HASZARD'S GAZETTE

Saturday, July 23, 1853.

THE SCRUTINY.—The High Sheriff, John C. Binns, Esq., and his Clerk, Mr. N. Le Page, together with Mr. Wm. Matheson, the Elector chosen by Mr. Beer, met at Wheatly River Bridge, at 11 o'clock on Thursday last, pursuant to adjournment, when the Poll Books produced by the Sheriff were carefully scrutinized, and each voters name against which an objection had been marked, was severally called out, and there appearing upon such scrutiny that there were 45 votes so objected to; and neither Mr. Coles, nor any one on his behalf, appearing to shew, by documentary or other evidence, that the said votes so objected to, were good, Mr. Beer demanded that each and every of the said 45 votes be adjudged bad, and be deducted from the amount of the votes declared by the Sheriff at his Court, on Monday the 14th, to have been polled by Mr. Coles, which would leave a majority of votes in favour of Mr. Beer, amounting to 31, and that therefore he ought to be returned a Representative for the First District of Queen's County, and placed in the Sheriff's hands a written requisition to that effect.

The Sheriff stated, that he considered he had no power under the Act, to declare the votes either bad or good, but that he would return the whole proceedings and with them the requisition, now delivered, to the House of Assembly, to be dealt with as the House should think fit and proper.—Com.

As stated above, the Sheriff's Court was closed at Wheatly River, and the termination of the proceedings has placed Mr. Beer 31 votes above Mr. Coles. This was pretty much as we expected. We have now more particularly to enquire why Mr. Coles did not proceed with his scrutiny. It could not be his ignorance of the Law that prevented him, for any person that can read, will put but one interpretation upon it. It is true, they may be led astray by reading only the 40th section, but if they continue on to the 42d, they will find it plain and clear. However, as Mr. Coles has interpreted the Act to suit himself, we will place that part of it which relates to the scrutiny, before our readers, that they may judge for themselves.

The first part of the 40th section regulates the mode of returning the Poll Books to the Sheriff, after which—

"The Sheriff or Deputy, shall openly break the seals thereon, and cast up the number of votes, as they appear on the said several Poll Books, and shall then openly declare the state of the poll; and if, within one hour thereafter, no objection shall be made on the ground of persons having voted out of their proper polling division, or more than once for the same election, as herein mentioned, the said Sheriff, or his under Sheriff or Deputy, shall forthwith, thereafter make proclamation of the members chosen, and shall forthwith make return of such persons as have a majority of votes."

It will be observed, that during the hour above mentioned the candidates, can object only to votes polled twice, and polled in the wrong division, and the reason is obvious enough, such votes can be easily detected and their removal from the books will not depend upon a point of Law, as might be the case in an objected vote, The sheriff has therefore power to strike them off, and if the striking off of such votes, should give the majority to the opposing candidate, his election may be proclaimed.

After the objections have been settled, or if no objections have been made during the hour, the Sheriff is bound to make proclamation of the members chosen.

It will be observed that nothing is said relating to a scrutiny of objected votes, until the 42d section, which we quote entire—

"XLII. And be it enacted, That if at the final declaring the election—either when no such investigation shall be demanded, or after any such investigation—any candidate, or his agent, shall publicly and openly demand a scrutiny, the Sheriff shall thereupon immediately give notice that on the day next following the day of declaring the election, he the sheriff will attend at some central and convenient place in the said town or electoral district then to be named, and at some certain and appointed hour, to proceed in such Scrutiny, and on the day, and at the hour and place so appointed, if the candidate demanding such scrutiny shall persist in his demand, the Sheriff shall so attend with one clerk, and each candidate or his agent, who shall intend or desire to proceed in and with such scrutiny, shall also attend, and shall then and there name one elector to assist at each such scrutiny; provided that when any such objection against voters for having polled more than once, or out of the proper polling division, shall have been investigated, the same votes may be the subject of such scrutiny on any other ground of objection."

[The Act proceeds to state how the scrutiny is to be conducted, but we have not space to give it insertion in to day's issue.]

