

"Covers Prince Edward Island Like The Dew"

CHARLOTTETOWN, CANADA, FRIDAY, AUGUST 28, 1964.

NOT MORE THAN SEVEN CENTS

14 PAGES

VOL. LXXVII, NO. 206

Published as Second Class Mail by The Post Office, Charlottetown, P.E.I., and by payment of postage in each

Cardigan Man Dies Of Injuries

Gerald Cronin, 22, of Cardigan died at Charlottetown airport yesterday in the RCMP Search and Rescue aircraft that was to have flown him to Montreal for treatment of injuries suffered in a car-truck collision at his home Saturday night.

He died before the Dakota (DC-3) plane got to Montreal. Mr. Cronin was the son of James Cronin and the late Mrs. Cronin. His father now lives in Whiteby, Ontario. He is survived also by a brother, Carl, and a sister, Mrs. Margaret Kofink, both of whom live in Boston. He was unmarried.

It was reported last night that Dr. L.E. Prowse, provincial coroner, has ordered an inquest. Dr. Allen MacMillan has been appointed coroner, and will swear in the coroner's jury at the Prince Edward Island Hospital at noon today.

Gov't Ban Closes Paper In Rhodesia

SALISBURY (Reuters) — Prime Minister Ian Smith of Southern Rhodesia will meet with Portuguese Premier Antonio Salazar in Lisbon on Tuesday to talk in Britain next month, it was announced here Thursday.

The announcement came after a long delay following a government ban on it. Smith's office did not indicate what the talks between the two leaders would concern.

Smith has denied newspaper reports he is plotting with the Portuguese government for aid in the event his self-governing colony unilaterally declares its independence of Britain.

Portuguese ruled Mozambique borders while Southern Rhodesia on the east. Smith told Parliament this week he is "more optimistic than ever" about the outcome of negotiations with Britain. It would be his last public statement before he leaves for London, leaving Sept. 3.

Smith's office said he would spend three days in Lisbon, leaving Sept. 3. A Friday nationalist newspaper, The Daily News, published in Salisbury and owned by a group controlled by Canadian-born publisher Lord Thomson, was closed Thursday after Parliament approved by 24 votes to 16 the motion calling for the ban.

Nova Scotia—Canada student education committee, education department, Halifax. New Brunswick—deputy minister of youth and welfare, Fredericton.

Quebec Hospital Walkout Averted
MONTREAL (CP)—Union negotiators were elated Thursday at a last-minute settlement that averted a massive walkout of non-professional workers at 30 Quebec hospitals.

The 15,000 workers, who toil in kitchens, laundries and maintenance work, got most of what they demanded. Paul-Emile Bélisle, president of the national syndicate of hospital employees which represented the workers, said they were "eminently satisfied." The union is an affiliate of the Confederation of National Trade Unions.

HEADS FOR PADS
Still packing a 100-mile-a-hour punch, a hurricane drew a band on the rocket pads of Cape Kennedy. A hurricane was on the march, many of these found plate glass windows shattered and blown away. There was little, if any, structural damage to buildings. Not a single death had been reported in Florida after Cleo, which killed at least 74 persons in Guadeloupe and Haiti, had smashed across Miami and 100 miles northward up the coast through Hollywood, Fort Lauderdale, West Palm Beach and Stuart.

When store windows began to rattle and the hundreds in Miami, some looting was reported. One man shot by police was in critical condition in a hospital.

New Peril Seen In Cyprus

Holiday Lobstermen Considered By Gov't

By FARMER TISSINGTON
Ottawa — Fisheries Minister J.E. Robson said that his department is actively considering the problem of holiday lobster fishermen in the Atlantic Provinces. He was replying in the Commons Thursday to a question from Robert Coates, MP for Cumberland. Mr. Coates pointed out that the Sheddin, New Brunswick Young Lobster fishermen in the Atlantic Association had recently passed a strongly worded resolution protesting the present system of licensing lobster fishermen and he asked whether the minister planned any action.

"My department is well aware of it. I have been asked to look into it for a number of years, and I must say that it is under very active consideration," Mr. Robson said.

