IN MEMORIAM

MARION M. KING

The death occurred in the Charlottetown Hospital Sunday morning, July 8th, of Marion M. King, after a short illness of cerberal hemorrhage.

For upwards of 30 years Marion King was a valued employee of the Eastern Trust Company, where, by her qualities of mind and heart she, not only endeared herself to the business portion of our City, but in her social life as well was equally beloved. In her passing the Eastern Trust Company has lost an employee whose place will indeed be hard to fill, and one whom the community at large will long remember.

To say that Marion King had faults, is only to say she was human, but in a long acquaintance, and friendship, the writer is unable to recall a trait in her that would detract from a truly noble soul.

Her funeral, which was very largely attended, took place to St. Dunstan's Basilica. Solemn Mass of Requiem was celebrated by Rev. James Kelly, with Rev. George MacDonald and Rev. Fred Cass as Sub-deacons. The flowers, wreaths, cross, sprays, bouquets, and pillows, as well as numerous Mass cards, spiritual bouquets and letters of sympathy, bore silent tribute to the high esteem in which Marion M. King was held in this Community.

May her pure soul rest in peace.

Card Of Thanks

We wish to convey our sincere thanks to our many relatives and friends from home and abroad for their letters and telegrams of sympathy, beautiful floral tributes and kind acts, during our recent sad bereavement in the death of our darling daughter and sister, Mrs. Greta Russell Rogers Hewitt.

Girl Guide News

Princess Elizabeth's Visit

Guides, Brownies, aren't you thrilled to learn that the Princess will visit Canada in October! What a big day it will be for all Prince Edward Island members of the Guide family when she comes here! Every one of you will have a part in welcoming her to our lovely Island.

You do remember, don't you, that Princess Elizabeth was a Brownie, a Girl Guide, and then a Ranger. She is a member of the Girl Guides Organization just as you are.

Now is the time to plan for and buy nepwts ar buy new parts required for your uniforms. Remember, there will be a tremendous rush for new supplies, and possible delays in having orders filled. Be smart—do not delay—check your uniforms and order necessary requirements at once.

Camping Days Are Here

This summer, flags will be flying once again over 550 Girl Guide Camps in Canada. At least 16,000 Canadian Girls will be out in the open air, sharing in the most vital part of the Girl Guide programme —camping. Ever since Girl Guiding was founded by Lord Baden-Powell, camping has been one of the prime methods of imparting the training in self-reliance, helpfulness and citizenship which is contained in Guiding. All Guide Camps are themselves little democracies, run as they are, on the patrol system. The leaders or Guiders as they are called, are there, as their name implies, to give Guidance and to give of their special knowledge in one branch or another of the programme. Many of the Guiders give all or part of their holidays voluntarily to take part in Guide camps.

This year camping will hold an even greater significance for the girls, for next year there will be a National Camp near Ottawa for which 1,000 Guides will be selected. In order to be one of those chosen a girl must have previously camped for two weeks, and of course the more knowledge and qualifications she can absorb this year, the more chance she will have of going to the 1952 National Camp.

Pictures Wanted—Attention Guiders

A request has been received from the World Association to supply them with some action pictures, typical of Canadian Guiding. The subject of these pictures may be camping, hiking, or any Guide work as long as there is action in it.

As all pictures being submitted are required to be in Toronto by September 10th, Prince Edward Island Guides and Guiders are asked to forward any pictures they wish to submit to the World Association with a short description of each, to: Lillian Duchemin, Public Relations Commissioner, 106 Edward Street, Charlottetown, P. E. I.

IN MEMORIAM

MR. WENDELL JOHNSTONE

The people of Brookfield and neighbouring districts and a host of relatives and friends were greatly shocked and saddened to learn of the sudden death of one of the young men of this community, by a most unfortunate accident which occurred at Winsloe railroad crossing on June 7th at approximately 12:30 p.m. in the person of Wendell Johnstone, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Johnstone. The deceased had just left his home and was enroute to Charlottetown when the vehicle in which he was travelling became involved with a train at the above mentioned crossing. Death was believed to have been instantaneous.

Wendell, who had just had his 22nd birthday on the 20th day of May, was a most promising young man. His thoughtfulness and kindly disposition had won for him a wide circle of friends who will long cherish his memory. In his home his loss is irreparable. It was evitable, in view of the fact that the funeral gathering was one of the largest held in this province in recent years, that the parents had heartfelt sympathy in the hour of their great sorrow.

