

Gov.-General Massey Leaves For Arctic

Governor-General Massey, his wife and daughter-in-law group for the camera before boarding an R.C.A.F. plane at Ottawa on the first leg of their 10,000-mile, 17-day tour of the High Arctic. Mrs. Lionel Massey is the only woman in the party. Her daughters, Jane, 7, left, and Eva, 6, had to stay at home. (CP Photo.)

Use Scottish Tunes

Eskimos Stage Dance In Honor Of Gov.-General

By JOE MacSWEENE
Canadian Press Staff Writer.
FROBISHER BAY, Baffin Island (CP)—Lively Scottish tunes echoed Thursday night through a spacious garage workshop at this Arctic air base as fun-loving Eskimos staged a dance in honor of Governor-General Massey.

The dancers, colorful in their northern garb, whirled through one Scottish reel after the other with easy grace while native accordian and violin players supplied the music. The shuffling of mukluks and feet added to the rhythm. The Scottish tunes and dances were taught the Eskimos by crew members of whaling ships which have been calling for 200 years at this port 1,200 miles north of Montreal. The imported dances and songs have largely replaced native dances in which one or two men would prance about to the haunting, rhythmic drum and chant the story of some hunting or fishing experience.

The dance was in the nature of a farewell party for Mr. Massey who leaves here today to continue a 17-day, 10,000-mile air tour that will take him over the North Pole and other places never before visited by a governor-general. Mr. Massey arrived here Tuesday after a flight from Ottawa and a three-hour stop at Great Whale River, about 650 miles north of the capital. Besides the dance Mr. Massey's program included a visit to a new Eskimo townsite near this $10,000,000 continental defence base. He called at a Hudson's Bay Company post and attended a meeting of the Eskimo community council.

He was presented with a dark blue siskin-lined vest made by Eskimo women at Payne Bay, some 390 miles south of here. Mr. Massey will fly today to Hall Lake, on the northernmost tip of the Canadian mainland north of Hudson bay

KENSINGTON

Mrs. Frederick Tuplin, Indian River, is confined to her home with an attack of "flu".

Mr. and Mrs. John Duggan have returned to their home in Kensington after a pleasant visit in Spring Valley. Both are at present confined to their home with an attack of "flu".

On Tuesday evening, March 13 Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Wall, Baltic, entertained the members of the Baltic Hockey Club and friends at a delicious turkey supper. Following the supper a social hour followed.

Mr. Richard Wall, Baltic, was a visitor to Summerside on Tuesday, March 13th.

Mrs. William Brander, Baltic, has been confined to her home through illness.

Mr. Elwood Crozier, Kensington, is confined to his home suffering from a broken leg.

Mr. and Mrs. William Champion of Kensington, were visitors to the mainland on March 14th and 15th.

Mr. Freddie Bridges, Kensington, is out again after suffering a broken bone in his ankle.

Beverly Champion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horton Champion, Hamilton, suffered a painful accident on Thursday, March 15th, at the home of her grandfather, Mr. Keir Ramsay, Hamilton, when she had her hand caught in a pump jack being used on the farm. She was rushed to the Prince County Hospital, Summerside, where several X-rays were taken, and it was found that two bones were broken in her hand.

Mr. Ivan Dickieson of Darnley is ill. All hope for his speedy recovery.

Mr. Harold McLeod has returned to his home in Irishtown after spending the past several weeks in Charlottetown.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyman Clark entertained a large number of friends at their home on Thursday evening, March 15th. Several tables of auction were played with the ladies high score going to Mrs. Lorne Silliker, Malpeque, and the gentleman's to Mr. William H. Burns, Malpeque. Consolation prizes went to Mrs. Robert Simpson, Malpeque, and Mr. Doanle Beasly, Malpeque. Lunch was served and a pleasant social hour followed by all joining in a sing song with Mrs. Roy Easter as pianist.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Crozier, Hamilton, had as their weekend guests, Mr. Reginald Miller and son Robert of Sackville, New Brunswick.

Mrs. George McKay, Lower Malpeque, is ill at her home and all hope for her speedy recovery.

Mr. Freddie Bridges, Kensington, one of the Kensington Juveniles outstanding hockey players met with an accident while playing hockey in the Stadium at Summerside when he broke a bone in his foot. All hope to see Freddie around soon again.

A crowd gathered at the Malpeque Hall where a dance was sponsored under the auspices of the Malpeque School. Music was furnished by Mrs. Roy Easter and William Woodside.

