HARD COAL PRICE UP

TORONTO, Feb. 1 — (CP) — Anthracite coal will advance 75 cents here tomorrow to a high of $23.75 a ton, E. R. Lockyer, secretary of the Toronto Coal Exchange, announced tonight. He predicted another increase of 75 cents or $1 "or possibly even more" in about 10 days. The boosts are the result of wage increases for miners and for local truck drivers, yardmen and hoistmen, he said.

Montague Meteors Win 7-2 Over Georgetown

The Montague Meteors defeated the Georgetown Eagles by the score of 7-2. The game was played at Georgetown. The game was played on very heavy ice, and the puck was difficult to carry, making it hard to make passing plays. However, both teams were on the attack most of the game.

Clements led the scoring for the Meteors, and Walper in the Meteor's cage gave a fine exhibition of goal tending.

The Eagles put up a strong attack, but were unable to capitalize on the chances which they had. The Meteors, however, made good on their chances to notch seven goals.

The heavy ice soon made the boys tired, and before long tempers were getting ragged, and an outbreak came in the last period with several being sent to the pen for a cooling off period.

Although the ice was heavy, both teams put on a good display of attacking hockey, which was pleasing to the fans, and undoubtedly proved to be one of the best games this season, and had the ice been faster, would have been an outstanding game.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. T. H. McMANUS

The death occurred at Charlottetown on Saturday, morning, November 25th, of Mrs. T. H. McManus following a short illness. Her untimely death at the early age of sixty-five years came as a great blow to her family and friends by whom she will be greatly missed.

The late Mrs. McManus (the former Margaret Anne Cavanagh) was born and reared at New Haven, P. E. I., where she was married and lived part of her married life. In 1917 she with her husband and family moved to Maplewood, P. E. I., where she resided until a short time previous to her death when, due to illness, she was forced to move to Charlottetown to be near her family. During her illness she was visited by her former neighbours whom she was always happy to see.

Of a kind, reserved and gentle disposition the late Mrs. McManus was ever willing and anxious to help others in time of sickness or trouble. Her chief concern, however, was always for her family of whom she was so justly proud. It is worthy of note that her whole family of nine daughters and four sons were present at her bedside at the time of her death—a life long wish fulfilled.

A devout member of the Catholic Church, she was visited during her illness by Rev. James Smith and Rev. James Kelly of St. Dunstan's Basilica who administered the last rites of the church. She was also visited many times by Rev. Leo Herrell and Rev. Richard Baines, C.SS.R., of Holy Redeemer Church who brought her great solace in her suffering.

Her funeral which was held from the Church of the Most Holy Redeemer was one of the largest held from this church. This together with hundreds of Mass Cards, flowers, telegrams and other messages of sympathy testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held.

The Requiem Mass was sung by Rev. Richard Baines, C.SS.R. Services at the grave were conducted by Rev. Father McGillivray, C.SS.R. The Rector, Rev. A. MacLellan as well as Rev. George McCormac were present in the Sanctuary.

Besides a sorrowing husband there are left to mourn the following sons and daughters: Mary (Mrs. John Gallant); Anne, Rita, James and Linus of Boston, Mass.; Harold of Toronto; Helen (Mrs. Wilfred MacDonald) Halifax, N.S.; Margaret (Mrs. F. A. McKearney) Halifax, N. S.; Lauretta (Mrs. M. F. Hagan), Alberton, P.E.I.; Louis Brookvale, P. E. I.; Beatrice (Mrs. Thomas Devereaux) New Haven, P. E. I.; Alice (Mrs. J. E. McAvinn) and Josephine (Mrs. Alfred Doyle, Charlottetown, P. E. I. Three sisters: Mrs. M. J. McManus, Charlottetown; Mrs. F. J. Trainor, Tyrone; Mrs. John Johnstone, Cambridge, Mass.; two brothers James of Charlottetown and Simon of New Haven. One brother David and one sister Helen, Mrs. Diamond predeceased her.

The pallbearers were six sons-in-law as follows: John Gallant, Wilfred MacDonald, Joseph E. McAvinn, Thomas Devereaux, Fred A. McKearney, Alfred Doyle.

Requiescat in Pace.

Mr. Linus Rossiter, representing Atlantic Wholesalers, called on his firms' many customers in Georgetown, on Monday.

Mr. Charles MacCannell of the Royal Canadian Navy, stationed at Halifax, who has been visiting his home in Georgetown, left Monday on return to his duties. He was accompanied by Mrs. MacCannell, who will visit in the Nova Scotian Capital for a week. Also returning to Halifax with Mr. and Mrs. MacCannell were, Mrs. Sheldon Ross and two sons, Dwane and Peter, who have been visiting here as the guests of Mrs. Ross' mother, Mrs. Mabel Hearn.

On Monday night a large number of fans accompanied the Georgetown Eagles on their trip to Murray Harbour, where they dropped a regular Southern King's League game to the Murray Harbour Bruins by a 5-4 score. The game was a closely fought affair and went into overtime before a winner was declared. Although offering no alibis for their loss, the Eagles played the game, minus two of their regulars. It is noticeable that the scores in recent games are smaller and closer, which would indicate that many closely contested games feature the balance of the schedule and the playoffs.