The funeral which was held at the home, was conducted by a former pastor of the Brookfield Presbyterian Church, Rev. Donald Nicholson, who brought a comforting message to the bereaved, taking for his text words found in the 16th chapter of the gospel of John, verse 16, "A Little While". Mr. Nicholson was assisted by Rev. J. R. Skinner, Rev. Howard Christie and Mr. Stanley D. Self. Mr. Andrew Johnstone and Earnest Dunning sang very feelingly, "Going Down The Valley."

The pallbearers were Messrs. Ross MacEwen, Archibald MacEwen, Leith Stetson, Lincoln MacLeod, Claude Simpson and Gerald Johnstone.

The remains were tenderly laid to rest in the family plot in the Geddie Memorial Cemetery.

SWINDON, Wiltshire, England—(CP). — A former police sergeant here was fined £5 for stealing a packet of hairpins.

Strange But True

By F. H. MacArthur

The 20 world major fires which occurred between A. D. 64, when Rome burned 8 days until June 5, 1946, when the La Salle Hotel fire in Chicago took the lives of sixty persons, destroyed property to the value of approximately nine hundred million dollars. The Halifax explosion, which occurred in December 6, 1917, accounted for twenty million of this damage, and is the only major fire loss suffered to a Canadian city during the life of the Dominion.

The greatest fire in history in which the fewest nember of persons lost their lives was the great fire of London on Sept. 2, 1666 when all the buildings of 436 acres went up in flames. The total property loss stood at approximately fifty million dollars, yet only six lives were snuffed out.

Before the fish hook was invented, fishermen used bits of stone which a fish swallowed but could not eject. Many small country boys use an ordinary pin bent like a fish hook, to catch trout and other small fishes. It works too.

The Japanese people got a great shock after World War II, when Emperor Hirohito informed them that he was not divine.

Fishing is the oldest industry in the world, and 95 per cent of the fish caught are consumed within 200 miles of where they are taken.

Although the world has its quota of female criminals they lag away behind the men in actual numbers. There were, for instance, 459,708 male criminals taken into custody in Canada and the U. S. A. for the year 1945, and only 205,606 females. Twenty-six of the 48 states of our neighbors to the south use the electric chair to polish off their murderers, eight states use lethal gas, eleven resort to hanging and the other three have life imprisonment. Penalty for murder in Canada is hanging.

Birth control is reducing the size of families in many parts of the world. The average Canadian family was almost two persons larger 100 years ago than it is today. In 1850, for instance, there were 5.6 persons in the average Canadian family, but by 1945 the number had dropped to 3.8, and like the purchasing price of the dollar, it is still going down.

We should never make the mistake of inviting a group of great thinkers together. Why? Because they want hearers, not rivals, and according to a recent book on etiquette, silly people should be kept away from learned folk — that is, unless the dull one happens to be a pretty woman, who knows enough to keep her mouth shut and her ears open, and the clever guy with an eye for beauty and a love for talking. The hostess who could manage such an arrangement at her table would have to be as wise as Solomon, but Emily Post ought to know.

The custom of tipping which pries from our pockets many a hard earned shekel, originated with barbers. In bygone days, the barbers, besides cutting hairs and shaving chins, did a lot of blood letting as a side line. For this they received no definite payment, so the patient tipped the barber whatever he was able to afford, or whatever he thought the bleeding operation was worth. From this beginning the tipping custom soon spread over most of the world, as travelers and others found it an excellent means of securing quick and efficient service. Today it is a universal custom.

Man has always feared the dark, for it was during the sunless hours that, back in primitive times that real and imaginary animals stole upon the tribe and carried off a few struggling humans. Coming down to more modern times, we read of ghosts, goblins and other wild creatures, disturbing man's restful hours, or doing terrible deeds when people were abroad on friendly visits to neighbors. From this fear sprang the desire to carry some sort of light to pierce the darkness. At first it was a burning brand snatched from the campfire. This was followed later by a hollow stone, a shell or skull filled with fat and a wick added to make it burn evenly and longer. Then came the candle followed by the lamp and the electric light.

The early Island settlers used candles and flint to set off a spark when they required a fire. The electric light replaced all these and is superior to any other kind of illumination. It is safe, bright and easy on the eyes, and believe it or not, it is less expensive than even candlelight — that is, unless we forget to turn off the juice when not actually needed.