He also asked for three things. They want only bona fide commercial fishermen to be licensed to catch lobsters. They want the same umbrella protection in the form of subsidies as now applies to "the elite western farmers" to include lobster fishermen; and they want the fishermen's loan fund to be extended in some of its restricted areas and be better subsidized so that more fishermen would be able to take advantage of its provisions.

Mr. Coates said that up to now it has been possible for cottagers and other holdovers in the Maritimes to get a lobster licence for 25 cents and to get out traps in competition with men who had to make their living out of fishing. He said that often these traps are left out for long periods, matted and often are in use after the season is closed.

Johnson Calls For Rededication

By ARCH MACKENZIE
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (CP) — President Johnson accepted the Democratic nomination for leading this party to victory in November.

Johnson, to the cheers of thousands massing in the convention hall, called for a rededication "to keep burning the golden torch of promise which John F. Kennedy set aflame."

"Tonight we of the Democratic party confidently go before the people offering answers, not retreat — unity not division — hope not defeat," he told the Democrats who nominated him Wednesday for a four-year White House term.

He told the delegates Democrats offer the people a choice — "a choice of continuing on the courageous and compassionate course which has made this nation the strongest, freest, most prosperous and most peaceful nation in the history of man."

Delayed from starting his speech for several minutes, he received a wild outburst of applause when he said at the outset: "I accept your nomination."

"We will try to lead you as we were led by that great champion of freedom — the man from Independence, (former president) Harry Truman."

Johnson said he and his running mate, Senator Huber H. Humphrey of Minnesota, "offer ourselves — on our record and by our platform — as a party for all Americans."

"I cannot describe the military strength of the U.S. as 'greater than the combined might of all the rest of the world in all the history of this planet.' But while promise"

Johnson Calls For Rededication

ing firmness to defend freedom is pledged at the same time a constant patient effort to move the world toward peace.

FIGHT IS OFF, SUGGESTS RACE

HALIFAX (CP) — Mayor Charles A. Vaughan has turned down an invitation to a fist fight from Mayor A. Walton Gaudet of Charlottetown.

Mr. Vaughan, whose remarks about the "Cradle of Confederation" sparked the Gaudet's challenge, countered with a substitute offer: a walking race across the P.E.I. causeway when it is built.

Mr. Vaughan said Wednesday that Halifax, not Charlottetown, should be considered the birthplace of Confederation.

The delegates began by a steady clapping for the aitor general as he stood, silent and solemn before them. The noise rose to a crescendo of GANDER, Nfld. (CP) — Eastern Provincial Airways said Thursday that starting next month the airline will use DC-3 aircraft on the service between Prince Edward Island, Moncton and the Magdalen Islands.

A spokesman said traffic to and from Prince Edward Island was not sufficient to warrant total service by the airline's turbo-prop Dart-Heads.

Mr. Diefenbaker told the House he and Prime Minister Pearson differed on how long the committee should be given to reach a recommendation on a design for a national flag. Mr. Pearson suggested three weeks, he said. The opposition leader said three months.

Details of the Aug. 21 meeting of the five party leaders were discussed during exchange between Mr. Diefenbaker and Transport Minister Picherzgu, who said all party leaders other than the Conservative leader had agreed on a reasonable time limit.

Rotation of Troops Is Spark

Rotation of Troops Is Spark

NICOSIA (AP) — An official source said Wednesday that Greek Cypriot government would use force if necessary to block the landing of Turkish replacement troops Monday. This raised new peril of an armed clash between Atlantic allies Greece and Turkey.

A Turkish embassy spokesman warned the rotation of troops, based here by treaty, would go ahead as scheduled unless the arrival of Turkish replacement troops Monday. This raised new peril of an armed clash between Atlantic allies Greece and Turkey.

Under treaties of guarantee leading to independence for Cyprus, small contingents of Greek and Turkish regulars are based on Cyprus. Turkey rotates half of its 450-man contingent every six months.

Greece has declared it will come to the defence of Cyprus if Turkey again attacks Cyprus. This was after Turkish planes had bombed Cyprus earlier this month to help Turkish Cypriots force pinned against the sea on the west coast.

The question is whether the Greek government would require the rotation of the Turkish contingent, by force if necessary, as a Turkish attack. In Cyprus it is difficult to envisage Greece standing by in the event of an armed clash.

Diplomatic sources say United Nations officials and Washington and London are seeking to work out some solution.

