

Local and Other Items.

MAILS arrived at 2.30 p. m.
WARREN'S SAFE CURE at Watson's.
BAND at the Excelsior Rink to night.
THE anti-Scott Act petition is being largely signed.
Goodie and music at the Citizens' Rink to-night.
Go to the Band Beneit at the Citizens' Rink to-night.
BEAUTIFUL Satins and Prints, selling cheap at the London House.
THE Provincial Legislature meets for the despatch of business on Tuesday next.
GREAT Print Cotton sale going on at the London House. Wonderful reductions.
If the weather continues mild it is probable the Excelsior Rink will be closed to-night.
CORRESPONDENCE and other interesting matter crowded out to-day will appear to-morrow.
MR. J. B. HEGAN, Dominion Engineer, arrived from Summerside this morning. He is at the Rankin.
THE Belvidere Gun Club will meet to-morrow, Saturday, at the residence of F. W. Hyndman, Esq., at 3 o'clock.
SIR PETER AND LADY TREAZLE will appear in St. Peter's Schoolroom on Easter Tuesday. Programme will appear later.
A MEETING for the formation of an Athletic Association will be held in the Caledonian Hall on Saturday evening, at 8 o'clock.
We understand that there will be an entertainment, consisting of readings and music, in St. Peter's Schoolroom, on Easter Tuesday, April 12th.
THE bazaar and social in St. James' Hall last evening was very enjoyable and very successful. The hall was well filled. The amount realized was upwards of $300.
THERE was a slim attendance at the market to-day. Pork and hay were on sale in large quantities—the former realizing from 5 to 64 cents per pound, and the latter 65 to 70 cents per cwt. Prices of other articles unchanged.
AN Uncle Tom's Cabin Co., from New York will appear at the Lyceum on the 3rd and 4th. June next. This Company is a mammoth one carrying two troupes—one white and one colored—and two brass bands, as well as a chorus of Jubilee singers.
ORIENT DIVISION, S. of T., will meet this Friday evening, at their rooms, in J. D. McLeod's Hall, for the election of officers and general business. Members of this Division and visiting brethren are specially requested to be present, as matters of importance will be submitted for their consideration.
STIPENDIARY MAGISTRATE'S COURT.—Two countrymen forked over $1 and costs each to His Honor's clerk to-day, as a remembrance of their getting outside too much fire water and inside a cell. The Scott Act offender who did not turn up yesterday was gathered in this morning, and disposed of for $100 and costs or two months' imprisonment. He took the months.
THE Clara Louise Kellogg Concert and Opera Company, the finest musical organization in America will probably perform in Charlottetown on Monday and Tuesday evenings, May 23rd and 24th. This will be the grandest musical feast ever had in this city. The reputation of the Company stands the highest on the continent, and requires no recommendation.
THE Dramatic Club in connection with the Benevolent Irish Society is busily engaged rehearsing for their entertainment in the Lyceum on Easter Monday night. The programme consists of the thrilling drama, "Ireland of To-Day," and the screaming farce "A Pretty Sure Cure." New and handsome scenery is being painted by Mr. Millner, and the drama will be put on in first-class style.
BAND BENEFIT.—The managers of the Citizens' Skating Rink will give a benefit to the Garrison Artillery Band to-night. The members of this Band have supplied the music for the Rink during the past three years, and have always done their best to please the patrons of the Rink, and we have no doubt but the latter will show their appreciation of the Band by giving them a bumper house to-night.
THE last Canada Gazette states that His Excellency the Governor-General has been pleased to order the issue of a Commission under "The Revised Statutes of Canada," Cap. 19, to "James Douglas Irving, of the City of Charlottetown, in the Province of Prince Edward Island, Major in the Militia of Canada, Brigade Major of Militia for Military District, No. 12, from 1st April, 1887." The Gazette also contains the return of James Yeo and Stanislaus P. Perry as members-elect for Prince County.
ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain; and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind. mar17 eod & wky
ANOTHER handsome dwelling house is to be erected on upper Prince Street. Mr. James Paton is the builder and the site is between the residence of Miss McLennan and Dr. Hobbkirk. The building will be of brick and stone, two stories high, with two brick gables and slated hip roof. The dimensions are to be 40x50 feet. The principal entrance will be through an archway fronting on Prince Street. After passing through a large open porch and vestibule, the main hall, 14x20 feet, is reached. From this hall the parlor, dining and sitting rooms will be entered. The sitting room is to have a circular bay window and the dining room an ordinary one, both of which will have stone mullions. The sitting room and parlor will front on Prince Street, and the dining room will look south on a grass plot. In the rear the kitchen, pantries, etc., will be located. On the second floor which is to be reached by a large open staircase, finished in ash, there will be five rooms, independent of bath and dressing rooms. The finish throughout is to be first-class. The heating will be by hot water and the lighting by gas. Messrs. Phillips & Chappell are the architects, and Lowe Bros. the contractors.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

BLAKE'S RESIGNATION.

