MARY HAWORTH

Crosses Mark The Way To Give Wisdom's Warning

Dear Mary Haworth—I am a practical man and have tried to live a practical life, but I have a problem to which I see no practical answer.

I am in my mid-30s and have a wife and three children—ages 14, 11 and 5 years. They argue a lot and just about don't get along together. My wife and I don't argue as a rule, but we don't enjoy the same things. She is a whole-hearted mother, teaches Sunday school, is active in scouts, etc.

We haven't been to a movie, dance or party for quite a while and, if we go, she can't enjoy herself; so consequently I don't either. We don't have too many friends, as she doesn't like mine and I don't care for hers.

Due to all this, I became attached to a married woman who, like me, has problems; and, as time went by, we found that we were right for each other. This is no overnight affair; we have talked and talked, but see no way clear, no hope of every marrying.

Practical as I am, we stopped talking about it; and have tried to end the affair, but always fail. What is the way to go? Life is speeding by, with no enjoyment for us. We are missing the full values that so many others obtain. Why can't my wife, and her husband, show some affection? And let their hair down, and realize they are losing their mates? Would the shock of letting them know bring them out of their shells?

You may say: Straighten out. PARKDALE W.I.

The twenty-first annual meeting of Parkdale W.I. was held in the hall on November 5th, with the president, Mrs. Frank Ross presiding. Twenty-three members responded to roll call by telling the program they liked best. The minutes of the last monthly meeting and the last annual meeting were read and approved.

The president briefly outlined the activities of the year, and thanked the members for their co-operation and support in the many projects undertaken. After the treasurer's report the reports of standing committees were heard.

The nominating committee brought in the following slate of officers: president, Mrs. Frank Ross (re-elected); first vice-president, Ian Webster; second vice-pres. Lester Johnston; Sec., John Hogan (re-elected) treasurer, Henry Douglas (re-elected); directors, Mrs. Edwin Cook, Mrs. Fanny Matheson, Mrs. Ramsay Hardy, Mrs. Dan McAskill, Mrs. Blaine Westhaver, Mrs. Glen Ramsay, and Allison West. Press secretary, Mrs. M.F. Rodd; auditors, Mrs. H.W. Clay, Mrs. R. Perry; pianist, Mrs. Fanny Bertram Hall committee, Mrs. A. Seaman, Mrs. A. Fould, and Mrs. A. Trevin; Sponsors Guides and Brownies, Mrs. H. MacDonald, Mrs. G. Muirow, Mrs. L. MacKay Sponsors Cubs and Scouts, Mrs. F. Gallant, Mrs. I. Webster, Mrs. D. McAskill.

Considerable discussion took place re Christmas concerts, radios, and flag for school. A donation of pictures from Mrs. L. Johnston for the junior high school is much appreciated. Thirty-five Brownies and twenty-seven Guides were reported enrolled this year.

The leaders of the Cubs and Scouts are busy with forty-six Cubs and thirty-three Scouts. Plans are underway for a three act play to be staged in the early winter.

Mrs. E. Cook was appointed to place the wreath on Remembrance Day. Two members volunteered to make kerchiefs for the Cubs and Scouts. Visits to Riverside Hospital are to be resumed in January.

Refreshment committee for December are Mrs. Hudson, Mrs. Higgenbotham, Mrs. L. Ramsay, Mrs. Perry.

The meeting then adjourned.

HAPPENINGS

Miss Margaret Paton Hyndman Q.C. has left by plane for Paris to attend an international executive meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Toronto's night of glamor for twenty-nine debas was the gayest most glamorous whirl of the season. They were presented to the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Kieller Mackay in the ballroom of the Royal York Hotel.

Among the debas presented was Miss Gail Lowery, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. Evans D. Lowery, North Bay, and the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Strath of St. David's, Ontario.

Betty Lowery, a piano graduate at the Toronto Conservatory of Music was probably during her student days the most popular girl in residence with numerous escorts dying for her company.

