THE DAILY EXAMINER

MAY 11, 1900

MR. PINEAU— AND THE GOVERNMENT.

THE PATRIOT has searched the files of THE EXAMINER for hard sayings sufficient to justify Mr. Pineau in deserting the Opposition party which secured his election, only a few months ago, and maintaining in office the Farquharson administration which exerted itself to the utmost to bring about his defeat. We fail to see that anything that THE EXAMINER or anyone else has said should cause Mr. Pineau to act in this way. A majority of the people of the First District of Prince County placed their trust in him, and made him their representative to oppose the Government: surely that trust should be fulfilled, notwithstanding anything that may have been said by any paper, or person, or party; or if not, surely it ought to be resigned into the hands of those who gave it and not used to keep in office and power the very men whom those who gave it desired to have driven out!

At the same time, if THE EXAMINER has been misinformed and has made erroneous statements in connection with Mr. Pineau's recent absence from the Province, we shall retract and apologise, forthwith, on being convinced of the fact—the gist of the evidence being that Mr. Pineau shall do the duty that he was elected to do.

Mr. Pineau is, like Mr. Speaker, making a record which will stand when he is gone which will remain as a memorial of his honesty or his infamy. He has his opportunity now; the opportunity will soon be lost forever.

If he should, even yet, fulfil the trust placed in him by his constituents, it will at once be concluded that he has been misrepresented and maligned—that he spurned the offers and inducements to political treason held out by an abandoned Government. But if he should go on as he has begun—if he should be the sole means of supporting this Government until its corrupt purpose with reference to the Dominion elections shall have been accomplished,—then he will justify everything that has been said or published concerning him, and much more that has not yet been said or published.

At the present moment, we have in office the Farquharson Administration by the grace of Mr. Pineau,—who was elected to oppose it! Shades of Coles, Whelan and Warburton, is this Responsible Government? is this government by the people?

Mr. Pineau has still time in which to do his duty; and we may again remark that he cannot be justified in not doing it by reason of anything that THE EXAMINER, or any other newspaper, has published concerning him.

P. E. ISLAND RAILWAY.

It is pleasing to note that the loss on the P. E. Island Railway, last year, was less than usual,—only $53,000. This is without doubt, due to the increased management on the part of the superintendent, Mr. Sharp, as well as to the increased traffic. It is to be hoped that the railway authorities will, in future, provide the better accommodation required by the people at the westward, whose needs in respect to the railway Father Burke is ably representing today. Nothing is lost in these days by giving good and sufficient accommodation to the people.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—Just seven months since the Boer forces invaded British territory.

—Responsible Government, according to Farquharson, consists in trickery, brute force, and corruption to maintain a majority of one.

—The latest from the Philippines is that Aguinaldo has turned up again and that 250 natives have been killed by the United States troops.

—One thing is certain: after the people have a chance at those who make up the Farquharson combination, they will never again come back to office and power.

—An unnecessary Party Law Clerk and unnecessary constables, in the Legislature, make additional expenses,—but all come out of the pockets of the taxpayers!

—The St. John Sun remarks that "the Farquharson government, which appears to be an object of contempt among the people of Prince Edward Island, and which reciprocates the public want of confidence, is rather too wretched an affair to be seriously criticised."

—The New York Legislature has passed a law forbidding women to wear song birds in their hats. They may, however, use crows, sparrows, hawks, and other such. It is a law that everybody will approve of in theory, and that will generally be disregarded in practice.

—Mr. McWilliams made a "bad break" in the House yesterday afternoon. Speaking of the disgraceful scene which attended the forcible removal of Mr. Wise on the preceding day, he so far forgot himself as to make the statement that Mr. Wise was "stuffed with liquor by some of the Conservatives" when he came into the House. Mr. Campbell promptly and indignantly repudiated the charge, and asked that the words be taken down and an apology made. Mr. McWilliams then said that he had been informed that such was the case; but he did not mean that the "stuffing" was done by the Conservatives in the House. Mr. Wise, who was in the House and heard the charge made, paid his respects to Mr. McWilliams after 6 o'clock, and denying the allegation demanded an apology. Mr. McWilliams "coolly" informed Mr. Wise that he had made the statement upon hearsay evidence. Mr. Wise very properly informed him that he had no right to make such a damaging statement upon hearsay, especially as he was in the House at the time and had an opportunity of judging for himself. The two argued over the matter for some time, and it is understood that Mr. McWilliams withdrew the remark. But Mr. Wise said he wanted an apology made through the press.

ARBOR DAY.

Exercises in Prince Street School.

Arbor exercises as observed at Prince Street School today were very interesting. Owing to there not being any assembly hall in the school building, the exercises were conducted in the several class rooms. Promptly at 10 o'clock the classes of the advanced departments were massed in the principal's room, where a thoroughly enjoyable programme was rendered, consisting of songs, recitations, readings and choruses. A very interesting feature was a chorus on "Birds," given by John McSwain, Esq.

The exercises were a combination of Arbor, Bird and Authors Day. The author under consideration was that great poet of nature, Wordsworth. At eleven o'clock the several classes in excellent order marched to the grounds where each planted a shrub. These consisted of roses, hydrangeas, spiraea, etc. At the termination of the class planting the entire school assembled at the north-east corner of the school grounds, where, in touching terms, the Principal alluded to the sad fact that during the year Mrs. Shaw, wife of Dr. Shaw, a former efficient and much-loved teacher, died, and that now the school would unitedly plant a memorial tree, whereupon a representative from each department united in planting a Silver-Leafed Maple. This done the several classes marched to their respective rooms and were dismissed.

At ten o'clock the pupils of West Kent assembled in the hall, where a programme was gone through. Addresses were made by Principal Miller and Revs J. K. Fraser and Leo Williams. Planting began at eleven, and twelve trees were put down. A row of nine was made at the eastern end of the school, the first two of which were planted in memory of Roland Taylor and Alfred Riggs, former pupils of the school. Both trees are maples.

The ceremonies at Queen Square were very interesting and a number of trees were planted.
