... YOU CAN HAVE THESE IMPROVEMENTS MADE NOW!

Not only could these improvements be made now, but in many cases by making them now you save time and money since skilled tradesmen and materials are more readily available.

Winter has traditionally been a lull time in the building trades. Some of the chief reasons being that many people think the work can't be done or that they would be unduly inconvenienced while it was being done. This line of thought is being changed by people who have had jobs done around their home or place of business during the winter months. They say, and it's true, that most jobs could be done during the winter and this inconvenience, if any, is no greater than at any other time of year.

Remember, that by doing it now - you'll be giving someone a job - helping to alleviate the local unemployment situation.
