The present indemnities are $4,000 per session. The proposal of Miss MacPhail would reduce them to $3,500.

STEALING FROM RICH TO FEED THE POOR.

PARIS, June 17.—A despatch from Budapest reports that the police there have arrested a youthful female Robin Hood, the young woman when first taken into custody was thought to be a simple dishonest servant. As complaints began to flood the police, an investigation was begun to learn the real identity of the girl. It transpired that she is the daugher of a rich and honorable family, and is known among the poor of the city as the "Angel of Faubourg."

The young woman then confessed that under a false name she had been taking positions as servant in wealthy households in order to rob employers, and in this manner secure money to feed the poor. She was forced to this action, she declared, because her soul revolted at the misery on all sides.

Officials have placed her in an asylum for examinaation.

RENTS IN CHICAGO TAKING TUMBLE.

CHICAGO, June 17.—An investigation conducted by F. W. Armstrong, General Manager of the Citizens' Committee to Enforce the Landis Award, shows that rents in Chicago have dropped $5 to $15 per month during the last year. The drop, he said, was due to the tremendous number of new buildings erected during the construction boom which followed the settlement of the wage controversy.

The drop in prices has been chiefly in the higher class apartments. Some flats which rented for $100 per month a year ago now go begging at $85, and in some cases agents have indicated their willingness to accept a $75 rental.

Holidays---And God Subject of Discussion By Rev. Mr. Mulligan

At the morning service at St. James Church yesterday Rev. Mr. Mulligan, preaching on the subject of "Hilidays and God" from the text Mark 6: 31: "Come ye yourselves and rest awhile," made a strong appeal for a saner and more serious realization of what a real holidy means.

Modern life has placed great pressure upon the necessity of holidays, which are in reality a reaction to the workaday affairs of existance. It is however, nothing new, this idea of holidaying. The poet Horace pictures the Roman citizens over two thousand years ago going out to Baie, and the health resort of Weistbandent, Germany, was probably in existence at this time when the Romans frequented the place for that purpose.

The speaker went on to show that one of the outstanding features of modern life was the development of holiday resotrs. Many of these were reputable and some were none too reputable, but nevertheless very much frequented, even by many staid supporters of the church, who in the ordinary affairs of life would scorn to indulge their immoderate passions to the extent to which these resorts gave only too much opportunity. We in the Maritime Provinces have been fortunate in the fact that visitors are rather of the better sort, and do not owe anything to this type of holiday-maker.

But nevertheless there are many dangers incident to the spirit of holiday-making and health-resorting. The dangers besetting the holiday maker are many. First, there is the freedom from restraint, and the satisfaction in the thought that nobody "sees him." The shackles of home and business routine are broken, he emerges a free individual, crazy after fresh fields to conquer. Public opinion, and even religious influence, have no hold over him. He is tasting the delights of unshackled freedom and will not be denied.

But, the holiday enjoyed, the bitter fruits of the debauch become apparent. The joy rider returns to prosaic life, with a positive distaste for his work, with warped moral values, with his religious convictions weakened.

Holidaying in this manner, the speaker pointed out, leads inevitably to a satiety of all natural amusement. What holidays should be are very different. They shuold mean not only a renewal of the physical life of man but also of the whole individual—they should build him up all around. The speaker alluded to the recreational and instructional courses developed in England among the laity of the English Roman Catholics, in which workmen and business men are encouraged to draw apart from the activities of life under the shadow of almost monastic discipline, which not only refreshes the body but gives them a new outlook on life. This, indeed, is the ideal use of a holiday—to strengthen body, mind and spirit.

Holiday makers should also endeavor to make their contributions to the welfare of the people among whom they dwell. We are not merely to take all we can get out of life; we are to render something in return. Perhaps this may only be a new view of life—a suggestion or an observation, but at all events it should be something concrete—something substantial—some real good; something that will help them along in the problem of living. "As we have received, so let us freely give," should be the motto of the holiday maker.

PENSIONS REGULATIONS

OTTAWA, June 18.— Approximately 30 per cent. of the ex-soldiers now in receipt of pensions are adversely affected, while many others deserving of pensions are made ineligible, by regulations recently promulgated by the Board of Pension Commissioners for Canada, according to a statement submitted by C. G. MacNeil, Dominion secretary of the G W. V. A. and secretary of the Dominion Veterans' Alliance, to Herbert Marler, M. P., chairman of the special parliamentary committee on pensions, insurance and re- establishment. Mr. MacNeil asked that the committee do not lend its sanction to the new regulations, which he describes as a distinct breach of contract with Canadian veterans.

The new pension regulations have to do with pre-enlistment disabilities aggravated by service, and the subseuent recurrences of a disabling condition in which aggravation by active war service has been caused.