EXTRACT FROM HIS LETTER.

TORONTO, March 25.
The World of this city publishes in full Mr. Blake's private and confidential circular to the Grit members-elect of the House of Commons. The writer urges all to whom the circulars are addressed to be in their places at the opening of Parliament, as there is a domestic matter to be settled, and goes on to say:—
"Under our arrangement my present relation to the party ends with the opening of Parliament, and it will devolve upon Liberals at once to choose their leader for the new Parliament. My old colleagues have known my mind so long, that for them it is hardly necessary that I should speak. Yet it may be for the general convenience that I should now anticipate the possibility that my name may in some quarters be suggested by informing you that, even if I were honored by election, I could not attempt further to discharge the duties of office, and that another choice must be made.
I am,
"Faithfully yours,
"EDWARD BLAKE."

THE IRISH DIFFICULTY

Gladstone Speaks Out.

DENOUNCES COERCION

THE IRISH DIFFICULTY

Gladstone Speaks Out.

DENOUNCES COERCION

THE IRISH DIFFICULTY

Gladstone Speaks Out.

DENOUNCES COERCION

THE IRISH DIFFICULTY

Gladstone Speaks Out.

DENOUNCES COERCION

THE IRISH DIFFICULTY

Gladstone Speaks Out.

DENOUNCES COERCION

THE IRISH DIFFICULTY

Gladstone Speaks Out.

DENOUNCES COERCION

THE IRISH DIFFICULTY

Gladstone Speaks Out.

DENOUNCES COERCION

THE IRISH DIFFICULTY

Gladstone Speaks Out.

DENOUNCES COERCION

THE IRISH DIFFICULTY

Gladstone Speaks Out.

DENOUNCES COERCION

THE IRISH DIFFICULTY

Gladstone Speaks Out.

DENOUNCES COERCION

THE IRISH DIFFICULTY

Gladstone Speaks Out.

DENOUNCES COERCION

ingly Tory, Finally Hon. Mr. Heard (Tory) moved it out of courtesy.

Official Rascality.

MONTREAL, March 25.
There is a great sensation here over the charges made by the Chairman of the Police Committee that Montreal detectives were in league with gamblers and prostitutes, and only made arrests when bribed to do so. An investigation has been ordered.

Skating Contest.

PICTOU, March 24.
The race for the amateur skating championship of Nova Scotia, between Patterson, of Dartmouth, and Carroll, of Pictou, came off in the rink here this evening. The race was won by Carroll in 10m. 19s. Distance, 3 miles.

Halifax Notes.

HALIFAX, March 24.
John A. Ross passed away this morning in his 88th year.
Sir Charles Tupper is expected to-morrow to meet his wife, who is coming from England.

Aquatic.

WORCESTER, Mass., March 24.
Ten Eyck, of this city, and Laing, of Montreal, were matched to-day to row a three-mile race for $500 a side on Memorial Day.

Another Conservative Victory.

VANCOUVER, March 25.
Mr. Gordon, the Conservative candidate, is elected by a majority of 170.

Weather Bulletin.

TORONTO, March 25—10 a.m.
South east to south west winds, increasing to a moderate gale, increasing cloudiness with sleet or rain by night, stationary or higher temperature.

An Islander Abroad

HE HAS A KIND WORD FOR THE PEOPLE OF DENVER.

