CLC Is Imposing Sanctions On Large Affiliate CUPE

By BEN WARD

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian Labor Congress has imposed sanctions on its second-biggest affiliate, the Canadian Union of Public Employees, for defying a congress edict to halt a membership raid on a smaller union.

It took the action after investigating a complaint from the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees that CUPE was attempting to take over the bargaining rights for IATSE's 1,600-member national unit of CBC stage production workers.

CUPE has 104,000 members, second in Canada only to the United Steelworkers of America which has 121,000.

CUPE has already applied to the Canada Labor Relations Board for formal certification as the bargaining agent for IATSE's CBC unit and the board is expected to order a supervised vote of the workers involved.

Main effect of the sanctions is to cancel an offending union's voting rights on the CLC executive council, but CUPE has no representatives on the current council, elected for a two-year term at Winnipeg last April.

TO OFFER ASSISTANCE

Other CLC unions will be advised of the sanctions and asked to support IATSE in resisting the CUPE raid. The CLC itself will offer organizational assistance to IATSE.

Stanley Little of Ottawa, national president of Cupe, said Tuesday his union had not yet been advised of the sanction decision. The matter would be discussed by the national executive board after notification was received.

IATSE has been beset by raiding activity for more than a year. Last January the Confederation of National Trade Unions lost a bid before the labor relations board to take over IATSE's CBC locals in Montreal and Quebec. Although the CNTU proved a majority membership in those locals, the board refused to let them be separated from the national bargaining unit.

Shortly after the decision, both CUPE and the National Association of Broadcast Employees and Technicians announced that they would atempt unit in the CBC.

After IATSE complained to the CLC, Carl Goldenberg of to take over the entire IATSE Montreal was assigned to investigate the case. He found that under the constitution of the congress both CUPE and NABET were guilty of raiding and should be asked to withdraw.
