

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

MARCH 23, 1892.

Queen Square Gardens.

It is very pleasing to know that this most beautiful and highly-creditable part of Charlottetown is this year remembered in time. The collection of a fund for its maintenance was wont, in former seasons, to be postponed until after Mr. Newbery had begun his work. Then it was made with difficulty, by the exertions of a few enthusiastic ladies, to whom, with Mr. Newbery, the credit of maintaining the gardens from year to year chiefly belongs. After all, there was usually an adverse balance to be carried over. But we are to have, this evening, a hockey match at the rink for the special benefit of Queen Square Gardens; and it is hoped that other entertainments for the same good purpose will follow. A considerable sum will be obtained by the members of St. Joseph's Sodality to be postponed until to-day. The celebration was held in St. Joseph's Convent, and was conducted on a grand scale. The altars in the pretty little chapel of the Convent were artistically decorated with natural flowers and tapers, presenting a beautiful appearance. The attendance of members of the Sodality was very large. The celebration began with Mass for the children at six o'clock, the officiating clergyman being the Rev. D. B. Reid. At this service about one hundred children received Holy Communion. The singing by the little ones was beautiful. Immediately after this service the members of the Sodality repaired in a body to the chapel, where Mass was celebrated by Rev. J. C. McLean, who came all the way from St. Margaret's to assist at the Feast. At this Mass the members of the Sodality received Holy Communion. The singing was by the Sodality choir, and was excellent. The Rev. lady-in-charge is to be congratulated. The third Mass was celebrated by His Lordship Bishop Macdonald. After the third Mass the reception of new members took place. Rev. D. B. Reid officiated, assisted by Rev. J. C. McLean. The members received were Minnie McNeill, Mary Conroy, Mary Corrigan, Katie Coady, Isabella Clarkin, Alice Cahill, Anastasia Hennessey, Alice McQuaid, Mary A. Curley, Anastasia Sweeney, Florie Manual and Annie Hughes. After the reception all repaired to the Sodality Hall where His Lordship the Bishop congratulated the members of the Sodality upon the celebration of the feast of their patron Saint, and briefly addressed those who had just been received. A very interesting feature of the proceedings was the presentation of an address from St. Joseph's Sodality to the Rev. Father Reid, Spiritual Director of the Sodality. The address was accompanied by a purse of gold. The presentation was made by the president of the Sodality, Mrs. Deiron. Father Reid made a neat and very feeling reply. There will be Benediction in the convent chapel this evening at seven o'clock. St. Joseph's Sodality has been in existence for many years past, and its members have done a great amount of work for the convent and the church in a quiet unostentatious way. New members are constantly being added to its ranks, and it expects to do even better work in the future than it has done in the past.

The Budget.

Our successful Finance Minister is to be congratulated upon his promptitude in respect to the delivery of the budget speech. The excellent showing he was able to make is a subject in respect to which the country at large is to be congratulated. There can be no doubt that while there has been dullness of trade—due to local causes—in some localities, the general prosperity of Canada has been well maintained, in spite of the great commercial depression of Europe, the McKinley bill, and the overhanging whine of the Grits. The recent Ministerial delegation to Washington seems to have been useful in that it drew from Mr. Blaine the declaration that the terms of reciprocity which the United States would consent to include the adoption by Canada of the United States tariff as against Great Britain and the rest of the world. That ought to settle the matter. The immediate effect of the adoption of these terms would be to break up our trade relations with the Mother Country and to restrict the operations of our merchants and traders almost wholly to the markets of the United States. The ultimate effect, not long to reach, would be the loss of our cherished British institutions. Mr. Foster's tone and attitude in respect to the ultimatum of the United States Government is admirable. He is regretful that the United States is not disposed to trade with us on fair terms. Yet he is glad that the period of expectancy and agitation is past. Moreover, he is firm and hopeful in the prosecution of a reasonable and mainly policy, true to the interests of Canada. He is not afraid to face the future; neither are the self-reliant people of Canada.

The S. S. Stanley.