We publish below another interesting extract from the letters of an Islander abroad. This time he sizes up Denver and its people in good style. This is how he does it:—
"I am luxuriating now under the Italian skies of Denver, and investigating the social and political life of a Rocky Mountain town. Youthful tramps—or travellers, which is the same thing—who make their maiden trip to Denver, always begin their first letters to folks back East by heading it from Pikes Peak, incidentally making untravelled folks believe that they were sitting astride of that natural monument, and that it was located in the centre of the city, somewhere near the Post Office. Imagine my surprise to be informed a few hours after my arrival that Monsieur le Peak was several miles distant from the Post Office, and that to view it in all its rugged grandeur, would necessitate a railroad ride of seventy-five miles, and a cash outlay of $6. As Denver has other attractions and curiosities which, viewed in the light of cold cash, are not so expensive as this mountain of rock, it is needless to state that I have not yet come within speaking distance of Mr. Pikes Peak. It may be the air and it may be the people, but whatever the cause I am free to say that Denver is the most interesting town I have yet visited. I am getting to be something of an 'old stager,' and most cities and towns appear to me to be all alike, but there is something in the looks of Denver that commends it to the stranger as being something different from other towns. The people appear to be so approachable and affable even to strangers that one used to the frigid cordiality of a down east town speedily becomes aware of the fact that the difference between the Bostonian and the Denverite is the distance between the two poles—all the world. Here the people don't seem to be so lost in the pursuit of the mighty dollar as to entirely ignore the amenities of civilized life. They will stop long enough on the street to politely give you any needed information, instead of applying the Boston or Chicago man's habit of jerking his thumb over his shoulder when asked where the Post Office is. Everybody tries to make everybody else feel at home, and I believe this principle is not lost sight of even in business life and hours. Applicants for work receive polite answers instead of a surly response, and they are made to feel that they are not committing a crime by seeking honest employment. Perhaps the location of the town has had something to do with the formation of this trait in its people. Their early struggles and privations have perhaps served to crystallize in their minds a feeling of manly charity for others not so 'well heeled' as themselves. The border-ruffian and the cowboy are unknown quantities in Denver. Their day is over, for this town at least, but they are still toying with the lariat and seven-shooter but in more congenial quarters. The number of 'blue noses' in Denver is appalling. I have only met a few hundred from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick but no Islanders. The other day I called on Mr. Chas. McPhee, who visited the Island seven or eight years ago. He is one of the solid Muldoons of Denver. He wasn't in, so I amused myself walking around his extensive lumber yards and planing mills and mentally calculating how much he is worth and how many thousands Bradstreet's rate him at. He is pretty 'well heeled,' as the Americans say. There must be a number of Islanders in and around Denver, but I don't know the addresses of any. My Colorado tour embraces the towns of Pueblo, Leadville, Boulder, and the Gunnison country. It is beautiful weather here—air dry and bracing, but plenty of snow in sight on the mountain or foot-hills of the Rockies."

Weather Bulletin.

TORONTO, March 25—10 a.m.
South east to south west winds, increasing to a moderate gale, increasing cloudiness with sleet or rain by night, stationary or higher temperature.

An Islander Abroad

HE HAS A KIND WORD FOR THE PEOPLE OF DENVER.

We publish below another interesting extract from the letters of an Islander abroad. This time he sizes up Denver and its people in good style. This is how he does it:—
"I am luxuriating now under the Italian skies of Denver, and investigating the social and political life of a Rocky Mountain town. Youthful tramps—or travellers, which is the same thing—who make their maiden trip to Denver, always begin their first letters to folks back East by heading it from Pikes Peak, incidentally making untravelled folks believe that they were sitting astride of that natural monument, and that it was located in the centre of the city, somewhere near the Post Office. Imagine my surprise to be informed a few hours after my arrival that Monsieur le Peak was several miles distant from the Post Office, and that to view it in all its rugged grandeur, would necessitate a railroad ride of seventy-five miles, and a cash outlay of $6. As Denver has other attractions and curiosities which, viewed in the light of cold cash, are not so expensive as this mountain of rock, it is needless to state that I have not yet come within speaking distance of Mr. Pikes Peak. It may be the air and it may be the people, but whatever the cause I am free to say that Denver is the most interesting town I have yet visited. I am getting to be something of an 'old stager,' and most cities and towns appear to me to be all alike, but there is something in the looks of Denver that commends it to the stranger as being something different from other towns. The people appear to be so approachable and affable even to strangers that one used to the frigid cordiality of a down east town speedily becomes aware of the fact that the difference between the Bostonian and the Denverite is the distance between the two poles—all the world. Here the people don't seem to be so lost in the pursuit of the mighty dollar as to entirely ignore the amenities of civilized life. They will stop long enough on the street to politely give you any needed information, instead of applying the Boston or Chicago man's habit of jerking his thumb over his shoulder when asked where the Post Office is. Everybody tries to make everybody else feel at home, and I believe this principle is not lost sight of even in business life and hours. Applicants for work receive polite answers instead of a surly response, and they are made to feel that they are not committing a crime by seeking honest employment. Perhaps the location of the town has had something to do with the formation of this trait in its people. Their early struggles and privations have perhaps served to crystallize in their minds a feeling of manly charity for others not so 'well heeled' as themselves. The border-ruffian and the cowboy are unknown quantities in Denver. Their day is over, for this town at least, but they are still toying with the lariat and seven-shooter but in more congenial quarters. The number of 'blue noses' in Denver is appalling. I have only met a few hundred from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick but no Islanders. The other day I called on Mr. Chas. McPhee, who visited the Island seven or eight years ago. He is one of the solid Muldoons of Denver. He wasn't in, so I amused myself walking around his extensive lumber yards and planing mills and mentally calculating how much he is worth and how many thousands Bradstreet's rate him at. He is pretty 'well heeled,' as the Americans say. There must be a number of Islanders in and around Denver, but I don't know the addresses of any. My Colorado tour embraces the towns of Pueblo, Leadville, Boulder, and the Gunnison country. It is beautiful weather here—air dry and bracing, but plenty of snow in sight on the mountain or foot-hills of the Rockies."

