Beavers Trounce Nelson Take Commanding Lead

SHERBROOKE, Que. (CP)—Sherbrooke Beavers clobbered Nelson (B.C.) Maple Leafs 9-2 Thursday night to take their third straight victory in the Allan Cup best-of-seven final series.

Nelson's defence fell apart at the start of the third period and Sherbrooke rammed home four goals by the 5:54 mark to take a commanding 6-0 lead, following two goals in the second period.

Despite the seven goals which got by Seth Martin in the last period, he made 21 saves as Sherbrooke outshot Maple Leafs and dominated play.

The first two periods of play were highlighted by outstanding saves by Martin and Beavers goalie Serge Aubry.

Simon Nolet put Beavers ahead 1-0 at 3:30 of the second, followed ten minutes later with a goal by Jean Levesque.

Rejean Richer and Georges Guilbeault paced the Sherbrooke attack in the third period at two goals apiece with Rod Gaudreault, Claude Cardin and Larry Drouin accounting for the other Beaver goals.

Mike Laughton scored Nelson's first goal at 5:19 of the third period when he snared a rebound and batted it home. Brian Russell notched the second goal for Maple Leafs from a scramble in front of Aubry's net.

Sherbrooke collected 12 of the 20 minor penalties called.

Sherbrooke playing coach Georges Roy was exuberant following the game and predicted his team would wrap up the series in the fourth game Saturday night. Nelson's playing coach Bobby Kromm said he figured his team can still win a game here.

The shots on goal were fairly even in the first two periods with Martin stopping 26 and Aubry 20, but in the third period Beavers had 21 shots compared with Maple Leafs' 10.

Game time Saturday night is for 8 p.m. EDT.

First Period — No scoring.

Penalties—Nolet 2:19, Peacosh 2:40, Carlson 3:46, Roy, Kromm 5:25, Dupre 10:57, Levesque 14:43, Russell 17:48.

Strong Entries Not Registered

ST. JANVIER, Que. (CP) — The advance entry list indicates there will be a hectic scramble for honors in the 10th Canadian and 16th Quebec provincial skeet shooting championships starting today at the huge firing range in this Laurentian foothills village.

For one thing, there have been no entries from the United States armed forces, which always fields extremely strong teams. This gives civilian competitors a better crack at titles that have eluded them in other years.

More than 200 shooters will compete in the meet at the swank Montreal Skeet Club ranges here. There are no overwhelming favorites for the competitions in the four shotgun categories of 410 - gauge, 20-gauge, 28-guage and 12-gauge.

Opening day competitions will feature the 410-gauge and the 20-gauge, with the other shotgun events spilling over into the next two days until the meet ends Sunday. Early arrivals have been getting in practice rounds at the range throughout the week.

MANY MARITIMERS JOIN

"The big surprise so far is the increase in entries from the Maritimes," said tournament official Les Morrow. In fact, Canadian registration in the meet is up considerably over other years, with a large contingent from Ontario. Only the world championships attract more entries.

Two of Canada's outstanding shooters, Eddie Tuvo and Harry Willsie, both from Montreal suburbs, will be back to defend titles they won last year. Tuvo has won the Canadian title the last two years but has been shooting below par in competitions this season.

Willsie, who shot a phenomenal 99 to win the 410-gauge title last year, despite a sore back, has been shooting well this year.

Also entered are the Detroit Wreckers who have established a number of world team records besides winning many individual championships. The five-man team consists of Chet Crites, Bob Thiefels, Jack Pattyn, Howard Confer and Larry Smith. Team captain Smith is the defending Canadian open skeet champion.

Other standout U.S. competitors entered are Dominic Piscitelli of New Haven, Conn.; Bill Connors, Buffalo, N.Y., and John Kujawa, South Bend, Ind. Piscitelli lost a shootoff for the 28-gauge title last year, while Connors captured the Quebec Open crown with a perfect score in the 12-gauge.

European Teams Lead The Field

MONTREAL (CP)—A star-studded European field leads 13 two-man teams for the opening tonight of a six-day international bicycle race.

Promoter Jean Ladouceur is staging Quebec's first indoor race of the 1965 season in the 15,000-seat Montreal Forum. It's somewhat of a gamble because previous races of this kind have been held in the smaller, 5,000-seat Paul Sauve Arena.

As one official put it: "We'll find that 5,000 people looks awfully small in that big forum."

Teams are entered from Germany, England, Belgium, Canada, Spain, the United States, France, Holland, Israel, Italy and Switzerland for the race due to get under way at 8:30 p.m. EDT. (9:30 p.m. ADT)

Many will be racing for the first time in Montreal, but are none the less seasoned riders.

Among the newcomers is Ray Castilloux of Buffalo, N.Y., who represented the United States in the 1964 Tokyo Olympics. His partner on the U.S. team will be an Italian, Francisco Constantino.

