SIR LOUIS' ITINERARY.

Gets a Cold Reception at Murray Harbor.

Telephonic advices report that Sir Louis Davies got a very cold reception at Murray Harbor last night. The hall was about half full, and the audience was made up largely of boys who were there for a good time.

The meeting was regarded by all hands as a failure. Sir Louis and Attorney General McKinnon labored hard to convince the people that the conservatives are opposed to the railway and bridge. But the people of Murray Harbor are not so easily deceived as Sir Louis and Mr. McKinnon would wish.

The prospect for the return of Mr. Prowse, the Opposition candidate, is excellent.

SOME EVIDENCE

SIR.—In a late issue of the Patriot we read an editorial to the effect that "some piles were recently brought over to Charlottetown, to be used in the construction of the new bridge,—and this is 'evidence' that the Government mean business."

Mr. Editor, this article recalls to our mind another little item of history which we will relate. In 1896, after money had been voted for the repairs of China Point wharf, a number of "poisoned piles" were brought over here; to be used in re-building the wharf, we were told. In 1897, when the local elections came on, the wharf had not been touched in the meantime,—and a poor benighted Tory would enquire why the work was not completed, or even begun; the grins would point to those "poisoned piles" on the bank and assure the poor Tory that they were "evidence" that the Government meant business with regard to the wharf. 1898 came and the piles were still giving "evidence" on the bank; and not till September, 1899, were they used in the wharf, after faithfully giving "evidence" for three long years.

And now we have some "evidence" come to Charlottetown of the grit intentions in regard to the bridge. Fellow electors, are you prepared to see those piles give "evidence" of our "business government" for three years or more? We think not, but that the voice of the people of Belfast and Murray Harbor in the coming elections will be "Get thee gone, base deceivers, and give place to honest men."

ELECTOR.

PERSONAL.

Rev. D. B. Reid was in the city to-day. Rev. I. R. A. Macdonald, of St. Teresa's is visiting Charlottetown.

Mr. E. L. Philips, of St. John, the well-known insurance adjuster, is at the Hotel Davies.

By the death of Mrs. John Rendle, recorded elsewhere, Charlottetown loses a well-known and esteemed resident.

Mrs. Matheson, Mrs. Campbell and Miss McKee, who have been attending the W. C. T. U. convention in Halifax, returned to Charlottetown last evening. Mrs. Poole, Mrs. Goff and some others of the delegates are expected in the course of a day or two.

The Halifax Herald of Thursday has an excellent likeness of Mr. H. C. McLeod, of the bank of Nova Scotia, who is to be presented with a loving cup of handsome design by the Royal Canadian Yacht Club. The cup is to be presented in recognition of Mr. McLeod's valuable services in defence of Canada's cup. Mr. McLeod, it may be added, is a Prince Edward Islander.

Louis Hesselein, of the Halifax Hotel, was married on Wednesday afternoon to Miss Annie Oland, daughter of Conrad Oland, manager of the Turtle Grove brewery. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. J. Armitage, at the residence of the bride's father, Dartmouth. Mr. and Mrs. Hesselein, have gone on an extended tour of Upper Canada and the United States.

Rev. Leo Williams, the new rector of St. Paul's Church, is evidently a great favorite of his congregation in Halifax. At a farewell meeting given him in Halifax an evening or two ago he was presented with a handsome library desk of the latest design and a beautifully chased communion service for the sick. Both gifts were accompanied by addresses, and they were fittingly acknowledged. Mr. and Mrs. Williams are expected to arrive in Charlottetown to-morrow night.

SCHOONER LOST YESTERDAY.

Captain and Crew Saved by the Jacques Cartier.

The schr. Safe Guide, Captain Kenny, of Sheet Harbor, whilst on the way from Crapaud to Salmon River, N. S., sprang leak about three miles off St. Peter's Island about eleven o'clock yesterday morning and sank within twenty minutes.

Captain Kenny and his son and brother, constituting the crew, took to their boat and were five hours trying to make the land and would have perished were it not for the timely arrival of the steamer Jacques Cartier which picked them up and brought them to Charlottetown to-day.

The schooner had a full cargo of produce shipped by Wright Bros. of Crapaud, besides some produce and live stock belonging to the captain, all of which was lost.

The cargo was insured. The schooner was owned by Captain Kenny and was not insured.

Captain Kenny speaks in terms of praise of Captain McLean and the crew of the Jacques Cartier, and hopes that the Minister of Marine and Fisheries will see that they are suitably rewarded, as he and all the other members of the schooner's crew would have perished were it not for the timely arrival of the steamer.

COLONIAL EMPIRE.

A large audience assembled in Grace Church last evening to listen to Dr. Carman's eloquent and vigorous lecture on Colonial Empire. Mayor Warburton was chairman and opened the evening with a few remarks, and introduced the lecturer.

Dr. Carman said that colonization was divinely appointed way to Empire. When man appeared he was commanded of God to be fruitful and multiply. But the tendency of mankind is to concentrate, to huddle and not expand. The lecturer reviewed the colonization systems of the Greeks and the Romans. When people began to diverge and form various they were not Dutch, and Scotchmen and Russians, they were all Britons. All through history Providence has been quietly working and bringing things to pass that were meant as a preparation for the building up of the British Empire. The arm of God silently prepared the way of our Empire. And at this moment something is transpiring in South Africa which means much. Speaking of the treaty of Mejsaba Hill, Dr. Carman said that if 'sovereignty' had been used instead of 'userainty' there would be no need of our boys now to fight for the Empire. But it is for the destruction of tyranny that Britain is at war. Of all the free nations of the earth the British is the freest. Instead of comparing the British Empire with other nations, the lecturer said it were better to contrast them. A constitutional, limited monarchy was far ahead of a system of election for the head of the nation. In this respect the people of the United States could possess patriotism but not loyalty, for loyalty is the love for the crown. The responsible form of Government was another excellency of our empire. Our judicial system where the judges are appointed by the crown is vastly superior to that of the United States where they are elected. The speaker referred to the feat of Columbus as the sublime event of material history. Before Dr. Carman finished his able lecture he favored his audience by reading a poem on Canada composed by himself when a young man.

A vote of thanks was moved by Mr. Seaman, and seconded by Rev. J. J. Treasdaid. Closed by singing God Save the Queen.
