

ORIGINAL TACTICS.

Unique Manual of Arms Prepared by "Extra Billy."

The most remarkable company of soldiers ever drilled in this country fought under "Extra Billy" Smith, twice governor of Virginia.

He was a grand old man of the rough, honest type of "Blue Jeans" Williams, Lincoln, Thurman, Jerry Rusk, Crawford and Jenkins.

A drill lesson: Colonel "Extra Billy"—Now, boys, git yo'selves in persi-on. Are yo' ready? Tote arms!

One day he led his men into a blind lane about a mile long, and arriving at the end could not see his way out except by tearing down fences and going through a wheatfield guarded by an angry farmer with a dangerous looking gun.

A Military Trick.

One of our German-American citizens related the following incident of the German revolution of 1848:

"We were short of men and had a large number of prisoners to look after. That did not worry us as long as we were not moving, but one day we had to make a forced march.

"Finally a young officer made a brilliant suggestion, and it was promptly carried out. We ripped the suspender buttons from the prisoners' trousers, took away their belts and knew we had them.

"I do not believe that even Yankee ingenuity could have invented a simpler solution."—New York Tribune.

Easily Managed. Scene—Editor's sanctum. Printer (rushing in excitedly)—Here's a gal Johnson, the murderer, has just been found innocent, and the government has telegraphed a pardon.

Editor (coolly)—Don't get excited, man. Just put over the account in large capitals: "Johnson Pardoned. Full Account of What He Escaped!"—Pearson's Weekly.

Couldn't Translate It. "Is that your baby?" asked the interested party. "What a cute little child! What is he saying now?"
