

THE FAIR GOD.

BOOK SEVEN.

CHAPTER XII.

"Then, what?" she asked. He shrugged, and said low and over, "I will unseal the caverns of Quetzal, and—more or less I cannot answer now."

"And if that fail?" she persisted. Not until the stars at the time overhead had passed and been succeeded by others as luminous, did he answer: "And if that fail? Then we will build a temple—one without images—a temple to the One Supreme God. So, O Tula, shall the prophecy of the king, your father, be fulfilled in our day."

And with that up sprang a breeze of sunnery warmth, lingering awhile to wantom with the tresses of the willow, and swing the flowery island half round the circle of its anchorage; and from the soothing hand on his forehead, or the reposing motion of the chinampas, the languor of sleep stole upon his senses; yet recollection of the battle and its cares was hard to be put away.

"I should have told you," he said, in a vanishing voice, "that when the companies abandoned us I went first to see our uncle, the Lord Cuitlahua. The guards at the door refused me admittance; the king was sick, they said."

A tremor shook the hand on his forehead, and larger grew the great eyes bending over him. "Did they say of what he was sick?" she asked. "Of the plague."

"And what is that?" "Death," he answered, and next moment fell asleep. Over her heart, to hush the loudness of its beating, she clasped her hands; for out of the chamber of the almost forgotten, actual as in life, stalked Muulox, the paba, saying, as once on the temple he said, "You shall be queen in due time, and his eyes of mystery, and asked herself again and again, "Was he indeed a prophet?"

And the loving child and faithful subject strove hard to hide from the alluring promise, for in its way she described two living kings, her father and her uncle; but it sought her continually, and found her, and at last held her as a dream holds a sleeper—held her until the stars heralded the dawn, and the 'tain awoke to go back to the city, back to the battle—from love to battle.

CHAPTER XIII.

THE BEGINNING OF THE END.

"Leave the city, now so nearly won! Surely, father, surely thou dost jest with me!" So Cortes said as he sat in his chamber, resting his arm on the table, the while Olmedo poured cold water on his wounded hand.

The father answered without lifting his face: "Go, I say, that we may come back assured of holding what we have won."

"Sayest thou so?" "By my conscience here are honor, glory, empire! Abandon them, and the treasure, a part of which, as thou knowest, I have already accounted to his Majesty? No, no, not yet, father. I cannot—though thou may'st—forget what Velasquez and my enemies, the velvet minions of the court would say."

"Then it is as I feared," said Olmedo, suspending his work, and tossing his hood farther back on his shoulders. "It is as I feared. The good judgment which hath led us so far so well, and given riches to those who care for riches, and planted the cross over so many heathen temples is, at last, at fault."

The father's manner was solemn and reproachful. Cortes turned to him inquiringly. "Senior, thou knowest I may be trusted. Heed me, I speak for Christ's sake," continued Olmedo. "Leave the city we must. There is not corn for two days more; the army is worn down with wounds and watching; scarcely canst thou thyself hold an axe; the men of Narvaez are mutineers; the garden is full of graves, and it hath been shown the burial service of essential Catholic rites. And the enemy, Senior, the legions that broke through the wall last evening, were new tribes for the first time in battle. Of what effect on them were yesterday's defeats? The gods tumbled from the temple have their altars and worship already. Thou may'st see them from the central turret."

The good man was interrupted. Sandoval appeared at the door. "Come," said Cortes, impatiently. The captain advanced to the table, and saluting, said, in his calm, straightforward way: "The store for the horses is out; we fed them to-night from the rations of the men. I gave Motilla half of mine, and yet she is hungry."

At these words the hand Olmedo was nursing closed, despite its wound, as upon a sword-hilt, vice-like, and up the master arose, brow and cheek gray as if powdered with ashes, and began to walk the floor furiously; at last he stopped abruptly.

"Sandoval, go bid the captains come. I would have their opinions as to what we should do. Omit none of them. Those who say nothing may be witnesses hereafter."

The order was given quietly, with a smile even. A moment the captain studied his leader's face, and I would not say he did not understand the meaning of the simple words; for of him Cortes afterwards said, "He is fit to command great armies."

Cortes sat down, and held out the hand for Olmedo's ministrations; but the father touched him caressingly, and said, when Sandoval was gone: "I commend thee, son, with all my soul. Men are never so much on trial as when they stand face to face with necessity; the weak fight it, and fall; the wise accept it as a servant. So do thou now."

WHAT WAILS YOU?

Do you feel dull, languid, low-spirited, lifeless, and indescribably miserable, both physically and mentally? Do you experience a sense of fullness or bloating after eating, or of "gonesness," or emptiness of stomach in the morning, tongue coated, bitter or bad taste in mouth, irregular appetite, dizziness, frequent headaches, blurred eyesight, "floating specks" before the eyes, nervous prostration or exhaustion, irritability of temper, hot flashes, alternating with chilly sensations, sharp, biting, transient pains here and there, cold feet, drowsiness after meals, wakefulness, or disturbed and unrefreshing sleep, constant, indescribable feeling of dread, or of impending calamity?

If you have all, or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from that most common of American maladies—Bilious Dyspepsia, or Torpid Liver, and associated with Depression, or Indigestion. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. No matter what stage your case has reached, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will enable you, if taken according to directions, to attain a reasonable length of time. If not cured, compensation multiply and Consumption of the Lungs, Skin Diseases, Heart Disease, Rheumatism, Kidney Disease, and other maladies are quite liable to set in, and sooner or later, induce a fatal termination.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery acts powerfully upon the Liver, and through that great blood-purifying organ, cleanses the system of all blood-taints and impurities, from whatever cause arising, and cures by obviating its action upon the Kidneys, and other excretory organs, cleansing, strengthening, and lessening their diseases. As an all-potent, restorative tonic, it promotes digestion and nutrition, thereby building up both flesh and strength. In malarial districts, this wonderful medicine has attained great celebrity in curing Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, and kindred diseases.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery CURES ALL HUMORS, from a common Itch, or Eruption, to the worst Scrofula, Salt-Rheum, "Scald Head," Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood are conquered by this powerful, purifying and invigorating medicine. Great Eating Ulcers rapidly heal under its benign influence. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Hip-joint Disease, "White Swellings," Gout, or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands. Send ten cents in stamps for a large Treatise, with colored plates, on Skin Diseases, of the same amount for a Treatise on Scrofulous Affections.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE." Thoroughly cleanse it by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength and bodily health will be established.

CONSUMPTION,

which is Scrofula of the Lungs, is arrested and cured by this remedy. If taken in the earlier stages of the disease. From its marvelous power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this low world-famous remedy to the public, Dr. Pierce thought seriously of calling it his "CONSUMPTION CURE," but abandoned the name, as too restrictive for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequalled, not only as a remedy for Consumption, but for all Chronic Diseases of the Liver, Blood, and Lungs. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Chronic Nasal Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Sore Throat, and kindred affections, it is an efficient remedy.

Sold by Druggists, at $1.00, or Six Bottles for $5.00. Send ten cents in stamps for Dr. Pierce's book on Consumption. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, 603 Main St., BUFFALO, N. Y.
