

SPORT ECHOES

By NORMAN MacDONALD

van Docherty, the president of the Island Senior Hockey League, has been dubbed "the little of balance" seems to be using all the balance he could possibly use so far in this league.

in its infancy, needed. Now the Aces have climbed within striking distance of the two leaders, and it may, and let us all hope it will, be a merry old battle for the rest of the winter.

RULE HARD TO LOCATE

We no longer have the 20-20 vision we boasted about in former days and it is entirely possible that we miss some of the things lurking in rule books, perfectly plain to the ordinary observer, but hiding behind our astigmatism so that we miss it completely. We've been looking in the 1959-60 rule book for the regulation that says there is a special case when a minor penalty is waived after the player who takes a penalty shot fails to score a goal. This penalty was waived in Charlottetown when the Aces beat the Birds 7-6 last Thursday evening. The referee gave the explanation that it was a special case. We're not arguing with him, mind you. We just can't find the darn rule, that's all. We'd be obliged if someone would give us the rule number and subsection.

The word that Eustace Reeves has decided to retire from hockey for this year at least is something we regret. We would have liked to have seen him playing for Aces, but failing that, it would have added something to the game of hockey in these parts even if he had been playing against the Aces. Reeves is a colorful performer; the kind you admire openly and happily when he is on your side, and give grudging admiration to when he is playing against you. Everyone knows what a dyed-in-the-wool Ace fan we are, and probably you won't believe us when we say we'd rather see Reeves playing for Royals than not at all.

PLANTE IS VILLAINS
The Canadians have gone through six games now without a victory, which is another thing that is good for sport, specifically interest in the NHL in this particular case. If Detroit Red Wings draw a little closer, hockey fans will be in a dither of excitement over the race for leadership that may result. Like other sports writers in the vicinity, however, we are plenty pessimistic about Detroit's or any other team's chances of giving those Canadians a real battle for honors. Detroit might make it interesting for a short period but over the long haul we can't see any team but the Canadians, darn it all. Rather surprisingly it seems to be the man behind the mask who is playing the villain's role this time. In good old melodrama it's nearly always the man behind the mask who is the villain of deepest dye, but the rule doesn't in hockey, because Plante has been cast in the hero's role a good many times since he put on that protection for the face. He's lost a little face during the last few days, even with the mask, but we have no doubt he will soon be riding again on a crest of glory.

Celtics Open Wide Lead

BOSTON (AP)—Boston Celtics National Basketball Association champions—have galloped away with a big lead in the eastern division with only a third of the season played. And there are several suggested reasons for their great nine-game winning streak.

Some say it is the starting five, coached by Bob Cousy and Bill Russell. Others give credit to the bench — including Gene Conley, Hank Ramsey and the Joneses, Sam and K.C. And some give a vote for coach Red Auerbach.

Combining them together, however, may account for the 5½ game lead the celtics enjoy while trailing a series edge on every team in the league.

Coming to Thursday night's game at the New York Knickerbocker Arena, Providence, R.I., regarded as a second home court, the Celtics have a 22-4 record for a 54.5 per cent.

MARK LAST YEAR
Although they won the championship last year, they had only a 15-5 record after their first 10 games.

The Knicks—lacking the punch they had in last year against Boston—have dropped four in-a-row to the Celtics. Auerbach's boys are to extend their streak to 11 winning Thursday and repeat Saturday in a nationally televised game back in Boston—also last New York.

During the nine-game streak bench boys have averaged under 40 points a game.

Juvenile Royals Top Abbies 8-5

Juvenile Royals defeated Abbies 8-5 in a game league contest at the Sports Arena last night.

Big guns for the winners were a Pearsonson with 5 goals and a Cobe with three. The losers notched four counters for the winners with Malone picking the other one.

HARNESS HEADLINER - By Alan Mavor

BILLY HAUGHTON, HARNESS RACING'S NO. 1 DRIVER, TRAINER, WHO PASSED THE MILLION DOLLAR MARK IN EARNINGS FOR THE 2ND YEAR IN A ROW ON THE WAY TO HIS 8TH STRAIGHT MONEY-WINNING TITLE.

BILLY BECAME FIRST IN HARNESS HISTORY TO HIT THE MILLION MARK WITH $1,038,800 LAST YEAR.

