Alberton Lady Home After Trans-Continental Tour

Miss Helen Kerr arrived at her home in Alberton last Thursday evening after more than two years of travel which took her to many countries around the world. Six years ago Miss Kerr left her home town to live in Victoria, B.C. where she was engaged in library work. Responding to an urge to see more of the world she sailed from Victoria aboard the "Lakemba" on April 4, 1953, bound for Australia. On board ship she met two Canadian nurses with interests similar to her own and they became travelling companions. It was learned that each of the three was in possession of a one-way ticket to Australia and $200.00 in Canadian money. En route one day stops were made at Honolulu and the Fiji Islands. They arrived in Sydney, Australia, May 4th.

There they travelled up through Rhodesia (where they were thrilled at the sight of Victoria Falls), the Belgian Congo, Lake Tanganyika, Tanganyika, Lake Victoria, Kenya (right in the heart of the Mau Mau country), Uganda, and down the Nile through the Sudan and Egypt.

From Cairo they went to Lebanon, Syria, Trans-Jordan, visit to Jerusalem, Bethlehem and Jericho, and saw the Arab refugees in their camps or caves. Then they went back through Syria to Turkey, Greece, Yugoslavia and Turkey. From Rome they went to England for a month and then Miss Kerr and one friend spent two months hitch-hiking in a number of European countries.

Week at Sheep Station

The girls remained in Sydney for a year. They loved the country and found its people extremely kind. During the year in Australia Miss Kerr taught school. In holiday time she saw much of the country, travelling from the Great Barrier Reef to Tasmania. Of particular interest was the week spent on a sheep station, driving out in a jeep for miles to see the station and the sheep (not to mention the kangaroos!) and seeing the sheep dogs at work. Of interest also was the citrus fruit district where one sees what can be done with Australian desert land through irrigation. Lack of water is perhaps one of the greatest drawbacks to Australia's progress but new irrigation schemes are being brought in and it would appear that the country faces a wonderful future.

The girls left Australia May 26, 1954, by the cheapest means possible which turned out to be an Italian immigrant ship. Conditions aboard were anything but sanitary. However, the route was interesting—up the coast of Australia, past the Barrier Reef, through Torres Strait and on to the South China Sea. Singapore provided their first glimpse of the east with its hordes of people of all conditions, from beggars in the streets to the rich with their beautiful homes, temples and gay night life. It was hot in Singapore and they were glad to get back aboard ship on the way to Colombo.

SEE BUDDHIST FESTIVAL

They found Ceylon to be a beautiful little island with gay and friendly people. They enjoyed visiting Colombo and Kandy but the highlight was seeing a Buddhist festival in which 12 richly caparisoned elephants, complete with bracelets and ear-rings, led the procession at night. The streets were thronged with worshippers and it was made even more interesting for these three Canadian girls as they realized they were probably the only white people present.

VIEW TAJ MAHAL

Miss Kerr says travelling in India is more of an education than a pleasure; that the poverty and filth are unbelievable. Horde of people with no food, no home and little clothing through the streets that are filled with noisy, honking, ancient vehicles, rickshaws pulled by men who are little more than skeletons, and cows which are considered sacred in this country. On the other hand one finds fantastic wealth such as may be seen in the palace at Mysore, or in the golden temple at Benares which has one ton of gold on the dome and minaret alone. They travelled some five thousand miles by train through India. They found the heat extreme and that it was a problem to have to carry their own food and water as was necessary for sanitary reasons. The climax of the whole trip was reached in Agra where they viewed the Taj Mahal, the beauty and delicacy of which must be seen to be believed.

CHRISTMAS IN CAPE TOWN

On July 10 they sailed from Bombay toward Durban. Here Miss Kerr again taught school and again she enjoyed the work and the people, but did not like the political system. Christmas was spent in Cape Town. From

Inquest At S'side In Recent Traffic Fatality

A coroner's jury empanelled by Dr. Wilfred Callaghan met in the Summerside Court House last evening to inquire into the cause of death of Raymond Lemuel Ford, who died on July 4, 1955, at Linkletter Road, about three miles from Summerside.

After hearing the evidence of Aubrey Charles MacDonald, the only eyewitness of the accident, of Corporal Keefe of the R.C.M.P. and Kenneth Walker, driver of the car the jury rendered their verdict that the deceased, came to his death as a result of injuries sustained when struck by a car on July 4th at Linkletter Road, driven by Kenneth Walker. No blame was attached to the driver and they recommended that cyclists be given more information and guidance of traffic regulations.