Makarinos is reported to be sending a cabinet officer confirmed privately that the decision to resist the rotation of troops is necessary.

The grim prospect of a fight between Greece — Cypriote and Turkey — and the Turkish placements arrive at the west coast port of Famagusta caused the Greek government to rotate long had been announced by the Turkish government.

Diplomatic sources said UN Secretary-General U Thant has taken up the matter, urging restraint on Turkey and Archbishop Makarios of the Greek-Cypriot president.

Surprise Plowing Winner

Surprise Plowing Winner

At the Prince County plowing match in O'Leary yesterday Mrs. Erion MacLeod was crowned a surprising victor in the bedmen's, her first try at competition plowing, defeating her husband who ended in second place. Mrs. MacLeod went on to take a first in the women's class. Arthur Hudson of Cassin emerged the county champion. (See picture and story on page 3.)

At the Prince County plowing match in O'Leary yesterday Mrs. Erion MacLeod was crowned a surprising victor in the bedmen's, her first try at competition plowing, defeating her husband who ended in second place. Mrs. MacLeod went on to take a first in the women's class. Arthur Hudson of Cassin emerged the county champion. (See picture and story on page 3.)

At the Prince County plowing match in O'Leary yesterday Mrs. Erion MacLeod was crowned a surprising victor in the bedmen's, her first try at competition plowing, defeating her husband who ended in second place. Mrs. MacLeod went on to take a first in the women's class. Arthur Hudson of Cassin emerged the county champion. (See picture and story on page 3.)

At the Prince County plowing match in O'Leary yesterday Mrs. Erion MacLeod was crowned a surprising victor in the bedmen's, her first try at competition plowing, defeating her husband who ended in second place. Mrs. MacLeod went on to take a first in the women's class. Arthur Hudson of Cassin emerged the county champion. (See picture and story on page 3.)

At the Prince County plowing match in O'Leary yesterday Mrs. Erion MacLeod was crowned a surprising victor in the bedmen's, her first try at competition plowing, defeating her husband who ended in second place. Mrs. MacLeod went on to take a first in the women's class. Arthur Hudson of Cassin emerged the county champion. (See picture and story on page 3.)

At the Prince County plowing match in O'Leary yesterday Mrs. Erion MacLeod was crowned a surprising victor in the bedmen's, her first try at competition plowing, defeating her husband who ended in second place. Mrs. MacLeod went on to take a first in the women's class. Arthur Hudson of Cassin emerged the county champion. (See picture and story on page 3.)

At the Prince County plowing match in O'Leary yesterday Mrs. Erion MacLeod was crowned a surprising victor in the bedmen's, her first try at competition plowing, defeating her husband who ended in second place. Mrs. MacLeod went on to take a first in the women's class. Arthur Hudson of Cassin emerged the county champion. (See picture and story on page 3.)

At the Prince County plowing match in O'Leary yesterday Mrs. Erion MacLeod was crowned a surprising victor in the bedmen's, her first try at competition plowing, defeating her husband who ended in second place. Mrs. MacLeod went on to take a first in the women's class. Arthur Hudson of Cassin emerged the county champion. (See picture and story on page 3.)

At the Prince County plowing match in O'Leary yesterday Mrs. Erion MacLeod was crowned a surprising victor in the bedmen's, her first try at competition plowing, defeating her husband who ended in second place. Mrs. MacLeod went on to take a first in the women's class. Arthur Hudson of Cassin emerged the county champion. (See picture and story on page 3.)

At the Prince County plowing match in O'Leary yesterday Mrs. Erion MacLeod was crowned a surprising victor in the bedmen's, her first try at competition plowing, defeating her husband who ended in second place. Mrs. MacLeod went on to take a first in the women's class. Arthur Hudson of Cassin emerged the county champion. (See picture and story on page 3.)

At the Prince County plowing match in O'Leary yesterday Mrs. Erion MacLeod was crowned a surprising victor in the bedmen's, her first try at competition plowing, defeating her husband who ended in second place. Mrs. MacLeod went on to take a first in the women's class. Arthur Hudson of Cassin emerged the county champion. (See picture and story on page 3.)

