Financial Aid By Inge Dorsey

I am happy to report that all goes well in the financial aid office. In the next few days, if you haven't already, you may be asked to fill out a questionnaire regarding financial expenses. It would be very much appreciated if you would take a few minutes to do so as this information will be used in making changes to the Student Loan Program.

I would encourage all students planning to attend graduate or professional school to get busy in regard to financial assistance, as many deadlines are upcoming in December and January.

If I may be of help in anyway, please feel free to drop by the office on the first floor of Main bldg. in Student Services, or call at 566-0647. My office hours are: MONDAY 10:30 - 1 and 2 - 3:30; TUESDAY 9-11 and 2:30-4; THURSDAY 9-11; FRIDAY 10:30-11.

Union of Public Sector Employees These bursaries are awarded to: (1) Union members, or (2) dependents of union members or retired members who are enrolled as full time students during the next semester (winter-spring 1987). Financial need, academic ability and involvement in U.P.S.E. activities are all considerations.

Applications are available from Student Services. DEADLINE: November 21

Pilsbury Undergraduate Scholarship Program Four awards equally valued at $1,250 will be awarded to students in the following programs: two awards for Business/Commerce, one award for Food Science, one award for Agricultural Science. Applicants must have completed two full years of study. Evaluations will be based on students academic ability, as well as participation in extra-curricular activities.

Applications are available from Student Services DEADLINE: November 30

Terry Fox Humanitarian Award Program These awards valued at $3,000 per year/renewable until first degree, are open to students graduating from high school or working towards a first degree. Candidates are primarily judged on the extent to which they demonstrate the highest ideals and qualities of citizenship and humanitarian service while in pursuit of excellence in their academic amateur sport, fitness, health, and voluntary service endeavors. This award is based on merit. Academic record, need, and athletic ability are not of major importance. Anyone interested in applying may pick up an application form from student services. Applicants must have the form returned to Student Services by January 12 for final consideration by the Nomination committee. DEADLINE: January 12

UPEI Memorial Bursary Fund A number of bursaries (usually around 15) valued at $200 are awarded to full-time students, in any year, in the second semester. Primary consideration for this bursary is financial need. The deadline is sometime in early February. Keep tuned to this column for final details on deadlines. Have a good week!

Concert Series

From Marita McNulty - Information Officer

UPEI Music Professor James Montgomery has begun an extensive series of concerts throughout the Atlantic Provinces and the eastern United States. A trombonist Professor Montgomery will appear with Dr. Willis Noble, organist at Mount Allison University, in duo performances in music to 20th century music.

of the West. At UPEI he maintains a busy schedule of teaching and performing, and is sought for his expertise as a clinician and adjudicator. He holds degrees from U.B.C., and Indiana University.

The new ensemble features artists who are accomplished soloists in their own right, and who have joined forces to present an exciting instrumental extravaganza of music for trombone and organ. Trombonist Montgomery, from British Columbia, has performed with orchestras across Canada and the U.S. including the Vancouver Symphony, the CBC Vancouver Radio Orchestra, the Thunder Bay Symphony. Highly respected as a solo recitalist Mr. Montgomery was an award winner at the Aspen Music Festival, and the Music Academy

Dr. Noble, born in Aurora, Ontario, brings a well-founded reputation to the ensemble, as an outstanding artist and teacher. He is a leading authority on Canadian choral and organ compositions, and was recently awarded the Crane Research and Travel Grant for Studies in Church Music in Canada. He holds degrees from the University of Toronto, as well as a doctorate in Organ and Literature from Indiana University. he is presently professor of Organ on the faculty of Mount Allison University.

The duo will perform in Charlottetown on Friday November 28, at Trinity United Church.

A record number of participants attending the conference, whose theme was Facing Technology: The Future of Work", heard First prize winner Michael LeClair and Second prize winner Ann Dutton read the winning entries. Wendell McLaine won third prize, but did not read.

Mr. LeClair works with the P.E.I. Tenants Association. Some of his earlier work has appeared in the book Island Poets. The piece that won him the prize in the Milton Acorn Competition is entitled "A Foxley River".

Ann Dutton's contribution, "Service Sector", is about a dayca worker and a woman who works in a fish plant.

"A Voice Slow in Coming" is the name of the poem by carpenter and peace activist Wendell McLaine.

Honorable mentions went to Gloria Large, Dave Patterson, and Laurie Brinklow.
