Drink Plenty of Water.
The Washington Star quotes a physician as follows: "A great majority of the cures effected by drinking the waters of the fashionable and unfashionable medicinal springs in various parts of the country would have resulted if the same amount of plain, wholesome, everyday water was drunk by the people who rush to these springs, and while there drink from 8 to 20 large glasses of their waters in a day. Whether there are any medicinal virtues in the waters, this treatment does them good, on account of the extra washing out they give themselves, and it is the water instead of the constituency of the same that does the work. The same people if at their homes would pass many and many a day without drinking one glass of water. It is in my opinion the water that cures and it is water that is needed."

His Case Continued.
The following in connection with John Allison, the well known Mulenberg lawyer: John is very much of a wag, and on one occasion, even when death was staring him in the face, he could not repress his disposition to be funny. He became ill at his home in Greenville with what was supposed to be heart disease, and a physician was hastily summoned. When he arrived, John was gasping for breath, and his friends expected him to die at any minute. When the doctor asked him what was the matter, he coolly replied, "Doc, I have an intimation that my case is about to be called, and, if possible, I want to get a continuance." The doctor went to work with him, and, contrary to everybody's expectation, did get John a continuance, and he is still alive and practicing law in Greenville, Madisonville (Ky.) Hustler.

The Colored of It.
Dorothy had heard some one singing that classical production, the "Little Alabama Coon," on the street. Presently she came to her mother and asked: "Mamma, what does 'swat' mean?" "What do you think that it means?" "Well, I don't know, mamma, but I s'pose that 'swat' is colored for spunk."—Harper's Bazar.

No More War

Swords will be beaten into plough shares later on; but our armers do not need to wait till the "Peace Conference" is over, before buying their plough shares, as they can do so a once, by calling at the Masonic Temple Store, where an share, or other plough extras can be had for less money, and better than any imported. Prove this at once, by trying hem.
