race of progress.

The Island contingent of Thursday (of which the list has already been published) had a safe and pleasant passage over the Straits. The weather—splendid; the officers of the St. Lawrence as kind and considerate as they are skillful; the animals under careful and judicious management, acting their parts like intelligent beings, the passengers reading and talking—the masculine portion TAKING STOCK. The opinion was freely expressed that the Island Government deserves very great credit for the increased encouragement they are giving to our all-important industry, and especially for the energetic and judicious efforts they are making to improve our farm animals. But some of the passengers, whose opinions are entitled to great consideration, said emphatically that not half enough has yet been done. Several Clydesdale mares should, they say, be imported at once, so that the Island may be enabled to breed first-class draft horses from "Barrister." Under the inconsiderate and indiscriminate grading of light and heavy horses now going on, our heavy horses must, they say, "run out." Even now, we have no mares fit to mate with "Barrister," and such mares must be imported. Our farmers ought to learn that the foolish mating of small and large horses, bloods and Clydesdales, is sure to deteriorate the character of all. Some of the more enthusiastic of the passengers went so far as to say that it would pay the Government well to import this year pure stock to the value of $10,000.

ARRIVED AT PICTOU. Arrived at Pictou the stock was, as speedily as possible, transferred to the freight cars. The station master, who was very obliging and thoughtful, spared no exertion to carry out the wishes of Mr. Gardiner. But much time was necessarily lost before all were ready to leave for Halifax. The journey was tedious. It was two a. m., before the train arrived

IN HALIFAX. On their way to the Exhibition grounds, the Island stock divided the honors with the circus procession, which was about the same time passing through the town; and notwithstanding their long journey and their long fast, the splendid animals presented an admirable appearance.

THE EXHIBITION GROUNDS. comprise about fifteen acres in a central and convenient part of the town. The buildings are very large, and up to this date none of them are well filled. The Island stock was the first to arrive, and when they arrived no floors had been laid in the horse stables. Our Commissioners lost no time in entering a protest which received prompt and favorable consideration from the Exhibition Committee.

THE MACHINERY HALL. Leaving the stock to rest and wait for competitors, let us stroll through the other departments. The machinery building is not yet half full. This is disappointing. But, on the other hand, it is pleasing to see among the exhibits exceedingly creditable samples of our own Island's manufactures. Among these are the "Shingle Mill, Box Board and Barrel Header," shown by Mr. R. Smallwood; the wrought iron plough of Mr. John Burrows; the combined threshing and grain cleaner, and the fanning mill of Mr. Thomas Hall. The latter, under the charge of Mr. Nathaniel Milligan, attracts much attention. It thrashes the grain and makes it ready for the market in one and the same operation—the straw and chaff being cleared away at one end and the clean grain being taken up at the other. The machine is calculated to save a great deal of time and labor in a busy season of the year, and will doubtless be sought after by many of the more wealthy farmers not of the Island only but of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick as well. Mr. Burrows' plough seemed to the perhaps not unprejudiced eye of the writer, superior to any other on exhibition; while Mr. Smallwood's machine is certainly unique in its way. Messrs. Stairs, Son & Morrow have on exhibition here a splendid array of the machinery in use at their ropewalk in Dartmouth. The machines, which are marvels of complexity, are all running by means of steam; and the way they make rough hemp from the bale into rope, of various sizes and kinds is very interesting. There is a fine exhibit of mowing and reaping machines; and the manufacturers of St. John make an excellent display of machines and manufactures. Perhaps the most interesting of the machines is one by which reels for thread can be made at the rate of ninety (90) per minute. IN THE EXHIBITION BUILDING there is a great variety of articles; but the competition is not active. Articles are constantly coming in, and comment may well be postponed until the lists are fuller. It is very pleasing to note that so far Miss Hayden's collection of lace is decidedly the best on exhibition. One of the judges—and a good judge, too—informed the writer that it is very admirable.

HALIFAX is quite lively with the exhibition, the circus, the theatre and thousands of visitors. It is said that more paint has been used in the city this year, than for the past twenty years. The streets are swept and cleaned with greater care than in the olden time; business seems to be brisker, and a more hopeful feeling pervades the city.

The Shipping of Canada.

