SPORTS FRONT

By NICK FILLMORE

T And F Just Beginning

WITH THE wind-up of Saturday's Interscholastic track and field championships, perhaps the best in the history of the province, the Island's 'run and heave' sport should just be getting off the ground, instead of slowly dying as it has in past years.

In recent years the conclusion of the high school track program has meant a gradual death for the sport until the following spring. You could count on the fingers of one hand the number of coaches who had the time to carry on a training program with promising athletes. And anyone who has even had to run a few yards because they were late for work in the morning knows that a person must be given a lot of encouragement to train in this age to maintain top physical condition.

This summer it is hoped that four or five track clubs can be organized throughout the Island in an effort to encourage athletes to continue their program beyond the high school level.

Track and field clubs have been suggested for Montague, Souris, Charlottetown, Summerside and RCAF, Kensington and Tignish. If centres could organize clubs, Twilight Meets could be held once a week and the best could be selected to compete under the Islanders Club for the major meets.

The Island Has Potential

THE PERFORMANCES of the younger athletes Saturday makes us realize that P.E.I. has the potential of becoming a 'hot bed' for track and field; a power in Maritime competition.

If Island athletes are to develop two facts must be realized — The older competitors and the coaches that have time must take it upon themselves to organize the community clubs and find sponsors.

Sponsors present the biggest problem, even though giving a track team a little backing would not entail half the money of a softball or hockey team.

We don't know if any of the Island's Royal Canadian Legion branches have been approached to support physical fitness or track clubs, but with the national policy the Legion has had in relation to this sport, we feel that sponsorship in the various communities might be forthcoming — provided the proposal is made by a reliable group of persons.

Geoffrey Dyson has certainly achieved much for the national image of the Legion by conducting his clinics across Canada. Island Legion branches have the same opportunity to help our youth progress.

Kensington Was Tops

KENSINGTON Regional High School, not Summerside, won the unofficial team championship at Saturday's Interscholastic meet.

We used the Olympic method of compiling team points for the meet and weren't aware of provisions in the Interscholastic handbook relating to the number of points awarded to relay teams. Our apologies to George MacKay and his fine track team.

Off The Cuff

SATURDAY'S opening race at the Charlottetown Driving Park was a surprising success this early in the season with more than 800 fans turning out to see Miss Kimble the only double dash winner. The next Charlottetown card will be Thursday night, 9:15. Summerside is scheduled to open Wednesday night with their first card . . . We weren't overly surprised when QUADRANGLE won the Belmont Stakes. We actually thought Quadrangle would take the Preakness, but felt when Northern Dancer took the first two he would probably go the distance easily in the third . . . Another big track and field event will go this weekend at Memorial Field with the Boy Scout provincial championships . . . Perhaps the biggest surprise in Saturday's Interscholastic track and field championships was the strong performance given by GEORGE MACKAY'S Kensington Regional High School. MacKay had no outstanding athletes on his squad but placed well in all classes. An old set of wooden hurdles obtained from DAVE BOSWELL has paid off for Kensington as they captured three of four hurdles events . . . The GO-KARTS had a successful opening at Covehead Saturday as Kavalla's, paced by the MacLean brothers, won the team standings. They will go again this Saturday night . . . The Guardian and Evening Patriot can not publish letters to the editor that do not include the name of the person they have been sent in by. However, the name need not appear with the letter, just as long as the paper has it for its records.

UNHAPPY ARNIE

New Rulings Are Made At NHL Annual Meet

By W. R. WHEATLEY

MONTREAL (CP)—The National Hockey League rules committee adopted a new rule Monday to take body contact out of all faceoffs, tightened the rule against spearing to provide stiffer penalties and clarified several other rules.

The committee agreed to meet again, with date unspecified, to discuss generally the enforcement of rules.

A motion by Montreal Canadiens to discontinue the current rule by which a player returns immediately from a minor penalty if a goal is scored against his team was defeated 5 to 1.

The new rule on faceoffs makes them stick - to - stick. Body contact and stick to body are not allowed. A minor penalty will be given the "aggressive player."

Rules regarding faceoffs have been changed five times within the last few years. The new rule, given unanimous approval, was suggested by NHL president Clarence Campbell and was aimed particularly at corner faceoffs, often taken by defencemen. It was suggested there should be "more skill in the faceoff."

The Montreal club had asked that the penalty for spearing be made automatically a major penalty, instead of minor or major at the discretion of the referee, as now.