Mrs. Joseph Davison, spent the past week visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Waldron Davison and family, Kensington.

On Saturday evening, one of the largest crowds of hockey fans ever to be seen in the Kensington Rink for many years, gathered to watch "Cavendish" and "Grahams Road" in the semi-finals of the Farmers League. It was a close game and ham supper sponsored by the Women's Institute. Supper was followed by cards and folk dancing.

Mrs. Gerald Miller, Kelvin Grove, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy MacArthur, Kensington.

The recreation period at the March meeting of Irishtown W. I. consisted of folk dancing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Stavert.

Sgt. J. A. Thompson of the New Glasgow Detachment of the R.C.M.P. has returned to his duties after visiting his mother, Mrs. J. A. Thompson and family, Margate.

A card party sponsored by Kelvin Grove Women's Institute was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leaman Caseley on February 14th when seven tables were in play. Prizes were won by Mrs. Sterling Millar and Mr. John Reeves, while consolation prizes went to Mrs. Eric MacMurdo and Mr. Lorne Crozier. Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Crawford Picketts, Mrs. Robert Hogg and Miss Joan Caseley.

Mrs. Robert Crozier, Kelvin Grove, has as her guest her sister, Miss Jennie Marchbank, New Annan.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Robertson, Summerside, were recent guests of Mrs. John A. Hogg and family, Kelvin Grove.

Mrs. Morris Casely returned to her home in Kelvin Grove on February 18 after spending the past week in Charlottetown.

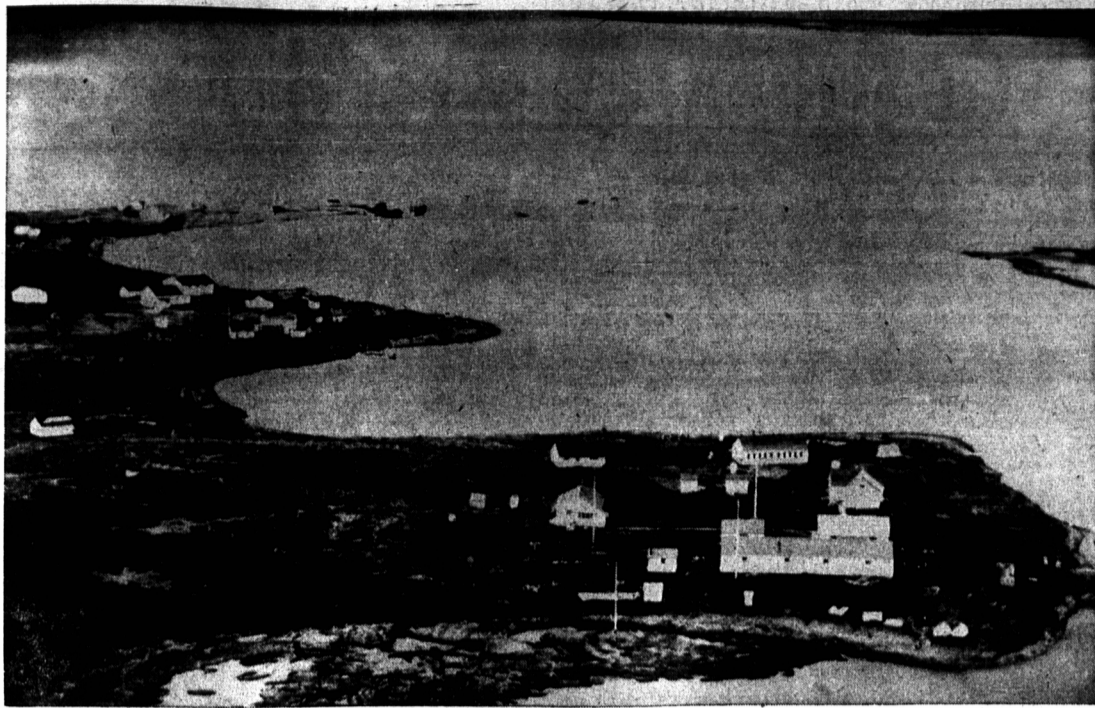

Miss Joan Caseley, Kelvin Grove, spent the past weekend at Margate, guest of her cousin, Miss Diane Mayhew.

The many friends of Mr. Ernest Mill, regret his recent illness at his home at Clermont and wish him a rapid recovery.

High School Students Tour Mount A.