Corpus Christi Celebrated At St. Dunstan's Cathedral

Large Procession Yesterday Proceeded from St. Dunstan's Cathedral to Notre Dame Convent to Receive the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament

The Corpus Christi processioned of the clergy and congregation of St. Dunstan's Cathedral yesterday was, according to many who watched the parade, the most splendid of its kind seen in Charlottetown. Probably over one thousand people took part in the monster procession which left St. Dunstan's Cathedral after Pontifica High Mass at about 11.25 a .m and proceeded along Richmond and Weymouth Streets to Notre Dame Convent where the Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament was given on an altar erected on the steps of the Convent, the congregation being collected on the opposite square.

To a casual spectator perhaps the most beautiful features of the parade were the procession of young girls, robed in white, from St. Joseph's Convent and Notre Dame Academy and the children representing angels kneeling before the altar. The scarlet robes of the altar boys contrasted pleasingly with the other colors in the procession and the whole formed a very beautiful picture.

The procession was headed by Rev. F. Mullalley as cross bearer with acolytes. Following him came the school girls of St. Joseph's and Notre Dame Convent's after which came the women of the St. Dunstan's Auxiliary Society, the Sacred Heart Society, the St. Joseph's Sodality, Children of Mary, Assumption Society, Knights of Columbus, Benevolent Irish Society, League of the Cross band, the choir, little girls and Boys with flowers, choir boys, altar boys, clergy with cadets for guard of honor, escorting His Lordship Bishop O'Leary carrying the Most Blessed Sacrament; men of the congregation and women of the congregation.

Arriving at the Convent, His Lordship Bishop O'Leary officiated at the Benedition of the Most Blessed Sacrament, the large choir under the direction of Choir Master W. J. Brown rendering special music for the occasion. This feature of the celebration was very highly appreciated by the large audience which had assembled not only in the park fronting the Convent but along Sydney Hillsboro and Weymouth Streets from whence the strains of the magnificent anthems could be distinctly heard. The choir was accompanied by the League of the Cross Band in a very acceptable manner.

The procession to and from the Cathedral was handled very capably by Marshal Edward Ready, who was ably assisted by the different marshals for the various societies taking part.

Arriving at the Cathedral, the procession halted, His Lordship Bishop O'Leary bearing the Most Blessed Sacrament, passed through the kneeling throng into the sanctuary, where the Blessed Sacrament was placed upon the altar. The singing of Litanies by the choir brought to a conclusion this impressive service.

At Pontifical High Mass at the Cathedral, His Lordship Bishop O'Leary was the celebrant, Rev. P. E. Hughes being High Priest. The Deacons of Honor were Revs. O. Kiggins, and J. Murphy; Deacons of Office, Rev. N. Poirier and F. Mullalley; Master of Ceremonies, Rev. Jas. Rooney; Director of the parade, Rev. Maurice MacDonald. The sermon was preached by Rev. Jas. Rooney. Seated in the sanctuary were Rev. Father Gregory McDonald, St. George's; Rev. Dr. John McMillan, chaplin of the Charlottetown Hospital; Rev. John O'Brien, Seattle, Washington; Rev. R. St. John and Rev. John Butler of the Cathedral staff.

Cadet Church Parade

The Cadets from West Kent Street School paraded to St. Paul's Church yesterday morning for divine service. The Corps was commanded by Captain Lorne Wedlock and presented a fine appearance, as they moved along in splendid step to the accompaimet of their drums.

The other officers are, Lieutenants Alex. Stewart, Vernon Currie, Gordon Toombs, Earl James and Captain Gordon White, Quartermaster, Cadet Wm. Cwen carried the Union Jack at the head of the parade, supported on his right and left by Cadets Ivan Williams and Walter MacNutt the three smallest boys on parade.

A large congregation was present at the service, amongst those present were His Honor the Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. MacKinnon.

The Rector Rev. H. D. Raymond, M. A. preached an impressive. and appropriate sermon, in which he spoke highly of the benefits obtained from Military Training. He chose as his text the 39th and 40 verses of the 20th. Chapter of the 1st. Book of Kings, and pointed out four lessons which can be learned in Military life. —Attention —Obedience— Co-operation and Service. These lessons which can be learned so well in Military Life if carried into School and business life will prove a bessing to the Nation.

At the close of the service the Corps was formed up in close column of platoons facing north on Church Street, and moved off in column of route along Grafton, Prince and Kent Streets to the School parade ground, where they were dismissed after a most successful parade.

The inspection of the two City School Cadet Corps will take place next Tuesday at Victoria Park, at 4 o'clock, and it is hoped that a large number of our citizens will be present to show their interest in Cadet work, which is perhaps today the most important branch of our National Defence System.