Gail Lowery is apparently carrying on the family tradition of feminine charm and popularity. Of the twenty-nine debas Gail was the one quoted on the page write-up of the ball.

"I'm scared to death I'll fall so I've been curtsying with my ball dress on to get the feel of it," said Gail. The article goes on to say the dance was a real reunion for Gail because many of her former Brankome classmates are debas, too.

Brankome played a big part indeed in the Deb's ball because the governor's wife was a former teacher there.

Prints Edwards' Band has contributed many teachers and pupils to Brankome and the present principal Miss Jane E. MacNeill, was born in this province. So that all in all this is a part of the Deb Ball in the metropolis of Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walker have received word that their daughter, Mrs. James Gaudel and Mr. Gaudel have a little baby daughter. The baby was born November 9th, at St. Rita's Hospital, Sydney, Nova Scotia and the name chosen for her is Dana Elizabeth. Mr. and Mrs. Gaudel who live at 2 Charlotte Street, Sydney, have four other children.

Miss Catherine Hess, New York City, internationally-known home economist, who has been conducting cooking classes on Prince Edward Island, left Saturday for Nova Scotia.

While in the province Miss Hess had as her assistant for four weeks, Mrs. Leigh (Olga) Donald. The demonstrations were very popular and largely attended.

Mrs. Una V. Wilson, Eastern Vice-President of the Canadian Federation of University Women, will speak to the Charlottetown branch at its monthly meeting on Thursday, November 13th.

Miss Wilson, a prominent educationist, is intensely interested in the Education and the Status of Women Committees in C.F.U.W. and U.N. Her address to the Charlottetown Club is being keenly anticipated.

Mrs. George Carmody (nee Anna Bell) and baby daughter Helen, Charlottetown, are spending a week visiting relatives and friends in Souris.

Miss Hattie Ross returned recently to Summerside after spending the past two weeks in Halifax.

Mrs. Lawrence Edwards left Tuesday morning by car for Dartmouth, N.S. She was accompanied by Mrs. Robert Boutiller who has been her guest for the past two days.

While in Dartmouth Mrs. Edwards will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Boutiller, Mountain Drive, Dartmouth. She will also visit with her mother and father-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Edwards of Mineville, Nova Scotia.

CONFIDENTIALLY YOURS —by Byrne Hope Sanders

MONTREAL, Nov. 13th—Seems to me that one of the good things we can do for our families is to see they have a cheery, nourishing breakfast. So easy to do, these days, with modern techniques. Think for instance of RED RIVER CEREAL—enjoyed by generations, and today cooked in a few minutes! Young and old, I find, enjoy the delicious blending of cracked wheat, and old rye and old rye and old rye...

YOUR MAGIC FRUIT CAKE—Make it in 15 minutes—keeps fresh for weeks—mails well, and is easy, quick, thrifty and "lively" to taste! Made with BORDEN'S EAGLE BRAND Sweetened Condensed Milk... Magic Fruit Cake.

MY SON AND I... have a streamlined routine for my weekday sandwiches; make them all on Saturday morning then pop them in the freezer. His favorites are those made with the zesty, old-time cheddar flavor of MAPLE LEAF PROCESS CHEESE. We rotate the three Maple Leaf Cheeses for variety—Maple Leaf Cheese Slices, vacuum-packed and interleaved; the smooth Ched-R-Spread which comes in reusable tumblers and refrigerator jars...

BRING THE MODERN COMFORTS OF LIFE into older homes. Think what it would mean to have a second bathroom... a more modern heating system... or some other long-wished-for improvement... without a major budget upset. You can do all these things and more, with an inexpensive BANK OF MONTREAL Home Improvement Loan. You can repay your loan in equal monthly instalments, plus interest at only 6% per annum, on the amount outstanding. Just secure a cost estimate on the improvements you plan, then see your nearest B of M manager about your Home Improvement Loan.