Weather Bulletin.

TORONTO, March 25—10 a.m.
South east to south west winds, increasing to a moderate gale, increasing cloudiness with sleet or rain by night, stationary or higher temperature.

An Islander Abroad

HE HAS A KIND WORD FOR THE PEOPLE OF DENVER.

We publish below another interesting extract from the letters of an Islander abroad. This time he sizes up Denver and its people in good style. This is how he does it:—
"I am luxuriating now under the Italian skies of Denver, and investigating the social and political life of a Rocky Mountain town. Youthful tramps—or travellers, which is the same thing—who make their maiden trip to Denver, always begin their first letters to folks back East by heading it from Pikes Peak, incidentally making untravelled folks believe that they were sitting astride of that natural monument, and that it was located in the centre of the city, somewhere near the Post Office. Imagine my surprise to be informed a few hours after my arrival that Monsieur le Peak was several miles distant from the Post Office, and that to view it in all its rugged grandeur, would necessitate a railroad ride of seventy-five miles, and a cash outlay of $6. As Denver has other attractions and curiosities which, viewed in the light of cold cash, are not so expensive as this mountain of rock, it is needless to state that I have not yet come within speaking distance of Mr. Pikes Peak. It may be the air and it may be the people, but whatever the cause I am free to say that Denver is the most interesting town I have yet visited. I am getting to be something of an 'old stager,' and most cities and towns appear to me to be all alike, but there is something in the looks of Denver that commends it to the stranger as being something different from other towns. The people appear to be so approachable and affable even to strangers that one used to the frigid cordiality of a down east town speedily becomes aware of the fact that the difference between the Bostonian and the Denverite is the distance between the two poles—all the world. Here the people don't seem to be so lost in the pursuit of the mighty dollar as to entirely ignore the amenities of civilized life. They will stop long enough on the street to politely give you any needed information, instead of applying the Boston or Chicago man's habit of jerking his thumb over his shoulder when asked where the Post Office is. Everybody tries to make everybody else feel at home, and I believe this principle is not lost sight of even in business life and hours. Applicants for work receive polite answers instead of a surly response, and they are made to feel that they are not committing a crime by seeking honest employment. Perhaps the location of the town has had something to do with the formation of this trait in its people. Their early struggles and privations have perhaps served to crystallize in their minds a feeling of manly charity for others not so 'well heeled' as themselves. The border-ruffian and the cowboy are unknown quantities in Denver. Their day is over, for this town at least, but they are still toying with the lariat and seven-shooter but in more congenial quarters. The number of 'blue noses' in Denver is appalling. I have only met a few hundred from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick but no Islanders. The other day I called on Mr. Chas. McPhee, who visited the Island seven or eight years ago. He is one of the solid Muldoons of Denver. He wasn't in, so I amused myself walking around his extensive lumber yards and planing mills and mentally calculating how much he is worth and how many thousands Bradstreet's rate him at. He is pretty 'well heeled,' as the Americans say. There must be a number of Islanders in and around Denver, but I don't know the addresses of any. My Colorado tour embraces the towns of Pueblo, Leadville, Boulder, and the Gunnison country. It is beautiful weather here—air dry and bracing, but plenty of snow in sight on the mountain or foot-hills of the Rockies."

