

Grains of Gold.

I see that time divided is never long, and that regularity abridges all things.

The bell never rings of itself; unless someone handles or moves it, it is dumb.

A life spent worthily should be measured by a nobler line, by deeds not words.

The most important part of every business is to know what ought to be done.

Next to sound judgment, diamonds and pearls are the rarest things to be met with.

Did a person know the value of an enemy, he would purchase him with pure gold.

Envy is blind and knows nothing except how to depreciate the excellencies of others.

It is in general more profitable to reckon up our defects than to boast of our attainments.

There is one consolation about growing old—you live to see your friends growing old, too.

The silence that accepts merit as the most natural thing in the world, is the highest applause.

There are none so low but they have their triumphs. Small successes suffice for small souls.

He who comes up to his own idea of greatness must always have had a very low standard of it in his mind.

Give not reins to your inflamed passions; take time and a little delay; impetuosity manages all things badly.

The best that we can do for one another is to exchange our thoughts freely; and that, after all, is but little.

We do love beauty at first sight; and we do cease to love it, if it is not accompanied by amiable qualities.

In life it is difficult to say who do you most mischief, enemies with the worst intentions, or friends with the best.

Many a genius has been slow of growth. Oaks that flourish for a thousand years do not spring up into beauty like a reed.

It is most true that a natural and secret hatred and aversion towards society, in any man, hath somewhat of the savage beast.

There are a good many real miseries in life that we cannot help smiling at, but they are the smiles that make wrinkles and not dimples.

We all dread a body paralysis and would make use of every contrivance to avoid it, but none of us is troubled about paralysis of the soul.

Choose for your friend him that is wise and good, and secret and just, ingenious and honest, and in those things which have a latitude use your own liberty.

THE TROTTER STALLION

'SIR EDWIN'

SIR EDWIN is a Bay Stallion about 17 hands high, foaled in 1869, bred by Edwin Thorne of Thorndale, New York, and imported to P. E. Island in 1880.

Farmers! Here you have an opportunity which you never before had to breed to a pure bred Hambletonian, a grandson of the unrivalled Volunteer, whose service fee is $500 and nephew to St. Julian, King of the Turf, and sired by a cousin of Maud S., Queen of the Turf, the fastest trotter that ever lived, and the wonder of the world. With such breeding as this it will be remarkable if Sir Edwin's colts do not develop into wonderful trotters.

Sir Edwin's pedigree, as published, is hereby guaranteed, and if any person can show it to be incorrect, he can have the services of Sir Edwin free of charge.

Sir Edwin will be at my stable, Kensington, at all times during the season except the last week in July, when he will stand at Alberton.

GEO. B. SIMS, Kensington, P. E. I., June 16, '82—1w
