Canada Closing Out One of Biggest House-building Years, Reports Show

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada is closing out its biggest house-building year and prospects for 1955 warrant optimism for another healthy building program, Works Minister Winters said Wednesday.

Mr. Winters said new housing starts this year, including conversions, will be between 110,000 and 115,000, and completions will range from 104,000 to 108,000.

"This will represent an increase by a substantial margin over any previous year in our history," he told the Electrical Club of Montreal.

START RATE HIGHER
The rate of starts was even higher at the present time, exceeding 120,000 houses a year or about 400 houses started every working day. Starts on new dwellings in October alone numbered 12,000, up 22 per cent over October last year.

The statements were included in the text of a speech issued to the press before delivery.

Mr. Winters said that the end of this year Canada will have 65,000 to 70,000 dwellings under construction, a considerable increase over 1953, which will ensure a good beginning for next year.

He said this year's greater activity in housing resulted from a strong underlying demand created by population growth and higher incomes, favorable supply factors, comparative price stability and the new National Housing Act.

NEW NHA IN FORCE
Of 102,000 dwelling starts last year exclusive of conversions, about 40,000 were approved for loans under the old NHA, while this year it was expected about 52,000 of the new NHA legislation.

The new housing legislation, with its system of insured mortgages, entry of banks into the housing field as lenders, lower down payments and monthly payments and higher loans, combined to spur building.

"By the end of the year," Mr. Winters estimated, "Canadians will have spent about $1,250,000,000 on new housing during 1954 alone. This is five per cent of our gross national product."

OFFER REBELS LIBERTY
TUNIS, Tunisia (Reuters)—Squads of peace emissaries, travelling in jeeps loaded with amnesty documents, left for the remote areas of Tunisia Tuesday in a bid to end the sniping war in the French protectorate. The 44 emissaries will seek out guerrillas and offer them complete liberty if they lay down their arms.

LACONIA, N.H. (AP)—A North-east Airlines plane, with seven persons aboard, was missing and probably down Tuesday night in the rugged White Mountain area of New Hampshire.

Montague Rink Will Have New Look For Season

When the Montague rink throws open its doors for the season's hockey and skating activities this winter, those attending such events will find that it has taken on a new look in the interior.

Rink manager, Wilfred Waterworth and his assistant Syl Kerr, have made considerable renovations including a complete repainting of the sideboards, office and canteen, and a new floor for the promenade.

With the temperature dropping steadily during the past few days preparations are being made for the big job of flooding it and it is expected that as soon as Jack Frost makes his presence felt by solidifying the ground, the first spraying of water will be carried out.

There is reason to believe that a banner year is in the offing, not only because of the renewed hockey interest motivated by the revival of the Primroses hockey team but also because of the increase in potato returns to farmers in the area, which, as has been indicated by the greatly increased crowds at the Islanders home games, is a factor to be considered when speculating on the size of the crowds attending any center of entertainment on P. E. I.