The evidence given by Aubrey MacDonald, the companion of the Ford boy at the time of the accident, indicated that both boys had been driving bicycles along Linkletter Road on the right side. Hearing the approaching car, the MacDonald boy swerved to the right to escape being hit endeavored to cross to the left ditch and was struck by the oncoming car.

Pictures taken at the scene of the accident by George Wotton, Guardian staff reporter were those taken by him.

Cpl. Keefe of the R.C.M.P. testified in answer to a call he had proceeded on July 4th at 2:30 p.m. to Linkletter Road. He was accompanied by Cst. Henderson. They found a 1954 Chev car in the ditch on the left side of the road, the front wheel in the ditch and rear wheel on the shoulder of the road. A young boy was lying underneath the front part of the car on the left side. He said he felt for a pulse or sign of heartbeat but could find no sign of any life.

Examination of the front of the car showed that the hood was bent and on the chrome ornament on the front of the hood he noticed fine particles of what appeared to be hair and skin. Skid marks on the gravelled highway

Harness Racing At S'side Raceway This Evening

Harness racing holds the fort in Summerside tonight with four classes slated to get underway at 8:30 p.m. daylight time at the Raceway.

Grand River Girls Defeat RCAF Daks 26-18

The Grand River girls overpowered the RCAF Daks last evening at the airport diamond by the free-wheeling score of 26-18 in a regular league softball fixture.

The Grand River girls got together a total of only 10 hits off Daks pitcher for their twenty six runs, while the Daks were collecting 20 hits in their unsuccessful cause off Gumm. Extra base blows for Grand River were delivered by A. MacKinnon and F. MacKinnon, each with a double, while for the Daks, Jackson had a triple and MacDonald belted a two bagger. Wildness and loose fielding played a major part in the game's result.

Wrestling Card Staged At Raceway Stadium, S'side

Promoter Gerry Sheen staged another wrestling card at the Raceway Stadium in Summerside last evening in which four bouts were run off before a fair crowd.

The feature bout saw L. d. y. Angel of Alberta in 2 out of 3 falls. The bald headed Angel won the last two falls after her opponent won the first.

Canada Best

At the end of this thrilling world tour Miss Kerr finds that she is happy to be in her home-land again and feels that there is no better place than Canada in which to live.

Miss Kerr will spend the summer months at home with her mother, Mrs. Helen Kerr, and her grandmother, Mrs. Thomas Wilkinson. In September she plans to take up residence in Montreal.

SPORT ECHOES FROM PRINCE COUNTY

Don Canning, Bank of Commerce employee in Summerside, who has played baseball with the Springhill Fencebusters, broke into the Prince County League with a bang Monday night. In fact, there were a series of bloopers. Don led his team with the hickory, and did an acceptable job at third base. He batted seven runners across the plate, which set a record for this year.

It began to look as if no one wanted to take this boy on, although he seemed anxious to play. We mentioned his name to the Curranites over a week ago, but they didn't seem interested. They certainly could have used him. They may be pretty fair ball players, but as talent scouts they are individually and collectively an awful bunch.

We looked into our crystal ball recently and saw husky young Tommy Wood of the Kinsmen Little Leaguers as the home run hero of the '60's. Here in Summerside we haven't had a real home run hero since Les Gaudet left town. Such boys as Maurice Cannon, Gord Grady, Nell Walker and some others could belt one over the fence occasionally, but it usually was a long, long time between drinks. Young Tommy Wood really gets a lot of wood on the ball (no pun intended) and he is as green as grass yet. With the kind of instruction Johnny Carroll and his helpers are able to give him, he should improve fast.

Harness racing gets back into action in Summerside tonight. Given any kind of a break in weather conditions, horse racing should be well patronized here this summer. There seems to be a lot of interest among the "hot stovers" and the horses are being matched with a view to provide close exciting finishes.

Lorne DesRoches, C & B bench warmer, got his chance in the slug-fest Monday evening. Gord Grady was given the heave-ho for hecking umpire Glennie DesRoches, and Lorne was brought in to fill the breach. He filled the water-melon a real ride, and C & B can use a few more good sticklers.

Last week's high school sports in Prince County—The hit team of the MacKinnon sisters of Grand River. These two girls would just as soon belt you a home run as bake you a cake.