Weather Bulletin.

TORONTO, March 25—10 a.m.
South east to south west winds, increasing to a moderate gale, increasing cloudiness with sleet or rain by night, stationary or higher temperature.

An Islander Abroad

HE HAS A KIND WORD FOR THE PEOPLE OF DENVER.

We publish below another interesting extract from the letters of an Islander abroad. This time he sizes up Denver and its people in good style. This is how he does it:—
"I am luxuriating now under the Italian skies of Denver, and investigating the social and political life of a Rocky Mountain town. Youthful tramps—or travellers, which is the same thing—who make their maiden trip to Denver, always begin their first letters to folks back East by heading it from Pikes Peak, incidentally making untravelled folks believe that they were sitting astride of that natural monument, and that it was located in the centre of the city, somewhere near the Post Office. Imagine my surprise to be informed a few hours after my arrival that Monsieur le Peak was several miles distant from the Post Office, and that to view it in all its rugged grandeur, would necessitate a railroad ride of seventy-five miles, and a cash outlay of $6. As Denver has other attractions and curiosities which, viewed in the light of cold cash, are not so expensive as this mountain of rock, it is needless to state that I have not yet come within speaking distance of Mr. Pikes Peak. It may be the air and it may be the people, but whatever the cause I am free to say that Denver is the most interesting town I have yet visited. I am getting to be something of an 'old stager,' and most cities and towns appear to me to be all alike, but there is something in the looks of Denver that commends it to the stranger as being something different from other towns. The people appear to be so approachable and affable even to strangers that one used to the frigid cordiality of a down east town speedily becomes aware of the fact that the difference between the Bostonian and the Denverite is the distance between the two poles—all the world. Here the people don't seem to be so lost in the pursuit of the mighty dollar as to entirely ignore the amenities of civilized life. They will stop long enough on the street to politely give you any needed information, instead of applying the Boston or Chicago man's habit of jerking his thumb over his shoulder when asked where the Post Office is. Everybody tries to make everybody else feel at home, and I believe this principle is not lost sight of even in business life and hours. Applicants for work receive polite answers instead of a surly response, and they are made to feel that they are not committing a crime by seeking honest employment. Perhaps the location of the town has had something to do with the formation of this trait in its people. Their early struggles and privations have perhaps served to crystallize in their minds a feeling of manly charity for others not so 'well heeled' as themselves. The border-ruffian and the cowboy are unknown quantities in Denver. Their day is over, for this town at least, but they are still toying with the lariat and seven-shooter but in more congenial quarters. The number of 'blue noses' in Denver is appalling. I have only met a few hundred from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick but no Islanders. The other day I called on Mr. Chas. McPhee, who visited the Island seven or eight years ago. He is one of the solid Muldoons of Denver. He wasn't in, so I amused myself walking around his extensive lumber yards and planing mills and mentally calculating how much he is worth and how many thousands Bradstreet's rate him at. He is pretty 'well heeled,' as the Americans say. There must be a number of Islanders in and around Denver, but I don't know the addresses of any. My Colorado tour embraces the towns of Pueblo, Leadville, Boulder, and the Gunnison country. It is beautiful weather here—air dry and bracing, but plenty of snow in sight on the mountain or foot-hills of the Rockies."

Weather Bulletin.

TORONTO, March 25—10 a.m.
South east to south west winds, increasing to a moderate gale, increasing cloudiness with sleet or rain by night, stationary or higher temperature.

An Islander Abroad

HE HAS A KIND WORD FOR THE PEOPLE OF DENVER.

