Souris Area Reports Two Fires, Trees Down

SOURIS BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN
 Storm damage last night was reported at a minimum here although several doors were blown out and some trees were uprooted. A barn was destroyed by fire and another blaze was quelled.

The dragger fleet along with some boats from Nova Scotia managed to tie up before the storm broke and no damage was reported. The water in the harbor was very rough, however, and extra lines were put on many boats for added protection.

A tree, in front of the house belonging to George Webster, was torn from the ground and knocked down some power lines.

There were three power interruptions in Souris but the telephone lines were kept open.

This is part of the skit "Wanted a Housekeeper", in which Mrs. Murray plays a "Frail Type" maid, and Mr. Vessey, a bachelor in search of a perfect housekeeper.

Hellyer Replies To Protest From Ch'town Labor Council

Alex MacLean, president of the Charlottetown District Labor Council which recently sent wires to Ottawa protesting the proposed closure of the Summerside RCAF station, last night received a telegram in return from Hon. Paul Hellyer, minister of national defence.

Mr. Hellyer said he appreciated the labor Council's interest and that the defence department had no intention of closing the station. He said he was well aware of and greatly appreciate the excellent relationship that exists between the people of P.E.I. and RCAF personnel.

York Variety Concert Opening Is Successful

The York Variety Concert in population of the province in general will be very glad to know that the show rendered "In the Garden of Tomorrow" with its lighting arrangements.

The show, whose theme is "An Evening of Fun" opened with a one-act play called "The Life and Soul of the Party", which featured Nelda Murray in the title role of Mrs. Miniver. The audience enjoyed it.

Four singing acts were featured along with two skits, and the presentation of these was exceptionally good.

MONTAGUE HAS BLACKOUT

MONTAGUE — This town had a blackout night, beginning at 8 o'clock and lasting for four hours. Lights were restored on the north side of the town at 12 o'clock.

Damage here from the hurricane appeared to be light. Winds were strong and rainfall heavy in showers early in the day, but otherwise the storm was not particularly severe.

STARTING THURSDAY

THE program closed with another one-act play entitled "The Reading of the Will," a mystery-comedy with an added touch of horror.

A pantomime followed in which Reuben Watts played a man looking for a housekeeper and several different applicants ranging from the "frail type" to the "bold type" were given trials until the "perfect one" came along. The reaction to this was utter mirth as the man rejects one after another until the right one appears.

35 Head Auctoned This Week
