THE DAILY EXAMINER.

OCTOBER 26, 1880.

The St. John Telegraph's correspondent reports that:

"Professor Sheldon was particularly struck by the manner in which the plum trees in New Brunswick, were protected in winter. When he entered the plum orchard he saw about two hundred trees lying flat on the ground, and upon inquiring what it meant, was told that to protect the trees during the winter, the earth is loosened around their roots and they are then bent down on the ground, where they are covered up by the snow. This practice is followed till the trees are about twenty years old. The trees that are thus covered by snow give a much larger yield than those that are exposed all winter. The idea was a novel one to the delegates, who were greatly taken with it."

This is a hint by which persons in this Province, who have plum trees, may perhaps, profit.

It is gratifying to know that telegraphic communication has been established with Anticosti. When the line is completed telegraphic communication may be had, with all important parts of the Island. A late report from the island respecting what has already been done in this matter, says:—

"There are about 60 miles of poles planted between here and East point, leaving 30 miles to complete that section. No wire is out up in that section. From this to English Bay, about 35 miles of poles are planted and 10 miles of wires up, leaving 35 miles of poles to compete that section; it is expected to be completed next June. The cable was successfully landed here on the evening of the 18th, and is now working splendidly direct to Gaspe Basin. The Morse printing instrument and the Silver-town patent Ceclanche battery agglomerate cells are working well. They are cutting a trench in the rock for the cable and will finish it in a few days. We are happy to say that we shall no longer be separated from the mainland during the winter."

Temperance.

The following item, which has the right ring about it is an extract from the proceedings of the P. E. Island Baptist Association held at Tryon:

"This Association of Baptist Churches takes this opportunity of expressing our most devout gratitude to God, that the liquor traffic is at least to a great extent shorn of its respectability and legal protection by the enactment of the 'Canada Temperance Law.'"

We also wish to record that loyalty to Christ, as well as the terms of our enlistment, bind us to wage an intelligent and persistent warfare against intemperance, wherever and in whatever form it may present itself.

Resolved, That as a body we pledge ourselves to use all laudable means to render the law already enacted as effectual as possible in freeing our beloved country from the baneful, blighting scourge of drunkenness.

Resolved, That this Association cannot look upon any church as in good standing, that will allow persons to remain in her communion who will persist in the use of intoxicating liquors as a beverage. That this Association regards such a church as throwing the her influence around and perpetuating one of the most insidious agencies which the enemy can use against the Redeemer's cause on earth.

We desire still to record our heartiest conviction that the Gospel of Christ is the unfailing power to emancipate the inebriate, and that every minister of Christ should give the subject of temperance a permanent place in his regular preaching of the word."

MORGAN O'BRIEN, who had been drinking heavily all last week, was arrested and lodged in the Dartmouth (N. S.) Police station on Friday last. During the night he committed suicide. He took his silk handkerchief, twisted it into a rope, and, fastening one end securely to the cross bars of his cell, made a strong slip noose of the other end, and, lacing it round his neck, by drawing up his feet and folding his arms, let the whole weight of his body come on the cord round his neck, which ran tight and strangled him.

HEAVY SENTENCES.—At the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia, on the 22nd inst., Chief Justice Young sentenced White and Foster, the two soldiers belonging to the 97th Regiment, who smashed the windows in Hollis Street, to eight years each in the Dorchester Penitentiary. George Mason, of Dartmouth, for indecent exposure of his person, and Edward Turner, for unnatural crime, were each sentenced to two years in the Penitentiary.

Lieutenant General Leicester Smyth has sailed from England to take command of the English troops at the Cape of Good Hope.

THERE were on the 23rd inst., sixteen Island vessels in Halifax harbor.

Clippings From Late Papers.

Sir A. T. Galt is in Ottawa.

Carlyle is within a few weeks of 85 years old.

A Japanese lady is at the head of one of the classes at Vassar College.

A Berlin despatch to the Times announces that Prince Hohenlohe, whose serious illness with gastric fever was reported on the 17th inst., is better.