The fourth list of shipping has been received from the Department of Marine and Fisheries. It contains a list of vessels on the registry books of the Dominion of Canada, on the 31st of December, 1880, and possesses very many interesting features. The total number of vessels remaining on the registry books of the Dominion on the date covered by this report, including old and new vessels, sailing vessels, steamers and barges, was 7,377, measuring 1,211,218 tons register tonnage, being a decrease of ninety-four vessels and 20,856 tons register as compared with 1879. The number of steamers, same period, was 918, having a gross tonnage of 190,159 tons, and a net tonnage, of 120,141 tons. Calculating the average at $30 per ton, the value of the registered tonnage of Canada, on the 31st of December, last year, would be $39,336,540 or £7,867,308 sterling, a highly important showing. The tonnage upon the registry books of the British Empire, including Canada and the other colonies, was 8,259,748 tons register. The United States has 2,438,612 tons, and Norway shows 1,420,780. Canada alone ranks next with her tonnage of 1,311,218 tons, and Germany follows with 1,158,178 tons. Canada is thus the fourth largest shipping country of the world, but these figures do not include the tonnage of inland sailing vessels or of steamers under 100 tons register, except in the case of Canada. The Canadian figures include registered vessels of every description and registered steamers of every tonnage. The number of new vessels built and registered in the Dominion, during the year under review, was 271, measuring 65,441 tons register tonnage. Estimating the value of the new tonnage at $45 per ton—a fair rate—it gives a total value of $2,944,845, or £588,069 sterling for new vessels.

President Arthur's Inaugural Address.

PRESIDENT ARTHUR on the 22nd inst., at the Capitol, took the oath of office in presence of the Cabinet, Justices of the Supreme Court, Senators and Members of the House of Representatives. After the ceremony he read the following inaugural address from manuscript notes. It is said to have made a favorable impression:—

For the fourth time in the history of the Republic its Chief Magistrate has been removed by death. All hearts are filled with grief and horror at the hideous crime which has darkened our land, and the memory of the murdered President and his profound sufferings, his unyielding fortitude, the example and achievements of his life and the pathos of his death, will for ever illumine the passage of our history. For the fourth time the officer elected by the people and ordained by the constitution to fill a vacancy so created is called to assume the executive chair. The wisdom of our fathers, foreseeing even the most dire possibilities, made sure that the Government should never be imperilled, because of the uncertainty of human life. Men may die, but the fabric of our free institutions remains unshaken. No higher or more assuring proof could exist of the strength and permanence of the popular Government than the fact that though the chosen of the people be struck down his constitutional successor is peacefully instituted without shock or strain, except the sorrow which turns the bereavement.

All the noble aspirations of my lamented predecessors, which found expression in his life, the measures devised and suggested during his brief administration to correct abuses and enforce economy, to advance prosperity and promote the general welfare, to ensure domestic security and maintain friendly and honorable relations with the nations of the earth, will be garnered in the hearts of the people, and it will be my best earnest endeavor to profit, and to see that the nation shall profit by his example and experience. Prosperity blesses our country. Our fiscal policy, fixed by law, is well grounded and generally approved. No threatened issues mar our foreign intercourse, and the wisdom, integrity and thrift of our people may be trusted to continue undisturbed the present assured career of tranquility and welfare. The gloom and anxiety which have enshrouded the country must make repose especially welcome. No demand for speedy legislation has been heard, no adequate occasion is apparent for an unusual session of Congress. The Constitution defines the functions and powers of the Executive as clearly as those of either of the other two departments of the government, and he must answer for the just exercise of the discretion it imposes. Summoned to these high duties and responsibilities and profoundly conscious of their magnitude and gravity, I assume the trust imposed by the Constitution relying for aid on Divine guidance and the Virtue, Patriotism and Intelligence of the American people.

County Rifle Association Match.

THE County Rifle Association Shooting Match took place at Kensington on Saturday last. Although a strong fish-tail wind prevailed, the matches passed off pleasantly and some good shooting was made. The following is the result:

Table with columns for First Match, Second Match, and All-Comers Match, listing names and scores.

Another Comet.

Edward E. Barnard, of Nashville, Tenn., announces the discovery on the night of 19th of a new telescopic comet, three degrees north of Zeta Virginis. Its daily motion is three degrees north-east, right ascension, 13.28; declination, 3.43. Mr. Barnard claims the Warner prize. Five comets have been discovered this year, four being first seen in the north-east. Director Swift, of Rochester, says the new comet discovered at Nashville is not the comet of 1812. No tail is yet apparent, but the cube seems bright. It is a somewhat singular coincidence that this comet appeared at the very hour when the President was passing away. On the morning of the 20th, at one o'clock, Prof. Swift caught a view of the long-expected Encke's comet near Beta Auriga, and noticed its condensation opposite the sun. It is tailless as usual, and can be seen, as can also comets B, C, and D, by the aid of a good telescope. Four comets visible in the sky simultaneously is certainly unusual, if not portentous. Another remarkable fact in cometary history is that four of the five comets appeared in Constellation Auriga. The Barnard comet has been cabled to Europe, and as it cannot be the comet of 1812, it will be the fourth one since May 1st to draw on the Warner prize fund. The discovery of the 19th was verified on the 20th.

