Circular to the Exhibitors of the Crystal Palace.

THE undersigned joyfully announce to the Exhibitors and the public, that the formidable obstacles which threatened the complete discomfiture and destruction of the noble enterprise which they have chosen to serve, are at length removed, in good part through the liberality of a portion of our fellow citizens who have pledged advances in aid of the Exhibition to the amount of $100,000. Thus aided, we have been enabled to dissolve the injunction which was a source of embarrassment to us, and alarm or apprehension to many of our Exhibitors—to pay off or arrange all the debts pressing upon us, and provide against the possible occurrence of such annoyances in future. We therefore apprise you that the Exhibition will be temporarily closed this evening, in order to be completely renovated and refitted, preparatory to its formal re-opening, on Thursday the 4th day of May next.

The directors need not, surely, dilate on the value and importance of this Exhibition. Imperfect as it has hitherto been, and as, in view of the total want of experience on our side of the Atlantic in the orrangement of Exhibitions of such magnitude and variety, it could not fail to be, it has yet provided immensely beneficial to the Inventive views, Artistic developments, and Industrial progress of the country. The opportunity therein afforded for bringing valuable Inventions or Improvements to the immediate notice of the capable and appreciating, is but one among many benefits conferred on the leaders of industrial enterprise among us. If overweening conceit or inordinate self complacency has been rebuked and chastened by irresistible evidences of European superiority in elaborate and delicate workmanship, or even in educated, refined taste, the Exhibition of 1853 has fully demonstrated the indebtedness of Europe to America for very important Inventions and Improvements, stretching over the whole domain of Agriculture, Manufactures and the useful Arts. In farming implements, and machines for fitting the rude staples of Agriculture, for the convenient and economic use of the fabrication, our country need fear no comparison; and a young Nation of twenty-five Millions which while still arduously employed in the clearing away of its primitive forests, has found time in half a century to bestow on mankind such inventions as those of the Cotton Gin, the Steamboat, the Reaper and the Electric Telegraph, need surely neither repress nor conceal her anxiety to profit by all in the line of discovery, Art or Invention, which has been or may be exhibited by others. If the New York Exhibition has shown our people how to improve any implement or process in the light of European achievement, that impulse is a National benefit of signal and even increasing value.

If the past has witnessed mistakes in the conduct of the great enterprise now confided to our hands, that circumstance will render our own task easier and our success more probable. If it has evolved many valuable suggestions and illuminated for us the path of duty by triumphs as well as defeats, we shall be able to walk surely where our predecessors stepped doubtfully and anxiously. With your cooperation, and that of the coming Fultons, Whitneys and Morses, whose triumphs are yet unachieved or unacknowledged, we hope to render the Crystal Palace the recognised centre of attraction for the votaries of Industry, the devotees of Art and the admirers of Genius, throughout the Western World.

To effect this, we need the hearty and immediate co-operation of the present Exhibitors, both through the continuance of their best contributions, and the introduction of others, as new inventions, new patterns, new successes, shall render such further aid practicable. While we trust that the Exhibition is henceforth permanently established, and that before many more years shall have elapsed, specimens or models of every valuable Invention, eminent works of Art, improved Fabrics, or other Industrial achievement, will be exhibited in the Palace, as a matter of course, we shall yet remember with special gratitude, those friends of the enterprise who did not wait for its triumph, stood by it in the days of experiment, and nobly aded to aichieve the conquest which so many are destined to enjoy. We shall be able, and we rejoice in the fact, to accord more desirable positions and ample space to new Articles which shall be sent in between this and the 1st of May, than it is probable that we shall have at our disposal thereafter, The earliest possible np[illegible]ta mission of all Articles intended for Exhibition , raan after the re-opening, is urgently solicited.

Trusting that you will agree with us, that the interest of Inventors, Artists, Manufacturers and Artisans, are all involved in the thorough and undeniable triumph of the first American Exhibition of the trophies of the World's Art and Industry, we remain,

Yours,
P. T. BARNUM,
President of the Association for the Exhibition of the Industry of all Nations.
