After a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents the happy couple proceeded to their future home in Bedouque.

—A NARROW ESCAPE. A runaway horse attached to a driving sleigh attracted some attention on the street here on Wednesday. The driver and a little girl, occupants of the sleigh, kept their position, both breathing straps were unfastened and as the horse was a spirited one, the driver could do nothing but steer the horse until they struck a stretch of bare ground at the west end of the town, this allowed the driver to check the speed and bring the animal to a halt, there were no injuries.

—ARTIFICIAL REARING OF YOUNG OYSTERS

Discovery of American Biologist May Revolutionize Oyster Industry

A discovery of great importance to the oyster industry is reported by the New York State Conservation Commission. Mr. W. F. Wells, biologist, has succeeded in the artificial propagation of young oysters. The eggs are obtained from the oysters and fertilized in much the same way as is done with the spawn of fish in hatcheries, and the young oysters, which are free-swimming during the earliest stages of their life history, are reared in tanks until they "set," that is, attach themselves to shells and other objects. As the great difficulty of oyster farming during recent years has been to secure a good set of oysters by natural means, the importance of Mr. Wells' discovery may be readily appreciated.

Young oysters, before "setting," are very minute, and it has hitherto been found impossible to change the water in the rearing tanks without losing them. This has now been overcome by a centrifugal machine which concentrates millions of the tiny creatures from a large volume of water into a small bowl. They can then be transferred to a tank in which the water has been renewed. Though very delicate animals, their shells enable them to undergo this process without harm. About one month after hatching, the young oysters attach themselves and their free-swimming existence is over.

These experiments are important from a scientific, as well as from a commercial viewpoint, as they provide material for the study of the life history of shellfish, which has in the past been very incomplete.

—AUBURN SCHOOL EXAMINATION

The half-yearly examination of the pupils of Auburn school took place on Thursday evening, Dec. 23rd. An unusually large number of preparators was present, as well as many visitors from adjacent districts. The school was very tastefully decorated for the occasion, a heavily laden Christmas Tree being the outstanding feature of one corner.

The examination of the different classes was conducted by the teacher, Miss Ruth Paquet, assisted by Mr. W. O. Trainor, Mr. Joseph Griffin, and Miss Margaret Hargarty. The examination in the different subjects was searching and thorough, and the pupils acquitted themselves very creditably giving evidence of careful training.

A splendid literary and musical entertainment was given by the pupils to the evident enjoyment of the audience. The accompaniments to the vocal selections were played by the teacher with her usual skill and grace.

And the merry jingling of sleigh bells Santa Claus made his appearance—not by the chimney as some expected but by the main entrance. His gifts were beautiful—every pupil receiving some remembrance. Special prizes generously donated by the teacher were also distributed to deserving pupils for participation in punctuality, deportment, and application to study.

Brief addresses were given by some of the gentlemen congratulating both teacher and pupils upon the success of the evening's entertainment at the same time extending cordial greetings and good wishes for another year.

THIS DOCTOR SET BROKEN BONES BY WIRELESS

Because the sea was too rough for Dr. Patrick S. Burns, of Providence, R. I., surgeon on the liner Winifredian to go on board the Belgian steamship Menapier, he sent directions by wireless how to set the broken bones of several seamen. The Winifredian lay alongside the Menapier for four days. Then the injured sailors were reported to be out of danger.

THE MARKETS

The stock of cold storage eggs in Montreal today showed a decrease of 28,570 cases, as compared with the first of last month. There was no change in the condition of the market of Canadian stock, prices being firmly maintained, with a good demand, and an active trade was done in a jobbing way.

We quote wholesale jobbing prices as follows:
New laid eggs $1.05 to $1.10
Fall fresh eggs 0.00 to 80c
Selected C.S. eggs 0.00 to 75c
No. 1 C.S. eggs 0.00 to 70c
No. 2 C.S. eggs 55c to 50c
Owing to the unfavorable weather prevailing for the season of the year and the fact that buyers in most cases had ample supplies of dressed poultry on hand to meet their immediate requirements, the trade was quieter today than it has been for some little time past, but as the offerings were not excessive, a steady feeling prevailed in the market and prices show no important change, but the prospects are that there will be a good demand for chickens later in the month.

We quote wholesale jobbing prices as follows:
Turkeys, choice 53c to 54c
Good turkeys 51c to 52c
Geese 32c to 34c
Chickens 33c to 38c
Ducks 35c to 42c
Fowls 26c to 32c
There was no improvement in the demand for potatoes and the market was quiet with car lots of Green Mountains and Quebec stock quoted at $1.55 to $1.60 per bag of 70 lbs., ex-track, while in a whole sale jobbing way business was done at $1.75 to $1.80 per bag of 80 lbs. ex-store.

Chicago, Jan. 3—Eggs higher. Receipts 128 cases. At mark cases included 51c to 57c.
New York, Jan. 3—Eggs unsettled. Receipts 11,562 cases. Fresh gathered extra firsts 67c to 68c; firsts 65c; State, Pennsylvania and nearby western henney whites, firsts to extras 75c to 78c; State, Pennsylvania and nearby henney browns, extras,