MASSACRE IS DENIED

LONDON, June 18.— It is stated officially today that there is no authority for the news contained in a semi-official despach from Athens last night reporting the massacre by Turks of twelve British soldiers in the neighborhood of the Dardanelles. The report, it is explained, apparently referred to an incident which took place a fortnight ago, when three British casualties occurred in an encounter with a band of brigands. 150 strong, south of Chanak-Kalessi, Asia Minor.

Official news records that the trouble created by the brigand attack was overcome and that there have been no other disturbances in the Chanak area.

TEACHERS ASSIST BRANDON STRIKERS

TORONTO, June 18.— Though public schol pupils, their parents, and even some trustees in Eastern Canada may see a deal of humor in the situation existing in Brandon, Man.—where the entire teaching staff of the city's educational system is out of employment, displaced by low-salaried substitutes— teachers in this part of the Dominion are vitally concerned, says the Toronto Globe in a news column feature. To them the span of a half-continent matters nothing. A principle is at stake, and the element of distance does not lessen the gravity of conditions.

Already the teachers of this city, of the province of Ontario, and doubtless of the eastern provinces, are giving of their substance to aid the teachers of Brandon. During the past few days hundreds of men and women on the staffs of Toronto schools have contributed their quota of cash— some of them one dollar each; others, the higher salaried, in larger sums. The money secured from these voluntary contributions goes to the assistance of the 85 Brandon teachers.

"We are not giving this as a strike pay," said a prominent pedagogue to the Globe last night. "We are giving it, gladly, because these men and women in Brandon are without means of subsistence. They ask merely a settlement by arbitration; if that means a reduction they are prepared to accept it. The least we can do is help to keep them alive."

CROWNS FALLING IN GOLF WORLD

NEW YORK, June 18—Already the young 1922 golf season looks like a heartless champion buster.

Two big champions have already been succeeded and more look all tagged and billed for the fate.

Miss Cecil Leitch, former British woman champion, regarded as the greatest woman player in the world, not only lost her title to Miss Joyce Wethered but received the worst beating that a finalist ever received in that tournament.

Next on the list was Willie Hunter, British amateur champion, who dropped his title to E. W. Holderness.

The British open championship is next on the list and it isn't wielding the hammer to figure that Jock Hutchison, the American holder of the tiltle, may be the next champion casualty.

Before sailing Joch the Hutch, warned his followers not to expect too much of him and he announced that he felt he would not be able to retain the title. Jock knows a good deal about British golf, and the conditions under which the tournaments are staged over there and he is not rash enough to bet3t of a doubtful conquest.

Many golf experts figure that Jesse Guilford, American amateur champion, will retire after one year's reign and Jim Barnes will have no easy time coming out on top of the open pile again this yetr.

Americans did not fgiure very much in the British championships this year because the golf association refused to sponsor a big invasion and very few of the American stars were in a position to go it "on their own."

Miss Alexa Sterling, in winning the Metropolitan womtn's championship, showed she is back in the form which gave her predominance over all the other American woman stars for several years.

It would be no surprise this year to see her win back both the American and the Cinadian titles.

Miss Leitch had intended to invade Canada and the United Ctates again this summer, but since she has lost her title she may cancel he engtgements. Miss Wethered, the new champion, hasn't had time to make any plans, but it is doubtful if she can make arrangements for an American trip on such short notice.

Sinn Fein Raiders Attack Ulsterites

(Special to The Guardian.)

BELFAST, June 18—Sinn Fein's raider scheme became active along the Ulster frontier during the night for the firs time since the British army rejected the invaders and seized Pettigoe. The Loyalist homes were attacked in the Bessbrook district near the Free State border and all were burned. One woman and four men were killed by the raiders and two men were wounded.

Irish Elections Devoid of Interest

(Special to The Guardian)

DUBLIN, June 18—The universal veridct tonight was that, with the exception of one instance in Dublin, Ireland never had such a tame election as that which took place today to choose members of Parliament.

In this city, raiders, headed by Rory O'Conner of the Republican army, made off with the documents and tally sheets of the National University polling precinct. Elsewhere in the city and County Dublin, the day was devoid of incident. The voting was somewhat more brisk than had been expected. A large number of women cast their ballots at the polls. The general estimate tonight was that about fifty per cent. of the votersr on the register exercised the franchise.

The publication of the constitution evoked no expression of opinion from De Valert, leader of the Republican faction. Mr. De Valera declined to speak concerning it on the ground that he had not had time to read the document. Rory O'Conner, however, was bitter on the subject; "the thing is too rotten to talk about," he exclaimed when asked his opinion on the constitution.

Mr. De Valera has abandoned his visit to Scotland. No reason has been assigned for his action.

DUBLIN, June 16—When the financial results of the elections in the national university polling were about to be declared tonight, thirteen armed men entered the polling office, held up the officials and seized all documents and the tally sheets.

