GOOD RULES TO OBSERVE ARE:—Use the eyes freely; do not abuse them. Always have plenty of light—but, when possible, avoid a glare. If possible, have the light falling over the shoulder from behind. Read but little or not at all in the lying position. Avoid reading by twilight. Inability to use the eyes means something; find out what it is. Allow no inflammation or pain in the eyes to be neglected, and bear in mind that many an obscure pain or ache may be due to overtaxed eyes or defective vision.

Provincial Legislature.

House of Assembly.

SUMMARY OF PROCEEDINGS.

MARCH 14.

Mr. Warburton resumed the debate on the Address. He criticised the remarks of the Opposition speakers and pointed out the success of the seed experiments at the Stock Farm He said that so far from these experiments being carried out in the slipshod manner stated, they were conducted properly and no less than forty-seven different samples were being sent to the great World's Fair at Chicago. He defended the bill reducing the cost of Legislation introduced by the Government The disfranchisement of the Dominion officials was a right and proper measure, because in open voting many of these officials were unable to vote as their consciences dictated for fear of the consequences that might ensue. He did not think the young men would be deprived of any right or voting privilege they now possessed if the proposed measure of amalgamating both branches of the Legislature had been adopted. The proposed gerrymander of King's County had occasioned a good deal of talk, as he thought it would. He spoke of the map of the district it is proposed to readjust, and referred to the little spot thereon called Georgetown. He suggested that the map be framed, and referred to Georgetown as "an anomaly" which should be wiped out. He repudiated the idea that the object of the Government in readjusting this district was to hive the Roman Catholics, and said such a statement was made only for obtaining a little cheap popularity. He said the statement that the debentures issued last year had to be issued to pay off the debt incurred by the present Government was not correct, and pointed out that the debt was incurred by the late Government. He claimed that the debentures had been properly advertised, and that their sale had been given all the publicity possible. He was glad to see that a provision was to be made for taking a plebiscite on the important matter of prohibition. This was a most effective way of obtaining the voice of the people on the subject. With reference to the success of the exhibitions, he said he would not detract from the work done by the late Government in the matter, but thought that private enterprise had also a good deal to do with their success. He spoke of the road-making machine, and hoped the Government could see their way clear to get more of them. In conclusion, he expressed the hope that the proposed bill for reducing the expenses of legislation would be as good as that of last year.

Mr. A. J. Macdonald followed. He briefly reviewed some of the arguments made by speakers on the other side of the House. He did not think the Government did as well as they might in the matter of the sale of the debentures. He referred to the debts incurred by the late Governments and the present one, and thought that the prospects of the present administration securing any of our claims at Ottawa were very slim. He thought the people would not submit tamely to the iniquitous legislation of last session, and thought this fact would be made very clear to honorable members when they faced their constituents again. He reminded the House that Georgetown had been represented in the Legislature by able men, who had brought forward and supported a number of good measures, and that the constituency had been laid out by the Hon. George Coles. He sharply criticised the Gerrymander and the Mortgage Vote, and said that he felt sure that any gerrymander they could make would not help the party in power. He argued that all true Liberals ought to vote with the Liberal Conservative Party as distinguished from the old fossil Tories who make up for the most part the (so-called) Liberal Party. He would believe that the promoters of the Prohibition Plebiscite were in earnest when he saw them abstaining themselves, and deprecated the placing of stimulants beyond the reach of the sick. The road-making machine, he said, had imposed an intolerable tax upon the people; for as operated by the Government it had spoiled the roads over which the farmers had to haul their produce. He bestowed upon Mr. Shaw a high and deserved compliment on account of his efforts to establish the cheese industry in this Province in co-operation with Mr. John Hamilton and others, and pointed out that the dairy interests are among the most important of the Province.

Hon. Mr. Richards moved the adjournment of the debate.

HAMILTON March 21st, 1892.

Dr. L. A. Smith & Co.,

Gents,—Please ship us per G T R, freight prepaid, three (3) gross more of your Anti-Dandruff. This makes six gross, or 864 bottles, purchased from you since January 16th, 1892, a little more than two months. The large demand is due to the merits of the preparation, as our customers to whom we have sold it certify. We find it not only removes the dandruff and scurf, but it is an elegant hair-dressing for the hair. Clean to use and has an agreeable odor. It is one of the best preparations we know of to promote the growth of the hair and prevent its falling out. Wishing you continued success and an extended sale, We remain,
Yours truly,

THOUSANDS SICK
IN THE COUNTRY!
HONEST AND CANDID ADVICE.
WHAT THE PEOPLE SHOULD DO.