At the Prince County plowing match in O'Leary yesterday Mrs. Erion MacLeod was crowned a surprising victor in the bedmen's, her first try at competition plowing, defeating her husband who ended in second place. Mrs. MacLeod went on to take a first in the women's class. Arthur Hudson of Cassin emerged the county champion. (See picture and story on page 3.)

At the Prince County plowing match in O'Leary yesterday Mrs. Erion MacLeod was crowned a surprising victor in the bedmen's, her first try at competition plowing, defeating her husband who ended in second place. Mrs. MacLeod went on to take a first in the women's class. Arthur Hudson of Cassin emerged the county champion. (See picture and story on page 3.)

At the Prince County plowing match in O'Leary yesterday Mrs. Erion MacLeod was crowned a surprising victor in the bedmen's, her first try at competition plowing, defeating her husband who ended in second place. Mrs. MacLeod went on to take a first in the women's class. Arthur Hudson of Cassin emerged the county champion. (See picture and story on page 3.)

At the Prince County plowing match in O'Leary yesterday Mrs. Erion MacLeod was crowned a surprising victor in the bedmen's, her first try at competition plowing, defeating her husband who ended in second place. Mrs. MacLeod went on to take a first in the women's class. Arthur Hudson of Cassin emerged the county champion. (See picture and story on page 3.)

New CWL President Congratulated

Mr. Hermon Stevens (left) of Calgary, retiring president of the Catholic Women's League of Canada, is seen congratulating the new president, Miss Catherine A. Toal, on her appointment.

her appointment. Miss Toal, a resident of London, Ontario, was elected at yesterday afternoon's session of the national CWL convention being held here this week. The conference, attended by around 300 delegates from across the nation, opened Sunday and will adjourn this morning.

Federal Student Loan Plan To Be Started Next Week

OTTAWA (CP)—The government has set its student-loan plan in motion. All provinces except Quebec will take part in the scheme Thursday.

Finance Minister Gordon told the Commons Thursday that brochures will be distributed next week to the banks, universities and other educational institutions.

These will explain how bright-bodied students can borrow how much they can get, how long they can take to repay, the likely cost of the loan, and where to apply.

Forms needed to administer the loans will be sent out Monday. Regulations under the Canadian Loans Act also will be published next week, Mr. Gordon reported.

"Thanks to the unhesitant cooperation of all concerned, the Canada student loan plan will be launched as promised, before the beginning of the academic year 1964-65."

Basically, the plan in its first year will see Ottawa guarantee up to $40,000,000 in bank loans to students.

However, to get a loan a student must be certified as eligible for one. He must meet provincial standards of academic achievement and financial need.

Mr. Gordon said the agencies to do this work now have been designed by the nine provinces and the Yukon and Northwest Territories.

In most cases, the agencies are the provincial education departments or their branches. But in Ontario all the universities as well as a certain group of colleges and technical institutes also can issue eligibility certificates.

Armed with such a certificate, a student then can apply for bank loans of up to $1,000 a year for a maximum of five years.

Cleo Scatters Debrisage On Florida's Gold Coast

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Cleo's hammering winds laid a trail of wreckage across Miami and up Florida's popular "gold coast" Thursday, and spread hurricane warnings as far north as Brunswick, Ga.

Winds of 100 miles an hour still whirled around the centre as the storm moved over Miami, 170 miles up the coast from Miami, and bore down on Atlantic pads of Cape Kennedy.

Small craft up to Cape Hatteras were warned to stick close to port.

Despite the damage, Cleo took no lives at Miami.

While smashed, a few windows, ripped awnings, fallen trees and power lines left Miami's streets looking like a battle zone, a strong building code adopted years ago in southeast Florida protected her citizens.

Walls fell into a carefree sense of security by a 14-year period in which Miami let the wrath of only one single hurricane, known as Andrew, to show the warnings to board up.

Named the hurricane, many of these found plate glass windows shattered and blown away. There was little, if any, structural damage to buildings.

Not a single death had been reported in Florida after Cleo, which killed at least 74 persons in Guadeloupe and Haiti, had smashed across Miami and 100 miles northward up the coast through Hollywood, Fort Lauderdale, West Palm Beach and Stuart.

When store windows began to rattle and the hundreds in Miami, some looting was reported. One man shot by police was in critical condition in a hospital.

