A Suggestion.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

SIR,—During the late elections, I have noticed that nearly all the candidates propounded schemes for the reduction of the expenses and machinery of Government and legislation; but it appears to me that a most feasible and simple method of reform has been entirely overlooked by all the aspirants for political honors in the year 1882. Instead of all the silly schemes of political humbugs, I now propose a plan which, I believe, requires only to be mentioned to be universally approved. Let the office of Lieutenant Governor, the Executive and Legislative Councils, and the House of Assembly, be abolished, and relieve the property holders, as well as the young men, of the trouble and annoyance of voting at elections. Instead of all this useless machinery, let Ezekiah H. Pollard, at present Deputy Sheriff, be constituted Elector General for the whole Island, and let him choose twenty-four persons who may seem to him proper and good men to act as a Grand Jury. To this Grand Jury let full power be given to appropriate public property, and control public expenditures, and to "demand" that all men in authority under them shall faithfully carry out their behests.
Some over-cautious individuals may object to this plan on the ground that the Elector General might not exercise a sound discrimination in the choice of jurors. With those who know how high-minded a gentleman Mr. Pollard is, this objection must have small weight indeed. Besides it will be improbable that the Elector General himself might be prevailed on to take part in the deliberation of the jury. Others might object that men of the greatest ability might be found unwilling, through excess of modesty, to assume so much responsibility. The report of the Grand Jury in Monday's EXAMINER, signed "George W. Milner, Foreman," effectually disproves that objection. The adoption of my plan would lead to another advantage, at least for the present year. The value of tin as a material for the construction and maintenance of public works, would not be so shamefully overlooked as it is under our present cumbersome machinery, and there would be no danger of misfits in the Government stove-piping.
EUREKA.

Mill View Literary Institute.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

DEAR MR. EDITOR,—As you have, on former occasions, favored us with your space in publishing an account of the organization of our Society, we will again crave your indulgence to insert the following brief synopsis of the transactions of our Institute, since it first came into existence.
The first evening we discussed, "Which has done the greater Evil, War or Intemperance?" The Debate was an exceedingly animated one; the speakers on Intemperance were the President, Edward Grant, Esq., J. P., P. F. Doyle, and Wm. Grant, jr.; on War, J. W. Young, N. G. McDonald, John McGillivray, Esq., J. P., Walter Grant, and Ed. Fraser. On the following Wednesday evening we discussed the old timed subject, "Reading vs. Travelling." Decision given in favor of the latter. Our last debate was on the subject "Which is the greater incentive to exertion, the fear of Punishment or the hope of Reward?" Mr. Angus McKenzie opened the subject, and argued with good effect that the latter was by far the greater stimulus to exertion.
He spoke of the sacrifices men had made to gain a reward, also, the strenuous efforts put forth by human beings, generally, for the accomplishment of a similar end. W.
G. McDonald, the respondent, replied, and in a forcible speech showed up the other side in its best light. A lively discussion followed, in which, besides the two just mentioned, the following gentlemen took part: Edward Grant, Esq., J. N. Young, and Alfred Hynes appearing for the Hope of Reward; and Messrs Walter Grant, F.
Doyle, Wm. Grant, jr., and Jeremiah Murphy of China Point, for Fear of Punishment. The speeches were, on the whole, better than those of the previous evenings. This was due no doubt, to the presence of several of the fair sex, who made their appearance in the Society for the first time, and whose smiling faces and fair forms, inspired the young gentlemen with unusual vim. After the opener had closed the discussion, the chairman, John A. Smith, gave the decision in favor of the Hope of Reward. After the usual vote of thanks, the meeting rose, and with uncovered heads, and loyal hearts, sang in full choir, "The National Anthem." The programme for the next evening's entertainment, is as follows:— Recitation Alfred Grant, Reading John A. Smith,
Recitation James Lutz,
Recitation J. M. Young,
Recitation James Grant,
Reading Alfred Hynes,
Song From the Choir,
Recitation Jerry Murphy,
Recitation Wm. Grant, jr.

When this is done, if any time be spared it will be devoted to discuss the subject, "Which is the stronger passion, Love or Hatred." Now, Mr. Editor, I am not addicted to boasting, but I will, nevertheless, hazard the assertion, that you may travel P. E.
Island over, and visit all the Debating Societies from East Cape to West Point, and you will not find an Institution (taking into consideration the time of its birth) that can show more satisfactory results, nor any in which the young men use so cleverly and persistently the few talents entrusted to their care; and I have no doubt that on some future day, when, in pointing to some of the brightest stars that sparkle in the glowing galaxy of the literary firmament, it will be said of them that the first step to success was taken in the Mill View Literary Institute.