OUR PRIZED PET IS A DOG with definite ideas, particularly about his favourite food. DR. BALLARD'S CHAMPION DOG FOOD. Mr. K. may chew at sticks, stones or the occasional bone, but he knows (and we know) that it's Dr. Ballard's that keeps him healthy—his coat shiny, eyes bright. You see, Dr. Ballard's contains all the nutrients a dog needs. Give your dog Dr. Ballard's balanced nourishment—and you can be sure there's constant uniformity and quality in every tin. Chicken, Liver or Regular—each one is flavoured with pet will greet with enthusiasm. Give Dr. Ballard's to your pet, next feeding, and watch him thrive on it.

ELLEN'S DIARY

Ellen Attends A Play Presented By L. T. G.

"And how was your day, Ellen?" James asked from the Alderlea all day as was too the younger farmer to Rob's, asked when this evening returned the pair home.

"This was a nice day" we said. As it happened it included later an interesting trip to town with another housewife of the community, when the countryside was adorned with its jewelled necklace of lights, so pretty, so different too to those less-lighted years we have known. Our outing was for the purpose of attending a presentation of the Charlottetown Little Theatre Group.

"You must remember every last thing about those plays," Granddaughter bade us at leaving, her smile somewhat wistful "so that you will be able to tell me all about them tomorrow."

Worthy of remembering they were, and we could appreciate, to those who contributed in any degree to their presentation well worth the effort given.

To us a play is a miracle of sorts. The company takes the written words, and clothing them with their personality, real-and-how good when the role fits naturally!—or assumed, they mould and build all together into an invariably interesting and entertaining work of art.

"It was a nice day" James agreed, "now just a great day for the work we were at."

"The turnips... the crops all over the farms are gathered in now!" we knew.

James smiled in obvious relief, not we knew because of any labor entailed over the harvesting but that now the farmer must work daily against the coming of frost.

"We had the lost of the turnips in by noon" he said, "and it was good to have them done. There's always that risk of frost now. I never did waste a crop on the fields. There's a little point in sowing a crop I'd say, if a farmer is not going to take care to see that it's harvested."

"And then," we questioned, "what of the afternoon?" "We went to a neighboring farm and baled the surplus straw from a threshing. It will come in handy too through the winter—for bedding and an odd feed of it won't hurt the young cattle a bit. Sharpen their appetites, I always think. Baled... and stored the straw is. It was a choice day for such work. Couldn't have been better."

November sunshine there was, and a caressing wind, milk and sweet with the breath of fall-fields and woods' paths.

Yes, a good day for farm folks this has been, for which now humbly we "let the Lord be thanked."

Until tomorrow — — — Diary. Good-night.

YORK W.I.

The annual meeting of the Alpha Institute of York met at the home of Mrs. Richard Vessey with an attendance of sixteen members and two visitors. Meeting opened with Canada, followed by collect in union.

Minutes of last meeting were read and approved. Roll call was answered by handing in a Get Well card. The various collections were passed in to the treasurer Mrs. Harry Lewis. A very successful Halloween party was reported.

Mrs. Willard Murray, Secretary read the correspondence and each letter was discussed in turn. It was decided to have the presentation of the "Film for Safety" one evening in York Hall.

A donation of $5.00 was voted to be sent to the Unitarian Relief and also to the Springhill Mine Disaster Fund. The sick and school committees gave their reports and new ones were appointed: Mrs. Reuben Watts, Mrs. Lloyd Vessey, Mrs. William Crockett and Mrs. Dewar Swan. After the business part of the meeting was discussed, Mrs. Dewar Swan asked for an election of officers for the coming year in as follows: President, Mrs. Reuben Watts; vice president, Mrs. Richard Vessey; Secretary, Mrs. Willard Murray (re-elected); treasurer, Mrs. Richard Vessey; directors, Mrs. Frank Watts and Mrs. Peter Proud; auditors, Mrs. Raymond Vessey and Mrs. Harry Lewis. Roll call to be an exchange of Christmas gifts.

Meeting closed with singing the National Anthem, after which delicious refreshments were served by hostess and committee in charge, and a social half hour was enjoyed by all.
