Who Is Running For Nomination? Questions Fly As Election Nears

By A. C. HOLMAN
Who will be running for the nomination in Prince? In Queen's? In King's? When will the nominating conventions be? These are questions which are mainly unanswerable today, though there are some strong indications that might answer part of the questions.
It looks like the Queen's County Progressive Conservative nominating convention will be held in Charlottetown Sept. 20 and it is probable that it will nominate Angus MacLean and Heath MacQuarrie, the two members for Queen's in the last house.
If the water looks reasonably clear as far as the Queen's PC's are concerned, it is somewhat muddier when a look is taken at the Queen's Liberals. No date has been set for their nominating convention, but this will likely be known following a meeting of the executive Friday evening.
As for who will be offering their names for the Liberal nomination, there are a number of possibilities. A person high in the Liberal hierarchy has said that Dr. Frank MacKinnon, principal of Prince of Wales College, will definitely be in. Dr. MacKinnon is in Montreal and was not available for comment last evening.
LEWIS COMMENTS
Ira Lewis of York, who contested the last two federal elections for the Liberals, is another of the names that is mentioned frequently. When asked last evening if he would be offering his name Mr. Lewis replied, "I have not decided on that."
He said he thought it might be better if the Liberals got someone new, but he indicated his mind wasn't made up.
Mr. Lewis pointed out the island is an agricultural province and it had no agricultural representative last time. Mr. Lewis can still be considered very much a Liberal who might be offering at the convention.
MORE MORE MORE
Mark R. MacGulgan Jr., formerly of Charlottetown and now a professor of law at the University of Toronto, can also be considered a likely contender for the Queen's Liberal nominating convention.
It is understood Mr. MacGulgan has a speaking engagement in New Brunswick late this week and will be on the island this weekend. More on the possibility of his name being put forward for the Queen's Liberal nomination will be reported in the KING'S COUNTY section.

The King's County Progressive Conservatives are having an executive meeting today and it is presumed an announcement of their nominating convention date will be made following this meeting.
The names being bandied about with regards to those offering for the King's PC nomination include Mrs. Margaret MacDonald, Cardigan, herself a former MP and widow of the late John A. MacDonald who died while sitting in Parliament.
Former provincial treasurer Melvin J. McQuaid, Souris, is another name often heard as is the name of Hon. Leo F. Rossiter, provincial minister of fisheries from Morell. A Montague lawyer, William Reddin, is thought to be another.
In the western end of the island things in Prince County are quite uncertain at present. A meeting of the Liberal executive is scheduled for Friday night and the time of the nominating convention will be announced following it.
CAMPBELL NOT RUNNING
Minister of mines from Summerside, is expected to be unopposed. Alexander Campbell, MLA, who was defeated by Mr. MacNaught by a very slim majority at the last Prince County Liberal nominating convention, won't be running.

REMAIN POSSIBILITIES
No word of the intentions of Hon. Henry Wedge, minister of health, has been heard but he is considered a possible nominee for the Conservatives in Prince to oppose Mr. MacNaught.
Some of the other names mentioned for the Prince County Progressive Conservative nomination are Claude Ives, Roy Boates, Arnold MacLellan and Lloyd Lawless, all of Summerside. A resident of Kinkora and a lawyer in Summerside Bernie McCabe is another possibility.
It is not known when the Prince County PC's will hold their convention.
Prime Minister Pearson's announcement Tuesday evening may bring Premier Walter R. Shaw home from a European vacation 10 days or two weeks earlier than he planned so he can assist in the political battles that will be waged.
Premier and Mrs. Shaw have been vacationing in the United Kingdom since early August and planned to be away until mid-October. Before leaving Premier Shaw requested he be kept informed of election developments and he was cabled the news of the election yesterday by his executive assistant Stanley Warwick.

High School Paving Done

GEORGETOWN — In July the board of trustees of Georgetown High School under the chairmanship of Temple MacDonald decided to pave the walks and a parking area at the school.
Sometime ago the contractor laid four foot wide asphalt walks from the main east entrance along the front of the building to the porch and doors.
These walks were all laid by hand labor. Work is now underway preparing the ground for the paving of the parking lot.

Variety Program Gets Small Crowd

SUMMERSIDE — A variety show at Civic Stadium here last night featuring such headliners as Little Beaver, The Beach Boys, singer Billy Taylor and many more attracted only a small crowd.
The program, sponsored by the Summerside Junior Chamber of Commerce, lasted more than two hours and was capped by a dance featuring the music of the Beach Boys.

didn't go "the way I planned it."
Self-styled a "tricky" boxer with a good left hand, Peppin began to pound his way toward the top.
Verdicts over well-regarded Ray Tremblay in Chicago and Jack Tebo in Saskatoon in 1931 set in motion negotiations for a match with Gorilla Jones, then recognized as world middle-weight champion by the National Boxing Association.
Fate intervened. Driving back to Winnipeg from Saskatoon the Peppins lost control of their car and smashed into a culvert seven miles east of Portage La Prairie, Man.