Representatives of ten high schools - New Glasgow and Sydney in Nova Scotia, Bathurst, Campbellton, Chatham, Fredericton, Saint John and Sussex in New Brunswick, and Summerside in Prince Edward Island - survived Saturday's snow storm and reached Sackville to see the Mount Allison student presentation of Gilbert and Sullivan's light opera "Patience". Some of the visitors were on a campus tour and were photographed in the Mary Melish Archibald Memorial Library. They are, front row, left to right: Marilyn Hill, Sydney; Jean Taylor, Sydney; Jocelyn Fisher, Saint John; Maurine Forbes, Summerside, P.E.I.; back row: Edward Donelan, New Glasgow, David Crawford, Chatham and Robert Ross, Chatham. Donelan had come fresh from a presentation by his school of the same light opera.

Remote Point On Tour

An aerial view of Tukttoyaktuk on his trip to the North Pole. The settlement, nestled on the eastern shore of the mouth of the Mackenzie River, boasts the northern most school in Canada. Run by the federal northern affairs department, the school has an enrolment of 40 Eskimo children. (CP from National Film Board.)

BURLINGTON

Mrs. Lloyd Hickox has returned to her home in Kensington from Summerside, accompanied by her infant daughter, Myrna Lee.

Mrs. Douglas Waye, Hunter River, is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Lloyd Hickox, and Mr. Hickox, Kensington. She is accompanied by her daughters, Marjorie and Kathleen.

Mrs. Daniel Hickox returned on March 16 to her home in Burlington after spending the past week at Wheatley River.

Mr. and Mrs. C. MacKenzie, Summerside, were weekend guests of Mrs. MacKenzie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Heath Mayhew, Margate.

Mr. George MacLeod has returned to his home in Irishtown after completing an egg-grading course at the vocational school.

Mrs. William Mill and Mrs. Gerald Mill joint hostesses for a card party held at their home on Wednesday, March 7, for the Clermont Women's Institute. High prizes were won by Mrs. Alfred Cole and Mr. Thomas Kelly with consolation prizes going to Miss Dorothy Smallman and Mr. Walter Mill. Lunch was served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Cecil Mill.

Mrs. Daniel Hickox, Burlington, is spending a few days at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alfred Stead and Mr. Stead, Wheatley River.

The many friends of Mrs. Annie Sudsbury, Sea View, who is a patient in the Prince County Hospital, Summerside, regret her illness and wish her a rapid recovery.

His many friends will be pleased to learn that Mr. Alvin Bernard is making a good recovery following an operation in the Prince County Hospital, Summerside, and returned to his home in Long River on March 13.

Mrs. George Bernard, Long River, is spending a few days in Charlottetown, guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. David Paynter.

Mrs. Harold MacLeod who has been a patient in the Polio Centre, Charlottetown, returned on March 9 to his home in Irishtown, where he will spend several weeks before returning to the City.

Mr. George Cole, French River, is a patient in the Prince County Hospital, Summerside, receiving treatment for a leg injury. His many friends wish him a complete recovery.

Miss Gwen Court has returned to Moncton after spending the past weekend at her home at Kelvin Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. Leaman Caseley entertained at their home at Kelvin Grove on March 7 at a chicken

O'LEARY

Mrs. Harold Ellis and daughter Deborah of Charlottetown, were visitors to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Shaw in O'Leary over the weekend.

Miss Mary MacDonald of Mt. Royal is now employed at the Matheson Drug Store in O'Leary.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Harris arrived from England recently and are visiting with Wilfred's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harris in O'Leary.

The many friends of Mrs. Arthur Cornish are glad to see her home after spending some time in Prince County Hospital, Summerside.

The O'Leary Women's Institute sponsored a successful Valentine party for the teenage group on Friday evening. Games and dancing were enjoyed. Lunch was served by the members of the Institute.

Wednesday night, Mrs. E. W. Turner entertained the young people with interesting films.

Mrs. Truman Brooks, O'Leary, was a visitor to Springhill recently where she visited with Mr. and Mrs. George Paugh.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan MacLean, were recent visitors to Freeald, guests of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Palmer and family.

Mr. Lloyd Cooke, has entered the Prince Edward Island Hospital for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Dunbar of Alma were recent visitors to relatives and friends in Coleman.

Mrs. Sutherland Bell is ill at her home in Mill River.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Gay of Knutsford, were Sunday visitors to the home of Mrs. Gay's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Seymour, Alberton.

Mr. and Mrs. Heber Bryan and son David, were visitors to the home of Mrs. Bryan's mother, Mrs. James Walsh, and sister, Mrs. Ralph Gard in Summerside.