It will be seen, that the Sheriff has faithfully carried out the Act. After counting up the Books, he openly declared the number of votes for each candidate, and gave notice that he would proclaim the names of the persons having the greatest number of votes as the members returned, if no objections were made. As Mr. Beer had no objections to make "on the ground of persons having voted out of their proper polling division, or more than once for the same election," he waited until the Sheriff had declared the Election when he immediately "publicly and openly demanded a scrutiny" of Mr. Coles' votes. Mr. Coles demanded a scrutiny of Mr. Beer's votes, of which we believe there were 20 objected to. This was straight forward and right so far, but before the Sheriff opened his court on the following day, he received a letter from Mr. Coles, stating that he did not intend to prosecute the scrutiny, and that he considered himself duly elected. The Court however was held, and Mr. Beer proved that he had a majority of 31 votes, the reason why there were not more, is, because, 7 of Mr. Coles' bad votes were objected to by Mr. M'Leod, and there was some doubt whether Mr. Beer could avail himself of them.

It will now be for us to enquire why Mr. Coles did not contest the election with Mr. Beer. If he thought he would come off victorious, no doubt he would have done so, but knowing the greater number of objected votes were on his side, and that they were really bad ones, if he contested it, it would go against him, he would then be obliged to resign his seat in the Executive, but when he gave it out that he considered himself elected, he thought he had still a right to sit there and dictate—law and precedent to the contrary notwithstanding—and we suppose he will sit there until the meeting of the House, when, there again, he has another faint hope, of making his case similar to Le Lacheur's and Whelan's, if he can possibly buy over any of the new members.

The other members of the Government will of course uphold Mr. Coles, as upon the tenor of his holding, depends their official existence. Did they intend however to carry out Responsible Government as they have laid it down, they would at once resign. As they are so fond of making the government appear similar to that of the mother country, we would ask them if Lord Aberdeen were in similar circumstances, would he continue to be the leader of the Government?

We would advise the Hon. George Coles, in his hours of leisure, to occupy himself with a study of the Poll Books, both of this last and the previous Election. It will be well worth the labour, and he may possibly arise from it a wiser, and, we would fain hope, a better man. He will gather from those of the 14th of this present month, that there were upwards of sixty plumpers given by the New London people to Mr. John M'Leod, and that the most of these were given, in consequence of the false report so industriously circulated by his agents and emisaries that Mr. Beer's friends were intending to desert Mr. M'Leod, no one knows better than he does. Now had but one third of these plumpers been shared with Mr. Beer he would have had a perfectly safe majority over Mr. Coles. In the next place, the very fact of upwards of 60 plumpers being polled against him, argues that so many at all events did not care whether he was in or out, so that M'Leod's return was secured. In the third place, let him compare those of 1850 with those of 1853, and note "How great a falling off was there my countrymen," and if it does not convince him that the confidence of the public, and that part of it too on which he placed his greatest reliance, has been withdrawn from him, nothing will.

We like competition and free trade, and will ever be the steady advocates of both; but, at the same time, we have no idea of seeing native talent and enterprise neglected. We have daugerotype saloons—as they are called—in both King's and Queen's Squares, and the proprietors must make a good thing of it, by their remaining so long, and yet we will fearlessly put our young friend Tanton's likenesses in competition with those of the owners of either of these establishments. Now, we wish the latter gentlemen no harm; but we go so far with the protective system, that if we can get any thing as well done—it may be better—and on as reasonable terms, by a native artist as by a stranger, we think we shall be inclined to patronize the former, and recommend our friends to do the same.

DREADFUL ACCIDENT.—As John Cameron, of Lot 67, Anderson's Road, was on Wednesday last the 20th inst., felling a tree, it lodged on another tree opposite. On the following morning, while in the act of disengaging it, for the purpose of lowering it down, it suddenly gave way, and, falling on him, killed him on the spot. The deceased was much respected by all who knew him, and has left a wife and four children to bewail their irreparable loss.

Twelvetrees Brothers' Soap Powder

(an entirely new invention.)

IS the cheapest, safest, best, and most effectual article for all washing purposes, a packet of which is equal to ten Pennyworth of Soap!

The saving of Time and Labour is so astonishingly great, that a WEEK'S WASH can be accomplished BEFORE BREAKFAST—no rubbing being required.

This wonderful Article is MORE SERVICEABLE THAN SOAP, as it produces a better and much quicker lather, and is adapted for purposes for which Soap cannot be safely or effectually used.

It will not injure the hands, or the most delicate material; but whilst it is incomparable for permanently whitening Linens, &c., after they have become discoloured by age, or injured by bad Washing, it is also unsurpassable for improving the colors of FLANNELS, BLANKETS, WOOLLENS, COLORED PRINTS, MUSLIN and LACE.
