

POLICE PONDER
DART GUN USE

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York police force is studying a dart gun for possible use against criminals.

"It is a possible humane weapon of the future," a department spokesman said.

The gun fires a dart containing a general anesthetic, which acts on the human target like a hypodermic needle and puts him to sleep. Similar weapons have been used to capture animals.

So far, the police department's ballistics bureau has used the gun only against inanimate objects. The tests are intended to determine if the gun might be valuable against:

- Dangerous animals, such as mad dogs.
- Berserk criminals, for example, a madman armed with a hatchet.
- Barricaded criminals, whose assault by regular weapons might endanger bystanders because of ricocheting bullets.
- Criminals using an innocent person as a shield. Even if the hypodermic dart hit the innocent person by mistake, its effects would be only temporary.
- The darts have a maximum accurate range of 45 yards, and can be fired from an air gun, a shotgun or certain types of pistols.

Princess
Robbed
Of Jewels

LONDON (AP) — A brazen burglar broke into Princess Alexandra's palatial suburban home Monday night and escaped with jewels valued at thousands of pounds. He was surprised in a second-storey dressing room and made a clean getaway.

Scotland Yard responded today by laying on a search rivaling those mounted for major crimes. Thirty tracker dogs were brought in, roadblocks set up and squads of police assigned to comb the four-acre grounds of the home in Richmond Park. Fingerprint experts went through the house.

The princess, 26-year-old cousin of the Queen and one of the most popular members of the Royal Family, is not assigned a detective except for public functions. Friends said she had no special guard at her house.

Both police and palace clamored up about who surprised the princess — a storey man. Most reports said it was a servant. The princess, who is pregnant, and her husband, financier Angus Ogilvy, were both home at the time.

Farm Prices
Index Slips

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's index of farm prices of agricultural products declined slightly in September to 211 from 222.2 in August, the bureau of statistics has reported.

The drop in the index-based on 1955-59 equalling 100 — was caused mainly by lower prices for livestock and potatoes. These price decreases were large enough to offset higher prices for poultry products.

Indexes for September with August figures in brackets included: Prince Edward Island 203.8 (217.9); Nova Scotia 232.4 (238.9); New Brunswick 216.4 (231.7); Quebec (270.7) 273.5.

Savings Bonds
Sales Report

OTTAWA (CP) — Total sales of Canada savings bonds to Nov. 1 amounted to $33,900,000, the finance department announced.

In a statement, the department said $18,000,000 of sales were through payroll savings plans and the remaining $15,900,000 through banks, investment dealers, trust companies and various other outlets.

Applications for purchase up to Nov. 1 totalled 706,000—$56,000 of these through the payroll savings plans.

In 1962 sales of Canada savings bonds through payroll deduction plans reached a record $232,000,000.
