

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

OCTOBER 11, 1889.

The St. Pierre Cattle Trade.

The cattle trade carried on this season between Souris, Cardigan and other Island ports, and St. Pierre, Miq., was larger than ever before, and proved a leading source of profit to our farmers. Some are at a loss to know why the demand for pork, beef and mutton in St. Pierre is greater this year than in former years. The explanation lies in the fact that Cape Breton cattle, instead of being sent to that market, are required at home to supply the thousand or more men who are working on the railway. Thus every laborer on public works, as well as every artisan employed in the manufactories of the neighboring provinces helps, to a certain extent, in making a better home market for our Island farmers and in giving increased prosperity to the country generally.

The policy of the Opposition, if carried out, would produce the very opposite results. They advocate a one-sided free trade that would kill our manufactories, cripple native industries, spoil our home market and result in direct taxation as the chief means for raising a revenue.

China Point Wharf.

The Patriot returns to the China Point pier question,—and makes the matter still worse for Messrs. Walsh and Davies! The organ says that two sets of supplementary estimates are brought down each session, one for the current year and the other for the year commencing on the first of July following, and asks why the grant for China Point pier was not in the first of these estimates? That is the question. Let Messrs. Walsh and Davies answer it. Mr. Ferguson did not reach Ottawa until the supplementary estimates for the year 1888 were disposed of. Messrs. Walsh and Davies were there from the beginning of the session and were paid for being there! Why did they not procure a sum in the first set of supplementary estimates? They were just as indifferent and as impotent then as they were afterwards and as they have remained to the present moment.

Practically the Patriot acknowledges the error regarding the false statements made, to the people interested, by Mr. Walsh during the summer and autumn of 1888, but tries to shift the blame on the Minister of Public Works. If the vote for Island piers was, as the Patriot says, "general," what becomes of Mr. Walsh's story that he had obtained $3000 for China Point?

The Patriot says, "the vote for Island piers that year (1888) was general and a part of it might be applied to the one at China Point if the Minister had been disposed to give the necessary order." This is just where the blindness of the members and their apologist becomes apparent. The $3000 voted for Island piers in 1888 was for repairs, and not one dollar of it could be applied to the construction of a block at China Point, by the order of the Minister. This was the substance of the answer which Mr. Ferguson received from the Department in 1888; and, if the members had troubled their heads to the extent of making an inquiry, they would, no doubt, have received the same information.

On one point we agree with the Patriot. The money was available on the 1st July, and the contract should have been let earlier in the season, so that the work could be completed in time for this fall's trade. There is too much red-tapeism in the movements of Departmental engineers and officials. But what have our members been doing to advance the work? These gentlemen appear to think that all they have to do is to enjoy a high time at Ottawa, draw their $1200, and then blame the Government if the peoples' wants are not attended to. How ridiculous! But the climax of absurdity is reached when Mr. Walsh goes round the country persuading the people that Mr. Ferguson should be held responsible for whatever goes wrong. When our representatives acknowledge their inability to do anything for the constituency, it is surely time that they should be required to step out.

Let Messrs. Walsh and Davies publish any communications they may have sent to the Department or its officials urging the importance of having China Point Pier in readiness for the fall's trade? Is it because China Point is a "Tory hole," to use Mr. Walsh's expression, that our Grit members have neglected to make any earnest appeal in its behalf?

Presbyterian Synod.

Pictou, Oct. 8.—Reports to the Maritime Synod show that there are 32,500 Sunday school children with 3,900 officers and teachers in 596 schools, under the Synod's jurisdiction. The report on temperance says that the sentiment of the people is overwhelmingly in favor of prohibition, but that that sentiment is to a great extent paralyzed, that it is benumbed by inaction, terrorized by opposition, discouraged by inaction and delayed and distracted by party politics. Rev. Fulton Johnston Coffin, of Prince Edward Island, has volunteered for the Trinidad mission field, and with Miss Adel Archibald, Miss Maggie J. Graham, and Rev. John Morton and wife, will shortly proceed to their field of labor.

Revision of the United States Tariff.

It is improbable that the tariff of the United States will be put upon a Free Trade basis for many years to come. But signs are not wanting that there will be a revision of the tariff which may materially affect trade between the States and Canada. Some of the strongest of the Protectionists are clamoring for tariff revision. Thus, The Independent of New York,—

"We ask and expect every Republican Congressman to begin work in December, and make no delay whatever in attending to such changes in our tariff and other laws as will largely reduce the income. We have had enough talk on this important matter by both parties. Now let us have prompt action in all directions affecting the prosperity and best business interests of the people. If the Republican Party fails to do so promptly, it should die and be decently buried. There is not an intelligent man in the country, of any party, who does not admit it to be the duty of Congress to act energetically in this matter. Those who are not ready to do so should resign their seats or be sent by their friends—if they have any—to the lunatic asylum. If you Messrs. Congressmen, cannot take ten steps at once, if you cannot organize to make a grand march through the whole list of detriable articles, do something, begin somewhere, where you can all agree, and make a move of some sort that will lead the people to believe that you have been honest in all your talk about revision."