We publish below another interesting extract from the letters of an Islander abroad. This time he sizes up Denver and its people in good style. This is how he does it:—
"I am luxuriating now under the Italian skies of Denver, and investigating the social and political life of a Rocky Mountain town. Youthful tramps—or travellers, which is the same thing—who make their maiden trip to Denver, always begin their first letters to folks back East by heading it from Pikes Peak, incidentally making untravelled folks believe that they were sitting astride of that natural monument, and that it was located in the centre of the city, somewhere near the Post Office. Imagine my surprise to be informed a few hours after my arrival that Monsieur le Peak was several miles distant from the Post Office, and that to view it in all its rugged grandeur, would necessitate a railroad ride of seventy-five miles, and a cash outlay of $6. As Denver has other attractions and curiosities which, viewed in the light of cold cash, are not so expensive as this mountain of rock, it is needless to state that I have not yet come within speaking distance of Mr. Pikes Peak. It may be the air and it may be the people, but whatever the cause I am free to say that Denver is the most interesting town I have yet visited. I am getting to be something of an 'old stager,' and most cities and towns appear to me to be all alike, but there is something in the looks of Denver that commends it to the stranger as being something different from other towns. The people appear to be so approachable and affable even to strangers that one used to the frigid cordiality of a down east town speedily becomes aware of the fact that the difference between the Bostonian and the Denverite is the distance between the two poles—all the world. Here the people don't seem to be so lost in the pursuit of the mighty dollar as to entirely ignore the amenities of civilized life. They will stop long enough on the street to politely give you any needed information, instead of applying the Boston or Chicago man's habit of jerking his thumb over his shoulder when asked where the Post Office is. Everybody tries to make everybody else feel at home, and I believe this principle is not lost sight of even in business life and hours. Applicants for work receive polite answers instead of a surly response, and they are made to feel that they are not committing a crime by seeking honest employment. Perhaps the location of the town has had something to do with the formation of this trait in its people. Their early struggles and privations have perhaps served to crystallize in their minds a feeling of manly charity for others not so 'well heeled' as themselves. The border-ruffian and the cowboy are unknown quantities in Denver. Their day is over, for this town at least, but they are still toying with the lariat and seven-shooter but in more congenial quarters. The number of 'blue noses' in Denver is appalling. I have only met a few hundred from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick but no Islanders. The other day I called on Mr. Chas. McPhee, who visited the Island seven or eight years ago. He is one of the solid Muldoons of Denver. He wasn't in, so I amused myself walking around his extensive lumber yards and planing mills and mentally calculating how much he is worth and how many thousands Bradstreet's rate him at. He is pretty 'well heeled,' as the Americans say. There must be a number of Islanders in and around Denver, but I don't know the addresses of any. My Colorado tour embraces the towns of Pueblo, Leadville, Boulder, and the Gunnison country. It is beautiful weather here—air dry and bracing, but plenty of snow in sight on the mountain or foot-hills of the Rockies."

Weather Bulletin.

TORONTO, March 25—10 a.m.
South east to south west winds, increasing to a moderate gale, increasing cloudiness with sleet or rain by night, stationary or higher temperature.

An Islander Abroad

HE HAS A KIND WORD FOR THE PEOPLE OF DENVER.

GREAT Print Cotton Sale

COMMENCES To-morrow, Thursday, March 17th.

1000 yards 10c Print Cotton for 8cts a yard.
1500 yards 12c Print Cotton for 8cts a yard.
8000 yards 14c Print Cotton for 10cts a yard.
3500 yards 16c Print Cotton for 12cts a yard.
2000 yards Grottonnes, worth from 20cts up, now for 15cts.

This is a Genuine Sale—See these Goods.

Also—Great Bargains in Sheetings, Pillow Cottons, Tickings, Gray and White Cottons.

JAS. PATON & CO.,

MARKET SQUARE. March 16, 1887.

CORNWALL CHEESE FACTORY

FOR SALE.

I AM instructed, by the Riverside Creamery Company, to offer for Sale the Cornwall Cheese Factory and Plant, situated at Cornwall, 6 1/2 miles from Charlottetown. The Building and Plant are in good repair and can be put in operation as soon as required.
Further particulars on application, A. H. B. MACGOWAN, Real Estate Agent.
March 16—& wky if

NOTICE

IS hereby given that an application will be made to the Parliament of Canada at the next ensuing session thereof, for an Act to authorize and allow the Nova Scotia Permanent Benefit Building Society and Savings Fund, a Society established and formed under an Act of the Legislature of the Province of Nova Scotia, Chapter 42, 12 Victoria, entitled "An Act for the regulation of Benefit Building Societies, to transact business as a Building Society and Savings Fund throughout the Provinces of New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, as well as the Province of Nova Scotia, and to loan money on real and certain kinds of personal property, and to borrow money and receive money and deposits, with power to issue debentures and deposit receipts and other powers usual to Loan Companies and for other purposes.
Dated at Halifax, 5th March, 1887.
JNO. W. PAYZANT, Solicitor of Applicant.
March 22, 1887—2mos

Advertisement for Pure Gold Goods, listing various items like baking powder, shoe blacking, and coffee.