The S. S. Stanley made her last trip from this port on the 25th of January and arrived here again to-day; so that navigation has been closed a little less than two months. The way in was, however, somewhat impeded by ice—particularly at the entrance of Charlottetown harbor. This ice had drifted into the Bay before a southerly wind.

Notes and Comments.

At the recent semi-annual meeting of the Bank of England the governors of the bank announced that the present liabilities of the Bankers due the bank were £8,500,000. He said that the proposal to relieve the bank by transferring the unrealized assets of the Bankers to a committee or a new trust, which would raise funds to repay the £8,500,000 advanced by the bank for the liquidation of the Bankers' affairs, was not opportune. The balance must be reduced before anything of the kind could be done. It was impossible to speak with confidence upon the final outcome of the liquidation. Without holding out false hopes, however, Mr. Liddell said he did not expect any loss to fall upon the guarantors.

Many are the dangers which beset a government, especially in England where so many questions are constantly arising calculated to cause political excitement. The execution of two poachers in England this week furnishes an illustration of this fact, for it has caused more popular indignation and excitement than many a political issue of far greater moment. The poachers who were hanged were caught by two gamekeepers while pursuing their unlawful calling, shots were exchanged and the gamekeepers were killed. The poachers were tried for wilful murder, found guilty and sentenced to be hanged. According to the letter of the law the condemnation and sentence were right, but the game laws are not popular, and it was felt that these men were not murderers in the ordinary meaning of the term. A largely signed memorial asking that the men be reprieved was sent to Home Secretary Matthews, but he refused to consider it and the men were executed. The London Chronicle, a paper which supports the government, declares that this execution will cost the government 30 seats. The execution and Mr. Matthews is execrated as a merciless monster. He has certainly proved a very unfortunate acquisition to the government of Lord Salisbury.

Provincial Legislature.

The business of yesterday was merely formal. Reporters were elected and committees appointed. Mr. Gordon McKay was made messenger for the House of Assembly in the place of D. Matheson who is ill.

"A Night With Dickens."

REV. JAMES CARRUTHERS, Chaplain of the 82nd Battalion, lectured in the Military Hall, Queen Street, last evening, on the above subject. There was a good audience. The chair was occupied by Col. Dagherty. The lecturer first spoke of the novels of the period, remarking that all were very much alike. They almost all dealt with love, and generally represented the hero and heroine as passing through a series of trials and tribulations of a very improbable character, and finally settling down to a happy wedded life. But Dickens had a nobler object in view. He aimed to direct attention to the evils existing at that day. The characters in his novels were drawn from real life and were used in the way the author deemed most advantageous in illustrating the point aimed at. During the lecture readings were given from the Pickwick Papers, the Old Curiosity Shop, etc. The lecture was given in the rev. gentleman's best style, and it is needless to say, was both entertaining and instructive.

Feast of St. Joseph.

As the feast of St. Joseph occurred on Saturday this year, His Lordship the Bishop kindly consented to allow its celebration by the members of St. Joseph's Sodality to be postponed until to-day. The celebration was held in St. Joseph's Convent, and was conducted on a grand scale. The altars in the pretty little chapel of the Convent were artistically decorated with natural flowers and tapers, presenting a beautiful appearance. The attendance of members of the Sodality was very large. The celebration began with Mass for the children at six o'clock, the officiating clergyman being the Rev. D. B. Reid. At this service about one hundred children received Holy Communion. The singing by the little ones was beautiful. Immediately after this service the members of the Sodality repaired in a body to the chapel, where Mass was celebrated by Rev. J. C. McLean, who came all the way from St. Margaret's to assist at the Feast. At this Mass the members of the Sodality received Holy Communion. The singing was by the Sodality choir, and was excellent. The Rev. lady-in-charge is to be congratulated. The third Mass was celebrated by His Lordship Bishop Macdonald. After the third Mass the reception of new members took place. Rev. D. B. Reid officiated, assisted by Rev. J. C. McLean. The members received were Minnie McNeill, Mary Conroy, Mary Corrigan, Katie Coady, Isabella Clarkin, Alice Cahill, Anastasia Hennessey, Alice McQuaid, Mary A. After the reception all repaired to the Sodality Hall where His Lordship the Bishop congratulated the members of the Sodality upon the celebration of the feast of their patron Saint, and briefly addressed those who had just been received. MORE LAW.—Mayor Haviland has received a letter from Davies & Hazard, stating that they have been retained by Mr. John Drake, butcher, to bring an action against the city corporation for the damage and loss sustained by him in his business by reason of the action of the corporation in improperly preventing him from carrying on his business as he had a right lawfully to do. They state, however, that Mr. Drake is open to accept a reasonable offer of settlement of the matter without suit, should the city be so disposed. If a settlement is not made at an early date, they will carry out their instructions and commence an action for damages without further notice.

