

The Daily Examiner

SEPTEMBER 3, 1885.

Mr. Davies' Meeting.

The tone of Mr. Davies' speech was very loud and very declamatory. With a plentiful lack of fact and argument, it was full of such words and expressions as "robbery," "lost," "ruined," "damnable" misery, "infamous," "wholesale bribery," "squandering," "hewers of wood and drawers of water for Ontario."

The speech was, with some modification respecting the new Franchise Act, a repetition of the speech delivered at Clifton; and as the space of THE EXAMINER is occupied to-day with the brighter views of the Hon. Thomas White, our reporter has not extended his notes.

The Fishery Question was the first one of importance which Mr. Davies touched upon. Let us see how that matter stands. Sir John McDonald, in conjunction with the other British Commissioners, negotiated the Washington Treaty, in which were included the "Fishery clauses" under which five million five hundred thousand dollars were paid to Newfoundland and Canada, and the fish caught by our fishermen were admitted to the United States markets free of duty.

Mr. Davies did not read this clause, but he denounced it as "infamous,"—on the ground, we presume that Judges of County Courts, Stipendiary Magistrates, and barristers of five years' standing, are scoundrels who would violate their oaths and every principle of right conduct to assist Sir John to retain power.

Mr. Davies dealt briefly with the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, and declared that they were the perpetrators of "a gigantic swindle,"—though Mr. George Stephens and his fellows have done some business in Canada, and are accounted honorable men even by Goldwin Smith.

The P. E. Island Exhibition. The Provincial Exhibition of this year will be held in Charlottetown on the 7th and 8th of October next. Two thousand dollars will be distributed as prizes.

Return tickets by rail and steamer, at one fare, will be issued on the occasion. The Heather Belle will leave Orwell Brush Wharf on Wednesday and Thursday, October 7th and 8th, at 7 o'clock, a. m., calling at China Point and Halliday's Wharves.

—The St. Catharines News, though a Reform paper, takes a very sensible view of the result of recent elections. The result, says the News, "argues one of two things—either that the people are indifferent to what is going on and utterly careless of the interests of the country, or that they have no confidence in the policy of the Reform party."

The new Franchise Bill was not forgotten by Mr. Davies, though his statements about it were much more guarded than the statements he made at Clifton. He even went so far as to admit that only those who came of age after the 20th July last, are disfranchised. In other words, those who never possessed the right to the franchise have been dispossessed of it!

"A revising officer to be appointed under this Act shall, in every Province except Quebec and British Columbia, be either a Judge or a junior judge of some county or district court in the Province in which he is to act, or a barrister of at least five years' standing at the bar of such Province in the Province of Quebec he shall be either a Judge of the Superior Court for Lower Canada, or an advocate, or notary of that Province of at least five years' standing, and in the Province of British Columbia he shall be either a Judge of a superior court or of a county or district court, or a barrister of at least five years' standing, or a stipendiary magistrate: Provided always that the same revising officer may be appointed for, and be required to discharge the said duties in respect of more than one electoral district, and may be appointed for a portion of any electoral district."

THIS CANADA OF OURS.

The Situation of the present Time, and the Duty of the Hour.

ELOQUENT PASSAGE FROM THE BEST SPEECH OF THE HON. THOMAS WHITE.

We have in Canada a somewhat difficult country to deal with. This is not the occasion nor the company before which one can discuss the ordinary party issues or political questions that before an ordinary party demonstration one might be prepared to discuss. But I think I may say this, that the one object which I, at any rate, have in view, the one feeling which impels me in the performance of every public duty, and I trust will impel in the performance of the duties which I have just assumed, is that we may be able to build up in this Canada of ours a strong public sentiment tending to its material development, tending to the cementing of the different races and portions of this wide Dominion, tending to that greatness in the future to which we all look forward with so much hope.

THE CANADA WHICH WE HAVE TO DAY, the Canada upon whose prosperity our hopes depend is a Canada extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific (cheers) and the problem which public men have to solve, the problem which it is the duty of wise government to solve, is how we may harmonize the different interests connected with this vast territory so as to create a common bond of union, that people from one end of it to the other may rejoice in the common name of Canadians.

an inhospitable sea of mountains," we have resources that are already developing and which will probably tend to make British Columbia the richest and most valuable in the future of all provinces in this great Dominion. (Cheers.) How we can harmonize the resources of these different provinces, how we can build up their material prosperity in such a way as to produce contentment among the people, is the problem which devolves upon public men. We may differ in our methods of how this is to be brought about, but I can say it for the Government of which I am a member, that while there may be differences of opinion as to whether their methods are wise or unwise, they are at least influenced by a desire to produce that material prosperity, to produce those results which will thus harmonize the interests of this vast Dominion.

HOW GREAT ARE THE POSSIBILITIES of this Canada of ours in the same direction. The administration of the affairs of that great Northwest, for a time at any rate, is to devolve upon myself, and I can only say to you gentlemen, that my earnest desire will be so to manage its affairs as to make the people there feel that they have in the Government of the day men earnestly desirous of studying the interest of the country in every respect, thoroughly sympathetic with the difficulties of the early settlement of a new country, and resolved by every means in their power to minimize those difficulties so that general contentment may ensue.