It will be interesting to note the course that will be taken in respect to the revision of the United States tariff. The duty on some of the raw materials of manufactures will probably be removed, and additional protection afforded as an incident of the removal.

The manufacturers of Massachusetts and Maine are anxious to have the duty taken off coal, and their employes will, no doubt, demand a reduction of the duties on articles of food, such as potatoes, fish, etc.

We shall see what the Republicans will do about it. The Government, and Parliament, and People of Canada can afford, in the meantime, to keep a "stiff upper lip." No revision that Congress may make can put us in a very much worse position in respect to the market of the United States, than we are at present. Any change which may be made must rather favor than retard the trade of Canada.

Literary Notes.

"Zorah"—a love tale of modern Egypt—by Elizabeth Balch, (D. T. S.), author of "Mustard Leaves." There is blood and excitement as well as love in this novel. It is strongly written, and once begun will be read to the end. J. Theo. Robinson, Montreal, is the publisher.

Our pictorial contemporary, the Dominion Illustrated, has something for every taste. The last number is largely devoted to canoeing—there being some fine views of the meeting of the American Association on Stevie Island. The friends of the worthy Deputy Minister of the Interior will prize the striking portrait that takes up the front page. The rest of the number is equally interesting on the artistic side, while from a literary standpoint there is much to approve of. Lovers of poetry will be sure to enjoy Hunter Duvar's version of Aucassin and Nicolette.

"The Hardy Norseman" by Edna Lyall. This is a good story. Anyone may read it. It is published by William Bryce, Toronto. It is one of his Home series.

Telegraphic Odds and Ends.

A BUDGET OF GENERAL NEWS FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

AUBURN, N. Y., Oct. 9.—County Judge S. E. Day filed his decision in the Kemmler case to-day, on habeas corpus proceeding as to the constitutionality of the electrical execution law. Judge Day decides the law constitutional and remands the prisoner to Auburn prison for execution.

TORONTO, Oct. 9.—The Faith Curists are jubilant over the fact that after being unable to walk for seven years, Mary Kempf, of Brighton, suddenly surprised her household by walking about unaided. The doctors say she will relapse, as the cure is not permanent.

ANOKA, Minn., Oct. 9.—On Monday, Jas. Dean, a farmer, shot his son, aged eight years. Dean had been missing poultry and a short time before daybreak heard a commotion in the hen house. He seized his shot gun, and seeing something moving about the hen house, he fired and shot his son. The boy was a somnambulist.

HALIFAX, Oct. 9.—The parents in Edinburgh of some Catholic children brought by Miss Sterling to her farm in Nova Scotia are taking steps to obtain possession of their children lest they be brought up in another faith. Miss Sterling brings pauper children from their homes in the old country to Canada.

SHERBROOKE, Que., Oct. 9.—The jury in the Morrison case returned into court at 11 a. m., and rendered a verdict of manslaughter with recommendation to mercy. The verdict was received in complete silence. The defence gave notice of an appeal from the judge's decision on legal points raised, and sentence was reserved. The prisoner was charged with the murder of Lucius Warren, bailiff, in Megantic district, a year and a half ago.

HALIFAX, Oct. 9.—For many years the Pictorial Canada cases have been before the Nova Scotia courts. Belden Bros., of Toronto, sued a number of Cumberland people whom they alleged subscribed. The cases have finally been settled in favor of defendants in all courts and Belden Bros. are saddled with a large bill for costs because of the dishonesty of their agents.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 9.—A special from St. Cloud, Minn., says: Prairie fires are making progress towards the city, and during the afternoon burned to within a few rods of the Manitoba Western side-track and the city limits. An immense amount of hay was burned last night. The smoke is so dense in the city to-day as to make it impossible to see further than a block, the fire burning from four to six feet in the ground, and nothing but a heavy rain can prevent a tremendous loss.

New York Tribune: Sir John Macdonald, who is a statesman of the first rank, has adopted the only policy by which confederation could have been saved from premature dissolution. The high tariff introduced by him has replenished the treasury, equalized expenditures and receipts, and enabled the Government to undertake public works by which all the Provinces have been benefited. The railway system which now unites Victoria with the Maritime Provinces would have been impossible without confederation and the tariff. Equally impracticable would have been the canals, custom houses, docks, post offices and other public works constructed with lavish expense.
