

FOR MOTHER AND DAUGHTER

Look-alikes that cheerily greet Christmas morning—along with all those packages Santa left—are lovely robes. Those shown are checked acrylic, deeply collared and buttoned down the front.

Banks provide aid to buyers

Let's face it. To carry out all those generous gifts-giving impulses, Santa and his helpers need money. That's why many far-sighted Santa-assistants are preparing right now to give themselves a gift of cash for Christmas 1966. Christmas Club plans for the '66 shopping season are opening at local banks, and really early shoppers, with '66 in mind, are looking ahead to a sizeable check for gifts shopping needs next year, by setting aside a few dollars—or less—every week. Right now, too, banks are paying out savings to members of their '66 Christmas Clubs—good news for everyone who planned ahead for this Yuletide and its shopping expenses. For those who didn't participate in this year's Clubs, and for anyone who needs extra Christmas cash, banks are ready to come to the rescue with loans—loans to buy a car, a major appliance or any one of a number of big gifts, as well as personal loans to purchase many smaller gifts. In addition to helping Santa accumulate the cash he needs, to buy gifts, a full-service bank can also be a good place to go "shopping" for gifts. Christmas gifts available from banks include, for instance, that first checking account for the college student. An initial cash deposit and an attractive personalized check book from the bank make this gift even more welcome. Opening a savings account for a child at Christmas can not only delight the youngster, it can help him, or her, learn lessons in thrift. A year's rental on a safe deposit box could make a different and appreciated gift for the newlyweds in the family. Young couples just starting out usually want a safe place to keep the important papers that will pile up through the years—beginning with the marriage certificate!

Mint-new bills in all denominations and attractively designed Christmas envelopes to hold them make perhaps the most appreciated of all gifts available at local banks.

Lay-away gift a day

Both Christmas shoppers and Christmas budgets benefit when the shopping rule is "Lay-away a gift a day." Begin early; select gifts carefully, a few at a time. Even one gift a day soon adds up to complete coverage of gift lists, if the start is early enough. For the big gifts, Lay-Away plans in local stores make shopping even easier. A small down payment will hold each gift, and purchase can be completed in easy installments. "Lay-away" smaller gifts at home—wrap them and hide them all Christmas. Credit plans and charge accounts help with easy, early, step-by-step gifts shopping, too.

HE HATES SNOW?

Here's a gift idea to brighten his winter picture: a snow blower that removes all types of snow and takes the danger out of snow shovelling.