Two outstanding German racers, Ehrenfried Rudolph and Karl Heinz Marsell, have named their team "United Nations." There is also a separate team representing Germany composed of Klaus Bugdahl and Rudolph Klemens.

WINS FOUR YEARS

Marsell has won the German national cycling titles four years in a row, starting in 1960. In 1961, he was crowned world motor-pace champion.

Rudolph was the key man when the German team won the world speed championship in Rome in 1960.

Quebec has come up with a strong entry in the team of Emile Leclerq of Montreal and Horst Oldenburg of Germany. Leclerq was a star in Belgium before moving to Montreal a few years ago. Oldenburg is one of the few cyclists to have beaten Peter Post, a world champion currently recuperating from a major operation. Oldenburg beat Post in the 1964 Cologne Grand Prix.

Heading the Israeli team is Marcel Delattre, 25, the 1964 European pursuit champion. His mate is Gilbert Maes, a U.S. national champion in 1963 and 1964.

Italy has Giuseppe Beghetto and Sergio Bianchetto, while Roland Williott of Montreal and Paul DePaepe of Belgium will carry the colors of Canada.

Other teams are: England: Ron Baensch, Roger Levesque; Belgium: Leo Proost, Romain DeLoof; Spain: Guillermo Timoner, Francesco Tortella; France: Andre Retrain, Robert Giscos; Holland: Jaap Oudkerk Rolf Roggendorf; Switzerland: Peter Tiefenthaler, Frita Gallatti.

Island Squads Buried

SHELBURNE, N.S. (CP) — Shearwater Flyers moved into the lead in the Maritime five-pin bowling championships here Thursday, with a 36-point showing after two days of play.

Greenwood, N.S., was second with 30 points while Prince Edward Island entries, Charlottetown and Summerside, were well down in the standings with eight and six points, respectively.

Charlottetown's Jim Williams leads in the average list with a mark of 252 and the Charlottetown team has the high single string of 1,332.

Golf Committee Obtains Request

The Brudenell Golf Committee were favorably received by the provincial government, when they met on Tuesday afternoon. Reason for the meeting was to try to make an agreement or procure a lease on lands at Brudenell Park for a golf course.

The committee was appointed at an earlier meeting at Montague, called by the Montague Rezional Board of Trade. Before such lease or agreement could be drawn up, the golf course group are to call a general meeting at which time a golf association will be formed.

This meeting will be held in the Legion Home Montague on Friday at 8 p.m. The necessity for a golf course in this area during the tourist period is a must, and the Board of Trade, the Town Council, and golfers have been pressing for this for several years.

The group approached the government with the idea that if machinery and equipment was made available, they would endeavour to build a rough nine hole course this year.

The officials of the government stated they were pleased to wait on a group that were willing to work and not coming to ask for money.

Badminton Tournament
The provincial badminton championships will be held on Saturday, May 8th at Birchwood High School, Charlottetown.
All Summerside entries must be phoned to Mr. MacFarlane at C.J.R.W. in Summerside by Saturday morning.

SPORTS FRONT

Belvedere Club Opens Saturday

By JIM CULLEN

Prince Edward Island golfers enjoyed one of the finest seasons in history on the local greens last year. The Belvedere Golf and Winter Club held several big tournaments in connection with the Centennial celebrations and Island golfers placed well in all the tournaments.

Charlottetown's Art MacKenzie was once more on the Willingdon Cup team that went west to play for the Willingdon Cup, brother Merlin copped the Island amateur tournament, John Estabrooks of Saint John nipped Art MacKenzie to take top honors in the N.B.-P.E.I., British Columbia's Sced took the Canadian junior crown and Ron LeClair, Maine made off with the Maritime Open, during last summer's action at the Charlottetown club.

Art MacKenzie has been appointed president of the Games Committee at the Belvedere club for the coming season and Art told us, last night, that members of the Charlottetown club will be able to take to the fairways this Saturday.

Art said: "All the greens are fit for play except one that is still a little wet, but this is much earlier than had been anticipated." It was expected that the fairways would be ready for play, but officials of the local club had expected to have to use substitute greens until some time in June.

We questioned Art about what he has lined up in the way of tournaments to be played at the Belvedere course this season. He told us the spring meeting of the New Brunswick-Prince Edward Island Golf Association will be held this Sunday in Moncton and they will decide where and when the respective Maritime golf tournaments will be played.

Tom Rogers will be representing the Island at Sunday's meeting and the local golf club will have a release on their coming tournaments following the meeting.

We have noticed several golfers 'teeing-off' at Victoria Park in an attempt to limber up a bit for the opening of the season and they will undoubtedly be glad to hear they will be able to blast away this weekend, at the Belvedere course.

Tid Bits From Here And There

Ralph Terry must have experienced something close to self-gratification when he blanked his former New York teammates 4-0 while hurling for the Cleveland Indians. Terry was sent to the Indians after emerging as the hero of the 1962 World Series with the Yanks. He wasted no time with the Keane managed outfit Wednesday night as he spent only one hour and 40 minutes mowing them down on three hits to record his 4-0 victory.