The O'Leary and district Brotherhood held a crokinole party in the basement of the school on Thursday night. There were 28 tables, prizes were given to Mrs. Freeman MacWilliams and Roger Hardy, for having the highest score; the Buchanan sisters, Wanda and and ham supper sponsored by the Women's Institute. Supper was followed by cards and folk dancing.

Mrs. Gerald Miller, Kelvin Grove, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy MacArthur, Kensington.

The recreation period at the March meeting of Irishtown W. I. consisted of folk dancing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Stavert.

Sgt. J. A. Thompson of the New Glasgow Detachment of the R.C.M.P. has returned to his duties after visiting his mother, Mrs. J. A. Thompson and family, Margate.

A card party sponsored by Kelvin Grove Women's Institute was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leaman Caseley on February 14th when seven tables were in play. Prizes were won by Mrs. Sterling Millar and Mr. John Reeves, while consolation prizes went to Mrs. Eric MacMurdo and Mr. Lorne Crozier. Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Crawford Picketts, Mrs. Robert Hogg and Miss Joan Caseley.

Mrs. Robert Crozier, Kelvin Grove, has as her guest her sister, Miss Jennie Marchbank, New Annan.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Robertson, Summerside, were recent guests of Mrs. John A. Hogg and family, Kelvin Grove.

Mrs. Morris Casely returned to her home in Kelvin Grove on February 18 after spending the past week in Charlottetown.

Miss Joan Caseley, Kelvin Grove, spent the past weekend at Margate, guest of her cousin, Miss Diane Mayhew.

The many friends of Mr. Ernest Mill, regret his recent illness at his home at Clermont and wish him a rapid recovery.

Her many friends regret the illness of Mrs. Laura Hogg, Kensington, who is receiving treatment in the Prince County Hospital, and hope for an early improvement in her condition.

Ruth, rendered two vocal numbers.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sweet, O'Leary, spent a night in Summerside recently accompanying them home was their daughter Donna, who had been a patient in the Prince County Hospital for a few days.

Mrs. Harry Adams Knutsford, was a visitor to Brooklyn.

Mr. Leslie Gay of Knutsford is ill at his home.

Mr. Allison Proffitt of Freetown, was the speaker in the O'Leary United Church on Sunday night.

Miss Evelyne Underhay of Summerside spent the weekend with Miss Olive Jelly in O'Leary.

The Evening Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Lewis Bernard, on Wednesday night with a good attendance. Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Donald MacKenzie.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton MacIsaac of Hebron were recent guests of Mrs. MacIsaac's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Corcoran in Piusville.

Mr. Byren MacKenna was a recent visitor to West Devon.

Mrs. J.W. MacKenzie, Mrs. Vera Moore and Mrs. Edna Morrison of Summerside were visitors to L.O.B.A. in Coleman.

A miscellaneous shower was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Harris, Knutsford, on Monday night, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Harris, who have just returned from England. They received a great many beautiful gifts and good wishes. Mr. Harris thanked one and all for their kindness. For they are jolly good fellows was sung.

Mr. Loman Harris of St. John, N.B. is visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harris and other relatives in O'Leary and vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Martin of Emerald are spending a few days visiting with relatives and friends in O'Leary.

Mr. and Mrs. Milford Ellis, O'Leary, were recent visitors to West Cape, guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Milford Ellis.

Mr. Clifford Ellis O'Leary was a recent visitor to Summerside.

New Clash On Border of India And Pakistan

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—Urgent calls for India to buy arms from any country including Russia was sounded in Parliament Wednesday following the fifth border clash in 12 days with Pakistan.

Members of the ruling Congress party and the Communists urged Prime Minister Nehru to obtain arms promptly from any country willing to sell them.

Nehru told the Lower House he saw little danger of war with Pakistan. "Nevertheless one cannot ignore the possibility of some emergency arising."

He said he thought the border clashes resulted from "trigger-happy" troops rather than a co-ordinated plan.

One reason for current worries about Pakistan's intentions, Nehru said, was the United States military aid program to India's neighbor. The defence of India has been "very much affected" by this aid, he added.

Latest reports on the border clash said that firing, which broke out late Tuesday night at Wagah, near Amritsar, ceased at noon.

The Indian commandant, Chaudhary Ram Singh, said there were no casualties on either side.

His report from Amritsar said he failed to reach a settlement in a three-hour meeting with the Pakistani commandant but they would meet again shortly.

ENEMY KEPT FIRING

The Indian commandant claimed his forces stopped firing at 3:30 a.m. but shooting from the Pakistani side went on until noon.