Rory O'Conner, one of the leaders of the dissident faction of the Republican Army, led the raiders. The officials had taken a copy of the result, which showed that in addition to Prof. John MacNeill, Speaker of the Dail Eireann, and Prof. Michael Hayes, Dail Minister of Education, who are in favor of the treaty the anti-panel candidate, Prof. Sockley, and the protreaty Independent, Prof. McGinnis, were elected, while Dr. A. E. English anti-treaty, and Prof. Conway, pro-treaty, were defeated.

The treaty votes polled at the University aggregated 1973 and the anti-treaty 670.

BELFAST, June 18—Many cases of interference with officials are reported from the Sligo and East Mayo election area. It is stated that documents and voting papers were seized and burned in several districts, and many agents of Independent candidates kidnapped.

Replying to a protest sent to him Arthur Griffith dispatched a messages to the Independent candidates, saying that the pact which provided for free elections had been broken.

The matter would be investigated, and if such conduct was persisted in the elections would be invalidated.

In some cases threats had been sent by post to Unionst voters, urging them to remain at home today.

Canton Ports Have Been Captured

(Special to The Guardian)

HONG KONG, June 18—The principal forts of Canton capital of the South China Republic, have been captured by troops of General Chenchiung Ming according to despatches received here today. Dr. Sun Yat Sen, President of the Southern Government is reported to be a fugitive aboard a cruiser.

Narrow Escape at St. Peters Crossing

While two young gentlemen, Mr. J. A. Rose of Moncton and Mr. Ralph Dingwell of DeBlois Bros., Charlottetown were returning from Mt. Stewart Saturday night, their car was hit by a freight train at St. Peterrs crossing. The care was hurled through a fence into the ditch and badly damaged. It was a most miraculous escape for the occupants of the car. The train did not stop but came back about twenty minutes later and would not even give them a help out of the ditch. The young men claimed they did not see the train approaching and when the brakes were applied it was too late to avert the accident.

Younger Ministers Carried the Day

(Special to The Guardian)

SYDNEY, N. S., June 18—At the election here today by the Nova Scotia Methodist Conference of twenty-four delegates to represent them at the General Conference of the Methodist Church of Canada, to be held in Toronto, some of the younger ministers openly declared that the representation at the larger meeting has in the past been too much a monopoly of the older clergy. The result of the voting, for the twelve ministerial members of the delegates is said to have been a decided victory for the younger element.

With reference to the proposed union of Maritime Colleges, the conference today passed a resolution saying: "That this Nova Scotia Conference approves of the action taken by the Regents of Mount Allison, in declaring that they would sympathetically consider any plan of university federation that would tend to increase the efficiency of the educational institutions concerned, provided satisfactory financial and other arrangements could be made to carry out the scheme."

Today's resolution adds that this Conference also places on record its deep and abiding interest in al lthat pertains to the future of the great institutions that have so nobly served the church and country through he years of their long history."

Was a Former German Steamer

HAMBURG, June 18.— Many men were entrapped in the hold of the Brazilian liner Avare when she capsized today while being hauled out of drydock at the Vulkan shipyards here. Openings were being forced this afternoon in the hold in efforts to save the men while the liner lay submerged for two-thirds of her extention the bottom of the canal.

Members of the crew who were on deck jumped overboard when the ship, for some unknown reason, began to list heavily. They were saved by motor boats and the harbor fire department, which immediately began operations to liberate the entrapped men.

The funnels and masts of the Avare snapped off when she keeled over. She first listed to starboard and then to port before overturning.

The Avare, a twin screw steamer of 8,227 tons gross, is owned by the Brazilian Lloyd Company.

DECREASE SHOWN IN UNEMPLOYMENT

OTTAWA, 18.— Estimates on unemployment covering eight of the nine provinces of the Dominion, to Saturday, June 10, show what Labor Department officials consider a remarkable decrease in the number of men out of work at the Dominion, in fact, there is stated to be a demand for men for seasonal work, such as small fruit picking, which it is impossible to fill at persent.

Ontario had the greatest number of unemployed, according to informates, with 10,811. At the same time parts of the province offered work for more men than were available in those districts. The figures for the other seven provinces, Prince Edward Island being not available, were: New Brunswick, 500 unemployed; Nova Scotia, 7,800; Quebec, 9 500; Manitoba, 1,865; Alberta, 4,225; British Columbia, 7,368, and Saskatchewan, 1,772. This brings the total estimated unemployment in the eight provinces to 43,141, which is considered by the department to be a most satisfactory showing at the present time.

In regard to Nova Scotia, Alberta and British Columbia, it was pointed out also that some of the unemployment was due to strikes and labor difficulties in the coal mining sections, where it was hoped conditions would shortly improve.