Written for the Examiner.

No Compromise. When gloomy thoughts take hold of thee And cause thy soul to swoop to fly, Two words will win the victory No compromise.

When so-called friends around thee come, And faint would give in to the wrong, Recall the heading of this song: No compromise.

With Spartan pluck then make your way— In trials sore from day to day, Two words should always be your stay: No compromise. B. F. M.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Waterworks.

Sir,—According to the report of the meeting of the City Council held last night, as published in to-day's Guardian, Councillor Hughes is reported as follows: "If the waterworks were investigated they would be found to be in a very critical condition. We now depend on one boiler at the station. If anything goes wrong we are without water. The reservoir is useless, etc., etc." In using the above remarks as regards the reservoir, Mr. Hughes cannot surely have known that he stated that which cannot be substantiated. No doubt he expects to receive the everlasting gratitude of the citizens for bringing this defect to the notice of the Fire Insurance companies. Did this would be reformer and heaven-born engineer of whom he speaks, ever take the trouble to visit the reservoir during the time he has been at the Council Board? Does he know whether there is any water in it at present or not? If so, I would like him to define the term "useless" as used by him. If what Mr. Hughes says is correct, the citizens may expect at any date an increase in insurance rates. If you are as well posted on the water management as you profess to be, you can, no doubt, give us a good deal of valuable information. From the last annual report of the Water Commissioners, we learn that the system is in a thoroughly good condition, therefore we may expect something luminous under Mr. Hughes' management of the Water Department.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your valuable epistle, I remain yours, ANTI-ALARMIST.

Is It True?

Sir,—I am credibly informed that on Sunday morning last Rev. C. W. Hamilton, pastor of the Second Methodist Church in this city, denounced from his pulpit as "agencies of the devil," the Salvation Army, Kensington Hall and kindred moral movements. I sincerely trust that the rev. gentleman will offer an explanation for this unwarranted attack upon a large number of people, who, in a simple unostentatious way are striving to make the world better.

SEMI-EMERGED TENTH.

March 23.

Personal.

We regret to learn that Mr. Justice Young is so ill that his life is despaired of. It is pleasing to hear that Mr. Charles Longworth, son of George J. Longworth, Esq., of this city, stood first on the list in the recent intermediate examination at McGill College, Montreal.

News from Silvery Place, west Baton Rouge, La., says the Rev. Munroe Scott, a colored preacher there, killed his wife and a young woman whom he wanted to marry and then blew out his brains.

The Queen left England on the 19th to visit the south of France. She was accompanied by her daughter Princess Beatrice, Prince Henry of Battenberg, Prince Victoria Patricia of Connaught and others. They reached Hyeres on Monday morning and proceeded to Costebelle two miles distant, where two hotels have been engaged for the royal party during their five weeks' stay.

BIRTH.

TESTIMONIAL.

DEAR SIR,—As there seems to be another endeavor on the part of some persons to drive Dr. Baynes into a corner and from the island, I think it time for his friends to again come forward to rescue him, and the benefits he has conferred upon them, so that others may know where to apply for like benefits. My case was of long standing, the result of a superior education, and baffled the combined skill of half a dozen Island doctors. I am pleased to bear testimony that if it had not been for the skill Dr. Baynes showed I would to-day be hopeless. Before applying to him I was unable to sew or attend to my household duties. After the first week's treatment I saw a change and have steadily improved. He now can perform my duties as well as ever. Yours, etc.,

H. W. C. GALBRAITH.
