

ACCEPTS SCHOLARSHIP

Members of the Tignish High School Red Cross have recently completed a $500 scholarship project which they have been working on for three years. Mrs. W.W. Reid, director of Junior Red Cross Service for the province accepts the scholarship which will be sent to a student in Africa from Peggy Hogan, secretary of the Tignish Regional High School junior members. The scholarship will help enable this student to receive an education which will enable him to aid in the development of his country. Looking on are Jimmy Arsenault, president and Sister St. Angela Marie, teacher adviser.

Former Island Resident Addresses SDU Graduates

The gaining of a proper philosophy of education through the guiding light of faith and the supernatural help of grace was stressed yesterday afternoon in the Baccalaureate Sermon to the graduates of St. Dunstan's University.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. Dr. Clark McAulay, C.Ss.R., of Quebec City, a native of Charlottetown and a graduate of SDU in the class of 1947.

Dr. McAulay told the graduates that they should have acquired intellectual and moral virtues — "intellectual virtues which order and classify all human knowledge; and moral virtues which are called into play in every human act, from buying a newspaper to building a skyscraper."

aggregate of human life, not for the purpose of reducing it, but in order to elevate, regulate and perfect it. The product is the man and woman of character."

He traced this form of education through three dimensions: knowledge, wisdom and faith.

The knowledge dimension, he said, "respects the integrity and dignity of the students and lays part of the foundation of what they are to be and do in this life."

The wisdom dimension "furnishes the answers to the fundamental questions of human existence," and faith "is man's personal, living response to God, who has spoken to man first. It is man's action-filled response to God's overture of redeeming love in the process of salvation."

The development of faith, he said, occurs through the stages of childhood, youth, maturity and old age with each revealing its separate characteristics.

In the person of mature faith, Dr. McAulay said, "the reality of existence asserts itself and his whole way of acting and thinking is changed to one in which realism predominates. The resulting faith will be a faith with stamina. This is a faith grounded, not in enthusiasm and boundless expectation, but in steadfastness in the face of reality; a faith aware of difficulties and responsibilities, with a loyalty based, not on emotions, but on conviction and strength of mind."

But even this form of faith is not the final one, he said. The faith of old age "has cast aside the dreamy aloofness of childhood, renounced the endless demands of youth, has experienced the transitory and seen how fleeting is human life and how questionable its work and ways. Something final, something real has come through. This is the pure reality of an eternity of endless fulfillment. This second childhood, like the first childhood, feels that everything is under God's protection and that all will be well."

He emphasized that faith was not inferior to reason, but should be considered "as a gift infused by God" and, as such, "it is infinitely higher than reason."

Union Presents 40 Page Brief

A 40-page brief presented Saturday to a board of conciliation in a contract between Charlottetown and the Canadian Union of Public Employees, states that wage rates from Charlottetown's municipal employees "fall decidedly below the standard on all counts."

The agreement, covering 75 police, street and property maintenance, clerical and administrative employees, expired December 31.

Presenting the brief at a meeting in the Charlottetown Hotel Saturday morning was Alan MacLeod, president of Local 501, and his committee.

The local seeks reduction of the current 44-hour week to 40 hours by eliminating Saturday morning work.

It says Charlottetown is the Atlantic region's only unionized municipality with more than 5,000 population that has not established the 40-hour week.

The workers also seek pay increases ranging from $200 to $500 a year. The brief describes the city's offer of five per cent over two years as "completely inadequate."

Current weekly rate of laborers based on a 40-hour week is $45.26. Current annual salary for first-class police constable is $3,708.

IS NAMED

Jimmy Martin, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Martin, 23 Edward Street, is the Guardian-Patriot newsboy of the week. Jimmy is known around the circulation department as "Woody Woodpecker" because of his fine imitation of the little cartoon character's famous laugh. Jimmy is 12, a grade 5 student at St. Jean's School, and carries 76 Patriots each day. He started about four months ago with 49 and has since acquired another route. He is a hockey fan—his favorite team is Montreal, his favorite player is Henri "Pocket Rocket" Richard, and he sometimes makes puzzles and model cars.

Third Fatality Occurs Saturday

The province's third highway fatality for 1966 occurred Saturday when a 1956 Chevrolet occupied by three residents of Prince County left the highway near Alinx and came to rest after rolling over a steep embankment into a brook.

Dead is 18-year-old Mark Handrahan of Tignish. Injured Billy Harper of Argyle and Robert McCarthy, Sea Cow Pond, reported in serious condition in Prince County Hospital in Summerside.

