

DOGS TO PERFORM AT BARN CANADIAN CROSSROADS INTERNATIONAL DANCE RE-SCHEDULED

A fundraising dance celebrating China's "Year of the Monkey" and featuring known local band, The Dogs, will be held at the U.E.P.I. Barn on Saturday, April 4th.

The dance, which was scheduled to be held on February 29 but had to be cancelled due to bad weather, is being held to raise funds for Canadian Crossroads International in aid of local volunteer Leo Cheverie, a library technician at Robertson Library, U.P.E.I. In September 1992, he will be teaching English to young teachers and students at a training school run by an agricultural bank.

Tianjing is China's third largest city with a population of seven million. It sits astride China's largest artificial harbour and is a key transportation hub serving the populous North China Plain. The city is the smallest of China's three centrally administered municipalities; the others are Beijing and Shanghai. "I am looking forward to a challenging and rewarding experience during my stay in Tianjing," says Mr. Cheverie. "In addition to teaching English, I hope to absorb some of China's culture and give people there some knowledge of Canadian culture."

Canadian Crossroads International is a voluntary association that provides participants with cross-cultural learning experiences. Through these experiences, CCI hopes to create and enhance mutual understanding and respect among people of different cultures. Toward this end, each volunteer is expected to raise $2,000 in his or her home community before serving in another country. Prince Edward Island's other crossroader is Gerard Peters, a Business Administration Senior at UPEI who will be going to Guyana in September for a placement.

During the dance, people will be able to view a display of written materials describing CCI and its programs. And, in keeping with the Chinese theme, there will be a series of draws for door prizes, including some from China.

And fans of The Dogs will be pleased to know that well-known guitar player Chris Corrigan, recently on a national tour with Lennie Gallant, will be reunited with the band. The other band members are vocalist and guitarist Mike Mooney, recent winner of the CBC-Radio songwriting contest; bass player Chas Guay; drummer Dale DesRoches; and keyboard player Shawn Ferris. Dancing from 9 to 1. UPEI students Craig Cormier and Andrew Cormier will open up for The Dogs with their renditions of songs from bands like the Bare naked Ladies.