HEADS FOR PADS
Still packing a 100-mile-a-hour punch, a hurricane drew a band on the rocket pads of Cape Kennedy. A hurricane was on the march, many of these found plate glass windows shattered and blown away. There was little, if any, structural damage to buildings.

Not a single death had been reported in Florida after Cleo, which killed at least 74 persons in Guadeloupe and Haiti, had smashed across Miami and 100 miles northward up the coast through Hollywood, Fort Lauderdale, West Palm Beach and Stuart.

When store windows began to rattle and the hundreds in Miami, some looting was reported. One man shot by police was in critical condition in a hospital.

HEADS FOR PADS
Still packing a 100-mile-a-hour punch, a hurricane drew a band on the rocket pads of Cape Kennedy. A hurricane was on the march, many of these found plate glass windows shattered and blown away. There was little, if any, structural damage to buildings.

Not a single death had been reported in Florida after Cleo, which killed at least 74 persons in Guadeloupe and Haiti, had smashed across Miami and 100 miles northward up the coast through Hollywood, Fort Lauderdale, West Palm Beach and Stuart.

When store windows began to rattle and the hundreds in Miami, some looting was reported. One man shot by police was in critical condition in a hospital.

HEADS FOR PADS
Still packing a 100-mile-a-hour punch, a hurricane drew a band on the rocket pads of Cape Kennedy. A hurricane was on the march, many of these found plate glass windows shattered and blown away. There was little, if any, structural damage to buildings.

Saigon Rioting Continues Despite Deal To End Unrest

SAIGON (AP)—Armed mobs battled each other and troops fired on non-government demonstrators here Thursday in an effort to accompany to a military proclamation of a new deal aimed at putting an end to street riots.

In all eight provinces where blood had been spilled in the past week, the rioting that reflected the political, social and religious tensions between the Buddhists and Roman Catholics, scores were wounded.

A joint communique from the Buddhist Association and the Archbishop of the Roman Catholic Church called for peace. Gen. Nguyen Khanh's ruling junta—the 60-man military revolutionary council—announced two other decrees, that is until a provisional national congress is chosen to pick a new chief of state and cabinet.

OTHERS ELECTED
Elected to serve with Khanh were Gen. Duong Van Bui (Big Minh), the former chief of state whom Khanh displaced June 16, and Gen. Tran Thien Kham, former defence minister.

"We were told a hurricane was coming, but my God, not this!" A frightened woman visitor cried after the wind blew her easily by the hundreds in beach hotel and her hand was cut by a piece of flying glass.

Scrambling a tropical hurricane for the first time gave a thrill to some tourists, but others were shaken up when the wind smashed thousands of windows along the famed resort strip.

When store windows began to rattle and the hundreds in Miami, some looting was reported. One man shot by police was in critical condition in a hospital.

HEADS FOR PADS
Still packing a 100-mile-a-hour punch, a hurricane drew a band on the rocket pads of Cape Kennedy. A hurricane was on the march, many of these found plate glass windows shattered and blown away. There was little, if any, structural damage to buildings.

Not a single death had been reported in Florida after Cleo, which killed at least 74 persons in Guadeloupe and Haiti, had smashed across Miami and 100 miles northward up the coast through Hollywood, Fort Lauderdale, West Palm Beach and Stuart.

When store windows began to rattle and the hundreds in Miami, some looting was reported. One man shot by police was in critical condition in a hospital.

HEADS FOR PADS
Still packing a 100-mile-a-hour punch, a hurricane drew a band on the rocket pads of Cape Kennedy. A hurricane was on the march, many of these found plate glass windows shattered and blown away. There was little, if any, structural damage to buildings.

Not a single death had been reported in Florida after Cleo, which killed at least 74 persons in Guadeloupe and Haiti, had smashed across Miami and 100 miles northward up the coast through Hollywood, Fort Lauderdale, West Palm Beach and Stuart.

When store windows began to rattle and the hundreds in Miami, some looting was reported. One man shot by police was in critical condition in a hospital.

HEADS FOR PADS
Still packing a 100-mile-a-hour punch, a hurricane drew a band on the rocket pads of Cape Kennedy. A hurricane was on the march, many of these found plate glass windows shattered and blown away. There was little, if any, structural damage to buildings.