The youths were students in Charlottetown and were returning home when the accident occurred at 2:00 p.m. Mark Handrahan, son of Gerald A. Handrahan, manager of the Tignish Co-operative Association Ltd., had just completed his sophomore year at St. Dunstan's University.

COMPLETED TRAINING
Billy Harper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Harper of Argyle, was also in his sophomore year at St. Dunstan's while Robert McCarthy of Sea Cow Pond, had just completed training at the Provincial Vocational Institute.

Dr. W.A. Shea pronounced Handrahan dead at the scene of the accident. An autopsy was performed Saturday.

The accident was investigated by Alberton detachment of the RCMP.

Surviving members of Mark's family besides his parents are Joanne and Jean, both teaching in Quebec and Peter, Bernard and Betty Ann at home.

Festival Activity Concluded

The 21st annual competitive Prince Edward Island Music Festival finished Saturday morning. The week long festival was produced in three locations on the Island. They were Summerside, Charlottetown and a two day session was held in Montague. Most of the sessions in Charlottetown were held in the Confederation Centre and a class was held in the Zion Church. In Summerside the festival was located in the Civic Auditorium and Elm Street School. All sessions in Montague were held in the Montague Regional auditorium.

The adjudicators for this year's festival were Lloyd Queen, Toronto, Ontario; Frances Wickberg, Winnipeg, Manitoba; Earle K. Riddell, Montreal, Quebec and Marcia Loyd from Charlottetown. This was the first time in recent years that all the adjudicators have been chosen from Canada.

Tuesday night at the Confederation Centre the Stars of the Festival concert will be presented. Summerside held their Saturday night.

In the past class winners have been invited, but officials said that this year due to the large number of classes and entries this procedure will not prevail. Instead the committee involved in picking the stars will send invitations to those who have been chosen to appear.

The Bell-Tone Singers women's chorus received the highest mark in the festival, 90, and had two of their performers tagged. These tapes are sent to Winnipeg and will be heard by a panel of adjudicators who will choose the winner of the Lincoln trophy for the outstanding performance in all the festivals across Canada.

Mrs. E. MacPhail Passes Away

Mrs. Ewen MacPhail, Argyle Shore, the former Rena Yeo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orman Yeo of Kingston, died suddenly in the P.E.I. Hospital on May 6 in her 26th year.

Those surviving besides her husband, one infant daughter, one sister, Mrs. Eric Matheson, Milton; one brother Dale, at home; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orman Yeo.

Funeral will be held from the Cutcliffe Funeral Home today at three o'clock. Interment in the Argyle Cemetery.

Ruth Anneer of Montague captured the annual 1966 automobile road-e-o Saturday when she outmaneuvered 14 other contestants from Queens and Kings counties at driving competition exercises on Confederation Centre parking lot.

The annual teen-age safe driving road-e-o, sponsored by the Charlottetown Junior Chamber of Commerce, consisted of a written examination required to be taken by all contestants before they were actually tested on their ability to handle an automobile.

The written examinations were given to 15 contestants under the age of 20 who were not guilty of any traffic violations during 12 months prior to the road-e-o. The other rule, which is understood, stipulated that each contestant possess a driver's license.

TOP DRIVERS
Three top drivers were chosen from the 15 contestants. Those receiving prizes besides Miss Anneer were David Swan of Charlottetown and Clive Johnston of Montague.

Miss Anneer, who won the championship trophy, was also the recipient of approximately $75 in prizes donated by local merchants and is entitled to an expense paid trip to Sydney, N.S., where she will compete with other road-e-o champions for the Atlantic provinces championship.

The Atlantic meet, sponsored by an oil company will take place Saturday, May 21. Winners of the Atlantic road-e-o will compete for the National Championship.

SECOND PLACE
David Swan, who finished second in the Queens-Kings counties road-e-o, received about $40 worth of prizes while Clive Johnston, finishing in third position, was the recipient of approximately $30 worth of merchandise. Judges for the competition included Constable Don Eva, Sgt. Keith Wakelin of the City Police force; Constable J. W. Oland of the RCMP detachment in Charlottetown; and Paul McPhail, provincial driving examiner.

Other contestants, apart from the prize winners included David Turner, Charlottetown; Marlene McGowan, Montague; Tom MacLeod, Charlottetown; John Brown, Charlottetown; Lester Shaw, Charlottetown; Diane Condon, Lower Montague; Robert Gregory, Souris; Daryl Beaton, Bonshaw; Marie Dunphy, Cherry Valley; John MacDonald, Souris; Donald Thompson, Dunstons; Allan Paquet, Souris.
