Isaiah Horne'S Famous Remedies.

MR ISAIAH HORNE.

Dear Sir,—My son strained the muscles of his arm some time ago, and suffered violent pain until treated with a rubbing of your Magic Discovery, which gave relief at once. Also my other son struck his knee against a log and it pained him so that he could not sleep. He got out of bed and rubbed his foot with the remedy and fell asleep and was all right in the morning. I think it a grand liniment.

Yours truly,
WILLIAM NEIL,

Mr. Jacob Wilcox of St. Thomas, Ontario, is one of the best known men in that vicinity. He is now, he says, an old man, but Hood's Sarsaparilla has made him feel young again.

"About a year ago I had a very severe attack of the grip, which resulted in my not having a well day for several months afterwards. I was completely run down and my system was in a Terrible Condition.

I lost flesh and became depressed in spirits. Finally a friend who had been benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla advised me to try it and I did so. I continued taking it until I used twelve bottles and today I can honestly say Hood's Sarsaparilla has restored me to my former health." JACOB WILCOX, St. Thomas, Ontario.

H. T. LEPAGE'S OLD STAND

MERRY MOMENTS

Host—Never shall I forget the time when I first drew this sword. Chorus—When was that? Host—At a raffle.—Firefly.

A—I hear that your friend X has gone to South America. Was it upon his physician's advice? B.—No; his lawyer's.—Tid-Bits.

The summer girl is great on changing her suit. She goes seaward with diamonds and returns home with hearts.—Yonkers Statesman.

Belle—Mr. Jolyer is such a nice man. He said I had a voice like a bird. Nell—Yes; he told me you sang like an owl.—Philadelphia Record.

"Isn't he rather fast?" asked the anxious mother. "Yes, mamma, in one sense of the word. I don't think he can get away.—Indianapolis Journal.

"That man causes me no end of annoyance over a bill." Why don't you sue him and collect it?" "Collect it? He's trying to do that."—Chicago Record.

How to make a new dress: Take the material for two skirts and make the sleeves, then take the material for one sleeve and make the skirt.—Nashville American.

"That woman dispenses a great deal of social lemonade." "What do you mean?" "Simply that she is always saying sour things in a sweet way."—Indianapolis Journal.

"Papa!" "What is it, Johnny?" "I read a poem in my school reader which spoke of 'dogs of high degree.'" "Well?," "Papa, does that mean skye terriers?"—Pittsburg Chronicle.

Nibbs—What a perfect poem the count's rich wife is. Dibbs—Yes: the count is the only man I know of who can make poetry pay him thirty thousand a year.—New York World.

Patient—The heat is so oppressive, doctor, I feel like committing suicide. Doctor—Oh, that would never do. As I said before, my friend, what you need is a change.—Life.

She—Oh, my! there's something gone down my back. He—It's one of those thundering bugs, I suppose. "No; I guess it's one of those lightning bugs, George."—Yonkers Statesman.

She—Do you know, Harry, father has forbidden you the house? He—Forbidden me the house! I never asked him for his house. His daughter is good enough for me.—Boston Transcript.

"Have you the 'Relics of By-Gone Days?'" asked the young lady, entering a book store. "Yes," replied the polite clerk, with a bow, "we have some of last year's calendars."—Yonkers Statesman.

Lea (sadly)—I don't know what to do with that son of mine. He's been two years at the medical college, and still keeps at the foot of his class. Perrins (promptly)—Make a chiropodist of him.—Puck.

Police Justice—What's the charge against this man? Policeman—Impersonating an officer. "What did he do?" "He walked up to a street vendor's stand and took a handful of peanuts."—Chicago Record.

Teacher—Well, Tommy, you were not present yesterday. Were you detained at home in consequence of the inclemency of the weather? Tommy—No, ma'am; I couldn't come 'cause of the rain.—Tid-Bits.

Charles—What makes you look so glum, Harry? Harry—Maud Sweetser has thrown me over, Charles—Oh, I wouldn't mind that; a woman never hits where she means to when she throws.

Patient—How can I reduce my weight? Doctor—You should have something to do. Something to keep your mind busy, to worry you even, Patient—By the way, you might send your last month's bill in.—Philadelphia Record.

Mrs. Fogg—Then there was a man who recited a poem or something. I couldn't for the life of me make out what, but he was tremendously applauded. Mr. Fogg—Evidently one of our most talented elocutionists.—Boston Transcript.

"Yes," said the girl who was chewing gum, "it is simply awful the way the poor people do suffer this frightful weather. How I pity them! And the worst of it is, of course, that one's hair simply won't stay in curl,,—New York Recorder.