We mean to be honest and candid with our people; we speak for their physical welfare; we help those who cannot afford to help themselves by furnishing them with medicine. Our business is not a money-making business in all respects; our objects are not mercenary and selfish.

From our own experience and the experience of the best and ablest physicians, we can truly assert that seventy-five out of every hundred sick people in Canada suffer from sick headache and nervous dyspepsia. These are truly distressing ailments, and lead on to dangerous and often fatal results. Sick headache results from biliousness, nausea and wind on the stomach. Those afflicted by nervous dyspepsia have a sense of weight in pit of stomach, pressure on the heart, palpitation and short breath, dizziness, nervous irritation and excitability, constipation, bad taste in mouth, and great depression of spirits.

Thousands of our Canadian people have found a cure from these distressing troubles by using Paine's Celery Compound. No remedy ever given to the world has produced such grand results as this wondrous prescription of Professor Phelps, the eminent physician. Have you made a trial of Paine's Celery Compound, afflicted one? If you have not, let us assure you that you will never be free from your troubles until you use it. We seriously recommend it to you; it will cure you, and give you a new existence such as you never expected to gain. Delay not its use; your life is in danger, and the hours are very precious.

The World's Fair.

INTERESTING EXHIBITS BEING SENT FORWARD FROM THE CONGREGATION OF NOTRE DAME.

[From the Montreal Daily Star.]

Not the least interesting of the exhibits sent to the World's Fair from Montreal will be that collected at the instigation of Archbishop Fabre by the Sisters of the Congregation of Notre Dame. Last May the Archbishop intimated his wish that all its religious communities should endeavor to select from the 105 establishments and 24,336 pupils under their control a representative selection of the various work of the scholars. The result produced is a highly creditable collection of drawings, paintings, specimens of needlework and embroidery, crochet, knitting, besides numerous essays and translations in many languages, which will be sent to Chicago in about two weeks' time. To give an idea of the extent of the contributions it may be mentioned that the Congregations of Villa Marie, Mont Ste. Marie, Notre Dame, St. Jean, Joliette, Sherbrooke, Sorel, Ottawa, Williamstown, Bellevue, St. Roch, Yamachiche, Charlottetown, New York, Waterbury and Providence, are all represented by drawings in water color paintings, not a few evidently the work of girls possessing genius, which, under continued cultivation will bring their names into prominence; but all these exhibits are sent as representative of the communities, not of the individual. The drawings, etc., number over one hundred, bound in a large portfolio, with illuminated introductions and descriptions of each class, and the rules laid down for the competitors executed by the nuns; geometrical and perspective, with drawings from engravings, models, architecture and nature, are included. Among the water color and oil paintings are some beautiful examples on satin, wall tapestry, canvas, and specimens of metallic painting; views of the old Mother House, built in 1768, of the later one in St. John the Baptist Street, and a painting illustrative of the work of the venerable founder, Marguerite Bourgeois, 1653-1657, when the teaching was carried by house to house visiting, are included. A very successful enlargement in oil of a photo of the Mater Dolorosa, a portrait of Miss Yvonne Tachereau, "A Stag's Head" and several studies from still life and natural fruit and flowers attracted more than passing notice. Among the needlework, embroidery, etc., was a splendid specimen of "Dessin a l'Aguillet," entitled the "Lyre Bird."

In plain sewing is a complete trousseau for a girl of twelve; embroidered table and sideboard outfits and samples of macrame cord work and netting. An aged nun of 84, of the Mother House, contributed a handsome chasuble of her own work, and another of 72 has made a carpet from 20 pieces of one-yard square; all the wool picked up by herself from the floors at various times, bleached, dyed and designed, and worked by her own hands; but, with these exceptions, the work is almost entirely that of pupils. Some wax flowers on plush and a specimen of hair work were noticeable. There are also numerous books illustrative of the work of the Sisterhood in its three branches of elementary, intermediate and senior education, and the elaborate "Book of Honor," containing the best essays, is worth hours of study. Altogether, the Sisters of the Congregation of Notre Dame must be congratulated upon the excellence of the exhibit they have collected, which, even among the multitudinous attractions promised at Chicago, will no doubt obtain special notice, and certainly many Canadians will look out for it.

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by millions of mothers for their children while cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best-known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind. 1yr