BIG CHANCE LOST
Allan broke a collarbone and some ribs. Laurie spent three months in hospital with dislocated vertebrae and twisted ribs.
It was nine months before Peppin could climb into a ring and his chances for a fight with Jones were gone.
"That was my downfall."
The trail then led to Winnipeg, Detroit, Minneapolis, Grand Forks, N.D., Buffalo, Chicago, St. Paul and Denver but within four years Laurie was thinking: "They are getting to me little too good."
Pondering retirement Peppin, then 26, took up diamond drilling and drifted to such mining centres as Red Lake, Ont., Val D'Or, Rouyn and Noranda, Que.
His reflexes sluggish and the $10,000 he had earned in the ring gone, Peppin threw in the towel in February, 1938. He called on all nations to back international peacekeeping arrangements wherever they are attempted.

REMOVE FORCES
"The international community has a duty to stop men from killing each other, through international peacekeeping arrangements," said the prime minister. "It also has a duty to remove the sources of conflict so that peacekeeping can lead to peace."
The Soviet Union and its east European allies lost no time in making it clear that, as far as they are concerned, the prime source of conflict in Viet Nam stems from U.S. policy.
Y. V. Peive, leader of the Soviet delegation, accused the U.S. of "barbarian means of mass extermination" in Viet Nam.
The only answer is a cessation of U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam and a withdrawal of all U.S. military personnel and equipment from the south.
Almost identical statements came from delegates representing Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Rumania and Hungary. The United Arab Republic joined in the condemnation of the U.S., although in milder terms than the Communist Bloc.

W. Prince Board Of Trade Discusses Road, Dam Sites

ALBERTON — The West Prince Board of Trade, at its first meeting following a summer recess, last night decided to once again forward a resolution to the government urging the extension of the all weather highway from Miscouche to Tignish.
It was agreed by the meeting that curtailment of railway services made it essential to have year round road transportation in western Prince County.
A resolution is also to be forwarded requesting the restoration under ARDA of three dam sites in the area.
The establishment of a national park in western Prince was discussed and the chairman of the park committee, Rev. David MacDonald informed the meeting that that some action will be taken as soon as possible.

The secretary, C. R. Leard, told the meeting that he planned to attend a Maritime Provinces Board of Trade clinic this weekend in Moncton and also a directors meeting of the Maritime board.
The president, F. J. Peters, reminded the members that a nominating committee will be appointed at the next meeting to bring in a slate of officers at the annual meeting in November.

Laure Peppin Recalls Career

By WALTER KREVENCHUK
WINNIPEG (CP) — The man with the furrowed face limped into the curtained living-room dimness of the old rooming house and sat down to recall 15 years in a square ring.
"But Laure Peppin discovered that after 27 years—most of the details of 213 fights had faded beyond the range of memory."
"I wish I had the scrapbook," he said.
The book, tucked away in a sister-in-law's trunk somewhere in Vancouver, tells a boxer's story of which Laurie remembers only fragments.
It started with a young Winnipeg boy who was handy with his fists.
"I used to beat all the big kids at school. But I got expelled twice for fighting."
A few years later—in 1925—he became the youngest person to win a Manitoba amateur boxing championship. He was 15 when he grabbed flyweight laurels by pouncing out a decision over Pete Whittall.
Loser Whittall became known to many Canadians 25 years later as "Mr. Fixit" on the CBC television network.
WON AMATEUR TITLES
Peppin followed a path taken earlier by brothers Maurice and Allan. He won the Canadian amateur lightweight championship in 1926 and the middle-weight crown in 1928. The latter came after he had been transferred to Regina by the outdoor advertising firm for which he worked.
Maurice had won the bantamweight and Allan the feather-weight title in the early 1920s.

On May 24, 1928, Laurie became a professional. He earned $200 for beating Harry Runcora of Moose Jaw, Sask. Runcora now lives in Burnaby, B.C.
Two weeks later, Peppin made another $200 for a bout in Weyburn, Sask., and decided: "This is better than working for a living." So began a 10-year pro career that Laurie admits Something To Think About...

If your furnace is over 10 years old, you may be money ahead to give it a good close look!
HERE'S WHY:
The usual "life expectancy" of ordinary furnaces is about 10 years.
BUT EVEN MORE IMPORTANT
There have been so many wonderful improvements in the last 10 years you have a right to be discontented if you don't have a modern LENOX heating system! If you do not call a LENOX heating system now—TODAY!
