MAC, JFK MAY DECIDE Britain, U.S. Talks Bog Over Skobot Missile

LONDON (AP)—Britain said Wednesday its talks with the United States over possible U.S. scrapping of the Skobot missile have bogged down. The issue may be left for President Kennedy and Prime Minister Macmillan to resolve at a meeting in Nassau just before Christmas. U.S. plans to give up the manufacture of the missile have put a heavy strain on the U.S.-British alliance. The Skobot missile, designed to carry a nuclear warhead and to be launched from a plane, is a top British priority. British experts don't agree that it is a complete failure.

Khrushchev Warns U.S., Basts China Criticism

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev warned the United States Wednesday to live up to the "no invasion" declaration on Cuba and blasted the Chinese Communists for claiming he beat a retreat in the Caribbean crisis. The Soviet leader, at times tough and at times mollifying, covered the whole range of Kremlin foreign policy in a two-hour, 40-minute speech before the Supreme Soviet parliament broken by outbursts of applause. Khrushchev pledged himself to fulfill Soviet commitments in the Cuban settlement, "so long as the other side stands by its understanding." He added: "But if the commitments assumed are not observed by the other side, we shall be compelled to take such action as may be required by the situation." While conceding that criticism had come from many quarters about the Cuban settlement, Khrushchev said he was "not at all surprised" that the Soviet premier claimed a victory. "The policy of peace has scored a great moral and political victory," he said. "He then stressed his familiar dictum that there is only one choice for the world: Peaceful coexistence or thermonuclear war." ANSWERS CHARGES To Chinese charges that he "capitalized to imperialism" by withdrawing the rockets from Cuba, Khrushchev said: "What was wrong with us treated, one may ask. Socialist Cuba exists. Cuba remains a beacon of Marxist-Leninist ideas in the Western Hemisphere. The impact of her revolutionary example will grow. The government of the U.S. has given a pledge not to invade Cuba. The threat of thermonuclear war has been averted. Is this a retreat?"

Liberal M.P. Fails To Get Amendment

OTTAWA (CP) — The Commons gave its final approval Wednesday to a bill establishing a five-member Atlantic Development Board. In its last hurdle before going to the Senate, there was one more attempt in the lower chamber to make an amendment to the measure which all parties said from the start they approve in principle. Allan J. MacEachen (I.—Kingston—Richmond) wanted a clause inserted to have the board produce an annual report on capital projects designed to enlarge the basic economy of the Atlantic region. When Speaker Marcel Lambert ruled the amendment out of order, Mr. MacEachen appealed the decision. A roll-call vote upheld the speaker's ruling 113 to 90 and the bill was given unanimous approval. The Speaker's decision was supported by 95 Progressive Conservatives and 18 members of the Social Credit party. There were 76 Liberals and 14 New Democratic Party MPs against it. Five Liberals did not vote, explaining they were "misled" without Conservative support.

SAYS EVIDENCE AGREES

Supporting his amendment, Mr. MacEachen said that every authority investigating the Atlantic provinces has established that the area needs large capital expenditures in both private and public sectors of the economy. The idea of a capital projects fund had been advocated by the Gordon royal commission on Canada's economic prospects and had been supported by such organizations as the Atlantic Provinces Economic Council. He said he wanted to bring the fundamental weaknesses of the legislation to the attention of the government, to members of the House and to Canada. "If we don't do that, we are not doing anything..."