"And you say Dodkins is married?" "Yes." "Why, I thought he hadn't a cent of money." "He hadn't. But he's all right now. The young lady has any quantity of cash. All he will have to do now is to clip the coupons off the bonds of matrimony."—Washington Star.

Little Girl—Did the newspaper reporters notice your papa was at the great banquet last night? Little Boy—Yes. Little Girl—Mamma said she couldn't find your papa's name in the list. Little Boy—No, but the list ends up with 'and others.' That means papa. They always mention him that way.—New York Weekly.

"And the new man—" began Jones. "What of him?" snapped Mrs. Jones. "Well, I'm afraid the feminine traits will go to him, the conditions be reversed, and—" "Jones, what do you mean?" "Oh, that man will be embarrassed, bashful, ashamed in the presence of woman—" "Good heavens! He ought to be now!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

THE MOST remarkable cures on record have been accomplished by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is unequalled for all BLOOD DISEASES.

LITERARY NOTES.

Not since "The Anglomaniacs" has there been so clever a society satire as Henry Fuller's "Pilgrim Sons," which is published in the August Cosmopolitan. The problems involved in woman's use of the bicycle are so startling and so numerous, under the rapid evolution of this art, that one welcomes a careful discussion of this subject by so trained a mind and so clever a writer as Mrs. Reginald de Koven. The Cosmopolitan illustrates Mrs. de Koven's article with a series of poses by professional models. A new sport, more thrilling than any known to Nimrod, more dangerous than was ever experienced by even a Buffalo Bill, is exploited in the same issue in an article on "Photographing Big Game in the Rocky Mountains," before shooting. The idea that ten cents for The Cosmopolitan means inferiority from a literary point of view is dispelled by the appearance in this number of such writers as Sir Lewis Morris, Sir Edwin Arnold, Edgar Fawcett, Tabb, W. Clark Russel, Lang, Sarcey, Zangwill, Agnes Repplier, etc. Nor can we entertain the idea of inferiority in illustration with such names as Hamilton Gibson, Denman, Van Schaick, Lix, Sandham, etc., figuring as the chief artists of a single month's issue.

Medical Testimony

During half a century proves Cod Liver Oil to be the most necessary thing to take for consumption. But the trouble has been its improper methods of preparation for invalids. Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver oil is the only reliable thing on the market. None but the livers of the Norwegian Cod are used in making it. In conjunction with the hypophosphites of lime and soda it has the most wonderful effect on consumptive phtients, who, after taking it a while, get new strength, rise from their beds and enter upon a new lease of life. Miller's Emulsion is the great nerve and blood maker and cures coughs, colds, bronchitis, scrofula and all lung affections. In big bottles, 50c and $1, at all drug stores.

A BAD RECORD.—More than thirty men and women were murdered in the city of San Francisco in the twelve months ending with June this year. Several of these were decided to be cases of justifiable homicide, but in twenty-seven cases the coroner's jury returned a verdict of wilful murder. For these twenty-seven murders only four persons have so far been punished by law, and these four have escaped with terms of imprisonment. The rest of the murderers are awaiting trial, have been acquitted, have escaped, or are dead.

is Cod-liver Oil emulsified, or made easy of digestion and assimilation. To this is added the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, which aid in the digestion of the Oil and increase materially the potency of both. It is a remarkable flesh-producer. Emaciated, anæmic and consumptive persons gain flesh upon it very rapidly. The combination is a most happy one.

Physicians recognize its superior merit in all conditions of wasting. It has had the endorsement of the medical profession for 20 years.

Do not be persuaded to take a substitute!

WOMAN AS INVENTOR

SHE HAS BEEN GRANTED OVER FIVE THOUSAND PATENT PAPERS.

A See-Saw Washing Machine—A Life-Preserver Which Has Been Designed for Beauty—A Musical Skipping Rope—Artificial Dimples.

Up to the present date 5,200 patents have been registered in the United States Patent Office by women. Many of these are as curious as they are ingenious. An Ohio matron devised a combination washing machine and see saw. It consists of a hollow receiver containing a rotary clothes holder, which is revolved by the action of a see-saw. The merit of the invention is supposed to lie in the fact that a washer woman can save her own energy and at the same time afford pleasure and recreation to the children of the neighborhood by inviting them in to "teeter" the machine, inside which the linen to be washed and a proper complement of soap and water have been placed.

A fair Philadelphian, in protest against the unbecomingness of the ordinary life-preserver, has designed a shapely life-preserving corset, to be worn "by either men or women," when a boating accident is anticipated. One woman wanted a patent on a crimping pin, which could be used also as a paper-cutter, skirt supporter, letter file, child's pin, bouquet holder, shawl fastener and book-mark. Another woman took out a patent for a skipping rope, the handle of which contained a music box. As soon as the child began to skip the music started. A Pennsylvania maiden tried to convince the public that, as a rule, human bodies were not kept at the proper temperature in the interval between death and burial, and to emphasize her ideas she took out a patent for a corpse cooler.