Instead, the committee continued the discretionary powers but included "attempt to spear." Also, for spearing an automatic fine of $25 has been added: $50 if injury occurs to the speared player.

In such cases as threatened melees, spearing gestures will be considered an infraction.

Clarification was made to two rules regarding goalies. A minor penalty will be incurred if the goalie while out of his crease holds the puck against the side or back of the net or against the boards. Similarly, a minor penalty will follow if he drops the puck on top of the net in an effort to bring a halt in play.

A minor bench penalty heretofore has been given to a player who "physically" interferes with any official. The word physically was dropped by the committee.

Clarification was made of one phase of the penalty-shot rule, especially in instances of a delayed call of the shot. The shot will be allowed even if time of a period has run out.

The NHL rejected a proposal by the Western Hockey League for general adoption of a red-line rule the WHL has been using for some years.

Under the WHL rule, if a play starts in the end zone behind the blue line, a player at the centre ice red line can take the pass even after the puck has crossed the red line ahead of him. The player is considered to have been put onside by the pass, and he can overtake the puck.

In the NHL, play is stopped when the puck crosses two lines.

The WHL now will revert to the HL rule. One reason for this is that the WHL has entrusted to Carl Voss, NHL referee-in-chief, assignments of its referees and it was felt that playing rules should be the same in either league.

At a meeting with representatives of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, the NHL acceded to a request that the CAHA can use the red-line in its British Columbia branch. The CAHA has asked that the Saskatchewan branch be permitted to use the rule also.

The CAHA, which frowns on the pros drafting junior players —even 16-year-olds—for rights to their future services, asked consideration of its proposal for a "universal overage draft."

Both the amateur body and the NHL agreed to set up study committees. They will meet at some future date but no immediate action is expected.

The CAHA wants the rights-draft eliminated until after an amateur passes his 20th birth day. Up to that time he would be free of any commitments to a pro club.

Houston Rookie Is Going Great

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP)—In black and white and every other way, Mike White of Houston Colts must be ranked among the major surprises of the 1964 baseball season.

Drafted from the Milwaukee organization for only $2,000, the rookie outfielder is batting .367, a mark that places him second in the National League among the regulars. He was inserted in the starting lineup three weeks ago and with 36 hits in 98 tries he needs only two more times at bat to qualify for the circuit's top 10 batsmen.

In last week's games, the 25-year-old, who hit .324 for San Antonio of the Texas League last season, had 10 hits in 22 attempts for a .455 mark.

Mike is a son of Jo Jo White, former Detroit and Philadelphia Athletics outfielder and currently a Milwaukee coach.

Billy Williams of Chicago Cubs, the league's leading hitter, batted .348 with eight hits in 23 at bats last week. The performance resulted in a six point drop to .406.

MAYS STILL LEADS

Willie Mays of San Francisco Giants moved up two notches to second although he lost seven points to .357. The slugging outfielder had six hits in 20 trips. Mays continues to lead in home runs with 18 and runs batted in, 44.

The figures include Sunday's games.

In the American League, Tony Oliva, Minnesota's rookie outfielder, held onto first place despite a three-point drop to .380. He had nine hits in 25 times at bat last week.

Chuck Hinton of Washington is the runner-up at .340 followed by Jim Fregosi, Los Angeles Angels, .336. Hinton fell 10 points with a six-for-23 showing while Fregosi slumped seven points with two-for-eight.

Harmon Killebrew of Minnesota is the home run leader with 15. Boston's Dick Stuart collected eight runs batted in and tied Cleveland's Leon Wagner for the top position. Each has 43.

TO GET TREATMENT

Cincinnati Reds manager, Fred Hutchison, left, flew to Seattle for treatment and consultation with his brother, Dr. William Hutchison, Reds owner Bill DeWitt, centre announced Sunday. Coach Dick Sisler will be in charge of the club in the absence of Mr. Hutchison. The Reds manager underwent intence treatment for cancer in Seattle last winter and this spring.

Ball Uniforms Are Required

The officials of the Charlottetown Senior Baseball League have put out a call for uniforms to be returned if the circuit hopes to get off the ground next week.

"As it stands now it is doubtful if we can uniform one team, let alone four," said City recreation director Jim Fox last night. "If the boys want this program to begin they should turn in the uniforms they had last year."

It is expected that both the City baseball and softball leagues will begin within 10 days, the baseballers getting the call next Monday night.

Ball teams one and two practice tonight at Memorial Field and teams three and four practice tomorrow evening at 6 and 7 p.m.