WANTED, LOST, FOUND, &c.

TO LET—A Cottage, situated on St. Peter's Road, a short distance from the Railroad crossing; stable, cow-house and garden attached. Apply to J. D. McLeod, city. mar25 121 pd
WANTED—A first-class Milliner. — Stanley Bros. mar24 31
TO LET—The Brick House on Sidney Street next to Dorsey & Goff's Factory, containing eleven rooms, shop and large porch, and warehouse if required; rent low. Enquire of Joseph A. Macdonald, Queen Street. mar22 41 wky if WANTED—An old style, high, eight-day Clock. Address, "Clock," EXAMINER office. mar23 21 wed sat wky if LOST—On Tuesday, 22nd inst., a Pocket Book, containing a Note of Hand and a small sum of money. Finder will be rewarded on leaving same at this office. mar22 11
TO LET—A new House on Chestnut Street, containing seven rooms. Apply to Mrs. B. Pickard. mar22 if SERVANT WANTED—For general housework. Apply to Mrs. R. K. Jost, Sydney Street, near Convent. mar18 if
TO LET—A large, well-finished Dwelling House, containing 12 rooms, on Prince Street. Apply to F. S. Moore. mar17 eod if
TO LET—Shop and Garden, belonging to the late John Jury, Esq. Also, a large Safe, good as new, which I will sell for $50; second-hand Piano at a low price.—Mrs. Sarah A. Jury, Kent Street. mar17 if
TO LET—That brick House on Dundas Street, now in the possession of G. H. Hazard, Esq.; possession given 1st October next. For terms and particulars apply to Owen Connolly. mar21 eod if
TO LET—Shop and Warehouse lately occupied by Beer & Sons at Head St. Peter's Bay. Apply on the premises. mar3 11
TO LET—A Grist and Saw Mill at Milton. Apply on the premises to Geo. Curran. mar2 11
WANTED IMMEDIATELY—A Cook and a Housemaid, to whom good wages will be given; references required. Apply at THE EXAMINER office. mar2 11

LONDON HOUSE.

House-keeping Goods, New White and Gray Cotton, New Printed Cottons, Bleached Sheetings, Unbleached Sheetings, Pillow Cottons, Table Linens, Towels, Toweling.

THESE goods have just been opened for Spring Sale, and having been bought before the recent advance in Cottons, will be found extra value.

CARPETS! CARPETS! Brussels, Tapestries, Hems, Floor Cloths, Matting, Hearth Rugs, Door Mats, Lace Curtains.

Tailoring Department.

A lot of Spring Tweeds just opened.

HARRIS & STEWART,

SUCCESSORS TO GEO. DAVIES & CO. Ch'town, March 7, 1887.—wky

NOTICE.

Intending to move back to my own store first of April, I will sell for the next ten days the remaining stock on hand at a sacrifice. J. B. McDONALD. Ch'town, March 21, 1887.—dy & wky

Carpets, Oilcloths, AND HOUSE-FURNISHINGS.

WE offer the Largest Assortment in the City in these goods, and at prices very low during March.

28 BALES ROOM PAPER NOW READY.

See our Sample Books before buying elsewhere. Sheetings, Pillow Cottons, Tickings, Table Linens, Towels, Gray Cottons, White Cottons, Prints, Gingham, Gingshams.

SEERSUCKERS.

A very large assortment of LADIES' CORSETS, at extremely low prices.

JAMES PATON & CO.,

MARKET SQUARE. Ch'town, March 13, 1887.—dy wky

AT COST!

FOR 30 days I will SELL AT COST, an immense lot of

HARD & SOFT HATS,

ALSO, 300 WHITE AND FANCY SHIRTS, some of which are slightly soiled, at half price. This is the cheapest lot of Hats and Shirts ever offered in the city.

U

an buy Remnants and Ends at your own figures. A special bargain in MEN'S UNDERWEAR. Shirts of every description, Scotch Tweeds and Worsted Suits made in latest style, and at bottom figures.

CALL AND BE CONVINCED.

D. A. BRUCE.

Ch'town, March 13, 1887.—eod & wky