OTTAWA, July 16—(CP)—George M. Grant, 54, of Toronto, assistant general manager of Bell Telephone Company of Canada, has been appointed co-ordinator of production in the Defence Production Department. He succeeds Reginald M. Brophy, who recently was appointed deputy minister of the department.

Sport Echoes From Prince County

The playoffs in the Island Baseball League are with us! On account of Holman's dropping out of the league, the rest of the league games were thrown to the discard, and strictly zone semi-finals were substituted for the scheme worked out at the first of the season. Charlottetown teams are having a round-robin series, while R.C.A.F. and C. & B. will work out their own system of play-offs.

If the Airmen do not pick up another competent pitcher for these playoffs, we think the construction juniors will fight their way into the finals. Of the pitchers who were with the Royals all season, we can't see any of them that will be able to tame those rampaging bats of Johnny Carroll's boys. McCulloch will go the closest to it, but it is doubtful if Mac can pitch effectively for a full nine innings. He's been doing some fine work in relief.

Of the newcomers, MacKinnon held the Curran-Carroll-Cuties to one hit in five innings. We can't understand how he did. We were directly back of him and must say his "stuff" didn't impress us. The one-hit five-inning stint speaks much more loudly than our impression, however, and the boy may have it. His control seemed good, which his successor, Law's, was not. We'll be surprised if he can put on the same act against those juniors again. Don't worry too much about it Mac. We've been surprised before.

The one-two punch that Carson and Simmons represent is something of a haymaker, but with batters like Meier, MacKenzie and Cox opposing them, we wouldn't invest our last peso on a wager

Golfing Honeymoon Appears To Suit Toronto Bride

WINNIPEG, July 16 — (CP) — North America's best golfers will be pouncing the fairways out at the St. Charles Golf Club here this week and their wives will be right beside them.

One, Mrs. Al Balding, a freckle-faced Toronto bride, is on a honeymoon which most girls would consider ideal. She sits back and supervises while her husband works. Her husband, assistant pro at Toronto Islington, is entered in the Canadian open starting tomorrow.

The Baldings were married in Toronto eight days ago and a few hours later were on a train bound for Winnipeg. Since then, Mrs. Balding has been following Al that the star C & B left and right-handers wouldn't have considerable trouble. The Curranites have virtually no bench strength for the pitching job. Leturegy will probably not be allowed to perform with C & B, and he has hardly enough experience as yet to stop the R.C.A.F. heavy artillery in any case. Putting Coke Grady on the mound would leave short field without a competent caretaker.

It's rather up to Benny and Donnie, and if they are right, they should get through what promises to be a fairly tough series. As for the Royals, those bats will have to be bouncing out base hits fairly regularly to keep ahead of their definite pitching weakness. If the Royals win, you can look for basketball scores!

around with a collapsible stool. "I've acquired more freckles this week than I've had the rest of the year," she said.

Some of the American golfers who make the rounds of the continent's major golf tournaments have reduced living almost to a science.

A typical golf family is Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stewart Jr., of Dallas, Tex., and their two young children. They make the rounds in a 35-foot trailer and set up house-keeping right at the course.

Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Lutz of Reading, Penn., consider their trip here for the Canadian open as a second honeymoon. Married last Easter, this is their second week on tour. Mrs. Lutz passes the time knitting socks for her husband.

An ex-model, she says her husband "doesn't like me to follow him around while he's playing—he says it's too distracting."

Mrs. Stan Horne of Montreal met her husband playing golf. "It's always summer and always like being on a holiday wherever we go," she says.

Mrs. Rudy Horvath of Windsor, Ont., has been accompanying her husband to the tournaments he enters for four years now and hasn't missed one yet. She says she gets to know him better by making the rounds.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
I S L O N G F E L L O W
One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's. X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

and adopted as read. The treasurer also gave her report. The different convenors were then called upon to give a report, and some new ones were appointed as helpers. It was decided to give prizes for perfect school attendance in all schools in the parish. Some discussion took place on holding weekly dances during the summer. It was decided to have one in the near future with sale of lunches, also to sponsor a show. It was decided to clean hall, and each member to donate a dish towel for use in hall. The meeting was then adjourned.