(A Pakistani government announcement in Karachi said "Indian armed forces attacked Pakistani-held territory." The note blamed Indian troops for firing well into the morning. It said Pakistani forces quit firing at 1 a.m.)

Reports reaching here from Amritsar said 22 Pakistani troops were killed and 23 were injured in a border clash at Hussainiwala Sunday night. Four Indians were killed and 14 were injured, the reports said.

Alberton United Men Entertain O'Leary Br'hood

The Alberton district United Church Men's Association entertained the members of the O'Leary Men's Brotherhood at their regular meeting Monday night. The ladies Guild of the Alberton United Church served a delicious turkey dinner to approximately sixty men following the business meeting which was conducted by the president Mr. Russell Bonyman. The hymn "Rise up O Men of God" was sung, minutes read and adopted, committee reports and treasurers report were heard.

On motion an outstanding bill of $46.13 was ordered paid. Immediately after the dinner Mr. Earle Atkinson expressed the thanks of the men to the ladies of the Guild. Devotions were led by Russell Bonyman which was followed by the Lord's Prayer.

Rev. Mr. Gardner conveyed the greetings of the Alberton group to the guests of the meeting; the O'Leary Brotherhood, Rev. A. S. Weir, a former pastor of the Alberton charge and to Mr. K. A. Parker, Superintendent of Schools, Charlottetown.

Mr. Thomas Phillips gave the church news report for the evening, commenting on the work of the Home and Mission Board across Canada. Dr. Weir briefly, congratulating the two groups on their fine work and expressing his pleasure at being able to attend.

Mr. Gardner then introduced Mr. Parker, the speaker of the evening who spoke as his topic "Exploding a Myth." In his opening remarks, Mr. Parker extended greetings to the Trinity group, and also made several program suggestions for meetings. He spoke of the importance of education today and of the necessity of salesmanship to retain our young men and women at home in spite of the far away green pastures of the mainland.

"Price Edward Islanders in general," he said, "must be convinced that our children are worthy of sacrificial investment." At the conclusion of the address, which was much appreciated, thanks were extended the speaker by Dr. O. H. Phillips. The evening closed with benediction by the minister.

strong-arm guards and the two British detectives who always accompany him.

The only hostile demonstration was a mild heckling within minutes of his arrival. Otherwise it has all been smiles and bouquets.

While heads of Scotland Yard prepared to meet him, another Soviet leader, Georgi Malenkov, had virtually cast aside security and was handshaking his way through a power station and a factory.

Malenkov, now Soviet minister of power stations, was premier when Serov's predecessor, Lavrenti Beria, was executed after the death of Stalin.

During his seven days in Britain, the man who stepped into Stalin's shoes and out again has found no need for his own Russian strong-arm guards and the two British detectives who always accompany him.

The only hostile demonstration was a mild heckling within minutes of his arrival. Otherwise it has all been smiles and bouquets.

While heads of Scotland Yard prepared to meet him, another Soviet leader, Georgi Malenkov, had virtually cast aside security and was handshaking his way through a power station and a factory.

Malenkov, now Soviet minister of power stations, was premier when Serov's predecessor, Lavrenti Beria, was executed after the death of Stalin.

During his seven days in Britain, the man who stepped into Stalin's shoes and out again has found no need for his own Russian strong-arm guards and the two British detectives who always accompany him.

The only hostile demonstration was a mild heckling within minutes of his arrival. Otherwise it has all been smiles and bouquets.

While heads of Scotland Yard prepared to meet him, another Soviet leader, Georgi Malenkov, had virtually cast aside security and was handshaking his way through a power station and a factory.

Malenkov, now Soviet minister of power stations, was premier when Serov's predecessor, Lavrenti Beria, was executed after the death of Stalin.

During his seven days in Britain, the man who stepped into Stalin's shoes and out again has found no need for his own Russian strong-arm guards and the two British detectives who always accompany him.

The only hostile demonstration was a mild heckling within minutes of his arrival. Otherwise it has all been smiles and bouquets.

While heads of Scotland Yard prepared to meet him, another Soviet leader, Georgi Malenkov, had virtually cast aside security and was handshaking his way through a power station and a factory.

Malenkov, now Soviet minister of power stations, was premier when Serov's predecessor, Lavrenti Beria, was executed after the death of Stalin.

During his seven days in Britain, the man who stepped into Stalin's shoes and out again has found no need for his own Russian strong-arm guards and the two British detectives who always accompany him.