I am Sir,
Yours respectfully,
J. M. YOUNG,
Secretary.
Mill View, Jan. 9, 1883.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

SIR,—For years past I have taken an active interest in Civic affairs. I, in common with our citizens, grieved to witness year by year a deficit placed upon us until we were virtually groaning beneath the weight. Happily this order of things has been reversed, and we have the satisfaction of finding for the past two years surpluses placed to the credit of the City. Especially for 1882 we may be grateful to our City Council who, by their published report, show an actual saving of more than eighteen hundred dollars. Why then the clamoring of those agitators who seem to be embittered without cause? Will the electors reject those Councilors, who by uniting attention to the City's interests, have during the past two years brought about such a creditable state of things? Will they prefer fossils whose sole recommendation seems to be a diarrhoea of words?
Who do not profess to be able to do any better, if as well—whose attitude is that of the dog in the manger? I cannot think that our citizens will run such a serious risk. If unhappily the present Council should be defeated, and their places filled by their traducers, our people may, at the end of the year, awaken to the fact that deficits are again in order—that the pernicious system of former years has been revived, and that we are at the mercy of "mixers and muddlers."

The credit of the City would be ruined, and our Banks repeat their action of last spring, and refuse any advances.

Electors, study your own interests; return the present Councilors, whom you have PROVEN to be most capable men, and thus acknowledge your appreciation of their work. Give their relentless opponents a quietus, permanent in its nature, and by this means show your disapproval of those whose words lack argument and whose anathema is without effect.

Yours,
AN OLD RESIDENT.
Ch'town, Jan. 17, 1883.

LENOX COTTAGE, Grafton Street,
January 16th, 1883.

MY DEAR SIR,—I consider that the almanac of our friend Mr. Chappelle, is a credit to him and to this Island. In Arithmetic and Astronomy I do not pretend to be a judge; but in the article headed "Subordinate Divisions on P. E.
Island," (I know not what kind of Divisions they may be) one of them, "Crapaud," is named "Lady Fane." I believe that there never was such a person as "Lady Fane." The late Proprietor (I should say Proprietress) of one moiety of Lot 29, in this Island, was Lady Georgiana Fane, so called by courtesy, she being the daughter of the Earl of Westmorland, and being, strictly and legally, the Honorable Cicely Jane Georgiana Fane, although courtesy and politeness, which is, or used to be, only observed in Great Britain, termed her "Lady Georgiana Fane." Aristocracy, as a system, has, of late years, been so con-temptuously spoken of here and in certain other localities, that I think it would be well that those who vilify it, should know something about it,—and am glad to be able to inform them.

I am, my dear Sir,
Your constant reader,
VIOH DHOMVILLE NAN ORD.

Railroad employees in the United States complain that they are not allowed sufficient time for rest and sleep. Some of them are frequently kept twenty-two hours without sleep, and when a stoppage occurs they are obliged to try to keep awake for thirty hours continuously. The consequence is that the men, overcome with fatigue, sleep while on duty, and this is the cause of many accidents. The over-working of the men is said not to be confined to one line, but is general. It is caused by the parsimony of Companies, who endeavour to get as much work out of the men as possible. These Companies spare no expense in fitting up the cars handsomely, but in their dealings with the men on whose care and vigilance the safety of the passengers depends they are everything but liberal. More would be heard of this ill-use of employees and injustice to the travelling public if the men dare speak out, but knowing that if it was found out that they complained they would lose their situations, they are generally silent.

The Great French Remedy, Dr. LeDuc's Periodical Pills.

For the cure of Leucorrhoea or White's Excessive or painful Menstruation, Green Sickness, Falling of the Womb, Catarrh of the Uterus or Vagina, Hysteria, Pain in the Back or Piles, or for the purpose of Invigorating and giving tone to the Generative Organs, two pills should be taken twice daily, or in very enfeebled conditions, one pill three times a day. To effect cure in chronic cases it will be necessary to continue the use of the remedy for some months. A reasonable trial will create sufficient confidence in the remedy to insure its being taken until a permanent cure is effected.