Not a single death had been reported in Florida after Cleo, which killed at least 74 persons in Guadeloupe and Haiti, had smashed across Miami and 100 miles northward up the coast through Hollywood, Fort Lauderdale, West Palm Beach and Stuart.

Holiday Lobstermen Considered By Gov't

By FARMER TISSINGTON
Ottawa — Fisheries Minister J.E. Robson said that his department is actively considering the problem of holiday lobster fishermen in the Atlantic Provinces. He was replying in the Commons Thursday to a question from Robert Coates, MP for Cumberland.

Mr. Coates pointed out that the Sheddin, New Brunswick Young Lobster fishermen in the Atlantic Association had recently passed a strongly worded resolution protesting the present system of licensing lobster fishermen and he asked whether the minister planned any action.

"My department is well aware of it. I have been asked to look into it for a number of years, and I must say that it is under very active consideration," Mr. Robson said.

He also asked for three things. They want only bona fide commercial fishermen to be licensed to catch lobsters. They want the same umbrella protection in the form of subsidies as now applies to "the elite western farmers" to include lobster fishermen; and they want the fishermen's loan fund to be extended in some of its restricted areas and be better subsidized so that more fishermen would be able to take advantage of its provisions.

Mr. Coates said that up to now it has been possible for cottagers and other holdovers in the Maritimes to get a lobster licence for 25 cents and to get out traps in competition with men who had to make their living out of fishing. He said that often these traps are left out for long periods, matted and often are in use after the season is closed.

Qutation To Kennedy Given By Democrats

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The Democrats' tribute to former president John F. Kennedy Thursday night turned into a roaring, spontaneous ode for his brother, Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy.

It was Kennedy's role to introduce a film recalling high lights from his brother's years as president. But before he could open his mouth, the convention roared to an emotional outburst seldom tendered a political gathering.

The delegates began by a steady clapping for the aitor general as he stood, silent and solemn before them. The noise rose to a crescendo of GANDER, Nfld. (CP) — Eastern Provincial Airways said Thursday that starting next month the airline will use DC-3 aircraft on the service between Prince Edward Island, Moncton and the Magdalen Islands.

A spokesman said traffic to and from Prince Edward Island was not sufficient to warrant total service by the airline's turbo-prop Dart-Heads.

Mr. Diefenbaker told the House he and Prime Minister Pearson differed on how long the committee should be given to reach a recommendation on a design for a national flag. Mr. Pearson suggested three weeks, he said. The opposition leader said three months.

Details of the Aug. 21 meeting of the five party leaders were discussed during exchange between Mr. Diefenbaker and Transport Minister Picherzgu, who said all party leaders other than the Conservative leader had agreed on a reasonable time limit.

At the Prince County plowing match in O'Leary yesterday Mrs. Erion MacLeod was crowned a surprising victor in the bedmen's, her first try at competition plowing, defeating her husband who ended in second place. Mrs. MacLeod went on to take a first in the women's class. Arthur Hudson of Cassin emerged the county champion. (See picture and story on page 3.)

At the Prince County plowing match in O'Leary yesterday Mrs. Erion MacLeod was crowned a surprising victor in the bedmen's, her first try at competition plowing, defeating her husband who ended in second place. Mrs. MacLeod went on to take a first in the women's class. Arthur Hudson of Cassin emerged the county champion. (See picture and story on page 3.)

At the Prince County plowing match in O'Leary yesterday Mrs. Erion MacLeod was crowned a surprising victor in the bedmen's, her first try at competition plowing, defeating her husband who ended in second place. Mrs. MacLeod went on to take a first in the women's class. Arthur Hudson of Cassin emerged the county champion. (See picture and story on page 3.)

HURRICANE CLEO pumpled this war at a parking meter — but upside down — on Collins Ave., Miami Beach

Wednesday night. Note shredded palm trees in background from the effects of Cleo's winds, clocked at 115 miles an hour at Miami and Miami Beach. (AP Wirephoto)

INSIDE TODAY

Births, deaths	3, 13
Classified	12, 13
Comics	11
Sports	10, 14
Finance, markets	9
Women's	4
Editorials	5
Kings, Queens, City	5
Summaries	3
Prince Cas	3