One of the most novel patents ever issued was secured by a Boston woman on a device for restoring facial symmetry. The idea embodied in the patent was that if a gentle, continuous outward pressure was maintained on the cheeks from within the mouth the full and plump effect of the youthful face would in course of time be restored. To effect this two disks mounted on prongs were made to press on the inside of the cheeks by means of a spring attached to the teeth. The gem of the collection, however, is a request for a patent on "artificial dimples." A small spot is to be smeared on the cheek or chin with colorless shellac varnish mixed with glue and the centre of the spot is to be pressed firmly with a pencil point until the substance on the face becomes dry and hard. "The stiffened indentation thus retains the exact shape of a dimple and a little face powder dusted carefully over it will completely conceal the varnish-glue compound." The person who adopts this wily device is warned not to smile too suddenly, or the dimple may be broken although with gentle usage it will last a whole evening, if not longer." The specification concludes with an important reservation: "While the dimple process is applicable to those whose faces comprise a soft, velvety or plump surface, as then a very deceptive dimple can be produced, it is not so available for thin or bony faces, nor where the skin is very thick and unyielding.—Globe-Democrat.

Large Women and White.

One of the many grievances of the large woman has been her inability to wear white gowns without looking mountainous in consequence. She has seen her slim and shapely sisters disporting themselves in clear muslins and in creamy challies, giving the impression of delicious coolness, and she has seen them don blue gingham and serge. She has seen them charming in white duck and pique, while she has been gloomy in brown. She has sorrowed much and raged a little over her limitations, but she has seldom braved the tradition which has forbidden her to wear light colors. When she has done so she has striven religiously to make the white gown give a slender effect by having it made tight, and then after a horrified look at herself in her mirror she has usually given up in despair and returned to sombre hues.

The woman whose trouble is a superabundance of flesh need not despair. It is in her power to make herself not a sylph in fluttering white draperies, to be sure, but a goddes in statuesque ones. The secret of looking well in white despite much weight consists in making the white gown rather an arrangement of soft fold and gathers than a skin-tight covering. Anything which outlines the curves of the body with relentless distinctness is to be avoided by the stout woman, especially when the color is white. Full skirts that hang in soft folds and have enough gathers in front to keep them from drawing tightly over the abdomen should be worn, and loose waists that will not emphasize the abundant flesh of the arms and chest. Any woman who thinks a little can see how true this is. In the old days of tight sleeves the fat woman's arm was painfully in evidence. Now, in the days of full sleeves the fat woman and her slender sister are one as far as arms go. Just so the bodice which conceals beneath its voluminous fold instead of revealing by its tight-drawn lines the over-abundant curves of the wearer is the one which all stout women should wear. Fortunately the current fashions make this possible. If the large woman who wants to wear white will select for the material a creamy, thin wool, for instance, one that will fall in soft folds about her figure and have the waist made with baby fulness or a yoke, and a touch of lace and ribbon about it, she will be pleased to find that she can wear white and appear as charming as ever. Or she may select organdie, or dotted Swiss, or a faint y figured lawn. A full plain skirt which is embellished with a simple hem and has nothing, a full-fronted blouse waist with a shoulder ruffle of soft cream lace, or white of the ground of the material is white, and big, loose sleeves will almost make an ugly woman pretty.

Dear Sir,—For five years I was a sufferer from eczema. Physicians could not help me. At last I bought a box of your Ointment, which helped me wonderfully, while two boxes made a complete cure. I can recommend it to all others similarly afflicted.

Painless Dentistry!

This is addressed to all those who are suffering from TOOTHACHE, or who may require treatment of any kind at the hands of a Dentist. I make the very best Teeth, guaranteed, for $15.00 a set. If not satisfactory money refunded. Gold and Silver Fillings a specialty.

The following letter from Dr Robertson of Crapaud, as regards the Painless Extraction of Teeth, speaks or itself:—

To J E McDonald, D D S, Summerside, P E I

Dear Doctor,—I am so well pleased with the work you have done for me that I will take it as a special favor if you will give publicity to this letter. I positively assert that after an experience extending over twenty-two years, under the hands of many dentists, you are the only one who ever extracted a tooth for me Absolutely Without Pain. The TEN teeth you removed for me at one sitting did not hurt a particle, as Mr James Dawson of Tryon, who was present at the operation, heard me testify. The man who invented your method should be knighted

I am yours, gratefully,
H W ROBERTSON, M D.