If players in the area have not registered for the baseball league they can contact Jim Fox, City Hall.

Ball Action At Montague

A five team softball league has been formed at Montague and the loop will be known as the Southern Kings softball loop and will include teams from Montague, Murray River and Murray Harbor. Two teams from Montague will be known as the Colts, and the Montague Y's Men.

A Murray River team, and Murray Harbor Seniors and Murray Harbor Juniors.

The first games will take place on Wednesday evening with the Y's men playing the Murray Harbor Juniors at Murray Harbor at 6.30 p.m. and the Murray Harbor Seniors playing the Colts at Montague at the same time.

S'side Billeting Problem Remains In The Forefront

SUMMERSIDE — Billeting of approximately 300 athletes for the eastern age class track and field meet for July 24 and 25 in Summerside still continues to be a problem.

As in the previous meeting, billeting was the main problem but as the third eastern age class meeting is rapidly approaching, the situation is considered serious.

Creeiman MacArthur who was in charge of accommodations, has resigned due to business pressures, thus creating a sudden, unfilled gap.

"This is a big problem indeed, and I mean a big problem", said James Hogan, chairman of the organizing committee.

What are the answers? One of the two better possibilities would be house them at the barracks at the RCAF Station in Summerside. But that poses a question too. This summer, air cadets will be at Summerside air force base thus requiring barracks for them.

The other answer may lie in the forming of a three team committee, comprised of local Summerside women to try and straighten out the situation.

The track field itself, located at Prince County Vocational High School, although rapidly shaping into form, remains to be completed. Cinders which are to be used as part of the track surface are in the process of being lain. The interior of the track is to be re-seeded. Everything will be completed in time for the track meet on July 4.

A problem that may prove troublesome could be policing of the track area. "Control is an important thing", said Dave Boswell, meet director.

The reason is obvious. Too many people with in the competing area will hamper track proceedings.

Mr. Boswell suggested that local people used for supervisors headed by team marshalls in order to run an efficient track meet. Four RCAF police have been approached by Don Matheson, facilities manager. No definite answer has been received as yet.

Mr. Matheson suggested that a designated area outside the track itself be allotted to the multitude of Atiletes. So they will be given the necessary rest and be prepared for their respective events, when not competing.

Movers Defeat Enmans Drug

SUMMERSIDE—Marty Martins sixth inning three-run homer broke up a 6-6 tie and enabled Coastal Movers to continue on to defeat Enmans Pharmacy 13-8. The Prince County league tilt was played at Queen Elizabeth ball diamond last night.

George Kinch pitched all the way for the Movers but had trouble with "Coke" Grady. Grady belted a three run homer, two singles and a double, batting in five runs. Kinch struck out six batters.

Ed Smith displayed unusually wild control by walking 15 hitters but hurled the entire route for Enmans.

Poirier, Harris and Kinch got two hits apiece for the Movers. Gallant, and MacDonald picked up two hits apiece for Enmans Pharmacy.

LINSCORE

Enmans 8 runs 10 hits 3 error
Coastal Movers 13 runs 8 hits 0 errors.

NHL Clubs Making Trades

MONTREAL (CP) — Boston Bruins and Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League announced a trade Monday night whereby defenceman Doug Mohns of Boston goes to Chicago in exchange for leftwingers Ab McDonald and Reg Fleming.

The deal was announced on the first day of the annual meeting of the NHL.

Mohns is 36 and McDonald and Fleming both are 28.

Detroit Red Wings announced they have traded defenceman Barclay Plager, 23, to Montreal Canadiens for the $20,000 wavier price.

Plager scored 14 goals and a league - high 61 assists with Omaha of the Central Pro League last season. Originally Montreal property, he was drafted on waivers two years ago by the Red Wings.

Detroit loaned him to Canadiens last fall, along with two other young defencemen, Boo Wall and Keith Walsh.

The Boston-Chicago deal was a straight trade with no cash involved.

Mohns had been with the Bruins since the 1953-54 season and formerly played junior hockey in Barrie, Ont.

Both McDonald and Fleming were former properties of Montreal Canadiens. Fleming and McDonald went to the Hawks in 1960. Fleming has been used primarily by the Hawks as a penalty-killer.

Mohns' NHL record for 710 regular season games is 118 goals and 229 assists.

McDonald, in 402 NHL games, has scored 95 goals and 143 assists. Fleming, in 264 games, has 21 goals and 26 assists.
