

WILL BE WATCHING YANKS

Turley Has Reputation As Best Sign Reader

By JOE REICHLER
PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Bob Turley, former New York Yankee pitcher now with Los Angeles, will be in there "reading" his former mates for the first time Yankees meet the Angels this year.

Turley, as Manager Ralph Houk and all his Yankee friends attest, has the reputation for being the best sign reader in baseball. He has an uncanny knack of detecting certain peculiarities of pitchers which serve as give-away signs as to what those pitchers are preparing to throw.

As a Yankee from 1954 through 1962, one of Turley's main functions was to observe the pitchers on both sides. At one time or another, he spotted give-away signs not immediately of the Yankee pitchers, habits which they virtually tried to disguise.

"Our first meeting should prove quite interesting," mused baseball. He is as adept at stealing signs as he is at reading them. "I know this—there'll be three or four guys on the Yankees I'll worry the pants off."

At a Yankee game, Turley says Walter Ford, the great Yankee southpaw, calls his own pitches instead of taking signs from the catcher.

"Whitey is the only pitcher who does that," said Bob. "But there are few, if any, smarter pitchers in the game than Ford."

"I know all of his moves, I can call every one of his pitches beforehand. I can even tell you every time he's going to use that fast-pickoff play of his."

"I helped such fellows as (Ralph) Terry, (Bill) Stafford, (Slim) Bouton, (Marshall) Bridges, (Luis) Arroyo and (Randy) Shelden in my years with the Yankees. I read their pitches, then told them their give-away signs and they went to work correcting them."

"I know they'll be making some changes the first time we play them, but I'll be watching them closely and they'd better not make any mistakes."

Volleyball Tilts Slated Tonight

Summerside YMCA Triangles visit the capital city tonight to do battle with the Capitals. The YMCA Menaces and City All Stars.

Action gets underway at the local YMCA at 8.30 with Menaces languishing with the All Stars in the first set of games.

Top run standings are clear in the home set of "A" teams play into the home set of first place for senior positions.

On top is McKennas of Summerside with a percentage of .714, followed by the Charlotte town Micmas in second with .611. Next comes the Summerside Triangles with .614 and All Stars remain in the cellar with .183.

Action tonight should be the best of the season. A sweep of games by Summerside could get them into second place while a sweep for Micmas could put them on the doorstep of first place.

All Stars have strengthened and will be looking for a run of getting them closer to the third and last playoff spot.

Bo Belinsky Chooses Business Over Pleasure

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Bo Belinsky came to grips with a dilemma this winter. He had to make up his mind whether it would be business or pleasure in 1963 and he chose business—without some reluctance.

Belinsky's business is baseball—a game which the ditto-tongued Los Angeles Angels pitcher says has given him lots of promises, some exciting times and little money.

Money, and lots of it, is what Belinsky wants. He thinks he can make a lot of it if he follows—at least for a while—the good times he likes so much and tends to business, something he admits he didn't do too much of last year.

"I gotta go the way the crow flies. Meanwhile, I gotta roof the hill," says the black-haired southpaw who speaks the hip lingo as in a low voice that the girls have found so charming in this 25-year-old bachelor.

"I figure this cat can make himself do anything he wants to do," Belinsky purrs. "And I want to become a $40,000-a-year pitcher."

Belinsky reflected a moment, then added:

"I like fun. I like people. I like going to night clubs, taking out dates, staying out late. In fact, I'm an outstanding club player, you've got to be a loner, avoid meeting hip people, give your good times, enjoy yourself lots of pleasures."

"It just isn't worth sacrificing my fun, my youth and my personality unless you make real tough. That's why I set my aim on being a $80,000-a-year pitcher."

MARKS PEITY CASH

"I need that kind of cash to live the way I want to. I can't get along with $20,000 or $25,000 a year. Not the way I spend money. Right now, I'm making $15,000. That's only spending money for me."

"I'm giving myself three to four years to get to that $40,000."

TARGET OF PRESS

It's this kind of talk that has made Belinsky so different—and a target for reporters. Hardly a day has gone by since he arrived here that he hasn't been interviewed by a reporter, columnist or magazine writer. And he loves it.

"I've been called a pop-off," he said during a discussion at a breakfast table. "But I'm no pop-off. I think I have an exciting way about me, even in conversation. People enjoy interviewing me. So I'm in the press."

Belinsky skyrocketed to fame last May by pitching a no-hitter against Baltimore. He reeled off seven early victories and appeared about to breeze into rookie-of-the-year honors. But thereafter he hit the headlines more with his antics off the field than his work on it. He threw a baseball very fast and wildly and enjoyed living the same way.

CLASSIC 770

Here are the reasons why Motor Trend Magazine chose the 1963 Rambler as the "Car of the Year"

The coveted Motor Trend magazine "Car of the Year" award was won this year by the entire line of 1963 Ramblers. The popular Classic 6—the powerful Ambassador V8 and the compact American 6. The award was given to Rambler "for outstanding design achievement and engineering leadership." The panel of automotive experts took 26 pages in the February issue of Motor Trend magazine to outline the reasons for their choice of Rambler. The following are excerpts from their remarks to show you why Rambler is "Car of the Year" for 1963.

1 Unside Construction "... this latest design represents a real advancement and the biggest single reason we chose Rambler Car of the Year. Not only does this new construction method save approximately .30 pounds over the older design, but it results in a unit so strong it'll take punishment longer and naturally hold its resale value."

2 Handling and Driving "... pleasingly firm and responsive under all cornering conditions... a good boulevard and highway ride. There isn't any pitch or chopiness noticeable even on rough roads."

3 Styling "Progress in design is the merite of Motor Trend's Car of the Year award. American Motors' Ramblers are this year's best examples of outstanding design achievement. New styling is based on lean, clean lines that are apparent from almost any angle."

4 Interior Room and Comfort "The lengthened wheelbase has given more room inside... and this means increased driver/passenger comfort. The interior offers plenty of leg room. Reclining bucket seats with headrests are options well worth the extra expenditure."

5 Economy "There won't be many cars of this size delivering more fuel economy than this basic-engineered Classic."

6 Value and Features "Quality has always been one of American Motors' largest selling points and continues to be on the new models. In addition to the long-recognized owner appreciation features inherent in all Ramblers, the factory has doubled the new-car warranty to 24 months or 24,000 miles.

In summing up, all we can add is that it looks like the new Rambler will be an even better buy than it has been in previous years."

That's what the experts say. They are echoing what Rambler owners have been proudly claiming for years. To prove to yourself Rambler's exceptional value see your Rambler dealer soon. Take a test drive in the "Car of the Year"—the 1963 Rambler.