GEN. GARFIELD was President only six months and fifteen days. Three years, five months and a half of the Presidential term remain for General Arthur's incumbency. All the Presidents who have died in office have died in the early part of the term. Gen. Taylor lived sixteen months after his inauguration, leaving two-thirds of the term to be filled by Mr. Fillmore. Abraham Lincoln was assassinated one month and eleven days after his second inauguration, and Andrew Johnson therefore held the office three years, ten months and a half. Gen. Harrison's term of power was the briefest of all. He died just one month after his inauguration day; Tyler was three years, eleven months in office.

In Japan spiders interfere considerably with the telegraphic service by spinning long webs from the wires to the trees and to the earth, which in wet weather become good conductors of electricity, and carry off the current. Forces of men have to be employed to keep the lines clear, so great is this evil.

MARRIED. This morning, at St. Dunstan's Cathedral, by the Rev. Father McGilivray, P. P., Mr. Francis P. McCarron, to Miss Henrietta, second daughter of Peter Halloran, Esq., all of this city.

DIED. Suddenly, of heart disease, at North Lake, East Point, on the 19th inst., in the 33rd year of his age, Lemuel Morrow, an affectionate husband, a kind father, a good neighbor, and an exemplary Christian, leaving a widow, two children and numerous relatives to mourn their loss.

CORRESPONDENCE.

We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions or statements of our correspondents.

Revelry at Summerside.

To the Editor of the Examiner. Sir,—The communication of a "Householder," published in your paper of the 22nd inst., while it may be within the bounds of truth in mere matters of fact, attaches, I think, too much importance to the circumstances. I would observe that some of the Town Councilors, as well as the popular Stipendiary, are quite unanimous in the opinion that the Journal, Pioneer and EXAMINER have given too much prominence to this "charivari" business. And let me add that our Stipendiary possesses the tact of discriminating between young bloods of the town and mere countrymen when presiding in the Police Court. Suppose a breach of the public peace has been committed with the approbation of the Town officials, what right, I should like to know, has the "Provincial Government" to interfere with the chartered privileges of this town? The idea of your correspondent "Householder" suggesting an official investigation is truly ridiculous! Why, Mr. Editor, the house which was riled of its doors and windows on the occasion of the "revelry" is but a small and comparatively old wooden building, the owner being a mere non-resident, and the inmates whose rights are alleged to have been invaded, are only a poor family that could contribute little to the support of our town! Respectfully yours, ANOTHER HOUSEHOLDER. Summerside, Sept. 24, 1881. Boston Fish Market Review.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Sir,—Since our last report there have been liberal arrivals of all kinds of fish and prices are fairly sustained. Mackerel are selling freely, and the reports from the fleet are encouraging. The continued large supply keeps prices low, but fish that are fat and well cured for are hauled at full figures. Dry fish are coming into market and being disposed of at good rates. Barrel herring quiet. Box herring in large receipt. Market weakening for tucks. Lengths very dull. Mediums and 1's in good demand. Alewives dull at $2.50. No change to report in canned fish. We quote sales as follows:—Shore mackerel 4, 6, 14 and 15 for 3's, 2's and 1's. P. E. Island and Nova Scotia No. 3, $4.75 to $5.50; No. 2, $6.00 to $7.50; No. 1, $10.00 to $12.00, as to cull and quality. The inquiry being for large and fat fish. Grand Bank cod (Kench cured) $4.00 to $4.25; shore cured $4.50 to $4.75; hake $1.50 to $1.60; haddock and pollock; $1.75 to $2.00; Barrel herring, medium, gibbed and split, $2.25 to $2.50. Nova Scotia No. 1 split, $4.25 to $4.50, as to quality. Box herring, medium, 23 cents; tucks and lengths, 12 to 13 cents; No. 1, 16 cents; long medium, 13 cents per box; canned lobsters, $1.30 to $1.35 per dozen; 1 lb. cans; mackerel $1.00 to $1.05.