The only hostile demonstration was a mild heckling within minutes of his arrival. Otherwise it has all been smiles and bouquets.

While heads of Scotland Yard prepared to meet him, another Soviet leader, Georgi Malenkov, had virtually cast aside security and was handshaking his way through a power station and a factory.

Malenkov, now Soviet minister of power stations, was premier when Serov's predecessor, Lavrenti Beria, was executed after the death of Stalin.

During his seven days in Britain, the man who stepped into Stalin's shoes and out again has found no need for his own Russian strong-arm guards and the two British detectives who always accompany him.

The only hostile demonstration was a mild heckling within minutes of his arrival. Otherwise it has all been smiles and bouquets.

While heads of Scotland Yard prepared to meet him, another Soviet leader, Georgi Malenkov, had virtually cast aside security and was handshaking his way through a power station and a factory.

Malenkov, now Soviet minister of power stations, was premier when Serov's predecessor, Lavrenti Beria, was executed after the death of Stalin.

During his seven days in Britain, the man who stepped into Stalin's shoes and out again has found no need for his own Russian strong-arm guards and the two British detectives who always accompany him.

The only hostile demonstration was a mild heckling within minutes of his arrival. Otherwise it has all been smiles and bouquets.

While heads of Scotland Yard prepared to meet him, another Soviet leader, Georgi Malenkov, had virtually cast aside security and was handshaking his way through a power station and a factory.

Malenkov, now Soviet minister of power stations, was premier when Serov's predecessor, Lavrenti Beria, was executed after the death of Stalin.

During his seven days in Britain, the man who stepped into Stalin's shoes and out again has found no need for his own Russian

Russian Secret Police Chief Due In London

LONDON (Reuters)—The chief of Russia's secret police, Gen. Ivan Serov, will arrive here today for talks about guarding Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev when the two Russian leaders visit Britain next month.

While heads of Scotland Yard prepared to meet him, another Soviet leader, Georgi Malenkov, had virtually cast aside security and was handshaking his way through a power station and a factory.

Malenkov, now Soviet minister of power stations, was premier when Serov's predecessor, Lavrenti Beria, was executed after the death of Stalin.

During his seven days in Britain, the man who stepped into Stalin's shoes and out again has found no need for his own Russian strong-arm guards and the two British detectives who always accompany him.

The only hostile demonstration was a mild heckling within minutes of his arrival. Otherwise it has all been smiles and bouquets.

While heads of Scotland Yard prepared to meet him, another Soviet leader, Georgi Malenkov, had virtually cast aside security and was handshaking his way through a power station and a factory.

Malenkov, now Soviet minister of power stations, was premier when Serov's predecessor, Lavrenti Beria, was executed after the death of Stalin.

During his seven days in Britain, the man who stepped into Stalin's shoes and out again has found no need for his own Russian strong-arm guards and the two British detectives who always accompany him.

The only hostile demonstration was a mild heckling within minutes of his arrival. Otherwise it has all been smiles and bouquets.

While heads of Scotland Yard prepared to meet him, another Soviet leader, Georgi Malenkov, had virtually cast aside security and was handshaking his way through a power station and a factory.

Malenkov, now Soviet minister of power stations, was premier when Serov's predecessor, Lavrenti Beria, was executed after the death of Stalin.

During his seven days in Britain, the man who stepped into Stalin's shoes and out again has found no need for his own Russian strong-arm guards and the two British detectives who always accompany him.

The only hostile demonstration was a mild heckling within minutes of his arrival. Otherwise it has all been smiles and bouquets.

While heads of Scotland Yard prepared to meet him, another Soviet leader, Georgi Malenkov, had virtually cast aside security and was handshaking his way through a power station and a factory.

Malenkov, now Soviet minister of power stations, was premier when Serov's predecessor, Lavrenti Beria, was executed after the death of Stalin.

During his seven days in Britain, the man who stepped into Stalin's shoes and out again has found no need for his own Russian strong-arm guards and the two British detectives who always accompany him.

The only hostile demonstration was a mild heckling within minutes of his arrival. Otherwise it has all been smiles and bouquets.

While heads of Scotland Yard prepared to meet him, another Soviet leader, Georgi Malenkov, had virtually cast aside security and was handshaking his way through a power station and a factory.

Malenkov, now Soviet minister of power stations, was premier when Serov's predecessor, Lavrenti Beria, was executed after the death of Stalin.

During his seven days in Britain, the man who stepped into Stalin's shoes and out again has found no need for his own Russian strong-arm guards and the two British detectives who always accompany