Lorne Hennessey is awaiting tonight's Island Senior Hockey League battle with a real look of revenge in his eye. His Perfection Penguins battle Summerside P.E.I. Aces at the Sports Arena and Hennessey's boys surely have a score to settle with Charlie Hogan's charges. The Hoganites beat the Perfection boys 7-6 here Thursday night and then bowled them over again Friday evening at Summerside's Civic Stadium. Up to that time Hennessey's gang was breezing along with five victories in six starts. They never expected that Aces would dispose of them twice within 24 hours.

But Aces did just that and they are going to try to make it three in a row tonight. Hogan thinks they can but Hennessey doesn't agree at all. Tonight he maintains his Penguins will show the visiting westerners a few hockey tricks.

Folks who saw last Thursday's tense struggle are still talking. They are really excited about the type of action they witnessed and they are sure they will see another similar performance tonight.

It shapes up like a great battle with starting time fixed for 8:30.

U.S. Denies Suspension Is Ignored

NEW YORK (CP) — Tommy Lockhart, president of the U.S. Amateur Hockey Association, Monday denied that any Canadian players under suspension by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association are being used knowingly by U.S. teams.

Lockhart, who operates New York Rovers of the New York Amateur Hockey Association, referred particularly to a charge that his club is playing Minnie Menard, who started with the world champion Belleville Marauders last winter and was suspended by the CAHA a week ago.

"As soon as we heard about Menard (being suspended), we sent him back to Canada," Lockhart said. "He is no longer with us."

He said he knew nothing about a statement by George Dudley, secretary-manager of the CAHA, that Dudley had found it almost impossible to get in touch with him to discuss Menard.

Dudley told the Kitchener Record Monday that one result of what he called the USAHA ignoring Canadian suspensions may be a demand by the CAHA for the suspension of the USAHA by the International Ice Hockey Federation.

Lockhart said he had no objection to the USAHA ignoring Canadian suspensions, but he said he would not be surprised if the visiting westerners a few hockey tricks.

Veeck, Cooke Have Little On B.C. Lions' Herb Capozzi

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Bill Veeck and Jack Kent Cooke are known in baseball circles as gimmick men. Veeck of the Chicago White Sox and Cooke of Toronto Maple Leafs in the International League, have used clowns, midgets and just about any stunt imaginable to get people into their ball parks.

But they have nothing on general manager Herb Capozzi of the British Columbia Lions football club. He needs only someone to open the stadium doors to get crowds in record numbers at their Western Interprovincial Football Union games.

Herb and company spring their off-beat shenanigans after the football season. Now, as a special favor to Christmas shoppers, they are peddling merchandise stamped with the Lions emblem.

WIDE VARIETY
A couple of weeks ago season ticket subscribers and members of the Lions club received in the mail an illustrated catalogue listing for sale such items as beer steins, clothing, lighters, football helmets, footballs, coffee mugs, ashtrays, cigarette lighters and so on. The merchants in Vancouver haven't been heard from, but it is likely they are annoyed with the Lions.

Leroy Goldworthy, one-time National Hockey League player with New York Rangers, Chicago Black Hawks, Boston Bruins and the old New York Americans, and a golf pro in Vancouver, received a catalogue and told Eric (Vancouver Province) Whitehead:

"What are they running anyway? A football club or a hamburger stand? I bought my membership for football, period."

Whitehead commented: "Capozzi Enterprises Inc. are obviously merely trying to make an honest buck or two for the operation on the side, a commendable aim. However, judging from general reaction, this well-intentioned venture into retail sales might prove to be ill-advised, and could boomerang."

SOLID ASSETS
Capozzi could have made a lot of friends in football if he had put up for sale some of those Canadian players the Lions have sent to U.S. colleges for expert coaching. From all reports some of these chaps will be ready for shipment back to Vancouver in a year or two and the Lions will probably have the best Canadian talent in the pro game.

Maybe, too, he should put on a big selling campaign for the 1960 Grey Cup final at Vancouver's Empire Stadium. A pitch was made in Toronto by some Vancouver people before the Winnipeg Blue Bomber-Hamilton Tiger-Cat game, but no decision will be made until the Canadian Football League annual meeting is held in Winnipeg in February. Gate receipts at the Cup final this year were approximately $304,000, an increase of $11,000 over ticket sales for the 1958 classic at Vancouver.