A Paris despatch to the Times says:—"The announcement that M. Gambetta's speeches will shortly be published, has given rise to the idea that he intends, at the next opportunity, to be a candidate for admission to the French Academy."

The Cologne Gazette and the Berlin Post combine to attack and denounce Mr. Gladstone. The former calls him a dangerous fanatic, and attributes the agitation in Ireland to the contagion of his revolutionary schemes in the East. The latter accuses him of pursuing a policy in the East opposed to the true interests of England.

A letter purporting to have been written by Gambetta, has just been published in the Gazzetta del Popolo. Gambetta declares that if Garibaldi should come to Paris he would be welcomed with love and gratitude as the hero of Dijon and the representative of noble, generous Italy. It is not inapposite perhaps to recall here the fact that when dictator in 1880 Gambetta once gave orders for the arrest of the Dijon hero.

In a press despatch it is stated that the Government have ample security for the completion of the line in ten years, from Lake Nipissing to the Pacific. The details of the agreement will hardly be made public, however, until the meeting of Parliament. Members of the Syndicate are anxious for an early session, so that arrangements for the immediate prosecution of the work may be made.

The school question is again looming up in Ottawa. A despatch says that "Bishop Duhamel has expressed his willingness to meet a deputation of Roman Catholics and discuss the school question, and if it can be shown that Catholic children suffer in the race of life in competition with Protestants on account of the defects of the separate schools, he is prepared to govern himself accordingly."

HARD ON THE POLITICIANS.—The New York Herald says: "For once the travelling public has been mistaken in its very natural supposition that every one who behaves in public conveyances in a rude and irrational manner is a politician. Twenty-four actual lunatics have just been transferred by rail from one asylum to another, and some of them acted almost as badly as a lot of delegates coming home from a convention."

The cradle of the infant Princess of Spain is of polished ebony, inlaid with silver; its form is that of open shell; the curtains are of silver gauze enamelled with white velvet flowers, the coverlet of white satin on which are embroidered in brilliant colors the arms of Spain. One lady grand-esse stands at the foot of the cradle and during the royal infant's slumbers to watch the precise moment of her awakening; another grandesse stands at the head, armed with a huge feather fan to chase away the flies. The royal Spanish crown, which in silver gilt hangs in front of the cradle, is the work of Froment, the great Parisian goldsmith. The cost of the cradle, without the hangings of fine lace and the furniture of marabout feathers which surround it, is estimated at $1,400.

The condition of Macedonia is said to rival the condition of France before the Revolution. Assassination was never so common. Within less than two months twenty-seven Turks, including a wealthy bey, near Kenprulu, and two tithe registrars, have been murdered by Bulgars in the district of Kenprulu alone. The Turks have been prompt to respond, and about double the number of Bulgarians have paid the penalty of their lives to the revengeful feelings of the Turks. The prisons of Kenprulu and Perlike are overflowing with unfortunate wretches arrested without accusation or warning. In the districts of Kenprulu and Prilep affairs are more especially bad, for they are the two principal centres of the Bulgarian population of Northwest Macedonia. With the country Turks the feeling toward the Bulgarians is a composite sentiment of hatred and fear. The latter has been aroused on account of the ill treatment of the Mussulmans in Bulgaria, thousands of whom are in Macedonia as refugees, slowly diminishing in numbers from disease and starvation. The beys and aghas look on the wretched Christians as so many cattle. Men like Hamid Agha, at Kenprulu; Char-kir Bey, recently murdered at Vetersko, close to Kenprulu, by a Bulgarian, for having carried off his sister; Eessad Pacha, near Uskup (this latter makes every newly-married bride among his Christian villages pass the night of her marriage in his company), are merely examples of what goes on all over the country.

A Good Account.

"To sum it up, six long years of bed-ridden sickness and suffering, costing $200 per year, total $1,200—all which was stopped by three bottles of Hop Bitters taken by my wife, who has done her own housework for a year since, without the loss of a day, and I want everybody to know it for their benefit."