An attempt will be made to get the Charlottetown baseball scene off the floor Tuesday, May 11 at City Hall. Jim Fox, City recreation director, has indicated he had some queries from baseball minded people outside the Charlottetown area and he wants to have a local meeting first to see what it has to offer. All local players, officials and coaches outside the minor league level are invited to attend the meeting.

St. Dunstan's High School will honor its athletes this Saturday evening with a banquet at the Belvedere Golf and Winter Club. The local high school has experienced a most successful year on the sports scene and they will honor their championship hockey, football and basketball teams at Saturday's gathering.

A severe bruise on the right side has sidelined first baseman Bill White of the St. Louis Cardinals. Club trainer Bob Bauman said Thursday White will be out of the lineup from two days to a week.

The first world championship fight to be held in Los Angeles in more than three years is set for tonight between featherweight titleholder Vincente Salvidar of Mexico and Raul Rojas, the No. 3 contender from nearby San Pedro. The match is billed for 15 rounds and the setting is Memorial Coliseum, a 95,000 seat stadium. Promoters hope for 18,000 or more, thousands of whom will travel from Mexico for the show.

Vicki Berner of Vancouver and her American partner, Julie Heldman, were eliminated from the doubles in the Italian International Tennis Championships when they took a 6-3, 9-7 beating from the U.S. pair of Mimi Arnold and Jane Albert.

HUNTERS' CORNER

Wildgeese Flocks Are Still With Us

The month of May is one week old and the wildgeese are still with us in their thousands. As a rule, the geese begin their northward journey to their breeding grounds around April 20th and by May 1st only the odd flock of non-breeding birds are with us.

I have known the odd flock to remain until May 15th. This spring has broken all previous records. On the 6th of this month they were here in their thousands and with no indication apparent that they were showing any northward move.

Wildgeese have a built-in weather barometer and a sixth sense tells them when to start their northward journey. No doubt they are loath to leave their bounteous food supply. Thousands of bushels of mealy grain kernels, preserved all winter in a snowy refrigerator, litter our stubble fields and they have most certainly lived the 'life of Riley' this spring. Some have died from lead poisoning.

Geese are smart and can sense when anyone looks them over with 'that goose in the frying pan stare'. On the other hand they can also tell when they have friends and have fed contentedly within a gunshot of farm buildings. A flock of spring plumaged Canadas outlined against a blue sky with their pulse stirring 'honking' throbbing in the clear, spring air has got a brass band beat a mile.

Geese have been shot this spring, and goose dinners have been fairly common in some areas. As a veteran goose hunter in season that is remarked a few days ago, some of those 'Ginny hammers' haven't got either the skill or the brains to bag a goose in the fall. In the spring when they practically sit in their laps it's a different story".

Trout fishing has gotten a boost this past week and schools of fresh run sea trout have moved into the North River and Vernon River Causeways. This week a trout caught by a city angler at North River was just like the 'run' one might expect in June. By the time he had it stowed in his basket his hands were coated with the silvery scales that is the ear mark of trout fresh in from the sea. One caught at Vernon Causeway weighed close to the four and one half pound mark.

A sporting trout fisherman by that I mean one who angles for the thrill and sport involved—told me this week that quite a few used two rods ... one held in the hand and the other with the butt anchored on the ground and the rod resting in the fork if a stick or board four or five feet long. When ice fishing was in vogue some had three lines in action. One had three holes cut in the ice with a baited hook and line tied to a stick laid across the hole. He then strutted around with his hands in his pockets until one, or more, of the sticks began to slither across the hole edge. I understand that RCMP game law officers have caught a number of such trout addicts.

Another thing ... the trout fishermen who stop at their limit of twenty are few and far between. Their motto appears to be "Make hay while the sun shines". I realize that the temptation is there—and how. A few years ago I was in a boat with a fellow angler who would rather fish trout than eat. The trout were sold on the 'fly' he was using and were hitting it with all they had. When I figured he was close to the twenty mark I asked the question "How many trout have you caught?" His reply fairly rocked me. "I don't know ... I'm afraid to count." I wasn't the least bit afraid to do the counting. He had 19 and the one on the line made the twenty. As we rowed ashore he was gazing with wistful eyes at the trout that were 'dimpling' the water all over the place. The trout fever is potent when it hits hard.

Robin Roberts Defeats Twins

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Robin Roberts won his fourth straight game of the season and 204th of his career Thursday and knocked in the go-ahead run as Baltimore defeated Minnesota 5-1.

Roberts going the distance for the fourth time in a row after being knocked out in his first start, permitted only four hits. He lost his chance of a third shutout when Harmon Killebrew lined his second homer of the year over the left field fence in the fourth.

Brooks Robinson slammed a homer in the second and Roberts singled home the tie-breaking run in the fifth after Johnny Crisino walked and Jerry Adair singled. Rookie Paul Blair's single scored Orsino with the second run of the inning.
