

P.E.I. Yorkshires Are Rated Tops Among Nation's Porkers

The Prince Edward Island Yorkshire is fattening farmers' pocketbooks as a reward for 20 years of zealous and jealous breeding that has given it regal status among Canada's porkers.

An agreement to bar imported breeding stock to stress local developments today brings acknowledgment that the Island-type Yorkshire is "hard to beat" as a source of a safe, dependable cash income. Since 1943 producers have watched the quality of their product improve from a general 39.8 per cent grade A to the present 57.9 per cent.

In that span of years the percentage of Island hogs winning the coveted grade A stamp has been double the Canadian average. And the P.E.I. porkers have hogged the prizes at Toronto's Royal Winter Fair.

Junior Farmers Hold Meeting As New Glasgow

NEW GLASGOW — New Glasgow and districts Junior Farmers assembled in their Recreation Centre for their regular meeting on November 26. The president Leith Dickieson called the meeting to order and extended a welcome to all.

Roll was answered by 14 members David Hart was introduced to the members by Dannie Nesbitt. The treasurer gave a report of $279. on hand with a check outstanding. It was agreed to place plywood around the counter. Dust bane will be secured for use while sweeping. The drink cooler will be moved to Leith Dickieson's for safe keeping for the winter.

Canteen committee reported coal and additional canteen has federal agriculture department's senior livestock field man. Prompted by breeders who were dissatisfied with consistently low market grades, Mr. Clay helped map out the program that produced the specific type Yorkshire.

STOCK CULLED Besides the bar on imported breeding stock there were advanced registry tests for all sows scoring under a certain mark in slaughter tests and close culling of all breeding stock. The hog is a young, lean, fast-growing specimen which normally reaches top market condition in five to six months.

Mr. Clay retires next year. He isn't satisfied yet. He wants continued elimination of foreign breeding stock "which might contaminate our Island strain with defects."

And too many mature hogs of the 100,000 produced annually are grading higher than Grade A weights from 140 to 170 pounds. He thinks the island should attain a 75-per-cent grade A rating.

Delinquency No Problem, Chief Says

Juvenile delinquency is not a problem in the City of Charlottetown City Police Chief C. W. MacArthur told the Charlottetown YMCA So-Ed group at the "Y" last evening. "We have a nice bunch of children," Chief MacArthur said.

Mr. MacArthur remarked that it was a very sad thing to see children growing up to be delinquents. The parents' greatest role, he said, was to make children good citizens and grow up to be a credit to society.

He noted that usually the main cause of juvenile delinquency were broken homes and also where the parents are living together but provide no home life for their children.

"The greatest breeding ground for delinquency is the slum areas, where there are poor living conditions and standards are at a minimum," Chief MacArthur said. He noted that these conditions do not exist in Prince Edward Island.

Schools In Province Will Have Further Fire Inspection, Says

All schools in Charlottetown, Summerside and throughout the province will undergo further fire inspection, it was announced last night by Fire Marshal Earl MacLeod.

Mr. MacLeod said he and Fire Chief J. J. Jewell, will undertake new inspections in the city's schools.

IN N. S. ALSO HALIFAX (CP) — Mayor Charles A. Vaughan Wednesday ordered an immediate check of all city schools to make sure students can leave quickly in case of fire.

His comment came after fire chief Fred MacGillivray ordered three double-door exits in the 300-pupil Ardmore school.

"The matter is too important to be dealt with lightly and I'm not going to waste any time on it," the mayor said. The inspection of school exits will be carried out by the fire department.

CONSTANT CHECKS Chief MacGillivray said his 10-man fire prevention department is "making a complete check all the time."

"If any hazards are reported recommendations are made for immediate action to correct them."

The fire chief said night bolts had been put on one section of each of three double-door exits at the Ardmore school. An assistant replacing a sick janitor had not been told to release the bolts each morning.

All Nova Scotia schools are equipped by law with "panic hardware," specially designed locks which open from the inside when slight pressure is applied to bars across the doors.

"I think our school buildings are as safe as any in Canada if not more so," Chief MacGillivray Nova Scotia fire marshal Kenneth Partington said Tuesday that a fire in some of the older school buildings in the province could be as disastrous as Monday's outbreak in Chicago which killed 90 persons, including 87 school children.

Increased Membership Said Need Of Children's Ass'n

At the regular monthly meeting of the P.E.I. Association for Retarded Children held Monday it was decided that one of the urgent needs of the association locally was an enlarged membership which would be better equipped to deal with the pressing problems of the organization and at the same time broadcast the aims and objectives of the group to the public at large.

It was felt that parents or retarded children especially should be induced to join not only for what they could contribute, but also for the moral support and assistance which they could enjoy by working with others having similar problems.

As this is convention year it was agreed, Prince Edward Island should prove by virile support and co-operation, that its contribution to the national cause is worthy of its history and heritage.

The well attended meeting chaired by president Leo Berrigan heard a satisfactory progress report by Roy Smallman chairman of the convention committee.

It was unanimously agreed that the thanks of the association be extended to the Guardian, Patriot CFY and Maritime Electric Co. for their generous assistance during Retarded Children's Week.

The president informed the meeting that he had been invited to address the West Prince Association at O'Leary on Dec. 2nd. Plans were made for to hold a "Bring Buy Sale" at the January meeting, and members were urged to bring along at least two guests for this event.

Believe Sputnik Rocket Burned

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Scientists said Wednesday night that the enormous rocket which sent Russia's Sputnik III into orbit may have burned up in the earth's atmosphere.

Dr. John White, at the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory, said the evidence was purely negative. So far as known nobody saw the big rocket plunge through the earth's dense atmosphere. But even so, scientists doubted it was still in flight.

Absence of any reports whatsoever on the rocket after observations during the forenoon tended to support predictions that Wednesday would be the last day of the rocket's life. The empty metal tube, hurtling around the earth in revolutions of less than 1 1/2 hours, had been dragged steadily lower by the pull of the earth's gravity.

The theme "The Role of Parents", in which the environment of the home as it affected the student child was considered.
